4 Big Networks Attempt To Halt Midnight Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators for the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists and the four major TV and radio networks failed Saturday to try to avoid a strike set for midnight Saturday.

There were no indications of progress toward a settlement.

The union said a strike would knock out 90 per cent of the live TV and radio network shows. It said all entertainers' unions—including Actors Equity, the American Guild of Variety Artists, the Screen Actors Guild, and the American Guild of Musical Artists—are supporting the strike.

However, the networks have prepared for such a strike by taping and prerecording major shows. One spokesman said the strike could last a week without the general public missing many of the favorite shows.

The AFTRA contract was to expire at midnight with the American Broadcasting Co., the Columbia Broadcasting System, the Mutual Broadcasting System, and the National Broadcasting Co. ABC, CBS, and NBC have both Radio and TV outlets. Mutual has only radio.

The networks were reported to have asked George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, to intervene. Meany was said to have replied that bargaining should continue a while longer before he would step in.

AFTRA seeks wage increases and other concessions, most controversial of which is a rate schedule for union members whose performances are reproduced on the new video tape. It would include a sliding scale of payments for each time the tape is televised after the original showing.

Present wage scales have not been disclosed.

Tyrone Power Dies While On Location

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Tyrone Power was stricken Saturday by a heart attack at the height of a dueling scene on a movie set and died an hour later.

The dark, handsome stage and screen star was 45.

Power's death was a tragic duplicate of that of his actor father, Frederick Tyrone Power, who was stricken fatally on a Hollywood movie set in 1931.

A virtual stranger in recent years to Hollywood where he made his fame and fortune, Power was here for the filming of "Solomon and Sheba" with Italian actress Gina Lollobrigida.

In the role of Solomon, Power showed up on the set for a dueling scene with George Sanders, 52, a movie veteran. Sanders, playing the role of Solomon's older brother was to be killed in the duel.

During the filming, Power complained of a pain in his left arm and abdomen. The pain had been recurring for several days.

GOT TO STOP

He suddenly broke off the action, lit a cigarette, and said:

"I've got to stop. I don't feel well."

Then he walked to his dressing room on the set, and the company nurse was called.

Ten minutes later, as stunned actors stood aside, Producer Ted Richmond took Power to the hospital in Miss Lollobrigida's Mercedes sedan, which was parked just in front of Power's dressing room.

Director King Vidor halted shooting. Spanish extras left the scene solemnly. The entire staff was shaken when the news came that Power was dead.

Richmond was at Power's bedside when death came. He then left to tell Power's third wife, the former Mrs. Deborna Minardos, 26. Married to Power early this year, she is expecting a child in February.

Power's previous marriages to French actress Annabella — Suzanne Georgette Charpentier—and actress Linda Christian ended in divorce.

Power was born in Cincinnati, Ohoi, May 5, 1913, according to his studio and the Motion Picture

Additional Gains Are Reported In Fund Campaign

Swelled by reports from team captains and division leaders last week, the Ouachita Parish United Givers fund reached $199,570, according to yesterday's figures.

R. L. Vanderpool Jr., campaign chairman, said, "We may definitely expect to see our goal from funds forthcoming if the unreported firms do as well as last year." Other officials noted most firms had contributed from 12 to 14 per cent more this year than last.

An appeal was sent out from the organization's headquarters for all firms and division leaders to complete their reports next week. It was generally felt the goal of $210,000 could be reached if this final phase of the drive was carried out.

Miss Emmy Lou Biedenharn invites Twin City music lovers to a Ticket Tea at her home on Riverside Drive today at 4 p.m.

Leroy Anspach will be at the organ. He and Mrs. Anspach were guest artists last spring with the Twin City Symphony.

The current symphony season promises excellent programs. The first is to be the presentation of the original NBC cast of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" by Mennetti. This one-hour production is fast becoming a Christmas classic.

Honors

Northeast State speech majors were awarded positions in radio audition at the last session of the club held here.

This honor came to Clay Scroggin, already named as announcer for the radio broadcast series of the Northeast Roll Call.

Sue Turner and Rita Snider will be reporters for one month, gathering news for the program series. These young women will place new boxes throughout the campus.

Radio audiences are slated once monthly to choose others for radio positions.

BORDERLINE CASE

He's Half In, Half Out Of Two States

BRISTOL, Va.-Tenn. (UPI) — The Virginia-Tennessee line angles across the front yard of Gordon Hardin's home, shoots diagonally through his family room, into the kitchen and out a back window.

Every day, when Hardin gets up in Virginia and goes into Tennessee for breakfast, he wishes someone had told him just where the state line was when he built his house.

It makes life twice as complicated.

For instance, when he pays his first property tax this year, he'll pay half of it to Virginia and half to Tennessee.

And when he closed the loan for his house, he had to register the transaction in both Virginia and Tennessee.

His electric lines come in on the Virginia side so he pays his electric bill in Virginia. His telephone lines come in on the Tennessee side so he pays his phone bill in Tennessee. His water comes from Tennessee, but he pays the water bill in Virginia. That's because the water company's office is in Virginia.

He and his wife wanted their two boys, Gary, 9, and Stevie, 7, to go to school in Virginia. But the only available bus service in their neighborhood comes from Tennessee, so they go to school in Tennessee.

And as for where they're supposed to vote, they have no idea. They haven't thought that far ahead, Hardin said.

Package Plan Showdown At Capitol Today

By SAM HANNA
Staff Reporter

BATON ROUGE — Gov. Earl K. Long's "package plan" group of financial proposals designed to produce additional revenues, is set for a weak, but final test in the Capitol today.

With both Chambers reconvening at 5 p.m., the Senate will bring Long's bills on the floor for a vote while the House awaits the outcome.

Should the "package plan" meet the Senate's approval, and it is expected to do so easily, the House will concur, sending the bills to the governor's desk for his signature.

The 1958 special session is expected to be over by early tonight.

Called into session last Tuesday night by Long, the legislature will have approved an additional $36 million for the treasurer. Of that, $14 million will go to education to keep the schools open.

IN COURT

With last summer's gas gathering tax now in court, the Senate will be called to pass a 2.3-cent severance tax, a substitute agreed upon by the administration and the oil industry.

Efforts to amend the severance levy failed in the House, but Sen. James Sparks, Monroe, and Sen. W. M. Rainach, Homer, will offer another amendment in the Senate today.

They propose to place the tax on a percentage basis rather than on a fixed rate as it is planned now. Sparks said the tax as proposed by the administration would "greatly cripple the Monroe area."

The tax met little opposition in the House where three northeast Louisiana legislators opposed it—Reps. Gilbert Faulk, Monroe; T. T. Fields, Farmerville, and L. K. Napper, Ruston.

Long's leaders avoided a battle

Blows On Head Restore Memory After 6 Months

MIAMI (UPI) — Blows on the head administered by a robber apparently have restored the memory of a woman who said she had suffered from amnesia for six months, police reported Saturday.

Detective Sgt. Albert Biblo said he believed the story told by Mrs. Florence Chesler, 45 of St. Louis, who was found badly beaten and bruised in the closet of her hotel room last Wednesday.

Officers quoted Mrs. Chesler as saying that she realized her real identity while under treatment for the injuries at a local hospital.

She said a young man had entered her hotel room, threatened her with a knife, beaten her and taken $2,200.

The woman had registered at the hotel May 20 as Mrs. Doris Collins of Dallas, Texas. She said she had assumed that identity after losing her memory as a result of being struck by a car in San Antonio, Texas.

Five Chutists Are Found, 2 Still Missing

HUNTSVILLE, Utah (AP)—Five more of the eight men who parachuted from a crippled C-119 cargo plane were found Saturday night as darkness and blizzards dimmed hope for them.

The plane's commander, Capt. Harry O. Blount, was found shortly after midnight Friday, but two other men were still missing in the snow-covered mountains of northeastern Utah.

Blount, four other crewmen and three passengers bailed out of the plane Friday when one of the plane's two engines failed en route to Hill Air Force Base at Ogden, Utah, 15 miles east of here.

The plane flew another 150 miles on automatic pilot and crashed in eastern Idaho.

The Weber county searchers found five of the men. The only radio report from the posse was that the men were safe.

IDENTIFIED

The two men still missing were identified as:

Lt. Donald E. Born, pilot, Clearfield, Utah. His home town is Andover, N.Y.

Officials identified the rescued men as:

Sgt. Walter P. Bigelow, a reservist from Ogden.

S. Sgt. Ivan Probasco, a reservist from Kearns, Utah.

M. Sgt. Joseph W. Reagan, Nellis AFB, Las Vegas, Nev.

Sgt.1.C. R. Feltner, being transferred from Ft. Belvoir, Va., to Ft. Lewis, Wash.

R. Copeland, Ft. Bragg, N.C.

Search slogged on through heavy snow in the search for the two missing airmen.

Blount was huddled under a tree and wrapped in his parachute for protection when he was found.

The wiry 33-year-old Great Falls, Mont., man stayed anxiously by searchers until exhaustion forced him to go to Hill AFB to rest.

Blount ordered the men to abandon the aircraft when he realized it would never cross high mountains on one engine.

PENAL FARM NEED SEEN

Jails In Parish Overcrowded

By BILL HARDIN
Staff Writer

How would you like to be in a place where you have to sleep on the floor because the ratio of people to bunks often runs two to one and in some instances three to one?

Sounds like Russia, doesn't it?

But it isn't. Those conditions exist in the jails for for Ouachita Parish and the City of Monroe.

It should be emphatically pointed out, however, that these conditions in no way reflect upon the respective departments under which the jails operate. Without the untiring efforts of these departments, the situation would be much worse. In fact, it is amazing what has been accomplished with so little.

CONDITIONS

But these conditions do point to an alarming necessity of some sort of change to relieve the overcrowded conditions of the two jails. These changes have been sought without success by the officials involved in the operating of the two jails.

The City of West Monroe alone, which constructed a new city hall and jail several years ago, has sufficient bunks and room for the persons placed in the jail for periods ranging from 10 days to months and sometimes a year.

Chief James C. Kelly, Jr., of the Monroe police department said an average of 81 persons has been in the Monroe city jail each day this year. Last year the average was 83. These large numbers

WINNSBORO (Special)— James M. King observed a milestone few persons reach when he had an informal family dinner yesterday on his 104th birthday.

Many friends and relatives are visiting in "Uncle Jim's" home on Route 2, Winnsboro, and his excellent health permits him to enjoy the activities to the fullest.

The retired farmer and retail merchant's only handicap is imparied eyesight. He eats three meals a day of anything he wants, sleeps well and particularly enjoys listening to the radio.

"Uncle Jim's" favorite programs are ball games and the news. The staunch old gentleman stays up throughout each day without a rest, and attributes his long and active life to hard work and regular hours. He has never used tobacco in any form.

A native of Independence County, Ark., King was 11 years old when the Civil War ended. He has lived in Franklin Parish since 1870 and has been in the same house for the past 71 years.

One of the first cotton gins in Franklin Parish was operated by King. It was a portable machine which he moved from farm to farm as needed.

Two Children, Woman Forced To Take Ride

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP) — Two young men were shot to death Saturday in a wild street gunbattle. Police captured their companion after he fled and commandeered a car carrying a woman and her two children.

An arsenal of weapons and plans to rob a Texas bank were found in the vehicle the three men were riding.

The captured man was identified as Melford Lewis Eslick, 21, of Alameda, Calif.

Officers said Eslick identified his companions as James E. Bradley, Chickamauga, Ga., 19, who died in a hospital of gunshot wounds, and John Paul Welch, 21, of San Antonio, Tex., who police said apparently shot himself to death rather than be captured.

CHECKS

The shooting began after police Lt. J. G. Wisner stopped the three in their car. Wisner said he was attempting to determine whether they were passing worthless checks.

This is the way Wisner said the melee developed:

As he approached the car, the three men tried to outrun him. He overtook them.

Wisner told the men he was making a routine check because they were speeding and he wanted to check their drivers' license.

Welch was on the back seat. As Wisner questioned the pair in the front seat, he saw Welch raise a gun.

Wisner threw himself to the ground and Welch's shot went by him. Wisner returned the fire.

Welch leaped from the car. Bradley also started shooting.

Welch turned his gun on Bradley, who had been driving the car. Welch fatally wounded Bradley. The car rolled on down the road and crashed. Welch shot himself to death.

Bradley died later in a hospital.

Eslick fled on foot and commandeered the car carrying Mrs. Ike Fosier and her two children. He forced her to drive him about 25 miles northeast of here to Fay-

Nine File For Little Rock Board Posts

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Nine candidates filed Saturday for the six vacant positions on the integration - troubled Little Rock School Board.

Attitudes of the candidates on the integration issue ranged from uncompromising to undetermined.

Those who announced included James T. Karam, a clothier and friend of Gov. Orval E. Faubus; Traffic Judge Robert Laster; Atty. Ben. D. Rowland Sr., a former school administrator; Atty. Ed I. McKinley Jr., a former state banking commissioner and one-time city attorney.

Ted Lamb, owner of an advertising agency; W. F. Rector, an insurance executive; Everett Tucker Jr., a Chamber of Commerce official; Russell H. Matson Jr., a contractor; and Mrs. Charles W. Stephens, a housewife.

Karam said at a rally Friday night he would be opposed to integration at any time.

ENDORSED

Rowland said Saturday that he endorsed Faubus' anti-integration legislative program and admired Dr. Dale Alford, an outspoken segregationist member of the school board who defeated Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark) in the Nov. 4 general election after attacking Hays as too moderate on the integration problem.

Laster has made no flat declaration of how he would stand on integration if he won a place on the board in the Dec. 6 election. However, he has been sharply critical of the federal troops used to enforce integration at Central High School last year.

3 Navy Officers Die As 'Copter Crashes, Burns

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rear Adm. Leonard B. Southerland, commander of an aircraft carrier force, and two other Navy officers were killed Saturday when their helicopter crashed and burned on an Okinawa beach.

Southerland, 53, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross for World War II herosim, had been commander since January of Carrier Division 7 operating in the Formosa Strait. His flagship was the aircraft carrier Lexington.

Killed with him in the accident were Cmdr. John Cooper Coulthard of Alameda, Calif., and the pilot, Lt. (jg) John Porter Loomis of Chula Vista, Calif.

The Navy said the helicopter went out of control and plunged to the ground. It had no immediate explanation for the cause of the crash.

Southerland, a native of Fort Payne, Ala., is survived by his wife, the former Dorothy Henning of Prairie-du-Chien, Wis., and two sons, Leonard Jr. and Michael S. Southerland. Mrs. Southerland presently lives in Honolulu.

Coulthard's next of kin was listed as his wife, Carolin, of Alameda. Loomis was the husband of Mrs. Nancy C. Loomis of Chula Vista and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Henry Loomis of Wayne, Pa.

TEAMSTERS UNION

Shreveport Will Figure In Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allegations of bombings and intrigue churned up Saturday in a new Senate Rackets Committee investigation of the Teamsters Union.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy gave newsmen few details of what ground the inquiry will cover. He did say the senators would look into evidence of an interstate traffic in dynamite in which the materials for bombs allegedly were shipped from Texas into Shreveport, La., during this strife.

Kennedy said a key witness will be Texas Ranger Zeno Smith. He said the Rangers have given a great deal of help in the inquiry.

Other witnesses, Kennedy said, will include Roy Gilbert, president of Southwestern; Raymond C. Shafer, president of Teamster Local 657 in San Antonio; R. B. Bunch, an official of the Southern Conference of Teamsters; and E. F. Johnson, who succeeded Bunch as head of a Teamster local in Shreveport.

At hearings Monday the committee will seek the facts about the union's long and sometimes violent feud with the Southwestern Motor Transport Co. of San Antonio, Tex. The company has charged it suffered costly reprisals for refusing to go along with Teamster demands that its employes be forced into the union without their consent.

Reily's Statement Most Significant

By SAM HANNA
Staff Reporter

BATON ROUGE — The most significant statement in this special session of the Louisiana legislation was made by Finance Commissioner James S. Reily.

Reily had every right to make it, too, because in effect he was the target of a moral injustice.

He came to Baton Rouge last summer at the governor's request and was the first state official to plunge into the problem of solving, at least temporarily, the state's financial dilemma. So he came up with the "package plan" and told the legislature that if the plan was approved the state would have hardly a dime left over.

The governor himself in his opening night's speech advised the legislature to take Reily's word. But, despite Reily's word, Long promised Supt. Shelby M. Jackson an additional $4 million a "paper" raise to come from estimated revenues.

In return Long got no opposition from Jackson in reclaiming the $4½ million in school lunch surpluses. So Reily two days after Long and Jackson came to terms, appeared before the Senate Finance committee. He was asked about the additional money for Jackson.

Said Reily, "Frankly I was told that this was a matter to be decided in the political arena." Then he very appropriately shifted the responsibility where it belonged, saying, "I am merely an adviser to the governor and the government. The legislature is the government."

Reily left the impression that planning and business are misfits in the Louisiana political arena.

COMMENT

The house was buzzing with activity following Long's opening night speech when Rep. Gilbert Faulk, Monroe, introduced Congressman Otto E. Passman.

Passman, of the Fifth Congressional District had stopped off at Baton Rouge from Carville where he delivered a veterans' day speech. While greeting legislators and old friends in a downtown hotel and later at the capitol, Passman, very smoothly projected himself into the coming governor's race.

The feeling among north Louisiana delegates was that Passman could make a good race. But south Louisiana politicains, especially those from New Orleans, were not as convinced on Passman's vote getting abilities.

Rumored candidates for the big seat are numerous here. In the house there are several. Claude Kirkpatrick, John Garrett, and J. Marshall Brown, just to mention a few.

The Senate has its share too — Sixty Rayburn and Willie Rainach. Bob Ainsworth again is being mentioned as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Around the Capitol, Bill Dodd, the auditor, will definitely run, they say, and again Highway Director R. B. Richardson, is mentioned.

The New Orleans people say Chep Morrison will run again, not to mention Jimmy Davis, John McKeithen and Lether Frazer.

HOT ISSUE

Northeast Louisiana delegates sat on the hottest seats in the House when the severance tax came up for a vote Thursday. They were thinking of two things—both back home. First, there was cry to pay the teachers and keep the schools open. And, too, there were the many gas wells, which some said the severance tax would put out of business.

With the severance tax only minutes away from a vote, Ruston's Buddy Napper quipped, "They said Tuesday was veteran's day."

Napper stuck it out and voted against the tax. When asked how he would vote on the tax, Farmerville's T. T. Fields, who voted against the gas gathering tax, answered, "If you're going to catch hell, you might as well catch it consistently."

PRESS TABLE

This was probably the last session for one newspaperman — Raymond McDaniel, recently - appointed city editor of the Shreveport Times.

For the past five years he has covered the legislature in session. But his promotion, sending him to desk work, which will keep him away from Baton Rouge, should make Shelby Jackson and the school teachers happy.

Meanwhile, Emile Comar, the ace expose reporter of the New Orleans States - Item, ducked out to score the beat of the legislature.

Comar got wind of the midnight meeting at which Jackson got the additional $4 million and agreed to let the $4½ million in lunch surpluses go. So he stayed up in the week hours of morning, nailed down the story, and had it on the wire before most legislators got out of bed.

In fact, Comar's headline was being set in the New Orleans before Reily learned of the sudden transaction. Even before the amendment was offered to the House, Comar's paper was being sold in the Capitol. In effect, Comar told the legislature what the governor was doing.

It's because of this type of reporting that Emile Comar is banned from Long's news conferences.

NUCLEAR DEVELOPMENT

Doubts U.S. Is Ahead Of Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Former Atomic Energy Commissioner Thomas E. Murray said Saturday night he does not believe the United States is ahead of Russia in the development of nuclear weapons.

Murray, consultant to the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, also said tests of hydrogen bombs are dangerous to health and unnecessary "since our weapons strength in the megaton range has already gone beyond rational bounds."

But he said the nation's security depends on continued tests of small tactical atomic weapons which "can successfully be carried out underground" and "thus be completely controlled."

Murray made the statements in a speech at the annual homecoming banquet of the Catholic University of America Alumni Assn.

He said his "eight years of close association with all phases of the nuclear weapons situation do not permit me to subscribe to the statements, currently being made, that the United States is ahead of the Soviet Union in nuclear weapons systems."

"These statements are particularly dubious," he said, "when they imply that we are also ahead in the field of small nuclear weapons."

There has been speculation that Russia ended its recent suspension of nuclear tests because she fears the United States is ahead in the development of atomic weapons.

Murray, a former member of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), said this country must have the "wisdom and courage" to lay in a huge stockpile of small nuclear weapons for fighting so-called limited wars.

Without this stockpile, he said, the United States would be vulnerable to a "particularly insidious form of nuclear blackmail." This would come about in the event of a small war, he said, when this country might have to bear "the onus and the guilt" of resorting to big atomic weapons.

Murray said the accumulation of a small-bomb stockpile is being hampered by public opinion.

The former commissioner said it was almost impossible for the government to work out proper policies for the nuclear age "in the irrational mood that prevails today, when popular thinking is dominated by fear, and by all the extremist, one-sided and over-simple views that fear dictates."

He said the public does not understand that small atomic weapons could be tested safely underground without spreading radioactive fallout through the air.

Murray blamed "the present muddle in public opinion" on "bad leadership or confused leadership or no leadership at all."

Gov. Coleman Is Considered For Veep Job

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) —Gov. J. P. Coleman is being considered by some Democrats as a possible vice-presidential candidate in 1960.

They think this may be one of the possibilities—though an outside one—of patching together the conflicting interests within the party of many wings.

With the election of a lot of new Democrats to Congress the patching job is going to be more difficult than ever before but those southern Democrats who believe a bolt would be fruitless are hopeful it can be done.

Coleman's stock in the national party has risen with his election as chairman of the southern governor's conference and that may be the key to the matter.

Senate majority leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas, still highly influencial with both northern and southern Democrats, helped to get Coleman named as chairman in place of Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus.

Coleman and Johnson have been friends for a long time. The Mississippi delegation to the 1956 Democratic national convention gave its vote to Johnson over Adlai Stevenson.

At the same time there are strong ties between Coleman and Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, and there has been talk of a Kennedy-Coleman ticket. Some of Kennedy's first support for vice president in 1956 came from Mississippi delegates.

In a television interview recently Kennedy said he thought there would be a ruckas in the 1960 convention but the South would stay. And at a talk in Jackson, one of the few southern cities he has visited, Kennedy said "the things that unite us are greater than the differences that divide us."

Coleman knows his way around the national party. He helped draft the compromise Civil Rights platform in the 1956 convention. For that assignment he broke a precedent of staying out of politics in other states and made a controversial endorsement of Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas, the night before Hays was defeated as a "moderate" on the segregation issue. He said he owed Hays a debt for the appointment.

Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, one of the more influencial southerners, expressed a desire in a press conference here this week of getting "someone like Coleman" on the 1960 ticket.

Mississippi is expected to split as usual in 1960 on how to go about getting the South's voice heard. Coleman believes the best chance is still within the party. He said publicly recently he believed the 1948 bolt—which Coleman and most every other Mississippian supported—was a mistake in that it showed a Democrat could be elected without the South.

AT TYLER, TEX.

Authority Disputes Boy's Cobalt Story

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Johnny Pierce lounged in Mother Frances Hospital Saturday for extensive tests after, he said, he upset radioactive liquid cobalt on his hands. But a health authority disputed his story.

Dr. Jesse Goldfeder, director of the Tyler-Smith County Health Unit, issued a formal statement declaring Pierce, 19, was contaminated in some way with radium, not cobalt.

But the doctor did not dispute earlier statements by himself, the Atomic Energy Commission and state health authorities that Pierce had contaminated a dozen persons and as many business houses.

Dr. Goldfeder's statement said: "We are positive this substance was not Cobalt 60. The boy admits he did not get any cobalt from Canada or anywhere else. We are of the opinion that he was contaminated with radium in some way. We are still investigating."

Pierce is an X-ray student at Mother Frances Hospital.

The doctor said additional instruments are being sent here for further tests.

Dr. Goldfeder said his first information was that Pierce had obtained a quantity of radioactive cobalt by mail for $40. Atomic Energy Commission officials said their first information, apparently from Pierce, was that the cobalt was obtained from the Canadian Atomic Energy Corp.

Pierce was quoted as saying he turned the cobalt into a liquid and spilled some on his hands while experimenting.

Hospital attendants would not permit reporters to question Pierce immediately for his version.

The situation was kept a closely guarded secret for three days while specialists searched this east Texas city for persons and places named by Pierce.

Dr. Goldfeder repeated an earlier statement that he did not think Pierce was deeply burned.

The experts used Geiger counters to determine contamination.

A dozen or so persons the affable Pierce touched got busy with scrub brushes, soap and water to rid themselves of contamination. About a dozen business places held scrubdowns.

Dr. W. L. Wilson, state health department official, declared that the public could "feel assured that the situation is under safe control."

From Wednesday until Friday, the five experts went from place to place with Geiger counters, seeking out contamination and telling the residents to scrub.

Dr. Goldfeder kept the situation a close secret from all except those directly concerned until Friday afternoon, three days after Pierce became radioactive.

The doctor said the youth's hands were "so hot" he contaminated anyone or anything he touched.

Unwashable items in Pierce's home were burned.

The youth's mother said Pierce was experimenting "on something —some kind of little old plant—trying to make it grow."

Friends said he carried on extensive experiments in his back yard. He is the son of Smith County tax assessor-collector Aquilla Pierce and lives with his parents. He recently was discharged from naval service.

Portray Christ Smooth Shaven, Catholic Says

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A leading Roman Catholic educator suggested Friday that young artists be encouraged to portray Christ as a smooth shaven, short haired, trousered man of today.

The Rev. E. M. Catich, professor of art at St. Ambrose College, Davenport, Iowa, told delegates to the National Catholic Educational Press Congress that "we must fashion a Christ who will be no stranger to our time."

"Pictorial representations of Christ which we see in our churches, schools and homes usually show Christ gowned, bearded and wearing long marcelled tresses," said Father Catich. "These bearded-lady Christs are strangers to our age—if not to all ages."

Youthful artists, he said, should be urged to "defeminize Christ, to return his trousers, to restore his masculinity."

"At the same time," Father Catich added, "I do not think it vulgar to suggest that we give Christ a shave and a haircut."

Power's Wife Says He Was A Kind Man

PARIS (AP) — Annabella, Tyrone Power's first wife, said Saturday that "he was a man of wonderful kindness."

"He had friends wherever he went," the French actress said. "I was horribly sad to learn that he had left us so suddenly. Only last week we were together in Madrid, where he was shooting.

"He had invited me. He absolutely wanted to introduce me to his new little wife, whom he adored. For me, he is an irreplacable friend who has disappeared. Worse still is that his wife is expecting a child. And he would so much have wished that it would be a little boy."

Annabella, whose real name is Suzanne Georgette Charpentier, gave her reactions by telephone to Paris reporters. She is in the lower Pyrenees.

There are 347 students from the United States now studying in Vienna. Most of them are in art schools.

Girl Unconscious For Past Month

By RECA JONES
Staff Writer

A pretty, dimpled girl lies motionless on a hospital bed while her mother prayerfully stands by, waiting for some faint sign of consciousness.

That described the scene in room 578 of the St. Francis Hospital.

Since October 17, 13-year-old Ronda Gail Sims has been unconscious. Her mother, Mrs. Eunice Sims has never left her bedside. To add more pathos to the story, Ronda — a polio victim since a tot — was scheduled to attempt to walk without the aid of a crutch or brace this week.

The doctors hold out little hope for her living, her mother said.

Ronda was injured about 11 p.m. October 17 when a mule wandered onto Highway 80 near the Farmerville intersection in the path of a car driven by her brother.

The family, with some neighbors, was returning home after attending church services in Bastrop.

Ronda, the only one severely injured, received a fractured skull and a brain concussion. Since the accident, she has been in a coma.

"She hasn't opened her eyes nor made a sound since," the tearful mother related. "The doctor at first thought she wouldn't live this long — now we just don't know."

When Ronda was 15½ months old she suffered crippling polio. For 14 months she was under treatment at the polio center in New Orleans. When her parents brought her home, she had to wear a brace from her waist down.

Her condition had improved somewhat and with two operations — the last one performed in June — her doctor gave her a good chance to be able to run and play like normal youngsters.

On Thursday before the tragic mishap, she had undergone a thorough examination. Her doctor told her that within three weeks she could throw away her crutches.

But the three weeks have passed and cute Ronda lies motionless in a hospital because someone allowed his mule to wander across one of the busiest highways in the nation.

Ronda, a religious girl, attended Claiborne Pentacostal Church regularly with her family. She was an A and B student at Calhoun High School. Her favorite "play" was pretending to be a schoolteacher and her mother secretly hoped that would be her profession.

Ronda was the petted baby of the family with four older brothers. Her father drives a school bus for Calhoun High School.

The medical bills are mounting by the prolonged stay in the hospital, Mrs. Sims said. The family has scraped the bottom of the financial barrel and would welcome any contributions, the mother added.

RONDA GAIL SIMS

The neighbors have contributed some money but more is needed. The family lives at Route 1, Calhoun.

E-Germans To Vote On One Today

BERLIN (AP)—At least one platform for Communist shouting about the status of allied-occupied West Berlin will be removed Sunday.

About 11 million persons will troop dutifully to the polls in Communist East Germany and cast their single-list ballots for a new Parliament.

They will thus write a climax to an election campaign that has featured a theme with international repercussions—"Get the allies out of Berlin."

The theme was kicked into the arena by no less a campaigner than Nikita Khrushchev. Speaking at a Moscow rally last Monday, the Soviet Premier said the Soviet Union intends to give up its occupation rights in Berlin and that the Allies should do the same.

Ever since then, East German officials have plugged, his line eagerly. Traveling from one end of East Germany to the other, they attempted to whip up their audiences with the Berlin issue.

"The allies and their spies must leave Berlin," the speakers cried. "Berlin for the Berliners."

Not that the East German party bosses need any kind of slogan to win an election. There is only one way to vote against the Red list of candidates—cross them all off the ballot. In a Communist state, most people vote for the list.

Despite these fool-proof methods, the party bosses were only too happy that Khrushchev had given them something to talk about. They figure that the status of West Berlin—a Western island 110 miles inside East Germany—is a more appealing subject for discussion than East Germany's shaky economy, an earlier topic.

Although the election campaign will be over Sunday, no one in West Berlin thought for a moment that the Communist agitation about Berlin would end. East German Premier Otto Grotewohl declared Friday night that the issue would be settled eventually in favor of the East Germans.

The situation in West Berlin was calmer Saturday night.

The Russians, who still control allied access to the isolated city, were allowing regular highway, rail, and air traffic to proceed normally.

The halting of an American truck convoy Friday night had raised fears that the Russians might be contemplating another blockade.

The convoy was sent back to West Berlin after an argument about whether the Russians would be permitted to inspect the interiors of the trucks.

American officials said another attempt would be made soon to send the convoy on its way.

The U. S. commandant in Berlin, Maj. Gen. Barksdale Hamlett, drove to West Berlin's City Hall Saturday and discussed the Berlin situation with Mayor Willy Brandt. Details were not revealed.

Bishops Ask Right To Teach For Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Roman Catholic bishops of the United States said Saturday their church must have an unfettered right to teach if freedom is to survive anywhere.

An annual policy statement was adopted by more than 200 members of the American hierarchy after a three-day meeting here.

"Under whatever form of tyranny, from Caesarism to Sovietism, the subversion of human freedom has almost invariably begun with the restriction or denial of the right of the church to teach . . ." the statement said.

"Once the church has been muzzled, then other freedoms fall ready prey to those powers which would darken the mind and control the will of man."

The bishops and archbishops, who include Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and James Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles, said the teaching function of the church is challenged most often in this country on such matters as divorce and birth control.

Mrs. Al Young Named To Post In Beaumont

RUSTON (Special) —Mrs. Lilah Rabun Young, a 1957 honor graduate in journalism at Louisiana Tech, has been appointed director of public information for the South Park Independent School District in Beaumont, Texas.

While a student at Louisiana Tech, Mrs. Young was a feature writer and society editor for The Tech Talk.

After her graduation, she was a feature writer for the Monroe News-Star, after which she and her husband moved to Beaumont. She formerly lived in West Monroe.

Armature Works Moves To New Plant

A steady demand through the years for its products and services has built the operations of Monroe Armature Works, Inc., to such proportions that a new all-modern and much larger plant has been made necessary to fill the needs of its many customers, now and in the future.

For just six months short of 30 years, Monroe Armature Works, Inc., was located at 2019 DeSiard. Its new home is at the corner of North 17th and Olive streets where the firm is better than ever prepared to serve the public with sales and service of everything pertaining to motors, generators, switchboards and plant maintenance.

In the new building are 11,500 square feet of work space, and outside parking space of 5,000 to 6,000 square feet has been provided to acommodate scores of vehicles.

Morris Sheppard Harrison, founder and president of Monroe Armature, Inc., said that in the service field, one of the chief features is the rewinding of electrical motors of all types, however, repairs and maintenances is expertly done on all electrical devices used in industry.

He added that the new plant provides ample space for equipment to handle heavier jobs, and in anticipating the future growth of the company, a bridge crane for loading and unloading heavy objects will be added. This crane, along with the services it will make posible, will be second to none in the country, Harrison said.

Equipment and supplies for both sales and operation of the plant are being added regularly and it is expected that within six months time the inventory will be tripled.

Harrison explained that in the past, Monroe Armature Works, Inc., has been thought of as a repair shop, whereas it is a complete operation, insofar as both sales and service are concerned, that is inferior to none in the nation.

According to seasonal demands, the firm employes from eight to 16 skilled artisans. At the present time the payroll lists 10 men.

Bosco Youth Heads Parish 4-H Committee

Wayne Shipp of Bosco was elected president of the Ouachita Parish 4-H executive committee when the group met yesterday in West Monroe.

Winston Brown of Calhoun was named vice president, with Carol Shipp, Bosco, elected secretary. Zella Brown of Calhoun was selected reporter.

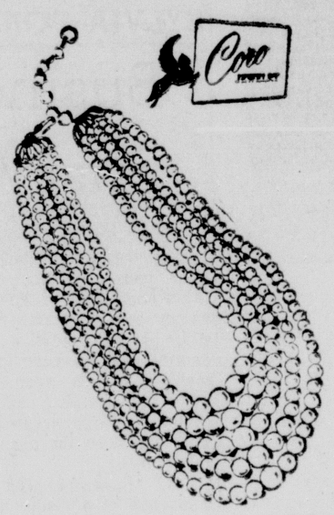

In other action, the group set April 25, 1959, as Achievement Day for 4-H'ers.

Participating in yesterday's program were Wayne Shipp, Darrell Griggs, Walter Kelley, Zella Brown, Charlotte Brownlee and Carol Shipp.

A total of 43 4-H members and local leaders were present.

Blossom Conniving

The man who started the segregation-integration battle that has raged in Little Rock, Ark., for more than a year reportedly will receive $19,000 for stepping out of the mess he created. That looks like a lot of good money for a bad job.

Five of the six members of the Little Rock school board resigned but before doing so they reportedly voted to pay School Supt. Virgil T. Blossom for the unexpired part of his contract.

An attorney for and member of the prosegregation Capital Citizens Council, attacking the board's action said:

"This is a clear piece of collusion between the board and Virgil Blossom, who has always dominated that board."

Payment was temporarily blocked by a court order.

Blossom precipitated the Little Rock catastrophe when he instituted the Little Rock plan of gradual integration. He undoubtedly had been brought into the picture for that specific purpose, since he was a known integrationist and had already launched the first integration plan to be put into effect in Arkansas.

Apparently all of the members of the school board except one were in on the plan, as they followed Blossom's orders with captive-vote precision.

The only dissenter and outspoken segregationist on the board was Dr. Dale Alford, who consistently voted against the board majority on integration matters. Because of this, Dr. Alford gained enough popular support to defeat Rep. Brooks Hays, eight-term congressman who had been nominated by the Democratic party for a ninth term.

If all other members of the board had followed the course adopted by Dr. Alford there would have been no integration, no Little Rock school crisis, no invasion by federal troops, no bayonet threats and none of the Little Rock case decisions by district and appellate courts and the supreme court so distasteful to the south.

Dr. Alford attempted to block the action of the school board in voting to pay off Blossom's contract. He said the decision should be left to an incoming school board which will be voted Dec. 6.

Having learned, along with Blossom, that Little Rock has no intention of permitting school integration, the board still apparently was either taking orders from Blossom or was tied up with him that it decided to pay him for time he has not served and undoubtedly would not be able to serve after the Dec. 6 election.

It was a foregone conclusion that all of the integrationist members of the board up for re-election at that time would have been defeated. There was also no doubt that the new members would have been persons strongly opposed to Blossom. Therefore he and most of the board members are seeking a quick duck-out, with Blossom getting all the money possible out of the deal.

If there is any possible way to break the contract without paying Blossom for the time he has not worked the contract should be abrogated.

Blossom has done the greatest possible disservice to the schools of Little Rock and to people of that city, both white and Negro.

Homicides Decline

At a time when many major crimes are increasing there are two encouraging phases of the crime picture. One is that the incidence of homicide has declined since World War II. The other is that the homicide rate at ages 15-19 not only decreased but that the rate at these wages was much lower than that for most adult age groups.

The fact that homicides at ages 15-19 not only dropped but were lower than for most adult ages would seem to indicate that the homicide rate will continue to drop as the younger persons reach adulthood.

Between 1946-47 and 1955-56 the age adjusted homicide rate fell about one-fifth, dropping from 6.1 to 4.8 per 100,000 of population.

The relative decline was greater for white than non-white persons and for each race was considerably greater for males than females, largely because the homicide rate heretofore has been so much larger among males than among females. Among white males the decrease amounted to one-fourth and among non-white males it was one-fifth.

Unlike other crimes, the incidence of homicide does not vary greatly in the different age ranges. Among white persons the homicide rates vary little in the range of ages from early adult life through middle age and decrease only moderately at the older ages. Among non-whites the toll from homicide rises to a definite peak in the late 30's and then falls rapidly with the advance of age.

Advances in civilization and education appear to bring declines in homicide. Declines in illiteracy are accompanied by declines in homicides.

The picture for juveniles, insofar as homicides are concerned, is bright.

Re-Election Gained By All G.O.P. Researchers

WASHINGTON, D. C. — If you are looking for a moral in the Republican rout of last election day, pause for a moment at the House of Representatives.

You will find many political carcasses strewn at the rear of the fortress, indicating that some Republicans executed that famous military maneuver called getting the heck out of there. Also, a few bodies — not as many as in the fields of flight — will be found by the fortress wall. But—and here's the moral—there was one little knot of Republican fighters who had a reputation for standing on principle, without retreat. This group had a remarkably high rate of survival. For convenience, we may divide it into three parts, even though there will be some overlap.

Part One consists of six Republicans. Every one of them was re-elected. They composed a little-known section of the GOP Policy Committee. Their job was research. They dug up facts and trends, all carefully documented, and turned these over to the policy-makers and speech-makers of the party.

Chairman of this section, or informal subcommittee, was Congressman John Ray of Staten Island, New York. Other members were Robert Wilson of Chula Vista, California; Gerald Ford of Grand Rapids, Michigan; John Rhodes of Mesa, Arizona; Thomas Curtis of Webster Groves, Missouri; and John Byrnes of Green Bay, Wisconsin.

Staff director was J. Harkey Reiter, a Main Liner of Philadelphia. Along with Bryce Harlow of the White House staff, Reiter, as agent of the research section, helped the President prepare his two "chins up" addresses after the Russian sputniks flew. These addresses, and their supporting speeches in the House, were not world-shakers, but they constituted Republican rebuttal to Democratic jeers. They exercised the right of advocacy for the GOP position.

Surely, there is some cause and effect here. All six of the Congressmen won, and four of them won while their party's Statewide candidates for the Senate and-or governorships were losing. Their secret weapon: Aggression!

Part Two is actually an enlargement of the research body. It was called the response section, meaning response to Democratic criticism. There were 15 Republican Congressmen in this section. Only two were defeated in last week's election.

Reps. Rhodes, Ray and Curtis, already accounted for, were also members of both the research and response groups. The other winners were Congressmen Frank Becker of Lynbrook, New York; Jackson Betts of Findley, Ohio; Elford Cederberg of Bay City, Michigan; Edgar Hiestand of Altadena, California; Perkins Bass of Peterborough, New Hampshire; William Cramer of St. Petersburg, Florida; Steven Derounian of Roslyn, N. Y.; Joe Holt of Van Nuys, California; Glenard Lipscomb of Los Angeles, Calif., and Keith Thomson of Cheyenne, Wyoming. The only two losers out of both groups were Timothy Sheehan of Chicago, Illinois and Harry Haskell, Jr. of Wilmington, Delaware.

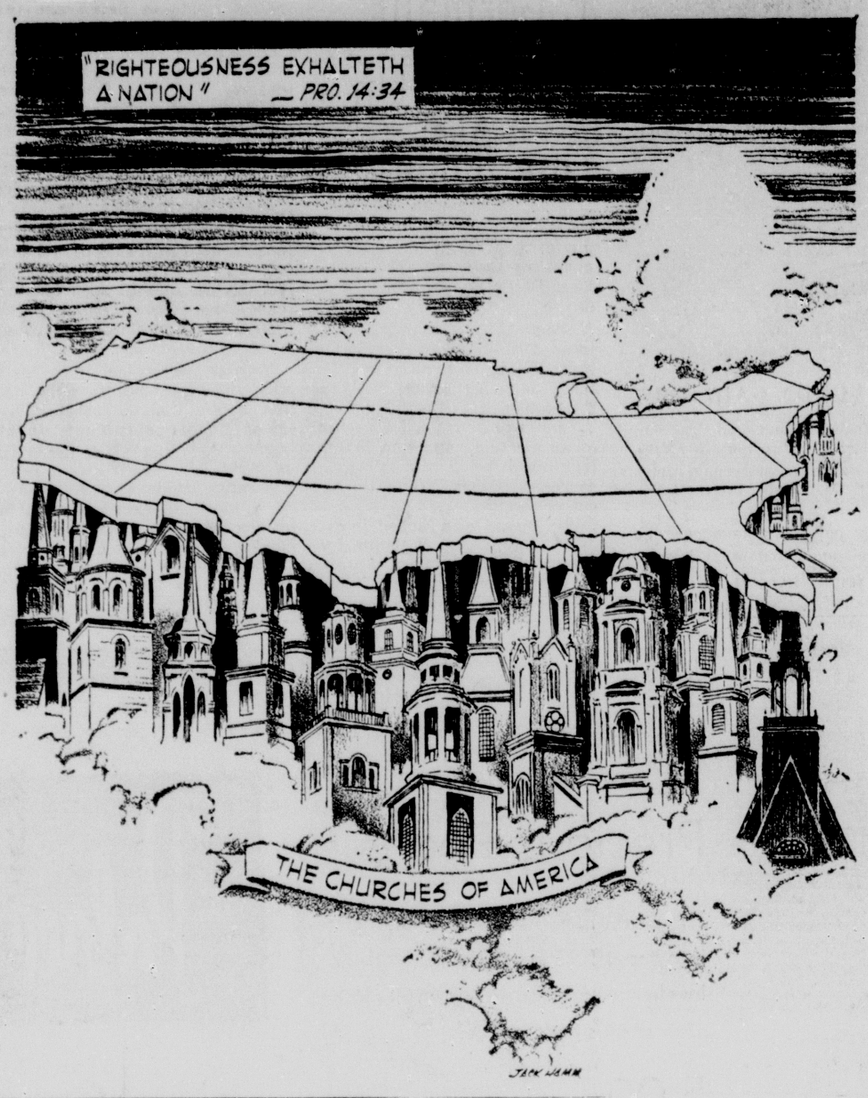

This 15-man flying squad had the prime mission of being responders to Democratic attacks on the House floor. They defended party positions and personnel. All were volunteers. This fact speaks everything for their determination and pugnacity. They worked closely with former Speaker Joe Martin, GOP floor leader in the House, and with Congressman Dick Simpson who headed the Republican House campaign committee.

It is just luck that 13 of these 15 survived the GOP debacle? None of them came from "safe" States or Districts, as there was no such thing for Republicans last November 4th. It seems logical to assume th t these men, being foremost in the fight in Congress, put the same spirit into their reelection battles at home. There seems little doubt that, as proved by frequent speeches and debates in the House, they knew the problem and the answers better than most of their colleagues.

Part Three is the handful of Southern Republicans. There were five House Republicans from the Confederate States. All of them won. One of them, Bruce Alger of Dallas, Texas, is very likely the most constructive conservative on his side of the Capitol. William Cramer of St. Petersburg, Florida, another unabashed right winger, was so irritated with Modern Republicanism that he might have left the party if he had had anywhere to go. Charles Jonas of Lincolnton, N. C.; Richard Poff of Radford, Virginia, and J o e l Broyhill of Arlington, Virginia are all to the right of center. Each of them ran and won, not only against the heavy Democratic registration in their States, but also against the trend.

Let every man write his own moral to these tales of victory amid the ruins. Mine is not new. It says — you usually get hurt when you're running away.

Pillars Of Strength

CHARLES O. GRIDLEY

Bipartisanship May Be Continued Another Year

The next year may see an extension of compromise in government, sometimes referred to as bipartisanship, which will set a precedent for this country, and its effect can be for the nation's benefit.

Discussions in Washington leading to this conclusion are based on the obvious probability that the two leading figures in Congress will continue to be Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, that President Eisenhower has worked with them in the past, and that the United States Treasury faces a fiscal situation which, if not alarming, is calculated to prevent the increased liberal membership in both Houses from running wild on a budget which already threatens to be as large as that of the past year, if not larger.

The main concern of the average taxpayer with this situation is that political leaders are already talking about higher taxes a n d that both parties dread such a possibility. That of itself will cause the three men mentioned, together with Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson — who is like the other three, a Texan, to work together to put the country on a sounder fiscal basis, which is so essential that it transcends t h e importance of sociological changes.

By a year from now, the kings and pawns on the national political chess board will be in motion, and the results of the recent election will have been so well digested that the prospects of talked of presidential possibilities will be much clearer than they are at the moment. With the exception of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the top candidates will be new faces, at least from the standpoint of national importance.

This includes Senator John F. Kennedy (Dem.-Mass.) whose 800,000 vote in obtaining reelection has given him a stature he did not have before Nov. 4. Another will be Senator S t u a r t Symington (Dem-Mo.) a widely discussed compromise Democratic possibility. It of course also covers Governor-elect Nelson A Rockefeller (Rep. -N.Y.) who is due for a trial heat in his new office which may lift or lower his chance to be considered a likely Republican nominee.

It does not cover Senator Johnson, credited with being the sharpest Senate party leader in t w o decades, because he had denied so often that he will allow himself to be considered as a presidential candidate that even most of his closest friends believe him. Nor does it include any other possible candidate from the South.

Any idea that this outcropping of new presidential possibilities may be accompanied by attacks on President Eisenhower in his final months as President should be questioned for the present. The Democrats may fight among themselves, and thus could give the Republican minority, comprising just over one third of the new membership, an occasional chance to join with a Democratic minority to share a victory, but not often.

For example, enough new senators have succeeded others who voted in 1957 to continue the existing Senate rules including Rule 22, which protects filibusters and thus permits a bill to be talked to death. If these new senators all vote to reverse their predecessors when the same motion is made at the beginning of the session, the vote of 55-38 to table the motion would be switched to 47-46 to take up and to debate the motion.

The existing rule requires a two thirds vote of the entire Senate to shut off debate on a measure, and also provides that this cloture cannot be applied to motions or resolutions to change the rules of the Senate.

This sounds like a complicated parliamentary situation but upon its outcome will depend how far the Senate wants to go in reducing the c l o t u r e requirements, which in turn has a direct bearing on the debate on civil rights legislation. An overwhelming vote to change the rules radically would be a strong indication that Democratic liberals have taken over the Senate, with the cooperation of a number of Republicans. At the moment this is not expected.

With the departure of a number of economy-minded Republicans, the burden will rest more heavily upon southern Democrats heading up major committees to check the long list of new expenditures which will be proposed which would create an even heavier budget deficit than this year, and possibly lead to new taxes.

Hospital Care Makes Progress

Not every hospitalized patient is sick enough to stay in bed and be waited upon by a registered nurse. But the person who could be up and about gets and pays for the same service as the critically ill who are in need of intensive care. Every hospital floor has a few patients who need constant attention, others who can get by on routine care, and an equal number who can get along by themselves.

Many of the rooms are equipped to the hilt with bedside oxygen, suction devices, and other items any emergency that might occur. But such equipment is required for only a small percentage of the patients. It is here that hospital administrators might be able to reduce the over-all cost of construction and operation of hospitals.

Most hospitals hesit: to set aside rooms for special cases because the types of illnesses and accident that strike a community are unpredictable. Rooms reserved for fracture patients may remain idle until the sidewalks become icy. Meanwhile, they a r e needed by patients with penumonia or peptic ulcer.

Today's treatment highly specialized and requires teamwork. Modern hospitals set aside rooms for the more seriously ill, regardless of whether they are suffering from penumonia, shock, a heart attack, poisoning, or other critical condition.

Another unit houses those recovering from surgery. The personnel receives special training in handling such persons; a registered nurse is in constant attendance; as these patients improve they are transferred to another part of the hospital where routine care is given.

The next step in progressive patient care is the section where convalescing individuals can g e t along by themselves. They join those who are using the convenience of the hospital for X-rays and other laboratory tests, keeping their own rooms tidy, and eating in the dining room or cafeteria. Another unit houses patients with chronic diseases who need long time care. We move with the times and the hospital of the future will be designed to fit the needs of many types of patients.

QUICK OR SLOW DEATH

L. M. writes: Obituaries often mention that a person died after a long illness. What is the difference in time between a long and a short illness?

REPLY

The best example of a short illness is a fatal heart attack. The majority of prolonged illnesses are caused by cancer and certain neurological diseases, such as paralysis; the patient lingers f o r months or years.

REMOVAL OF OBSTRUCTION

D. F. writes: What is a transurethral resection for prostrate trouble?

REPLY

In this procedure the obstructing part of the prostate is removed thru the tube that leads from the bladder to the outside (urethra). No external incision is made The result is an opening thru the prostate that resembles an apple without its core. It is dubbed the punch operation.

HOUSEMAID'S KNEE

T. S. writes: What is water on the knee called technically?

REPLY

Hydrops, or fluid on the knee, but the name of the underlying cause is given preference. Fluid may accumulate when the knee is sprained or injured (internal derangement; or if infection or irritation exists, as in rheumatic fever, arthritis, or bursitis.

HOSPITAL BOND ISSUE

West Monroe, La

Editor, World:

As a taxpayer of West Monroe, La., I am going to ask a few questions and make a few statements regarding the proposed bond issue which the taxpayers of West Monroe are requested to pay for 30 long years.

We all know that all hospitals are making big money today and where making money is involved there is never a trace of the great principles of charity. So this is a tax problem and not a charity proposition.

As a taxpayer, I challenge the move of any one to vote a tax on me forcing me to pay the way of any individual or organization in order that they can make money out of such a move. I know that no individual or organization will undertake such a move of operation unless money can be made in such an operation.

We know that homestead exemption will not exempt anyone in West Monroe from paying t h i s tax, if passed, regardless of whether it be a widow, aged and-or an invalid.

We also know that every business in West Monroe will have their taxes raised and they will have to add it to their merchandise price to covert his extra expense and that will make me and the rest of West Monroe's customers pay twice unless we take our trade out of West Monroe.

Folks, let us think real sensible about this thing for just a minute. We know that West Monroe's financial condition will not permit our city streets to be put in decent driving condition.

Knowing this, why would our city officials recommend such a bond issue? Why?? Loading the West Monroe taxpayers with more than two million dollars debt in ultimate costs with never any return to the man who pays. How can we donate such a huge sum when we cannot fix our streets?

Folks, the taxpayers of West Monroe cannot afford such a tax under present conditions. The financial structure and present conditions, we know, is very unsettled. We had better work on strengthening what we have because it is far weaker than you think.

Business Climb Fast And Broad

During the last election campaigns, the politicians indulged in their usual practice of painting the economic landscape of America in colors of either black or white. I can't recall a non-Presidential election year in which so many statistics were thrown at us — and so many conflicting and obviously exaggerated claims were made on the basis of identical figures.

But, of course, the economic landscape of our nation rarely is either black or white, and being informed doesn't have to be the equivalent of being confused. Now that the oratory is over, therefore, here is a simple quiz to help set the bread - and - butter record straight.

Q. — Where is the economy now and where is it heading?

A — Since the 1957-58 recession, the severest but shortest of post - World War II, hit its official bottom in April, business has been in an impressively broad and fast rebound.

Every key indicator of our economy is now pointing up, emphasizing the solidity of the comeback. In a few months, the upswing has spread to virtually every field, stressing the remarkable breadth of the revival.

Upturns of this extent do not fade overnight. We're in a strong upswing and the nevt stop is well in the future.

A few figures and facts are worth studying.

Personal incomes are running at a record annual rate of over $357 billion, and corporation profits snapped back in the third quarter, are moving up sharply toward the 1957 levels now.

Retail sales are heading for an all - time peak before 1958s end.

Construction is running 20 to 25 per cent ahead of 1957, an increase sufficiently spectacular to prompt F. W. Dodge Corp.'s vice president George Cline Smith to remark, "I don't believe we have seen anything like it before."

Industrial production has recaptured more than half the ground lost in the recession months, and in fact, the pace of rise in production has been so rapid that logic suggests it must slow in coming months. (It will.)

The total output of goods and services of our nation is slated to smash every record this quarter, to hit or surpass a $450 billion rate.

Q — What about unemployment, though?

A — This is the weakest spot in our economy and in every way the most disturbing spot.

Although joblessness fell well below 4,000,000 in October, one in almost every 14 workers in our labor force is hunting for a job. Equally disturbing, the unemployment is concentrated in some major industrial centers. And in early 1959 joblessness is bound to climb sharply.

The business expansion will have to expand much farther before we'll be able to absorb all willing and able to work. And the problem of unemployment goes deeper than the recession, for it reflects the fact that, as our industry is becoming more efficient, it is able to turn out more goods with fewer workers. And it emphasizes that every month new workers enter the labor force and our economy must grow steadily to absorb them.

Early Loafing Is Retirement Aid

NEW YORK (AP) — Magazines today are full of articles on the evils of retirement. They're enough to frighten a man out of the desire to grow old. They make retirement sound more dangerous than Sunday driving.

Some people are always knocking a good thing, but we doubt that they'll ever make retirement really unpopular with the working classes. Or, for that matter, government employes.

The big peril seems to be that a fellow suddenly turns 64, is cut off the payroll, and doesn't know what to do with himself. He finds it hard to adjust to a new way of life.

The answer, of course, is simple. Start getting ready for retirement early in life, so when it does come it will find you ready.

Here are a few down-to-earth tips—the kind the magazines don't dare give you:

At 25 start borrowing money from your relatives and friends. If they are like most relatives and friends, it will take you at least 40 years of steady borrowing to build you up a really decent retirement fund.

Begin loafing on the job at 35, and loaf more each year. By the time you're 65 you'll be used to not working, and there'll be no sudden shock when you have to hang up the harness forever. If the boss objects, explain your program to him fully and honestly. He'll understand. He's probably doing the same thing himself.

Since most people spend most of their time making mountains out of molehills, be sure to lay in a good supply of molehills while you are young. You don't want to be caught short in your old age.

Doctors often advise retired people to take a nip before each meal to help their circulation. Why not start this form of medication earlier, so your system can get used to it? After 40 start the morning off with a bracing martini.

After 65 a man's chief form of exercise is criticizing his wife. But why wait? You might as well get in a few workouts with the old girl in advance. At 45 you can start telling her what's wrong with her, thus giving her 20 years to perfect herself before you retire and begin your full-time criticism.

After retirement a man needs less strenuous hobbies. Why not give up girl watching around 50, and take up tree watching? It is not only more restful. It is less expensive. Hint: Avoid watching pine trees — they're too stimulating. Pick an acorn and watch it become an oak.

At 55 give up things that excite or overload the circulatory system — such as fried foods, redheads and politics.

At 65 the only thing a man can afford to give away is advice. But if you can, get rid of it before you retire — and save this later drain on your energy.

Anybody who adopts these simple steps will find it easy to adjust to retirement, when it comes, and live forever.

Well, anyway it will seem like forever.

I Pray This Day

DEAR God, I pray my life this day ... Will not turn out in vain ... Give me the help I need to make ... At least a little gain ... Not anything material ... That would accrue to me ... But just a small accomplishment ... For my community ... To serve a friend or stranger in ... His moment of distress ... Or in some other manner bring ... A bit of happiness ... Let not the sun go down upon ... A day unwisely spent ... With emptiness on every hand ... For which I must repent ... Give me the grace I need, dear God ... To guide me on my way ... And make it possible for me ... To live a useful day.

BLOTTER POLICE

FACES COURT

Eddie Perkins has his boots back - and Nobie Robinson is due in court tomorrow to explain why he allegedly was wearing Perkins' boots yesterday in the Oak Leaf bar.

That's where Monroe police arrested the 23-year-old Negro of 108 Eighth St., on a warrant charging theft. He was also booked for vagrancy.

Perkins, alos a Negro, of the 1100 block of Calypso St., swore out the warrant charging that Robinson made off with the boots from Perkins' back door.

IN CUSTODY

A 16-year-old Negro juvenile yesterday was in the parish dentention home, after a forced entry at 402 South 14th St.

Maggie Cunningham, Negro, called Monroe police at 4:30 a.m., and said that a youth had torn the screen off a window and entered the house.

CHARGED

J. B. Davis, 28, of 613 S. Fifth St. and William I. Gullette, 34, of 1515 Myers St. were charged with reckless driving yesterday by Monroe police.

Davis, arrested in the 1300 block of S. Second St., posted $55 bond. He was also charged with driving without a license.

Gullette was released after posting $27.50 bond. Both are due in city court Wednesday.

ON TRACK

He didn't intend to take a "railroad trip" but Lloyd Johnson really travelled down the tracks - about 40 feet in his auto.

The 24-year-old Ruston man intended to turn down Railroad Avenue, next to the Plum Street Missiouri-Pacific Railway crossing.

Monroe police found him asleep at the wheel, they said ..... called a wrecker to haul off the securely wedged car... ... .and charged the weary traveler with driving while intoxicated and reckless driving.

DUE IN COURT

James E. Balsamo, 18 of Route 3, Box 370, Monroe is due in city court Wednesday, after he was arrested and charged with three offenses this weekend.

Monroe police halted him in the 1600 block of S. Second St. and charged him with driving while intoxicated, reckless driving and driving without a license.

CHARGED

Charlies Watkins, 17 of 204 Layton Ave., was charged with vagrancy and damage to property at 5:15 p.m. yesterday.

He was arrested by Monroe police, bond was set at $500 and he is due in city court tomorrow to answer charges.

A few minutes earlier, David Upton, 40, Negro of 1904 Flynn St. was arrested at home and charged with disturbing the peace and simple battery.

His bond was set at $227.50 and he is to appear in court tomorrow.

U.S. May Take To Air Again

BERLIN (UPI) — The Western powers will not try to force their way to Berlin through East German highways but will take to the air again if the Russians clamp a new blockade on the isolated Western outpost, informed diplomatic sources said Saturday.

The U. S. Army was reported preparing to test Soviet intentions toward Berlin, in the wake of the Moscow - inspired demands that the West get out of the city.

Soviet border guards barred three U. S. military trucks from leaving Berlin for West Germany, 110 miles away, unless they submitted to a search. The soldier-drivers refused and the trucks were held for nearly nine hours before returning to Berlin.

The U. S. rejected the Soviet demands for the right to search Army trucks in a verbal protest delivered to the Soviet army headquarters in East Berlin Friday night.

The Soviet action was reminiscient of the beginning of the Communist blockade of Berlin in 1948-49. Informed sources said the Army planned to send out a test convoy to see whether the Communists would insist they be searched before being permitted to cross East Germany.

Speculation of a possible blockage was touched off by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's statement Monday that the Soviets would turn over control of the Allied land, canal and air lifelines between Berlin and the West to the East German regime.

The Western powers do not recognize the Communist East German government.

The diplomatic sources said American, British, and French convoys would turn back rather than submit to East German controls and supplies would be ferried in by air to Berlin.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said last week the United States had 600 four-engined transports "immediately available" if the Communists tried to blockade West Berlin.

No interference by the Communists with traffic to and from Berlin was reported up to noon Saturday. American officials said four military trains crossed the borders without any trouble. Two arrived in West Berlin from West Germany and two arrived in the West from Berlin.

Old Vet Will Get Military Funeral Monday

BALTIMORE (AP) — Henry W. Neils will be buried with military honors Monday and Charles K. Neils served his country in three wars before death took him at 83 last Thursday at the Veterans Administration Hospital in nearby Fort Howard.

He was a Navy combat veteran of the Spanish-American War, got back into uniform for World War I, and—at 69—entered the merchang marine in 1942. He retired three years later with the rank of commander.

Grantz, commander of a local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, tried to see that Neils got his last wish—a military funeral.

He said he spent Friday making a frustrating string of telephone calls to military authorities in Baltimore and Washington.

"I'm really going to be incensed," he said at one point, "if this man is buried without a firing squad."

Army and Marine officials turned him down because Neils belonged to neither service, Grantz said. The Coast Guard doesn't even have a burial detail.

Finally the Navy ordered its Baltimore reserve unit to furnish the burial detail.

Grantz was satisfied.

"But I think it's a terrible situation when one service won't stand at the burial of a member of another branch," he said.

Model Airplanes Demonstration Scheduled Here

A free demonstration of the stunts, speed and combat action of model airplanes will take place at 2 p.m. today in Bernstein Park.

The Twin City Aero Modelers will present the exhibition at the Park's Flying Field.

Assistant Chief Is Hospitalized

Assistant Chief of Police George Woods is in room 683 at St. Francis hospital, where he was taken yesterday. Another policeman will be admitted today.

Woods, who was ill for several weeks last spring, was "doing fine" last night, hospital officials stated.

Officer Joseph Battaglia will be admitted to the hospital today.

62 Labor Unions Postpone Strike

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Leaders of 62 big labor unions Saturday postponed a general strike, marking another victory for President Arthuro Frondizi's hotly pressed regime.

But there still was plenty of labor unrest, politics still was at a boiling point after last week's reputed attempt at a palace coup, and the government threatened martial law.

The 62 unions, whose members include many followers of ousted dictator Juan D. Peron, had called a 48-hour strike for next Thursday.

The strike was to protest the rising cost of living. The government had warned the unions not to strike, reminding the leaders Argentina is under a state of siege.

The clincher appeared to be a pledge by Labor Minister Alfredo Allende that price control decrees will be issued soon in an attempt to halt the rise.

Informed sources insisted the unions agreed only to a two-week breathing spell to give the government time to meet the labor demands.

The state of siege was proclaimed by Frondizi Tuesday in an attempt to clamp the lid on labor unrest.

While victorious in Buenos Aires, the administration still faced a sea of troubles in the petroleum industry. A strike of petroleum workers moved into its 15th day in the oil-producing province of Mendoza. Leaders of the country's oil unions have postponed but not yet canceled plans for a nationwide strike.

The oil workers are protesting Frondizi's plan to call in American and other foreign capital to bail out the floudering oil industry. They want Argentina alone to develop the nationalized industry.

On the political front Vice President Alejandro Gomez stubornly refused to resign after being accused of trying to engineer a coup last week to unseat Frondizi, only six months in office.

"I have neither renounced my job nor my dignity," Gomez told newsmen.

A mob of about 100 shouting "traitor" burst into his office Friday night, smashing doors, furniture and windows. Sen. Lucio Racedo said Gomez will be impeached if he does not resign.

Frondizi accused Gomez, a fellow instransigent Radical Party member, of telling him he could not control the situation and must give way to a coalition government headed by Gomez. Gomez denied this.

Lt. Col. Antonio Quijano Semino, former aide of Provisional President Pedro Aramburu, was picked up by the army for questioning about the purported plot, Aramburu has been critical of some of Frondizi's policies.

ATLAS TEST

Postponement Of Shot Shows Facts

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another postponement of an Atlas ICBM test firing Saturday underscored this fact: transoceanic rockets aren't ready yet to supplant intermediate Range Ballistic Missiles like those scheduled to go to European bases.

At Cape Canaveral, Fla., an Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic Missile test firing was postponed for the second time in three days because of technical difficulties.

This came after Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy told a news conference here Thursday that "the further you go down the road toward an operational capability of the ICBM, the less interesting it is for us to deploy additional ones of the IRBM's, and we are closer to the time of operation capability of the Atlas."

McElroy's statement was interpreted generally to mean that the time is coming when the United States will rely on its U. S.-based 5,000-mile range ICBM missiles and eventually drop the present program of installing 1,500-mile range ICBM's around the European periphery of the Soviet Union.

It also was interpreted by some as meaning that a broadscale, wholesale revision of basic U. S. military strategy is in the offing. The State Department was moved to issue an official statement saying it found nothing in McElroy's remarks which indicated a departure from over-all strategy.

McElroy, some of his Pentagon aides insist, was talking in terms of a year or several years when he said that "the further you go down the road toward an operational ICBM" the less interesting becomes overseas use of the shorter range missiles. But McElroy also said that "we are coming closer" to the time when ICBM's will be ready for combat use.

It is true that the Air Force is preparing to use Atlas missiles. The first squadron composing a launching crew is expected to become operational next year at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. A second squadron is being assigned to the other Atlas launching site at Warren AFB, Wyo.

But the Air Force weapons designers are still working at perfection of the missiles which these two squadrons will use.

To date, no Atlas missile has been pushed in test firings to the full designed range of 5,500 miles. Approximately half of the Atlas flight tests so far have been described as completely successful. Some of the others have been partially successful, some failures.

In its effort to get the Atlas into operational readiness, the Air Force is reported thinking of diverting some parts of another of its ICBM projects, the Titan, to the Atlas program.

The first test firing of a Titan is expected early next year. Work on that missile was started more than two years after initiation of the Atlas program, and it is reported to have a later design guidance system.

The third of the three Air Force ICBM projects, the Minuteman, is even farther back down the road. Unlike the liquid-fueled Atlas and Titan, the Minuteman will use solid propellant in a three-scale power plant.

The requirement for perfecting the missiles themselves is the primary time factor in getting ICBM's ready for combat use. The construction of the complex bases, with launching, tracking, and other equipment also is a factor. Until Vandenberg AFB is ready for use, the Air Force will have no site for the actual firing training needed by launching crews. The Cape Canaveral site is used almost exclusively for experimental and test firings of a variety of Army, Navy, and Air Force missiles.

Youth In Water Rescued Here; 7 Face Charges

Seven youthful Monroe Negroes are due in city court Wednesday to answer charges of vagrancy and contributing to the delinguency of a juvenile.

Monroe police charged the Negroes after a 16-year-old Negro juvenile was hauled unconscious out of a deep, water-filled ditch this weekend. Officers alleged that he had been drinking.

Albert Spears, 1106 Louise Anne Ave., summoned officials after he heard "language and a splashing in front of his house".

He said that he ran out and saw the youth in the water. He told police that bystanders would not get the juvenile out of the ditch.

After the boy was brought into the Spears home and given artificial respiration by Spears and Ed Spears, police arrested:

Ray E. White, 17, 1103 Louise Anne; Foster Knox, 17, 708 South 17th St.; William M. Johnson, 21, 814 Louise Anne; Roosevelt M. Williams, 19, 205 South 10th St.; Jimmie Swillie, 21, 406 S. Ninth St., Edward Gordon, 19, Apt. B, Texas Avenue homes; and Walter McNeal, 17, 304 South 11th St.

Hungarians To Vote Today On Red Parliament

BUDAPEST (AP) — Hungarians vote for a new Parliament Sunday, choosing from a hand-picked slate of candidates approved by the Communist regime.

Premier Ferenc Muennich told a news conference rival political parties are barred because "nobody in Hungary wants the classes of the exploiters to have any chance to express their views, much less be elected to Parliament."

The official list has 38 candidates—70 per cent of them party members. No one else can run.

The only way opposition to the Red regime can be expressed is by scratching the name off the list —or rejecting the whole ticket by marking a small circle at the bottom of the ballot.

The official news agency MTI said in the last parliamentary election in 1953 that 98.2 per cent of the electorate voted and 98 per cent endorsed the official list. About 6½ million Hungarians are eligible to vote. First figures will be available Monday.

State Gets 1st Demo Governor In 18 Years

OMAHA (AP) — Completion of unofficial tabulations Saturday showed Ralph Brooks, McCook educator, defeated Republican Gov. Victor E. Anderson by a margin of 1,606 potes, to give Nebraska its first Democratic governor in 18 years.

Associated Press tabulations of the unofficial count, with the vote of absent and disabled voters ballots included, give: Brooks 211,143; Anderson 209,537.

Counting of the mail vote, totaling 6,845, was not completed until Saturday. It ran nearly 63 per cent in favor of Gov. Anderson but was insufficient to ovetake the 3,280-vote lead Brooks piled up in the election night tabulations.

Anderson, who has served two terms as governor, refused to concede the election, saying he would await the official canvass next month.

Queen Victoria was awakened at five o'clock in the morning to be told that she was Queen of Great Britain.

Building Permits Total $102,920

Twenty building permits for construction or improvements costing $102,920.00 were issued during the past week by the office of William C. Hines, Jr., Monroe building inspector.

John E. Zufall, who issued the permits, commented that the fee for a $30,000 one-story masonry building was $144 — highest collected so far this month.

W. E. Cole obtained the permit on Nov. 13, to construct a one-story masonry stone building, composed of 13 rooms, on the southeast corner of 18th Street and Glenmar.

Size for the building is 4800 square feet.

The permit was issued subject to approval by the state fire marshal.

Other permits issued for the week included:

Monday, Nov. 10, permit to L. M. Frey, Jr. to build a two-story brick veneer residence, seven rooms and two baths, at 1602 Auburn, size 1700 square feet, and cost, $16,000.

No permits issued Tuesday, Veteran's Day.

Wednesday, Nov. 12 permits were obtained by:

Battleship San Marcos Is Not Out

TANGIE ISLAND, Va. (AP) — The old battleship San Marcos has been down for 37 years. Trouble is, she's not out.

The Navy has been setting off tons of explosives trying to flatten the old hulk and remove the menace to navigation in Upper Chesapeake Bay.

The problem was one left by Gen. William Mitchell in 1921 when he used the San Marcos—formerly the battleship Texas—as a target to prove his contention a battleship was vulnerable to aerial bombing.

Since she settled in her grave, the San Marcos has damaged more shipping than she ever did as a proud dreadnought of the fleet. At least seven shipwrecks have been laid to the jagged metal that clutches at the unwary a few feet below the surface. About $100,000 already has been paid in damage claims.

The Army Corps of Engineers asked the Navy to lend a hand. Tests indicated underwater blasting could level the wreck at 15 to 20 feet below the surface. The Navy began booming away last month but has succeeded in getting a clearance of only 13 feet. The 12-inch armor plate of the buried warrior does not yield.

"She's a tough old dog," said Lt. Cmdr. Francis P. Jordan, in charge of the demolition. "It's going to make more explosive than we ever imagined."

But with a break from the weather, Jordan hopes to complete the job. If he fails, navigators will just have to keep a sharper eye on the marker buoys.

Mell Ott Is Injured When Cars Collide

BAY ST. LOUIS, Miss. (AP)—Two cars collided on U. S. Highway 90 east of here Friday night, killing one man and critically injuring Mel Ott, member of baseball's hall of fame. Mrs. Ott was injured seriously.

Dead was Leslie S. Curry Sr., 50, of Bay St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott were treated at the local Hancock County Hospital. A spokesman said both had multiple injuries.

Ott had internal injuries, both legs broken, cuts about the head and arms and was in shock. Mrs. Ott had a broken arm, cuts and brain concussion.

Sheriff Sylvan Ladner said the collision occurred as the Otts were leaving a cafe and Curry was heading east on the highway.

The Otts live in Metairie, La., a suburb of New Orleans. He now is in a contracting business.

The Little Rock couple eloped to Matamoros, Mexico, Nov. 2, then came to Houston where Richard got a job.

IN WEST TEXAS COUNTY

Garner's Birthday To Be Big Event

By DAVE CHEAVENS

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — John Nance Garner turns a mellow 90 this coming Saturday and it'll be a big event in this west Texas county of the honey bee, heavy beef, woolly sheep and hairy goat.

The former vice president of the United States is getting set for a king-sized birthday celebration, including a barbecue and a big cake with maybe one candle standing for all those years.

The invitation list includes such names as James A. Farley and House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex). And Garner is happily looking forward to another reunion with many of his old political pals and proteges.

The years, of course, have slowed down Garner's once galloping routine. "Don't hurry, don't worry," says the motto hanging in his workroom. And he doesn't don his wool hunting britches and go chasing after deer on his birthday anymore.

"I know my age," he says. "When you get to be nearly 90, your hunting and fishing days are over."

Garner's only remaining sport is baseball — on television. On major league broadcast days, he sits in a captain's chair facing two TV sets.

Close at hand is a remote control gadget he gleefully uses to cut out the commercials or switch to another game if action gets dull in one contest. Afternoon games wreck his regular nap time.

"But it's worth it," he says.

Back in his Washington days, Garner went to the ball games as often as he could.

"I always took one Democrat and one Republican to sit in the box with me. That way, nobody could say it was politics."

Whisky-drinking, cigar-chewing Cactus Jack was a blunt-tongued tabasco-tempered fellow in Washington. He pounded four gavels to splinters during his first week as speaker of the House.

After he became vice president, he called himself the "spare tire of the government," and he kept his mouth shut in public.

"I never talk about national affairs," he used to say during his two terms as vice president (1932-1940). "I leave that to the boss (Franklin D. Roosevelt).

The Roosevelt-Garner friendship survived Garner's acid comments about Roosevelt's spending, proposal to pack the Supreme Court and recognition of the Soviet Union.

But the two split wide apart over Roosevelt's third term.

"A president in his third and successive terms may not be a dictator, but he is the first cousin or half-brother of one and he will perform like one," said Garner.

Garner never gives birthday statements or advice on how to live to a ripe old age. "There have been too many statements by too many people," he says.

Mrs. Garner died in 1948 and Garner lives alone — but he is not lonely. He still has numerous visitors, some townsfolk and others just travelers.

They drive under the towering oak and pecan trees, walk through the gate, and knock on the door of the little white house where Garner lives behind the garage. He has given the red brick house he built for Mrs. Garner to the town of Uvalde.

"Come in," hollers Garner from his battered old desk by the front window.

A reporter once asked him if he went to the door to shake hands.

He answered: "If they want to see me they can come in here and see me."

In 1952, Garner supported Adlai Stevenson and in 1954, the former Vice President appeared with National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler, who was trying to patch up a party fight in Texas.

But he has made no political statements in recent years although he never misses a chance to vote.

And Garner's partisanship has definite limits.

"I dearly love the Democratic party, but I love my country more," he says.

Garner was born in a log cabin on Nov. 22, 1868, but he built himself a fortune in ranching, real estate and banking. He cut his last connection with business in 1954 when he retired as director of Uvalde's First State Bank.

"Just put me on the lazy, no-account list."

Today his eyesight and hearing are excellent. Whenever he's not reading or watching television, his glasses bulge in the pocket of his soft khaki shirt, fastened in with a big safety pin.

The medium-height, stocky Garner putters around in battered khaki clothes, carpet slippers and a green eyeshade pulled down over a crew cut.

His figure is trim and he keeps it that way by eating five light meals a day—actually three meals and two snacks — on the theory that overloading the stomach is bad for the heart.

His reasoning is sharp and his memory seems extraordinary. His day begins with an early breakfast. Then he reads a batch of daily papers, checks his mail, has a midmorning snack.

After lunch he naps until 3 p.m. and then goes out to feed his bantam chickens and ducks. He gets mild exercise from shelling pecans for friends.

"Just give me 100 pounds and give the rest to anybody who wants to come after them," Garner told his son, Tully, this year. Tully, a grandfather himself, lives alone in a house next door to his father.

His years of public service — starting in the Texas legislature and including 27 years in the U.S. Congress—cover 46 years spanning from the horse and buggy days to the rocket age.

Since he retired to Uvalde, Garner has seen a lot of big names beat the path to his door—including FDR, Harry Truman, Cabinet members and droves of senators and representatives.

But that doesn't mean Garner is high-hat.

"Are we invietd to your party?" a newsman asked Garner.

"Invited, hell!" roared the old campaigner. "You don't need to be invited. It's a free country, isn't it?"

Oak Ridge Sets 10-Day United Fund Campaign

OAK RIDGE (Special) — Beginning on Nov. 15th, Oak Ridge will start a United Fund drive, the first of this kind ever to be had in the community. Plans have been formulated by a committee set up by the Community Council. Acting as chairman for the committee was Dr. G. L. Greene and serving with him were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Barham and W. P. Smith.

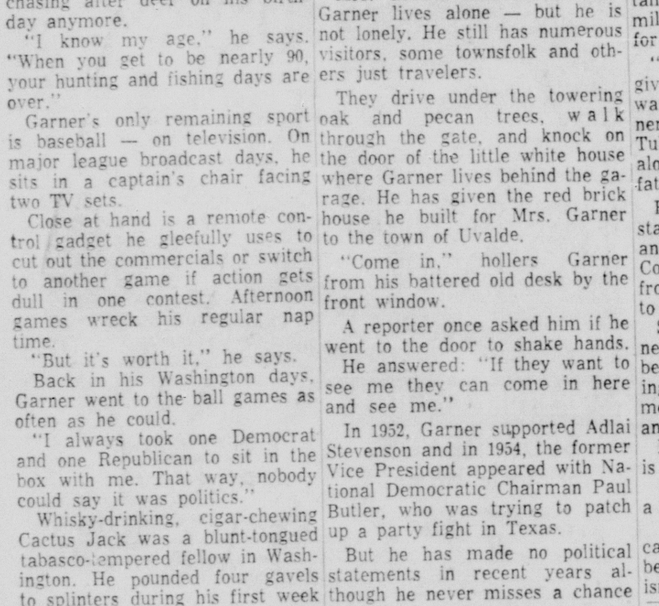

The goal has been set at approximately $1500.00 and the drive will last ten days. Amount collected will be set aside for the 1959 budget which has been set up to cover organizations that usually have drives in the town. This covers Red Cross, Salvation Army, March of Dimes, Crippled Children Fund, Heart Fund, Cancer, Cerebral Palsy Muscular Dystrophy, Boy Scouts, Tuberculosis, U. N. I. C. E. F., a local emergency fund and United Fund.

A copy allowing each donor to say how they wish their gift allotted will be given to each citizen. The contributor may indicate the amount he wishes to give to each cause. This account will be written in the blanks provided. In the event he does not specify the cause but simply gives to the United Fund, it will be distributed according to needs.

Solicitors have been selected by the committee and every one is urged to be ready for their contribution in order that the drive can be completed before or on the deadline set.

HELPFUL SERVICES

Volunteer Group Aids At Hospital

Should you have festive holiday plans interrupted by sudden illness and be confined at the St. Francis Hospital, a group of volunteer workers there will see to it that not all your holiday is gloomy.

The group is the St. Francis Hospital Auxiliary — a non-sectarian organization of men and women who lend their services daily.

Reorganized in 1953 under the presidency of Mrs. Charles Mitchell, the group progressed under the leadership of later presidents, Mrs. C. P. Gray Jr., Mrs. W. H. McFadden, and Mrs. John B. Filhiol Jr.

Committees of the Auxiliary work to satisfy the physical needs of patients and doctors, plus lending friendship services to relatives and friends of patients.

CHEER

The Cheer Committee adds color to food trays on special holidays with favors suitable to such occasions as Christmas, George Washington's Birthday, St. Patrick's Day, Valentine's Day, and Independence Day celebrations.

Some committee member wheels a comfort cart through the hospital daily offering special aids to patients.

The Auxiliary workers offer many personal services such as writing letters, and reading to the patients.

On the geriatric ward — some of its patients have outlived relatives — the Auxiliary workers sponsor a Christmas party.

Christmas parties are held for children too.

Some time ago Mrs. W. E. Reardon and her daughter, Mrs. F. B. Shipp, began a project to make curtains for the entire hospital.

MATERIALS

Materials were furnished by the hospital and the Auxiliary members did the work.

Reading matter is distributed throughout the hospital by the Auxiliary.

The organization purchased an isolette — a life - giving machine for premature babies.

At present a fund is being accumulated to aid the study of nursing. The organization believes that no person interested in nursing should be kept away from it by lack of funds for training.

The gift shop in the hospital lobby is operated for visitors and patients. Mrs. Max Kulcke and Mrs. T. H. Scott carry on the work aided by many volunteers.

Several patients aided by the auxiliary have recently joined the group.

In addition to services to the patients, the Auxiliary makes many services available to the doctors.

High Winds Hit Southern Calif. Coast, 3 Missing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sixty mile - an - hour winds lashed the southern California coast Saturday, churning up 12 to 20-foot swells that sank three small vessels. Three men are missing.

A 45-foot fishing boat, Dorothy R, Capsized nine miles south of the Los Angeles harbor breakwater. Three men were saved, and three are missing.

A cabin cruiser was swept into a sea cave in the cliffs near San Diego. One passenger scaled a cliff for help, and four others huddled on a sandbar—watching their craft break apart in the raging seas—until rescuers saved them.

A $50,000 fishing boat broke up at the entrance to King's Harbor at Redondo Beach, south of here. County lifeguards rescued two men from the 46-foot vessel as waves battered it to splinters.

Independent Cyprus Move Is Opposed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Turkish Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu flew into New York Saturday and two Turkish Cypriot leaders were due in Sunday to oppose a drive of Greece and Greek Cypriots for a Greek-dominated independent Cyprus.

Greek Cypriot Archbishop Makarios also is expected Sunday morning, just before the Turkish Cypriot leaders, Dr. Fazil Kutchuk and Rauf Denkdash. Greek Foreign Minister Evanghelos Averoff-Tossizza will get in later in the day.

The U. N. General Assembly's Political Committee will start deably a week from next Monday. The Cypriot leaders will be on hand to present their views informally to delegates and others. But it is not known yet whether any of them will ask a hearing before the committee.

Greek Cypriots outnumber Turkish Cypriots more than 5-1 on the British-ruled Mediterranean island formerly under Turkey.

Makarios, communal and religious leader of Greek Cypriots, long advocated annexation of the island to Greece. Lately he has come out for independence after a few years of self-government.

Turkish Cypriot leaders are on record for eventual partition of the island between Greece and Turkey. But with the Turkish government, they have accepted a British interim scheme for seven more years' British rule with the help of separate Greek and Turkish Cypriot legislatures and the advice of Greek and Turkish representatives. Greek Cypriots and the Greek government have turned this down.

Arriving after the Turkish foreign minister was Selim Sarper, his ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Council in Paris. Efforts collapsed in that Council last month to arrange a conference of Britain, Greece and Turkey on Cyprus

The Turkish Cypriot leaders will be the first such ever to come to New York for a U. N. debate on the Cyprus question, which Greece has brought up here for the fifth year in a row.

Temperatures as high as 189 degrees Fahrenheit have been recorded in Iraq.

Space Research Group Chosen

LONDON (AP) — A Dutchman, American and a Russian were named Saturday to head the International Committee on Space Research, a nongovernmental body known as COSPAR.

Its job is to coordinate space research. A constitution, charter, and rules were agreed to at the opening meeting last week.

H.S. Van der Hulst of the Netherlands was named union president, with E. K. Fedorov of the Soviet Academy of Science and Prof. W. Albert Noyes of the University of Rochester, N.Y., as vice presidents.

'Uncle Jim' Reaches 104

same site which was a pine forest when the King boys first approached it.

"Uncle Jim" was over 90 years old before he discontinued the practice of climbing pecan trees to thrash them each fall.

In 1950 at the age of 95 he became the beneficiary of his own life insurance policy and collected the $1,500 proceeds of a contract he had purchased 46 years before.

Before his retirement King served as a member of the Franklin parish school board for 28 years.

He is a member of Winnsboro Lodge No. 246 F. and A. M., and the Boeuf Prairie Methodist church at Fort Necessity.

His wife, the former Miss Clara Brinsfield, died in 1928 during the 50th year of their marriage. Six of the 10 children are still living. They are G. E. King, who lives with his father; J. F. King, Winnsboro; Dr. Brinsfield King, Baton Rouge; Mrs. L. M. Cook, Foreman, Ark.; and Mrs. A. E. Hynum and Mrs. W. H. Price, Winnsboro. King has 16 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren.

Linda Shocked At Word Of Power's Death

PARIS (UPI)—Actress Linda Christian, mother of Tyrone Power's two daughters, swayed and seemed on the verge of fainting Saturday night when told of the death of her former husband.

"Oh my God," she whispered. "Ty, Ty . . ."

"I am at a loss for words. The poor children, to lose their father that way." She said she had had a premonition that harm would befall her former husband.

"I am shaking like a leaf," she said. "Only yesterday I got his last letter to the children and was planning to take it to them in Mexico."

Test Battery Set For Administration

"Parents yearn for an objective report of their children's abilities in the fundamental skills of learning," says Paul J. Neal, director of testing of the Monroe City Schools, "and they want evidence that their school tax dollars are being spent wisely."

To meet these goals the Science Research Associates Achievement Series test battery will be administered by Neal and his staff December 1 through 19 to grades 6,7,8, and 9.

This testing program measures pupil mastery of language, arts, reading, arithmetic, and word-study skills. The results will indicate how well each pupil has mastered these essential skills of learning and indicate where individual instruction can be applied most effectively.

These results will also serve as a basis for curriculum planning to meet educational objectives.

RESEARCH

"Because of the exhaustive research into the objectives of education, done by the authors, this SRA achievement batter provides much more adequate coverage of materials commonly taught than many tests designed for the same grade levels," said Neal, and "in addition, the tests are scored centrally, leaving our teachers free for more important duties."

Administration of the primary mental abilities test was completed last week to all tenth grade students of the City Schools.

This test is designed to measure five of the primary mental abilities and therefore will be very valuable to counselors and parents in identifying the academic strengths and weaknesses of pupiles, officials said.

Package Plan Showdown At Capitol Today

with Supt. Shelby M. Jackson's forces on a move to reclaim $4½-million in school lunch surpluses for teachers' salaries.

Instead, the governor overruled the protests of finance Commissioner James S. Reily, who designed the "package plan," and promised Jackson an additional $4 million.

Long's promise brought Jackson's share in the "package plan" to $14 million. It decreased the cost of the plan from $32 million to $36 million.

EXCLUDED

Reily was excluded in the exchange and Friday told the Senate Finance committee, as it stamped approval on the plan, that he had some "personal convictions" about the State Department of Education.

Besides education, the "package plan" will restore about $500,000 to one operation of trade schools — about 53 per cent of the 25 per cent cut put into effect by the Legislature last summer.

The special session has had little fireworks with only the threats of Reily's resignation rising over the business at hand. Reily said Friday he would quit if his "usefulness" ever became unneeded.

Cost of conducting the special session will run the taxpayers $158,000. The next meeting of the legislature is expected to be the fiscal session in May.

If the "package plan" is adopted tonight, the legislators will head home and return Friday to officially adjourn. Under special session regulations, bills must be on the governor's desk five days before adjournment.

Numbers performed were "Celebration Overture" by Creston; "Organ Prelude" and "Fugue in C" by Bach; "Psalm for Band" by Perischetti; "Symphonic Suite," by Williams, and "Procession of the Nobles" by Krosakov.

The program here was attended by teachers and students from Louisiana Tech, McNeese and Southwestern.

Thanksgiving

Louis Masur Jr. and family are looking with pleasure to the time when his mother, Mrs. Louis Masur Sr., returns from New York City where she has been for many weeks receiving treatment for a fractured ankle. She is expected to be here in time to enjoy Thanksgiving with her family.

Another family group here at Thanksgiving will be the parents of Charlie Penn. His parents, living at Okmulgee, Okla., are anticipating that they will make the trip to Monroe.

Nomads

Officials ask that all Nomads attend and wear their Fez. Each Nomad should bring his candidate, it was added.

Almanac. Who's Who listed the year as 1914.

He had his first stage role at 7. After he was graduated from high schoo in Cincinnati he began preparing for a theatrical career instead of going to college. He studied Shakespearian drama under his father.

The family moved to Hollywood, where his father was at work on "The Miracle Man" when fatally stricken.

Convinced he never could get a break in the movies, young Power turned to stock company work in Chicago. But in 1936 he got his break with a 20th Century-Fox contract.

With his success in "Lloyds of London," he was on his way to stardom. He was a romantic figure, and his name was linked with the beauties of the film capital—Sonja Henie, Janet Gaynor, Arleen Whelan, Loretta Young and Norma Shearer.

He starred in such box office attractions as "Alexander's Ragtime Band," "Marie Antoinette," "Rose of Washington Square," "Jesse James," "Johnny Apollo," "The Rains Came," "Brigham Young," "The Mark of Zorro," "The Eddy Duchin Story" and "The Sun Also Rises."

Power was the top box office star of Hollywood in 1938 and 1940. When World War II came, he shucked his career and in 1942 enlisted as a private in the Marines at San Diego.

He was discharged in 1945 as a lieutenant.

Saturday night Power's body was transferred by funeral coach from the hospital to the U.S. Torrejon Air Base. A funeral service will be held there Sunday.

The widow intends to fly to Hollywood in a chartered plane with the body. The date of departure has not been fixed.

Miss Lollobrigida said Power had entered her dressing room on the set only a short time before he was taken ill and given her "his usual good-natured, jovial 'Good morning.'"

"I have never met a more generous man, a finer professional companion, or a more thorough actor," she said in a statement. "His tragic death has been one of the worst shocks of my life."

Plane Crashes Into Mountain Killing 2 Men

WARRIOR, Ala. (UPI) — A burning single-engined lightplane crashed into Hayden Mountain nines miles northeast of here late Saturday killing both passengers.

Warrior Police Sgt. Julius Cox said a billfold was found among the twisted and burning wreckage identifying one of the victims as Harold D. Hughes of Pulaski, Tenn. He said the other man was not identified immediately.

Cox quoted Mrs. Herman Thomas, who lives on the mountain, as saying the blazing plane flew low over her home and then crashed immediately afterwards against a side of the Appalachian foothill, one of the many ridges that run in a diagonal across Alabama from the southwest corner to the northeast corner.

Cox said the wooded mountain was at least a 1,000 feet above sea level, making it several hundred feet higher than the surrounding country.

"The plane flew so low it sounded like it was in the house," Mrs. Thomas said. "It blazed up when it hit just like an explosion, but not so loud. We saw a lot of sparks but the fire went out soon."

Local Jails Overcrowded

are further accentuated when one keeps in mind that the jail was originally built for 36 persons.

However, Kelly said additional space was obtained by taking in the washroom and part of the kitchen. Also, bunks were stacked up the sides, with some three deep. All of this, still, does not take care of the increase in the number of prisoners, the chief pointed out.

Questioned about the amount the jail alone costs the City of Monroe, Kelly said the budget last year was $15,000. The current budget is $18,000 and "we are straining to stay inside of that budget — which we will do," Chief Kelly said.

Prisoner days recorded last year, the chief said, were 30,111. Meals served were approximately 73,000.

These figures alone show the vast amounts expended by the City of Monroe alone in its incarceration of those committing offenses.

Men lead women in the number of prisoners last year for Monroe. White males totaled 1,486, while Negro men were 1,186. White females numbered 148, and Negro females 271.

The Ouachita parish jail had 91 prisoners incarcerated Friday. For many days this year, and especially during the winter, the number of prisoners ran as high as 124.

The jail, atop the parish court house, was built for 60 persons, but additional bunks can accommodate up to 80 prisoners. This, however, is a "far cry" from the excessive numbers jailed. The parish jail must accommodate persons arrested by the sheriff department, state police and federal authorities. In addition, offenders of more serious natures often are placed in the parish jail.

The cost of feeding this large number of prisoners ranges from $1,400 to $1,700 each month. Taken on an average for a 12-month basis, this amounts to $18,000. Several years it has exceeded this.

The West Monroe jail averages about 18 prisoners a day and can easily accomodate this burden. With the fairly-new jail, about ten years old, West Monroe is prepared to handle about 38 to 40 prisoners each day.

Funds for the purchase of food for the jail is billed through the police department and was not immediately available. It does, however, constitute a large part of the police budget each year.

The solutions to these problems facing both the City of Monroe and Ouachita parish are still to be found, if the prisoners are to remain in the respective jails.

There is an acute need to solve the problems facing the Ouachita and Monroe City jails. There are many suggestions as to the solutions. Some persons not connected with law enforcement agencies of the area argue that the crowded conditions breed additional trouble. Others, still not connected directly, argue emphatically that persons incarcerated are not there for "pleasure" and cannot expect excellent quarters.

Both arguments no doubt have merit, but they are not the right solution.

Most prisoners would rather work out a sentence than to sit it out in an overcrowded jail. If he had a place to do this, he would benefit from it and so would everyone concerned.

It is obvious that more room is going to have to be found in our jails. As of now, there is no way of obtaining it except to build new ones. There is a growing increase in the jail population yearly. If the jails are overcrowded now, what will they be in a year or so?

The answer of course is a parish penal farm — which would benefit all

One thing is clear, however, the citizens of Ouachita parish and Monroe are going to have to find additional room. Work should be started now to determine the best course.

CROWDED JAIL—The Ouachita parish jail Friday was typical of the condition which exists throughout the year when a much larger number of prisoners were incarcerated than the jail can accommodate. The picture was taken Friday afternoon and shows the white male section of the jail. Oftentimes the prisoners must sleep on mattresses on the floor or on the bare floor because of the large numbers. The Monroe city jail is in the same overcrowded condition. (Staff photo by Jim St. Julien.)

trip after filing and could not be reached immediately. Alford nominated him for a place on the school board several weeks ago to succeed Henry Rath, who had resigned. But the other board members rejected the nomination.

Five of the six board members resigned en masse this week, saying they hoped the action would help resolve the integration deadlock here. Only Alford stayed on the board.

It was announced that a group of seven Little Rock businessmen will serve as a local school board for the new Baptist high school, one of the private institutions established after Faubus closed Little Rock's four high schools to avert court-ordered integration.

Baptist High School is supported by tuition charges and donations. It has 373 students and holds classes in two church buildings.

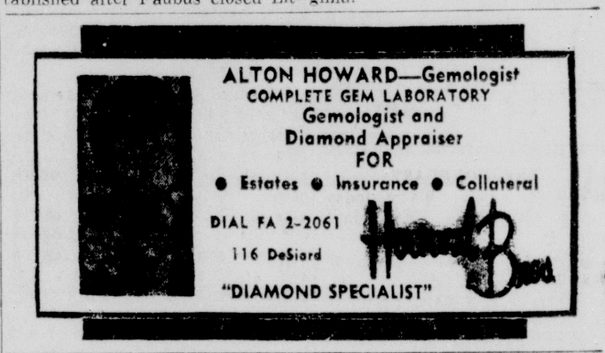

About 850 students are attending the Little Rock Private School Corp.'s high school and some 1,000 others have transferred to public schools outside the city. An interim Episcopal school provides classes for 60 more.

Some 3,000 whites and 700 Negroes were idled by Faubus' school-closing order. No private schools have been opened or are planned here for Negroes.

Santa Fe Shinks Fom Menton Of Word "Pogress"

By HOYT GIMLIN
United Press International

SANTA FEE, N. M. (UPI) — "Progress," in its usual sense, is a dirty word in this town of 35,000—where many residents trace their ancestry to the Spanish conquerors who founded Santa Fe in the 16th century.

"Progress" means bright lights and wide streets, just what the historic-minded art colony and tourist-minded businessmen do not want.

The townspeople have gone to unusual lengths to preserve Santa Fe.

Since 1953, the heart of the city has been declared by law to be a "historic zone." As such, new buildings must conform to existing architectural styles and old ones of historical significance cannot be razed except with special permission of the city fathers.

Violators may be hauled into court, under penalty of fine or jail. But Mayor Leo T. Murphy contends the law's value is mostly psychological. "It discourages them before they get started," he says.

The legal building material is adobe — sun-dried mud — covered with an earth - colored plaster. This is officially "Old Santa Fe style."

The zoning law also provides for a "recent Santa Fe style."

But "the intent of this style," the ordinance reads, , "is to achieve harmony with historic buildings by retention of a similarity (to Old Santa Fe sytle) of materials, color and general detail. The dominating effect is to be that of adobe construction."

In fact, 80 per cent of the visible facade must be adobe finish or stucco that simulates adobe.

Although roofs are flat, ,the city fathers have made one concession to modern living. Skylights, air conditioning devices on the roof, flues and television aerials are permitted — if hidden from view.

Stores and shops may hang out shingles but that is about all. The few bright signs in the downtown area were there before the law went into effect.

While, under certain circumstances, larger signs may advertise merchandise "no sign (shall) flash blink, revolve . . or seem to be in motion."

Belgium's coast line is 40 miles long.

CENTURY CONCRETE

Expansion Program Is Announced Here

Century Concrete Products, Inc., a newly formed organization here, has announced plans to start the first phase of a half million dollar expansion and new operations program the first of the year.

This is a new firm in that it will be the parent organization of Century Concrete Block and Brick Company, Inc., already in existence, and Century Prestressed Concrete Company, Inc., a new operation. Other subsidiaries will be established or acquired when and if officers of the corporation deem it advisable.

John W. Porter, president, who announced the start of construction on a new plant shortly after the first of the year, explained that the principal objects and purposes for which the corporation was organized are to manufacture concrete products such as concrete block brick, lintels and other concrete building materials, including pre-cast and prestressed beams, joists, bridge girders and other allied products.

He added that the management of Century Concrete products, Inc., believes that the next decade offers, especially in the South, opportunity for growth in the sphere of activity in which it will participate. The use of lightweight concrete blocks in the building industry is constantly increasing, he said, and the use of prestress products in building to replace steel, because of its superior strength of the completed components, and lower cost all combine to insure the future expansion and growth of this industry.

Porter said that the new federal road construction program, in which it is planned to use more than 220 bridges over 1,000 feet long, and 6,767 bridges under 1,000 feet long with 8,763 interchanges, 9,546 highway separations, and 1,857 railway separations, will greatly accelerate the present demand for prestressed "T" beams.

Giving further details, Porter explained that the benefits of prestressing to the construction industry accrue from the fact that besides giving maximum architectural beauty with practically no maintenance costs, the prestressed concrete is far low in original cost than conventional steel construction, has greater overload strength capable of withstanding 11 times its live load, faster adaptability and speed of erection.

Officers of Century Concrete Products, Inc., say they are hopeful of being in a position to handle contracts for a portion of materials for the new federal highway, in addition to playing a major part in industrial and commercial construction in the area.

Plans of the firm call for an operation which would ably take care of local needs locally. The products would be manufactured locally with local labor, not in other centers and shipped in.

With Porter on the board of directors of the new corporation are E. Mace Naylor, vice-president native Louisianian; Charles Alexander Brown, secretary-treasurer, also a native of Louisiana; Jack Parker Humble, Sr., of Monroe; Douglas Y. Smith, Jr., of Monroe, and George W. Trousdale, also of Monroe.

Eslick said Welch had told him he never would be taken alive.

Eslick said he was wanted in San Antonio, Tex., on a worthless check charge. He told officers he and his companions planned to rob a bank in Benduria, Tex. (The Postal Guide lists no such town).

Besides a diagram and plan to rob the bank, police found three automatic pistols and an automatic shotgun in the men's car.

Tri-Parish Area District Attorney Race Runoff Due

Bassett, 1191, Coenan, 174 and Ellis, 419. Franklin Parish voters called it Bassett, 526; Coenan, 1,037, and Ellis, 1,385.

Richland Parish voters gave Bassett 290, Coenan 1,471, and Ellis, 1,095.

The winner of the Dec. 2 runoff will then be voted on in the general election Dec. 20, authorities said last night.

Voting in the three parishes was termed "fairly light." All returns are complete, but unofficial.

The special election was called to fill the unexpired 2-year term created when Harry Anders was elected to the judgeship of the fifth district. His resignation will be effective Wednesday.

Sheriff Lays Blame On Ex-Cop Chief

MOBILE (UPI)— Mobile County Sheriff Ray D. Bridges Saturday laid the blame for failure to solve the Aug. 6 ambush shotgun slaying of Saraland Mayor Oscar L. Driver squarely on the town's former police chief and said he would not disclose information on the crime to persons he "must still consider prime suspects."

Bridges made his statements in a letter replying to a request by the Sarland Town Council asking that they be allowed to aid in the three-month-old investigation.

Bridges charged, "it was your police chief, employed and directed by your council, who was the first man on the scene.

"It was through his actions or failure to act that the immediate evidence at the scene of the were divorced May 3, 1955. Miss Christian complained the star had become "cool and distant."

She pulled an envelope from her handbag and tore it open with trembling fingers.

"Look, it bears his handwriting," she said. "To think he will never write them ano'her letter."

In a faltering voice she read: "I hope all the family is well and I am glad you like your new nanny (governess). Be good girls and work hard in the school so mummy and daddy can be proud of you. Hugs and kisses to you both and all love from your daddy."

"And now he's dead," she whispered.

"This has hampered our investigation tremendously, and, in fact, made it necessary for us to have to approach the crime from entirely different investigative processes, which require considerably more time."

Former Police Chief N.W. (Pat) Patrick was discharged by the Saraland Town Council and currently is under charges of conspiracy to burn crosses and conspiracy to destroy a political campaign sign.

Mrs. Patrick said her husband was out of town. He could not be reached for comment on Bridges accusations.

Patrick and 10 other Mobile County Ku Klux Klansmen were charged by Bridges in a roundup touched off by the killing, but none of the men have been charged with slaying the 60-year-old mayor of the town of 300, eight miles north of this port city.

GOP Women Not Losing Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican women are losing no time launching the 1960 campaign.

Mrs. Clare B. Williams, assistant national chairman, announced Saturday the seventh annual conference of GOP women will be held here April 12-14.

The conference is expected to draw about 2,000 women. Mrs. Williams said top officials of the administration will address the sessions.

"The Republican campaign for 1960 has already begun," she said. "Our women's conference will be one of the first events to give that drive impetus on a national scale."

2 Tensas Parish Wards Petition On Deer Season

ST. JOSEPH (Special) — Wards 1 and 5 of Tensas Parish were circulating petitions last week to bring the matter of striking out the anterless deer season before the Police Jury meeting Tuesday.

Ward 1 extends south from Newellton along and around Lake St. Joseph. Ward 5 covers the northeast end of the parish in the Somerset region.

Observers in the parish report mixed feelings for and against the 10 - day season permitting the killing of anterless deer.

The petitions will be considered by the Tensas Parish Police Jury at the Tuesday meeting.

Jack Benny Set To Appear In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS — Comedian Jack Benny, star of radio and television and a concert violinist in his own right, will appear as guest artist with the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony, Alexander Hilsberg, directing, in a special benefit concert on November 19 in New Orleans' Municipal Auditorium.

Benny will accept no fee for his appearance. All proceeds will go to the orchestra maintenance. Benny said that since boyhood when he was trained for the concert world, he has had a deep interest in symphonic music. He told symphony directors in New Orleans that he is aware of the economic conditions of orchestra which make benefits necessary and that he plans to aid as many orchestras as his time permits.

Captain Neville Levy, New Orleans civic and philanthropic leader, has been named general chairman of the special benefit. Mrs. J. Freyhan Odenheimer will act as assistant chairman.

Benny has appeared as soloist with many major orchestras. His last appearance was with the Kansas City Philharmonic.

Believe Music To Increase Yield Of Milk

NEW YORK (UPI) —The beat of piped-in music has production humming in 20,000 plants and offices across the nation.

But workers aren't the only ones being swayed by the melodious rhythms.

At McKeesport, Pa. experimenters found that music in the cowbarn increased the yield of milk.

In the Springfield, Mass., Animal Hospital, dogs and cats took to fighting when the hospital's music - making apparatus went on the blink.

Soon after music drifted into the roosts of a Dayton, O., chicken farm, egg-laying went up 14 per cent.

And on a poultry farm in Tariffville, Conn., Rock Cornish hens have been putting on more weight despite a reduction in rations — since lilting tunes have invaded the hen house.

But with human chicks, music, apparently, has just the opposite effect. It is used by two nationwide chains of reducing salons.

To prove that music has an effect on the senses, medical science has run some strange experiments.

Dr. Charles M. Diserins, of the University of Cincinnati, tested 10 men for strength of grip. Six of them were stronger when music was played.

Another experimenter played.

Another experimenter played the "National Emblem March" and measured physiological response to the beat. Just about every body function was stimulated, including the cardiovascular system, muscular activity, working power, digestion and secretions.

In a six - day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden, riders who pedalled to music averaged 19.6 miles per hour;; those without, 17.9 miles per hour.

Scientists first analyzed the power of music in industry in 1938, charting the effect of melody on girls in a chocolate factory. Output improved from 6.2 to 10.2 per cent when music was played.

From coast to coast, it is estimated that 50 million persons work or play each day to piped-in music.

Ike Statement About TV Week

WASHINGTON (AP — President Eisenhower said Saturday National Television Week (Nov. 16-22) affords an opportunity "to acknowledge the great influence which this medium brings to bear upon the nation."

His statement added:

"The television set has become an almost universal necessity in our lives. In the American living room it brings both entertainment and a knowledge of news events and personalities of our time. In our classrooms it is becoming an important piece of teaching equipment. In business and industry it has useful applications. Obviously it has become an instrument of great influence in America."

17-Month-Old Morris Kesler Dies; Rites Set

Morris Ray Kesler, 17-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kesler, West Monroe, died at his home Saturday afternoon after a short illness.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

EDITOR'S NOTE: Bob Anderson pinch hitting for Paul Martin.

THE THIRD LEAGUE

Baseball always seems to come up with something, manufactured or otherwise, to keep the hot stove league perking through the long, cold winter. This time it's a third major league. If this proposed new league's brave pioneers are really in earnest, this subjct is going to provide a cracking good blaze.

There are some cynics who will point out that it's taking a lot for granted to say there are currently two major leagues. Those seven teams who yearly trail the Yankees in the American League are looking more and more like those "all-star" B teams that travel with the Harlem Globetrotters—they aren't expected to win, just play straight men for the stars.

Getting back to the third league, this proposed circuit looks suspiciously like a phantom created by New York's Mayor Robert Wagner to scare the majors into putting another team in Gotham. Despite the brave words of Commissioner Ford Frick, "Baseball is not going to be sledge-hammered," Robert may have his way.

Everybody agrees New York should have two major league teams. It once supported three, two well another not quite so well. Horace Stoneham wasn't making a mint with the New York Giants but the club was hardly destitute. Horace, however, cannot be blamed for taking his young men West.

No so Walter O'Malley. Mr. O'Malley was doing quite well in Brooklyn, amazing well despite a rather small stadium. But Walter released the gold in hand for that big pot out West and the Dodgers became the first major league team to move, not because of necessity, but because of its owner's greed.

O'Malley is typical of a new type of owner, a product of modern times. Most of the oldtime owners were rich men indulging in a hobby. A lot of modern-day owners of which O'Malley is the prime example, are rich men trying to become richer.

All this is very well in the business world. Businessmen are supposed to make money out of their businesses, the more the better. But professional sports, baseball in particular, do not like to be considerd businesses. They're trying to get Congress to give them certain benefits the corner drug store doesn't have. Fine, but they're not going to get any breaks from Congress by playing hop-scotch from city to city in search of a few more bucks.

Returning to the third major league again, deserted in the third paragraph, if it should become a reality, an unlikely event, we suppose it will have its TV games of the week also. With so much baseball cluttering up the airways, will they have room for Matt Dillon?

SHORT SHOTS

Justin Wilson, the old cajun, will appear at the Northeast pep rally next Thursday night at 7 in Brown Stadium. Northeast student body president Lemmie Hightower invites all Northeast fans to attend the rally and hear Wilson, one of the nation's best after-dinner (or before) speakers . . . . . Sports Illustrated has finally recognized LSU. They've got a fine spread on Billy Cannon and the Chinese Bandits in their latest issue . . . . . Speaking of LSU, Baton Rouge Morning Advocate sports editor Bud Montet says LSU should send the first team to the Sugar Bowl, the Chinese Bandits to the Cotton Bowl and the Go Team to the Orange Bowl.

The first booster meeting of the proposed northeast Louisiana amateur baseball league is slated for Nov. 28 at the Bastrop courthouse, says booster Leonard Pratt. Anyone interested in promoting a team in the league is urged to attend.

LSU Edges Mississippi State

Outplayed But Game Bengals Cop 9th Win

By JAMES SAGGUS

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Quarterback Warren Rabb rifled a five-yard scoring pass to end Billy Hendrix and Tommy Davis converted Saturday night to give Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team, a 7-6 Southeastern Conference victory over an oft-beaten Mississippi State team aroused to its greatest heights.

The third quarter LSU touchdown came after a fumble recovery by fullback J. W. Brodnax on the Mississippi State 34. Brodnax accounted for 16 yards with his bulling thrusts through the line that carried to the five and set up Rabb's pass.

The game, before a sellout crowd of 26,000, was played on a field soggy from two days of rain, but the showers quit a few minutes before kickoff.

The valiant Maroons rose to defensive heights and kept LSU deep in its territory before they scored in the second quarter on a 23-yard drive following a fumble recovery.

Quarterback Billy Stacy swept left end on an option play for the final 10 yards, but tackle Bobby Tribble's conversion try was wide.

LSU never got past its own 21 until four minutes into the second period, a powerful tribute to the Mississippi State defenders who jarred the ball loose twice and kept LSU without running room.

LSU threatened in the second period after the Mississippi State touchdown and marched to the 17, but drew a 15-yard penalty while trying to set up a field goal try. An incomplete pass on fourth down gave Mississippi State the ball on the 33.

State dominated the statistics with 10 first downs to LSU's seven and 191 yards from scrimmage to 156 for LSU.

State got a golden chance in the opening moments of the fourth period when halfback Billy Cannon fumbled and guard J. E. Logan recovered for the Maroons at the LSU 16. Tribble tried a field goal, from the 10 on fourth down but the effort was wide.

The Maroons never had another chance with Stacy's two fumbles killing the fading Maroon hopes.

Cannon, living up to his reputation as an explosive runner in the later stages, led ground gainers with 57 yards in 13 tries on the suggy turf. Bobber Trammell led the Maroons with 44 yards on 10 attempts.

Stacy completed three of 10 passes for 57 yards and Rabb three of six for 16.

The victory was LSU's ninth and left only Tulane in the way of a perfect season. It was State's fifth loss against three victories.

BOWL - BOUND

La. College Wildcats Beat Northeast Indians, 21-12

PINEVILLE, La. (Special) — Louisiana College's bowl-bound Wildcats closed one of their greatest seasons here last night with a 21-12 victory over crippled but game Northeast.

Northeast rallied from a 7-0 deficit to score in the second period and took the lead early in the third, 12-7, and then drove to the four after a blocked punt by Joe Driskill but couldn't score. Louisiana College went ahead with a touchdown in the third and iced the game with another in the fourth.

The victory was Louisiana College's 8th of the season against two setbacks. The Wildcats are scheduled to play in the annual Rice Bowl at Stuggartt, Arkansas, in December.

For Jack Rowan's Northeast Indians, the loss was their second in succession after opening the season with six straight victories. The Indians lost to Northwestern, 42-6, two weeks ago and close out their season next Saturday against Louisiana Tech at Monroe.

Louisiana Tech scored first on a 12-yard run by fullback Joe Stewart and Lamar Hebert kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead.

Northeast rallied as fullback Lloyd Ray Smith led an 81-yard drive to the one and rammed over from there. Jim Laudadio faked a kick and tried to run for the extra points but was stopped and Driskill blocked it and Northeast recovered it on the 16. The Indians pushed to the four, then lost to the eight and Laudadio attempted a field goal but was wide.

Louisiana College went ahead later in the third when Bill Morgan capped.

Louisiana College took over on the 20 and drove 80 yards for a touchdown with Bill Morgan carrying over from the three. Hebert kicked to make it 14-12.

They scored again in the fourth when a Reynolds' punt was partially blocked on the 16 and went only to the 23. The Wildcats scored in 7 plays with Morgan going over from the four. Hebert converted and the game ended at 21-12.

Louisiana College held a 7-6 lead a halftime.

Northeast swept back after the intermission to score with less than three minutes gone in the third period. Quarterback Everett Reynolds ran eight yards for the touchdown. Reynolds tried to pass for the extra points to Keith Amos but missed and it was 12-7.

Louisiana College ran three plays and then attempted to punt. Little all-America candidate Joe

Miss. Southern Routs Va. Tech

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI)— Mississippi Southern, the nation's No. 1 small college team, got a stellar performance from third - string quarterback Willie Coats during a 27-point fourth period to bury Virginia Tech 41-0 here Saturday night before 16,000 fans.

Coats, a senior from Steonwall, Miss., piloted unbeaten Southern to three of those last period touchdowns, scoring two himself on runs of six and 57 yards.

Mississippi Southern's giant linemen dominated the play and completely shackled Tech quarterback Billy Holsclaw who went into Saturday night's game as the nation's total offense leader.

Holsclaw, who gained 1,090 yards running and passing in his first eight games, was held to a net gain of five yards, 10 on two pass completions in three attempts and a minus five yards rushing.

Southern packed four touchdowns into the final period by scoring with only 32 seconds gone and then again with just 39 seconds left with Coats' two touchdowns sandwiched in between.

First-string quarterback George Sekul carried Southern to its first two scores, taking the first across from one yard out in the first period and feeding to fullback Sammy Broyles for another touchdown in the second period.

Halfback Bobby Lance capped an 80-yard drive on the second play of the fourth period with a touchdown from the two. The final touchdown was scored by Billy Weber who plunged three yards, ending a 93-yard march paced by fourth-string quarterback Billy Larson who fled 70 yards from his own seven to the VPI 23.

Southern rolled up 502 yards rushing and 28 passing to 66 yards on the ground and 14 through the air for Virginia Tech.

OVER STATE

Very Fortunate To Win--Dietzel

By TOM PENDERGAST

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — "We were very, very fortunate to win this game," Louisiana State's young coach Paul Dietzel said after the undefeated Tigers' close squeak over Mississippi State 7-6.

"State's splendid coach Wade Walker and I went into this game each 34 years old. I'm sure we're both about 50 now."

Dietzel, whose LSU Tigers were ranked No. 1 in the nation in the Associated Press poll for the past three weeks, said he thought State was an excellent football team.

"I would rank State as tough as Ole Miss and Florida," Dietzel said. The Tigers defeated both Mississippi and Florida earlier in the season.

"In fact," he said, "I'd say that Mississippi State, Duke and Alabama are the three teams I wouldn't want to play again this year."

For the first time this season the LSU dressing room doors were closed to reporters immediately after the game. Dietzel explained he first wanted to talk to his team. About 15 minutes later he let newsmen come inside, but greeted them with: "Boys, I'm afraid I'm not too good for you tonight, but fire ahead anyway."

In the Mississippi State dressing room, hung an air of disappointment and coach Walker sat in a corner looking solemn.

He brightened immediately, however, when a half-dozen newsmen began congratulating him on his team's fine performance.

"Of course, fellows, you can see I'm disappointed, but there's still a great difference between disappointment and dejection. I am very proud of these fine boys of mine."

Walker said, "You've just got to capitalize on scoring chances when you get them, and when a good defense stops you — well, I kept telling myself all through the game that we'd score on this play, or maybe this one, but LSU kept holding us back."

Wildcats Top Xavier, 20-6, In Breather

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — A Kentucky team tuning up for Tennessee next week fiddled and faddled through three scoreless periods Saturday before quarterback Jerry Eisaman called the tune on a three - touchdown outburst that gave the Wildcats a 20 - 6 victory over little Xavier.

In that fourth - period rally Eisaman saved Kentucky from severe embarrassment by pitching out to halfback Calvin Bird for a six-yard touchdown that capped a 75 - yard march; throwing a 39 - yard pass to bird on the goal line for a second score; and running 19 yards himself on a "keeper" play for a third touchdown.

Xavier then came back against the Kentucky reserves to drive 81 yards for a touchdown of its own, with quarterback Tom Costello completing four concutive passes to account for 72 of the yards. Costello accounted for the score himself on a one - yard sneak.

Fumbles, interceptions and penalties frustrated both teams through the first three periods with Kentucky occasionally moving for yardage against Xavier's second line, but getting nowhere at all against the Muskie first line defenses keyed by 224-pound guard Russ Goings.

Xavier might have upended Kentucky completely if an 80-yard march in the third period had not ground to a halt on the Kentucky two - foot line.

Score by Periods

Kentucky	0	0	0	20	—20
Xavier	0	0	0	6	— 6

Scoring: Ky — Bird six run (Bird kick); Bird 39 pass from Eisaman (Johns kick); Eisaman 19 run (pass failed). Xavier—Costello one plunge (entpsfas)ail ed tello one plunge (pass failed).

Gophers Beat MSU, Snap Losing Streak

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)— Minnesota parlayed four Michigan State blunders into four touchdowns and a 39-12 Big Ten victory in Memorial Stadium Saturday to snap the Gophers' unprecedented 10 - game losing streak.

It was the first Minnesota football win since the sixth game of the 1957 campaign. The loss condemned the Spartans to the Big Ten basement.

A crowd of 53-647 watched the Gophers turn two fumbles, a pass interception and a bad pass from center into game - breaking touchdowns. The Gophers intercepted six Spartan passes, only one short of the Big Ten record.

The Gopher cause was aided considerably by the unexpected return of senior quarterback Jim Reese, who missed two games because of a broken hand. Reese called one of the best games of his career to guide the Gophers to the triumph.

Spearsville, Linville Cop Cage Crowns

DOWNSVILLE, La. (Special) — Linville girls edged Marion, 38-32, and Spearsville boys bested Linville, 70-60, to win the championships in the Downsville Tournament here last night.

Lona Fay Ford dropped in 33 points to lead Linville past Marion. Sue Graves paced the losers with 19 markers. Spearsville beat Linville despite Norman Pace's 37 points. R. V. Lockwood was tops for the winners with 17.

Linville girls whipped Spearsville, 41-34, in the semi-finals to gain the final round. Lona Fay Ford was high for Linville with 27 and Charlotte Barron got 15 for the losers. Marion defeated Farmerville girls, 35-32, in the semi-finals with Tiny Pilgreen scoring 21 and Peggy Wade getting 16 for the losers.

Spearsville boys routed Calhoun, 41-18, and then Marion, 46-20, in the semi-finals in their march to the championship. John Sanders got 13 for Spearsville and Calhoun's Ronnie Griggs got 7. Ike Futch and Bobby Lockwood each scored 10 and Horace Hicks got 8 for Marion in the semi-final game.

Linville boys reached the finals with a 40-27 verdict over Choudrant. Norman Pace scored 20 for the winners and Ed Webb tallied 8 for Choudrant.

Recreation Cage Meetings Slated

The Monroe Recreation Department will hold its final organizational meetings Monday night for the winter basketball leagues at the Community Center, 113 Catalpa Street.

The Pee Wee League (boys 12 and under) will meet at 6 p.m., the Junior Leauge (18 and under) at 6:30, the Church League (adults) at 7, the Community League and Industrial League (adults) at 7:30 and the City League at 8:00.

All leagues will begin play the week of Dec. 1 and will continue through February. Any teams desiring to participate in any of the leagues are requested to be present at the meetings Monday night.

There will be a meeting of all men who care to officiate in the basketball leagues Wednesday night at the Community Center at 7. Anyone interested is urged to attend.

AFTER THIRD ROUND

Snead Leads In Havana Tourney

By WILL GRIMSLEY

HAVANA (AP) — Sam Snead blasted out of a deep fairway bunker and sank a 25-foot birdie putt on the finishing hole Saturday for a one-stroke lead over George Bayer in the third round of the $45,000 Havana International Golf Tournament.

The spectacular pro from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., fired an even par 70 over the Villa Real Golf Club course for a 54-hole total of 212 which sent him past the long hitting Bayer, former University of Washington football player, who has led at the halfway point.

Bayer, fabulous hitter from San Gabriel, Calif., skied 10 strokes over his record six-under-par 64 of Friday for a total of 213. Playing in the same threesome with the two leaders, Doug Ford, former Master champion from Yonkers, N. Y., also had a 74 for third place at 215.

Then came Bill Casper Jr. from Chula Vista, Calif., with 74 for 218, and Tony Lema, young pro from San Leandro, Calif., with 72 for 219.

THRILLER

Tech Survives Aerial Show To Tumble McMurry, 20-12

RUSTON, La. (Special) —McMurray of Texas filled the air with passes from a spread formation in the final two minutes here tonight but Louisiana Tech and the clock caught up with the Indians as the Techmen took a 20-12 victory in a thriller.

Tech, displaying a crushing ground offense, racked up touchdowns in the first, second and third periods. What proved the clincher was a 57-yard dash by Paul Hines, who picked up 102 yards is 12 carries.

The McMurray desperation passes came close in the final minutes as quarterback Terry O'Brien hit end Dalton Hicks on four straight at the sidelines for 14, 13, 9 and 16 yards. The clock caught up with Indians at the Tech 15.

Spearheading Tech's ground offense were Hines, quarterback Jim Orton with 38 yards in 7 carries, halfbacks J. W. Slack with 8 for 35 and David Williamson with 8 for 30.

The Bulldogs picked up 294 yards rushing and 94 passing. Orton hit on 5 of 11 passes for 25 yards and Jim McCabe four of 8 for 69.

Tech's line played brilliantly all night, holding McMurray to 67 yards on the ground. Noted McMurray fullback Ernie Davis was held to 34 yards in 14 plays on the ground, but caught two passes which led to one McMurray score.

The McMurray aerial circus was good for 149 yards on 9 completions in 21 tosses, but the Bulldogs intercepted 4.

Tech moved out in front of the Indians the first time they got the ball. Taking over on its own 40, Slack, Hines and Frazier alternated in carrying to the Indian 34 and McCabe connected with end Charles Garris on a 25-yarder to the McMurray 9. McCabe passed to fullback Jerry Frazier for the TD. Slack's placement try was wide.

McMurray knotted the score 6-6 immediately with Don Howard returning the kickoff from the 20 to the McMurray 41. Davis and Jim Boyd took it to the Tech 32, and Tommy McAdams passed 28 yards to Boyd at the Tech 4. Davis took it over, climaxing a 59-yard drive in 8 plays.

A poor McMurray punt gave the Bulldogs another chance at the Indian 32 in the second period. McCabe passed to Garris on fourth down from the Indian 13. Frazier ran the ball over to give Tech a 14-6 halftime lead.

Tech took advantage of another opportunity shortly after the second when guard Allen Stough intercepted a pass at the Tech 40 and returned to the 43. Hines on a reverse tore through the left side of the Indian line and outdistanced the McMurray secondary with a 57-yard dash. Frazier's run for the extra point was halted.

McMurray stormed back after a poor Tech punt, moving 51 yards in six plays for a score. McAdams hit Davis with 8 and 37 yard passes, the last one putting the ball on the Tech 4. George Bridges went over on the next play, but his run attempt for the extra point was stopped.

The Indians then pulled an on side kick, which they recovered on the Tech 44, but couldn't take advantage of the opportunity.

In the fourth period Tech drove to the McMurray 27 where the drive stalled.

The McMurray club turned to the spread to try for a tie when they took over at their 27 with two and a half minutes left in the game. The four straight completions moved it to the Tech 15 and with seconds remaining, two passes failed before the final gun.

Sweaty Floor Causes Game Postponement

A "sweaty" floor caused postponement of the St. Matthew's - Quitman boys basketball game Saturday night at St. Matthew's gym after the Fighting Irish girls had won their fourth game of the season, 33-27.

Extreme humidity caused water to form on the gym floor and prompted school officials to postpone the boys game until Dec. 1 here. Play was hampered in the girls game by the slippery floor and several moppings and use of fans to dry the court failed to do any good.

Quitman and St. Matthew's will play a varsity boys game and a "B" team contest on Dec. 1 with no admission to be charged for the games.

Adeline Elias scored 21 points to pace St. Matthew's to victory in the girls game and Barbara Magee put in 9. B. Blalock scored 18 for Quitman and T. McConathy 7.

FOURTH RANKED

Auburn Tigers Power To 21-6 Decision Over Georgia

By MERCER BAILEY

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Rangy Richard Wood pegged a perfect 44-yard scoring pass to Bobby Lauder Saturday and fourth-ranked Auburn powered on to a 21-6 Southeastern Conference football victory over Georgia.

For the mighty Tigers, it was their 22nd game without defeat.

The teams butted heads futilely until Wood's picture pass in the second quarter. Given terrific protection by the fierce Tiger line, the 6 foot 5 quarterback took aim at the fleet Lauder scooting down the far sideline. Lauder put on an extra burst of speed, zipped past two Georgia defenders, pulled the ball in on the 5 and scored untouched.

Auburn got an unexpected break in the third quarter when Georgia's Bobby Walden, who went into the game as the nation's leading punter with a 45.4 yard average, muffed a kick. The punt traveled only 15 yards, putting the Tigers in business at Georgia's 42.

Quarterback Lloyd Nix conducted Auburn into the end zone in nine plays, throwing to fullback Ed Dyas for the final 11 yards.

Georgia tried both passing and running but was unable to come close to scoring until Auburn had stepped out to a 21-0 lead in the fourth quarter. Then Charley Britt and Fred Brown Jr., collaborated on a 77-yard pass play to the Auburn 11. On the next play, a Britt pass to Don Soberdash got the score.

STATISTICS	AUBURN	Ga.

The press box voted Lauder the game's annual most valuable player award. He was magnificent with his maneuvering on the pass play that broke the scoring ice. Then in the fourth quarter, he added an insurance touchdown with a nifty 20-yard run. The husky junior started to his left, cut back through the middle, shook off several grasping Bulldogs and finally lunged across the goal line.

Both lines played tremendous ball but the edge went to Auburn, which boasts the finest defensive record in the nation. Guard Zeke Smith, tackle Cleve Wester and center Jackie Burkett were among the Tiger standouts.

Center Dave Lloyd and the Dye brothers—Nat, a senior tackle, and Pat, a sophomore guard—led the Georgia forward wall.

Auburn brought roars from the overflow crowd of an estimated 28,000 by taking the opening kickoff and launching a steady march, Nix passes to end Jerry Wilson the key gainers. But the Lloyd-led Bulldog defense stopped that threat at the 10.

Nix brought the yelling fans to their feet in the fourth quarter with a great bit of broken field running—especially for a man not rated fast. Taking the kickoff after Georgia's score, Nix set sail on a weaving course up field and from one side to the other, frequently backtracking to let his blocking form. Finally he fell to the ground 77 yards later at the Georgia 18. The tackle was credited to Nat Dye—but it appeared Nix collapsed from exhaustion.

REYNOLDS

Indian Back In Offense Battle

LAKE CHARLES, La. —The Gulf States conference currently is in the midst of one of its closest battles for the circuit football championship, but it is not much closer than the battle for the conference's individual offense leadership between Everett Reynolds and Dale Hoffpauir.

Reynolds, Northeast's veteran senior quarterback, has been the offensive spark of his team, and has guided the Indians to a 6-1 record so far this season. He is one of his team's top ground gainers, and is a close second to Hoffpauir in total offense and in passing.

Hoffpauir, Northwestern's junior signal-caller, is setting a hot aerial pace in conference circles. He is leading the league in total offense, with an average of 97 yards per game — to 91.5 for Reynolds. He is leading in pass completions, with 48 to 23 for Reynolds, but his score in touchdown passes is 9 to 7 for the Northeast ace.

Reynolds has an edge of Hoffpauir in punting, since he leads the conference in that respect, with an average of 37 yards for 24 boots. He also shades the Northwestern ace in rushing, with 114 yards gained on the ground, while Hoffpauir has a minus 38 yards to his credit.

Two other Northwestern aces — fullback Charley Tolar and end Billy Booth —are also leading the conference in their specialties. Tolar is the top ball carrier, averaging 7.8 yards per carry on 67 rushes with the ball. Booth is the leading pass receiver, having pulled in 17 aerials for 353 yards and four touchdowns.

Bears, Panthers Still Unbeaten In YMCA Play

The Bears defeated the Hawks, 42-32, the Rebels shut out the Lions, 33-0, the Panthers beat the Eagles, 12-0 and the Tigers topped the Wildcats, 20-6, yesterday in Y.M.C.A. touch football.

Hodges scored all 42 points for the Bears while Cockston got 19, Torrance 13 and Higgonbotham one for the Hawks. Haddad tallied 12 Turner 7, Ford 6, Berry 6 and Bridges 2 for the Rebels. Boyd and Daniels divided the Panthers' scoring and Curry scored 13, Moody 6 and Davies one for the Tigers. Pete Ford scored the six points for the Wildcats on a 78-yard run.

The Bears and Panthers are unbeaten at 5-0 each with the season's final games to be played next Saturday. Hodges is the leading scorer for the season with 80 points.

Purdue Junks Northwestern Hopes, 23-6

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Purdue's powerfully balanced Boilermakers junked Northwestern's hopes for a lofty Big Ten finish by flasting the once smooth-working Wildcats 23-6 Saturday.

A crowd of 38,421 had hardly settled in its seats when Purdue recovered a Northwestern fumble on the first play from scrimmage and then counted on a 19-yard touchdown pass from Ross Richtner to Tom Frankhauser to go ahead to stay.

The Boilermakers never missed their No. 1 fullback, injured Bob Jarus, as Len Wilson, Tom Barnett, Jim Redinger and Jack Laraway functioned perfectly behind a line that wouldn't make any mistakes.

Two of Purdue's touchdowns resulted from recovered fumbles while the Boilermakers played the entire first half in Northwestern territory in running up a 21-0 halftime lead. Not until the third quarter was Northwestern able to move into Purdue territory, and that resulted from a 14-yard punt return by Ron Burton to the Boilermaker 49.

Northwestern's sophomore, Dick Thornton, simply couldn't get through Purdue's web-like defense. He attempted 14 passes, completed only four, and had three of them intercepted.

Meanwhile, Fichtner, Bob Spoo and Bernie Allen displayed steady, if not brilliant, quarterbacking to keep the Boilermaker attack in high gear through most of the game even though Purdue failed to score anything more than two points on a safety in the second half.

Quantico Drops Rutgers From Unbeaten List

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., (AP) —The Quantico Marines, marching with a platoon of former college stars, upset unbeaten Rutgers Saturday by the margin of an extra kick, 13-12.

Rutgers, hampered by the absence of injured star tailback Billy Austin, couldn't contain the Leathernecks running game. But in the fourth quarter the Scarlet sent a crowd of 10,000 into a continual uproar as they slammed to the Marines' 6-yard line only to fumble.

Lions Win, 32-0

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — Penn State completely outclassed six-point underdog Holy Cross Saturday walloping the Crusaders 32-0 on rained drenched Beaver Field.

Kapp Leads California To 12-7 Victory

SEATTLE (AP)—Numbing cold, a heavy turf and Washington's rugged defense failed to check California's drive toward the Rose Bowl Saturday as Joe Kapp led the Golden Bears to a 12-7 Pacific Coast Conference football victory before 29,500 shivering fans.

Only next week's game with Stanford stands in the way of a Bear bid to the bowl.

Kapp, the conference leader in total offense and rushing disregarded the 35-degree temperature and piloted the Bears to a touchdown off the opening kickoff in 11 plays. Walt Arnold piled over center for the last yard.

Kapp's attempted pass for a two point conversion fell incomplete. That miss loomed large when Washington boiled back to take a 7-6 lead at the start of the second quarter.

The Huskies, underdogs by 6 points, ripped short gains through the line for 83 yards in 18 plays. Carver Gayton hit for the last 4 yards over the goal. George Fleming kicked the point that put Washington ahead.

There was little action on the cold sod for the remaining 12 minutes of the first half but California came back from the warm locker room to sew up the decision late in the third period.

The Bears mixed Kapp passes with Kapp runs to go 65 yards in 14 plays. The illustrious Joe powered the last yard for the counter but he was smothered on the attempted conversion pass.

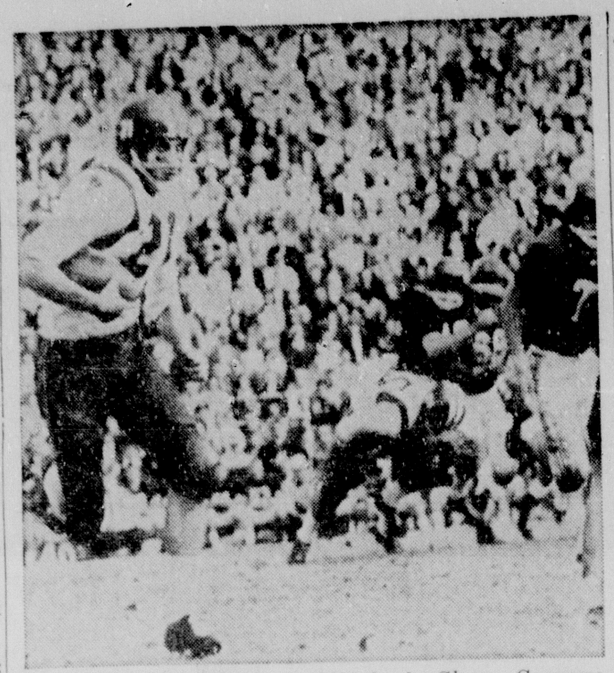

Tulsa Comes From Behind To Edge Tech, 9-7

TULSA (AP)—Sophomore quarterback Bob West booted a 17-yard field goal with two minutes to go Saturday to give Tulsa a come-from-behind 9-7 triumph over Texas Tech. It was the third straight year the Hurricane have vanquished the Red Radiers with a kick.

West, a reserve signal caller, only four minutes earlier had missed an attempt from the 14 in an effort to pull Tulsa to the front after it failed on a try to run for a two-point after touchdown conversion.

Both of West's kicks came after Hurricane ground drives, spearheaded by fullback Bob Brumble and halfback Ronnie Morris, were stalled by a stubborn Tech defense.

With Brumble and Morris doing the heavy duty, Tulsa went 69 yards on the ground for its third quarter score. Morris failed trying to rush for two points that could have tied it.

Arkansas Beats Mustangs, 13-8

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Lowly Arkansas, six times beaten this season, upset Southern Methodist's high-flying Mustangs 13-6 here Saturday and throttled the efforts of passer Don Meredith.

The Razorbacks, playing before a frenzied homecoming crowd, were literally leaping the SMU line to get at Meredith who was rushed, crushed and swarmed over in the hard played football game.

Arkansas halfback Jim Mooty and quarterback Mike Cooney frustrated the SMU backfield with a sturdy pass defense.

SMU showed its power in the first half when four times it moved inside the Arkansas 5-yard line but only once for a score. The score came as Meredith carried for the last nine yards in the second period.

The second half was all Arkansas with speedster Billy Kyser, third string halfback, galloping 83 yards for the first Arkansas touchdown in which he outran the entire SMU secondary. Don Horton kicked the point that would have been enough for the big upset.

But the Porkers, having fathomed and stopped the SMU spread formation, cashed in on an interception late in the same period which was grabbed by Mooty after center Wayne Harris had batted it into the air on the SMU 28.

The Razorbacks moved to the 10 where quarterback Jim Monroe passed to third string end Charlie Barnes for the score.

CLINCH BOWL BERTH

Sooners Trounce Missouri, 39-0

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—A rugged Oklahoma defense crushed Missouri's hopes for a place in the Big Eight Conference football sun Saturday as the Sooners easily rode over the Tigers 39-0.

The victory assured the No. 6 ranked Sooners at least a tie for the conference title and automatically gave them a trip to the Orange Bowl for the second straight year. It was also Oklahoma's 70th league game without a defeat. They've tied for or won the conference title 12 straight years.

Oklahoma scored by just about every means to humble the Tigers, who had gone into the game with a 4-0 loop record. Missouri's vaunted multiple offense failed to fool the Sooners and all around quarterback Phil Snowden, a sensation against Colorado last week, was effectively bottled up.

Oklahoma completed 10 of 13 aerials including two for touchdowns thrown by Brewster Hobby. Hobby also scored a touchdown on a 1-yard plunge.

Missouri was held to 128 yards on the ground and completed only 13 of 28 passes for 113 yards. Oklahoma, third in the nation in rushing, picked up 246 yards on the ground.

The Sooners completely dominated the play and scored a touchdown in each of the first three periods and then added three more in the final quarter.

Bobby Boyd, Oklahoma's alternate quarterback, also scored two touchdowns. One was on a 21-yard romp around left end after the Sooners had intercepted a pass. The second was a sensational 38-yard punt return. Both came in the final period.

ENDS BOWL HOPES

'Bama Tumbles Ga. Tech, 17-8

ATLANTA (AP) — Alert, resourceful Alabama derailed Georgia Tech's football bowl hopes Saturday, scoring three times in the first quarter on its way to a 17-8 upset victory.

Figured to lose by at least a touchdown, Alabama astonished a sellout Tech homecoming crowd of 44,726 by speedily and smartly turning two Tech fumbles and a pass interception into two touchdowns and a field goal in 11 minutes.

Tech reached the Alabama 6 twice in the second quarter and took three cracks from the 1 early in the third period but each time the aroused Crimson Tide stymied its old Southeastern Conference football rival with an iron defense.

The loss left Tech with five victories, three defeats and a tie and killed the Yellow Jackets' chances for a post season bid.

Alabama end Baxter Booth recovered a fumble at the Tech 20 and the Tide surged to six points in five ground plays with quarterback Bobby Jackson sneaking over from the 1. Four minutes later, 'Bama added a field goal by tackle Pete Reaves from the 19.

Halfback Duff Morrison set this one up by intercepting a pass and racing 37 yards to the Tech 15.

A second Tech fumble recovered by Milton Frank put Alabama on the Tech 22, and Jackson completed the first quarter route by swinging wide to score from the five. Reaves kicked both conversions.

Tech drove 42 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter. Halfback Calvin James, skirting end from the 7, fumbled into the end zone and tackle Billy Shaw recovered for the score. Tech tried and achieved its first two-point conversion on a pass from quarterback Fred Braselton to end Gerald Burch.

Browns' Coach Has Praise For Grambling Star

CLEVELAND, Ohio — The flashy running of Bobby Mitchell and Leroy Bolden, coupled with the assault on pro football records by Jim Brown, have somewhat obscured the fact that the Browns have come up with a pretty fair rookie lineman.

Willie Davis, the newcomer from Grambling College, who will start at defensive left end Sunday, has what Paul Brown so admires in his players — size and speed.

Davis, recommended to the Browns by Dub Jones who lives in Ruston near Grambling, was stationed at Fort Carson, Col., and played both tackle and line backer for the service club.

Davis made the Browns this year after a tryout in 1956. While in the Army he put on the weight that brought him up to pro size, now a solid 237 pounds.

"Willie really has added something to our ball club," Coach Brown said. "He's getting to know his way around out there. As of now he definitely has taken over at end."

Davis played high school ball in Texarkana, Ark., and captained the Grambling team for two years.

BEARS CAN TIE

Three Important Contests In Pro Football Spotlight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wrigley Field, Griffith Stadium and Pittsburgh Stadium will be the scenes of important games this Sunday that could affect the top rung in each division of the National Football League.

Most of the attention probably will be focused on Wrigley Field where the Chicago Bears will clash with the front-running Baltimore Colts. The Bears trail the Colts by one game and a victory would create a tie for the Western Conference lead.

Capacity or near capacity crowds are expected in Washington, where the Redskins will take on the Cleveland Browns, and in Pittsburgh, where the Steelers will be host to the New York Giants.

The high-flying Giants inflicted the season's first defeat upon the Colts last Sunday for their third straight victory. This enabled them to move into a first place tie with Cleveland in the Eastern Conference.

A victory over the Steelers would put the Giants at the top provided the 'Skins can defeat or tie the Browns. Cleveland, after winning its first five games, has lost two in a row, to New York and Detroit.

In other games, Philadelphia will be host to the Chicago Cardinals, the Lions play the San Francisco Forty Niners at Detroit and Los Angeles will try to extend its modest winning streak to three in a row in a clash with the Packers in Green Bay.

The Colts-Bears game figures to be a high scoring affair featured by the running of Baltimore's Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore and Willie Galimore of Chicago. The Colts have beaten the Bears in their last three meetings, including a 51-38 triumph this season. With the injured Johnny Unitas still on the sidelines, the Baltimore quarterback duties will be handled by George Shaw.

The Redskins' biggest task will be to stop Jimmy Brown. The Browns' spectacular fullback was held to under 100 yards rushing for the first time this season, last week, but he still leads the league with 1,011 yards and needs only 135 to equal Steve Van Buren's record of 1,146 yards.

Jimmy also had 15 touchdowns, three under Van Buren's league record. Little Eddie LeBaron, the loop's best passer with a 9.93 average, will direct the 'Skins' attack, if recovered from a flue-type ailment.

The Giants will seek their fourth straight with the possibility that four of their regulars will be on the sidelines. Guards Roosevelt Brown and Jack Stroud and backs Alex Webster and Mel Triplett still are out because of injuries suffered in Sunday's 24-21 triumph over Baltimore.

Los Angeles, back in the running for the Western crown with a 4-3 record, has beaten the Packers the last three times they've met and hold an 18-6 edge in the series. The defending champion Lions will seek to gain revenge for a 24-21 setback suffered at the hands of the 49ers earlier this season. Philadelphia and the Cardinals fought a 21-21 tie in an earlier meeting.

Cornhuskers Club Touted Pitt, 14 To 6

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI)—Nebraska's unpredictable Cornhuskers pulled their second major upset of the year over an easter power Saturday, turning back highly touted Pittsburgh, 14-6 before a roaring crowd of 23,000.

The Cornhuskers, who had won only two of eight games this year and stood next to last in the Big Eight Conference, were rated 22-point underdogs to the Panthers, who were trying for a victory that would win them a major bowl bid.

But the Huskers—led by little halfback Larry Naviaux — dominated play throughout except during a desperation fourth period Panther aerial barrage.

The defeat left Pitt with a 5-3-1 record and dealt a jarring blow to Panther hopes of a major bowl bid.

Naviaux, a 179-pound senior playing his last home game, threw two touchdown passes for the Huskers and caught a short flip from halfback Pat Fischer for a two-point conversion.

Naviaux started the scoring by pitching a 10-yard pass to end Mike Eger in the second period. The tally was set up by fullback Dick McCashland who intercepted a Bill Kaliden pass on the Pitt 42 while sliding on his stomach. Naviaux and Carroll Zaruba slashed to the 10 before Naviaux hit Eger in the end zone.

In the third period, the Huskers brought unbelieving fans to their feet with the same play. This time Naviaux took the pitchout and flipped two yards to Pat Fischer in the end zone. Fischer reversed the procedure and flipped to Naviaux for a two-point conversion.

Pitt showed only a glimpse or two of its touted running power as Nebraska's furious linemen dug in.

Princeton, 50-14

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Colorful Princeton's blocking and running pulverized Yale 50-14 Saturday as the Tigers captured the Big Three title and remained in contention for the Ivy League crown.

Tallying three times i t0n display of spectacular and baffling offensive plays, Princeton yielded a touchdown to Yale just before halftime. But the first of two Blue scores was just a lull before what turned out to be a rout.

Subs Spark Florida Over Ark. State

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Florida poured all but the star players of its five-deep football team onto the field against Arkansas State Saturday and the reserves routed the undermanned Indians 51-7.

It was the first time since the season opening 34-14 victory over Tulane that many of the reserves saw action and they made the most of it. The crowd of 20,000, knowing Florida could win about as it pleased, whooped it up for the big plays by both teams.

Eight different Florida players scored a touchdown each and five fullbacks did most of the ball carrying. Billy Booker, halfback who has been injured most of the season, was top scorer with a touchdown and three extra points kicks.

Arkansas State made one bid early in the second quarter. The Indians' quarterback, Bill Caldwell, punted to the Florida 4 and after a short return kick Caldwell conducted a 33-yard scoring march.

Aggies Dump Rice Owls In Upset, 28-21

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Charley Milstead, an injured tailback who was a doubtful starter, scored two touchdowns and passed for another Saturday in leading Texas A&M to a 28-21 upset victory that knocked the Rice Owls out of a tie for the Southwest Conference lead.

Milstead, a 187-pound junior from Tyler, drove Rice ragged with his sharp passing as the Aggies ignored a 16-point underdog role and thrilled a crowd of 57,000 by handing the Owls their first defea in four conference games.

The Aggies were in almost complete control after Gordon LeBoeuf, a blocking back, grabbed a partially blocked Rice punt early in the third period and raced 55 yards for a touchdown that broke a 14-14 halftime tie.

Minutes later, Milstead put the Aggies in front, 28-14, by carrying over from the 1 to climax a 59-yard drive.

Rice came back with a 67-yard fourth period scoring drive but the Owls otherwise were unable to move beyond the A&M 40.

Milstead, connecting on 15 of 28 passes for 165 yards for the day, hit a 12-yarder to end John Tracey for a touchdown that gave the Aggies a 7-0 lead. Rice replied with a 72-yard march that saw quarterback Jon Schnable score from the 1.

Fullback Hart Peebles put Rice ahead, 14-7, in the second period by scoring from the 1, but Milstead plunged over from the 1 five seconds before the half and the score was tied again, 14-14.

SIXTH SETBACK

Vanderbilt Enhances Bowl Chances By Beating Tulane

By BARNEY BALLARD

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Vanderbilt kept its spoon in the bowl game pot by defeating Tulane 12-0 in a Southeastern Conference football game Saturday.

The victory gave the air-minded Commodores a record of five victories, one loss and three ties with one more game to play. Tulane's loss left the Greenies with a 3-6 mark.

The Commodores drove directly for a touchdown the first time they gained possession in the opening quarter. Fullback Jim Butler skirted his own right end for the final 13 yards.

Butler, halfback Tom Moore and quarterback Boyce Smith ripped off sizeable chunks of yardage in the first scoring drive, which covered 60 yards in eight plays.

Although Tulane failed to generate even a mild threat until late in the second period, Vanderbilt appeared content to rest on its thin margin.

The Greenies opened a terrific passing attack in the waning moments of the first half which finally fizzled out on the Vanderbilt 1 as the half ended. The Greenies ran five plays, four of them passes, in the final 19 seconds. Reserve fullback Tom McClellan squeezed to the 1 on the last play of the half.

Commodore halfback David Ray turned in the final touchdown in the final quarter, a 94-yard burst with an intercepted pass thrown by Tulane quarterback Richie Petitbon from the Vanderbilt 6.

ON LATE RALLY

Clemson Downs Wolfpack, 13-6

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Clemson's Tigers, fought to a standstill for three quarters, struck for two quick touchdowns to defeat North Carolina State 13-6 Saturday and win the Atlantic Coast Conference football crown.

Until Clemson halfback George Usry plunged over for a touchdown early in the final period, the game had been a tooth and nail struggle before a crowd of 12,000. Many more watched the game over a regional television network. Usry's plunge climaxed a 51-yard drive.

Seconds later Clemson was presented another scoring opportunity when State guard Frank Marocco got off a poor punt that was downed on State's 30. Five plays later sophomore Bob Morgan knifed over left tackle to score from the 15. Quarterback Lowndes Shingler kicked the extra point.

State caught fire and drove 55 yards for a touchdown after the next kickoff. The drive took 12 plays, with fullback Don Hafer going over from the 2.

The victory could put Clemson in a major bowl game on New Year's Day. It has a 5-1 conference mark and an over-all 6-2 record.

The defeat was State's sixth compared with two victories and a tie.

State attempted a field goal from the Clemson 41 in the second period, but it was far short.

Clemson took the second half kickoff and moved from its 32 to the State 10 where the Wolfpack took over on fourth down.

AT HALFWAY POINT

Roy Nash, Jones Lead Twin Cities

Defending champion Roy Nash and Bill Jones shot 112s to tie for the lead at the halfway point of the Twin Cities Golf Championship at Highland Park Country Club yesterday.

Tech student Nash shot a 37-39-36—112 to make a strong bid for his second consecutive Twin Cities title. Jones, a Monroe business man, came through with an identical score over 27 holes to tie for the halfway lead.

Nash's father, Clyde Nash, and Jim Harper were behind the two leaders at 116 each. Nash shot 38-40-38—116 and Harper 39-39-38—116. Next was tournament medalist Lewis Whitfield at 40-40-38.

The summary:

W. Virginia In 56-6 Win Over W&M

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Versatile West Virginia careened downfield for touchdowns five of the first six times it had the ball Saturday and went on to a 56-6 rout of William and Mary that gave the Mountaineers the Southern Conference football championship.

It was the 28th consecutive conference triumph for the Mountaineers and one of the most humiliating setbacks for William and Mary in its long gridiron history. Not since Cincinnati rolled over the Indians 57-7 in 1953 had anybody treated them so rudely.

No fewer than 10 West Virginia players scored at least one point and seven tallied touchdowns. Only halfback Mel Reight scored twice, taking a five-yard pass from Danny Williams for a touchdown in the opening period and plunging one yard for another in the third quarter.

Before, in between and after Reight's touchdowns the Mountaineers simply ran wild. Coach Art Lewis reached all the way down to his fourth string without success in slowing West Virginia's offensive momentum.

Syracuse Slams Colgate, 47-0

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Syracuse easily disposed of Colgate 47-0 before 30,000 fans here Saturday in a performance worthy of post-season considerations.

Uninvited as yet, but reportedly ready to accept a bid from a major bowl, Syracuse plowed through the muddy turf for scores in each period.

Richmond Nips Davidson, 27-22

DAVIDSON, N. C. (AP)—Richmond scored two brilliant last quarter touchdowns Saturday and overcame Davidson 27-22 in a Southern Conference football thriller.

Horton Smith of Detroit is the only golfer who has played in all 22 Masters tournaments. He won the first event in 1934 and repeated in 1936.

John Burwell is the oldest thoroughbred to win a race. In 1925, at 19, he won one of 19 starts.

Rushaway was a most durable horse. In 1936 he won the Illinois Derby at Aurora and the next day won the Latonia Derby at Covington, Ky.

SLC Thumps Cowboys, 7-6, On Fumbles

HAMMOND, La. (AP)—Southeastern Louisiana edged McNeese 7-6 in a fumble-filled Gulf States Conference game before a rain-soaked Homecoming crowd Saturday.

Early in the fourth period SLC halfback C. J. Alexander sloshed four yards through the mud to score and Calvin Boudreaux booted the game-winning point.

McNeese quarterback Don Breaux recovered a fumble on the SLC 23 and five plays later swept three yards around right end to score. Rather than try to settle for a one point coversion to tie the score, Breaux decided to run for two points. He fumbled when he hit the SLC line and a teammate picked up the ball but was stopped short of the goal.

BIG 10 UPSET

Ohio State Carves 38-28 Scar On Iowa's Loop Title

By L. E. SKELLEY

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—Ohio State's Buckeyes led by bounding Bob White and dashing Don Clark carved a 38-28 scar on Iowa's Big Ten football crown Saturday in a spectacular offensive duel.

Iowa, gunning for its first undefeated Big Ten season since 1922, matched Ohio touchdown for touchdown through three quarters but faded in the stretch under the pounding drives by White, a 210-pound fullback, and thrusts of his Buckeye mates.

STATISTICS	Iowa	OSU
First downs	22	16
Rushing yardage	178	397
Passing yardage	249	65
Passes	23-33	1-2
Passes intercepted by	0	1
Punts	2-37	1-15
Fumbles lost	3	0
Yards penalized	25	20

The defeat also marked the first loss of the season for Iowa, currently No. 2 in the national AP poll rankings although a 13-13 tie with Air Force Academy had cast a slight blemish on an otherwise perfect record.

The deciding blows Saturday were struck through a grudging Iowa line as a heavy mist covered the playing field midway in the fourth period.

Ohio, the dethroned 1957 champion, punched 61 - yards for the touchdown which sent the Buckeyes into a 35-28 lead. White, who almost personally licked Iowa a year ago when Ohio State won 17-13, carried the ball on 11 of 14 plays for the decisive marker. He hit over from the one with 8:15 left and Dave Kilgore added his fifth conversion.

Iowa, which had rallied from every other Ohio touchdown, started out again but Dick LeBeau intercepted a deflected pass on the Ohio 30 and returned the ball to midfield.

Ohio then slashed toward another touchdown but after reaching a fourth and two situation on the Iowa 2, Kilgore returned to the game and booted a field goal from the 8.

Whatever hopes the sellout Iowa crowd of 58,643 had died as the ball sailed between the posts for a 38-28 situation with only 2 minutes and 12 seconds left in the game.

White's last period touchdown was his third of the day. He ran 71 yards after breaking through the Iowa line in the second period, and got another later in the period on a smash from the 1.

Clark, back at physical peak for the first time since early in the season, had touchdown runs of 25 and 37 yards.

Quarterback Randy Duncan was Iowa's big hero. He bettered his own school record by completing 23 of 33 passes for 249 yards, one going for a touchdown to Willie Fleming.

DAWKINS SCORES THREE

Cadets Trounce Villanova, 26-0

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Pete Dawkins, at his brilliant best, wound up his playing career in Army's Michie Stadium Saturday by scoring three touchdowns and pacing the unbeaten Cadets to a 26-0 victory over stubborn Villanova.

It was the last home game for the Army football captain and mainly because of his efforts the Cadets will go up against Navy two weeks from now undefeated for the first time in eight years. In 1950, Army had won eight straight before losing to Navy. This season only a 14-14 tie with Pitt mars their record.

The speedy, hard-running Dawkins broke the game open with an 80-yard return of Jim Grazione's punt in the second quarter. He scored a second time on a 46-yard pass from Joe Caldwell and made his third touchdown on a 5-yard run after setting it up with a 48-yard pass play with Caldwell pitching.

The fourth Army score was made by sub halfback Gil Roesler on a four-yard drive off tackle after most of the Army regulars had retired.

Dawkins' performance, his second best scoring feat of the season, kept a capacity crowd of 27,250 enthralled through a damp, drizzly afternoon which became so dark the lights were turned on early in the third quarter. It was all the more remarkable because the other half of Army's one-two ground-gaining team, Bob Anderson, was shaken up by a tackle in the second quarter and did not return to the game.

Penn Wins, 42-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Penn unleashed six long scoring plays Saturday in routing hapless Columbia 42-0 in an Ivy League game on Franklin Field. The winners scored on pass plays of 54, 33, 90 and 29 yards and on runs of 87 and 42. Halfback Fred Doelling accounted for two TDs.

Kansas State In 14-6 Verdict Over Cyclones

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—The Kansas State Wildcats scored on a 71-yard drive in the opening quarter and on a march of 80 yards in the third period Saturday to knock off the Iowa State Cyclones, 14-6.

Kansas State completed its Big Eight Conference play with a 2-4 record. Iowa State lost all six of its league games.

The crowd of 6,500 was the smallest ever to watch a Big Eight football game.

Its only thrill was provided by the losers' Dwight Nichols.

The 164-pound Nichols handled the ball on about 75 per cent of Iowa State's plays from the tailback slot. He scooted 34 yards for the only Cyclone score late in the third quarter.

Middies Top Colonials In 28-8 Contest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Favored Navy pierced George Washington's rugged defense in three lightning blows for second-half touchdowns and gained a 28-8 victory Saturday over the surprising Colonials in the mud at Griffith Stadium.

George Washington, with a mediocre Southern Conference record, wasn't supposed to stand a chance against the Middies but more than held its own until Navy struck suddenly through the air to sail ahead.

Stymied 6-6 at the midway point, Navy shot to a touchdown in only four plays after the second-half kickoff and smashed GW's desperate effort to catch up.

Joe Tranchini passed 31 yards to end John Kanuch who toppled backward into the end zone for the tie-snapping touchdown. Fullback Joe Matalavage had put Navy in position for the scoring stroke with a 25-yard carry.

George Washington, rated a four - touchdown underdog, had gone ahead early on Ed Hino's 22-yard pass to Ted Colna after recovering a Tranchini fumble on Navy's 21 in the first period.

Northwestern Gym Team To Be Here Tuesday

NATCHITOCHES, LA. (Special) —The 24-man gymnastic team of Northwestern State College will present demonstration shows at West Monroe High School and Delhi High School Tuesday with performances in the afternoon at Monroe and in the evening at Delhi. Coach Jeff Hennesy will present his team and will participate in the trampoline exhibition.

Each year the NSC team, perenniel winners of the Southern AAU title, present shows throughout Louisiana and Texas.

Sponsored by the Department of Health and Physical Education, the gymnasts encourage introduction of this body building sport in the high schools. Robert McClanahan, Monroe, and Charles M. Stewart, West Monroe, are members of the squad.

Texas opened 15 new golf courses in 1958.

STOP AERIAL CIRCUS

Notre Dame Tips Tar Heels, 34-24

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Junior halfback Jim Crotty of Seattle Saturday led an inspired 70-yard scoring drive in the third period that pushed Notre Dame to a 34-24 football victory over North Carolina's aerial circus.

In handing the Tar Heels their first loss in seven games this season and their ninth straight setback in the series, the Irish piled up a 21-6 lead early in the second quarter then blew it in the third.

Quarterback Jack Cummings, who pal)d for two touchdowns in the first half, set up two more with aerials in the third. Fullback Don Klochak scored both of them, on 3 and 1-yard smashes to end drives of 65 and 72-yards.

Cummings' try for the extra 2 points failed after each TD, but the Tar Heels moved into a 24-21 edge.

Then Crotty sent 56,839 fans to their feet with runs of 31, 9 and 11 yards to steer the Irish to a 70-yard scoring thrust capped by sophomore Red Mack's 15-yard gallop.

The Irish added an insurance touchdown in the last quarter. North Carolina failed to make less than a yard on a fourth down gamble and Notre Dame took over on the Tar Heels' 30. Crotty's running and George Izo's passes set up the touchdown from the 3. Izo carried it across on a keep-it play.

Notre Dame capitalized on a pass interception, a recovered fumble and a poor North Carolina punt to take a 21-12 halftime lead.

The Tar Heels went ahead 6-0 in the opening minutes on Cummings' 4-yard toss to Don Kemper, then the Irish went 62-yard in 7 plays after Izo stole Cummings' aerial. Nick Pietrosante blasted over from the 2 in the drive that was enlivened by Izo's 25-yard toss to Bob Wetoska.

Stickles booted the first of his four extra points and the Irish were ahead to stay until the Tar Heels' third-period rally.

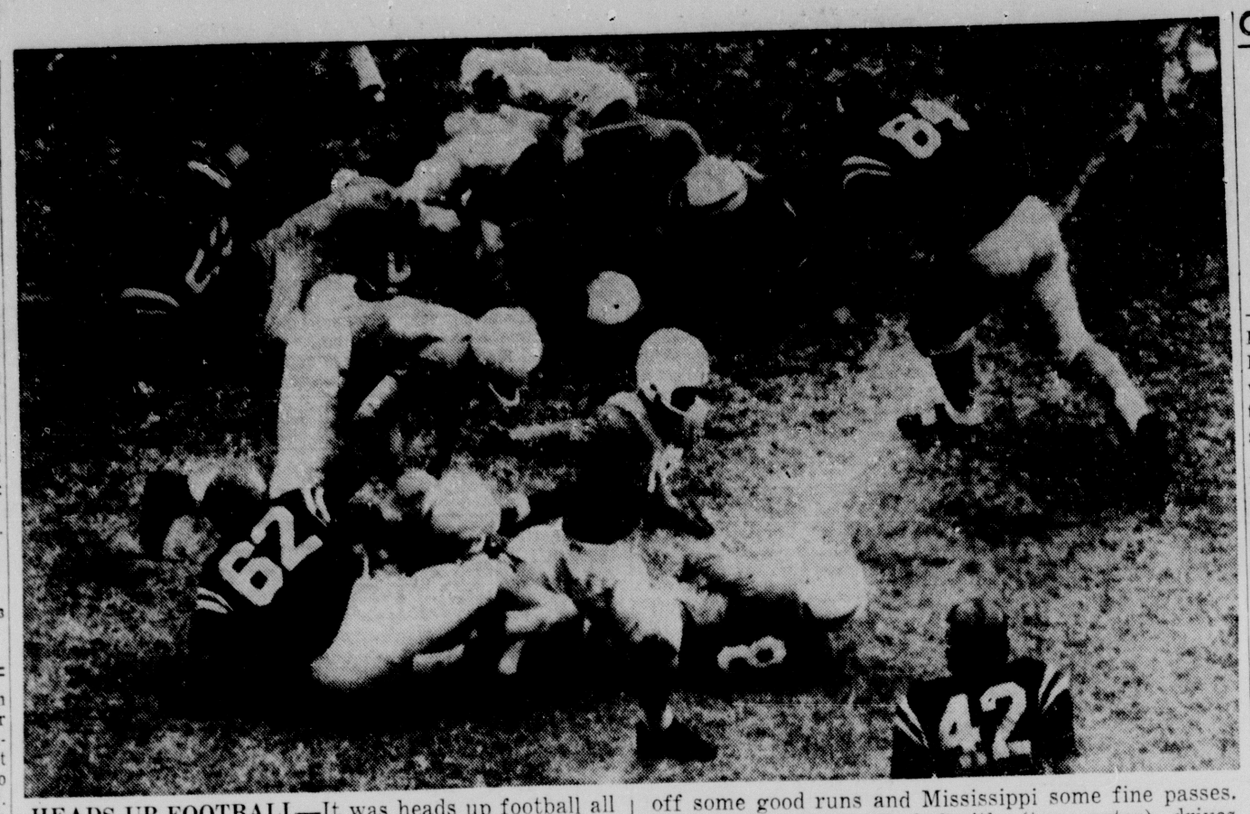

They added two quick touchdowns in the second quarter, scoring on a 52-yard march in 9 plays at the outset after Don Lawrence captured Ed Lipski's bobble. Mack's 14-yard gallop was the big gainer and made way for Pietrosante's 1-yard smash.

Minutes later, Cummings' punt was good for only 11 yards and the Irish moved across the goal from the Tar Heel 35 in 5 plays. Mack's 7-yard slant was the payoff.

North Carolina's first touchdown stemmed from Ronnie Koes' recovery of Stickles' fumble on the Irish 45. He speared Kemper for 17 yards and the Tar Heels were on their way.

Their second score came two minutes before halftime, Cummings hitting Wade Smith on a 32-yard aerial play. After each TD, Cummings' passes for the extra two points failed.

The victory closed Notre Dame's home season and left it with a 5-3 record with two games to play.

Duke Trips Wake Forest, 29 To 0

By KEN ALYTA

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (AP) —Duke ran roughshod over Wake Forest Saturday 29-0 as the Blue Devils rebounded from last week's crushing defeat by LSU, the worst in 29 years of the school's football history.

After a scoreless first period that found Wake Forest twice moving within Duke's 30-yard line, the Blue Devils scored twice in the second quarter and finished the job with two more in the fourth.

The one-sided game put a damper on the homecoming crowd of 20,000, largest turnout since Wake Forest moved here three years ago.

Duke backs ran for 300 yards while their defenders held Wake Forest to 118 on the ground.

The Blue Devils broke open the game in the first six minutes of the second quarter. A 71-yard drive that took 11 plays ended with halfback Wray Carlton scoring from the 2 with less than three minutes gone in the period.

A blocked kick by end Jim Bartal recovered by flanker Bob Spada gave Duke a first down on Wake Forest's 14-yard line a few minutes after the first Duke touchdown. In two plays the Blue Devils had their second touchdown as Carlton ripped off six yards to the eight and quarterback Bob Brodhead passed in the end zone to end Doug Padgett.

After a scoreless third period Duke went back into high gear in the last quarter. Halfback Dan Lee scooted five yards to climax a 60-yard, 10-play advance for the next score. Reserves produced the final tally, moving 25-yards in six plays as sophomore halfback Dave Burch covered the last four yards. The touchdown had been set up by a 39-yard kick by fullback Andy Cottinghami that went out of bounds a foot from the Wake Forest goal line.

Gamecocks Stop Virginia In ACC Tilt

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—South Carolina fought off a closing Virginia threat and took a 28-14 Atlantic Coast Conference homecoming football victory Saturday on a scoring pass interception and a long late drive.

Virginia, with quarterback Arnold Dempsey passing beautifully, tied the game in the second period with a pair of touchdowns.

South Carolina halfback Alex Hawkins brought the crowd of 20,000 to its feet when he snared a Virginia pass near midfield and raced it back 49 yards for a late second period score and a lead the Gamecocks never relinquished.

South Carolina fullback John Saunders sewed up the game in the final period when he broke through center for 26 yards and a score, capping a 74-yard drive.

Quarterback Bobby Bunch scored from the 2 to close out a 96-yard first period drive that started South Carolina on its way.

After halfback John Dorsett added another South Carolina first period touchdown on a 7-yard dash, Virginia bounced back to tally its two touchdowns.

End Barry Jones caught a 15-yard pass from Dempsey at the goal for the Cavaliers' first score on a drive from midfield. Again in the second period, Virginia moved 90 yards, primarily on Dempsey's passing to send halfback Jimmy Roberson over from the 2.

Hawkins' scoring interception came a short time later.

Surprising Vols Upset Ole Miss In Final Period, 18-16

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — Gene Etter, a 155-pound tailback from Chattanooga, squirted and struggled 75 yards for a fourth-period touchdown Saturday that enabled downtrodden Tennessee to upset high-ranked Mississippi 18-16 and perhaps knocked the Rebels out of a bowl spot.

Tennessee, once a grid power to be reckoned with, had lost five of seven starts this season and was only a week away from a 14-6 defeat by Chattanooga, its first loss in history to the neighboring school.

But today, with Tennessee behind in the final period, Etter, the five-foot, nine-inch tailback, saved the day—and for the Vols, the season.

He took off around his right end from the Tennessee 25 and set sail. At midfield, Mississippi fullback Jack Anderson grabbed him by the ankle. Etter stumbled momentarily, twisted loose, spun away and sprinted the rest of the way for the winning score.

Etter's run wiped out a 16-12 Mississippi lead which the Rebels piled up with a high scoring second quarter.

Mississippi scored two touchdowns, one by quarterback Bobby Franklin and the other by end Warren Jenkins, and a field goal by tackle Robert Khayat, all in the second period.

In the fading minutes of the fourth period, after Etter's run, Khayat failed to make another field goal. His kick from the three went wide.

Mississippi's second period scoring wiped out Tennessee's early lead after the Vols counted first, led by Etter. He took the Vols on a 38-yard drive, including his own 16-yard run. Wingback Bobby Sandlin scored on a 14-yard reverse.

Ole Miss fought back on the passes of quarterback Bobby Franklin. He completed four passes in a 44-yard drive and ended it by sneaking over from the one-foot line.

Khayat's kick from the 26 followed, then Mississippi marched another 42 yards for the second touchdown.

Tennessee started clawing back in the third period helped by two Mississippi fumbles and a brilliant kick that rolled dead on the Mississippi four.

Etter started this scoring drive on the 29. His pass was blocked by a rushing lineman, so Etter caught it himself. He gained only a yard but then sent fullback Neyle Sollee through the line to the four and two plays later the fullback leaped over the line for a touchdown.

Okla. State Cops 6-3 Win Over Kansas

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Fullback Larry Rundle found a wide opening in the left side of the line late in the third quarter and raced 35 yards for the touchdown that gave the Oklahoma State Cowboys a 6-3 football decision over the Kansas Jayhawks Saturday.

Rundle's romp was the most exciting play of the tightly-fought game witnessed by some 15,000 at Lewis Field.

Kansas had beaten the Cowboys the past three years but the spell was broken by Rundle's run. For a time it appeared that the visiting Jayhawks might return home with another triumph.

With five minutes to play in the third quarter the Jayhawks forged ahead on a 25-yard field goal by sophomore John Suder. It was Suder's third field goal of the season and it duplicated another 25-yarder he kicked agains. Kansas State.

But the Cowboys were not to be denied and with two minutes and eight seconds left in the same period they shook Rundle loose for the game-winning jaunt. The Cowboys started on the 50 and in three plays moved to the 35 to set up the scoring opportunity.

Rundle slashed through a wide hole, one of the few he found all day, cut sharply to his right and sped goalward.

Badgers Beat Illini, 31-12, In Big 10 Tilt

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Versatile Wisconsin quarterback, Dale Hackbart, befuddled Illinois with his passing in a 31-12 victory Saturday which tightened the second place Big Ten grip of the Badgers, ranked No. 5 nationally.

Hackbart ran to one touchdown, passed to another and his accurate arm set up a third for a triumph which left Wisconsin with a conference runner-up record of 4-1-1 behind already crowned Big Ten champion Iowa.

Hackbart's colleague, Sid Williams also figured in the squelching of underdog Illinois as he engineered the second Badger scoring drive and plunged 5 yards for a touchdown.

Although jolted by a 15-0 first period deficit, Illinois refused to quit before a Dad's Day throng of 45,937, and scored a touchdown each in the second and third period.

The first time Wisconsin had the ball, Hackbart directed a 68-yard scoring march in seven plays and flashed the final four yards for a touchdown.

Hackbart's 16-yard touchdown pass to Ed Hart gave Wisconsin a 23-6 lead just before the first half ended.

And in the third period Hackbart rifled passes of 26 and 33 yards in a 67-yard scoring march capped by John Hobbs' 6-yard smash. Illinois perked in the second period with a 32-yard touchdown pass from Johnny Easterbrook to Marshal Starks. And in the third quarter Jim Brown plunged two yards for a touchdown to climax the best Illini showing of the day, a 67-yard drive.

Wisconsin threw a season high of 26 passes and Hackbart hit 8 of 15 for 127 yards, while Williams completed four of 11 for 100 yards.

Fox Hunters To Hold Meet

The Central La. Fox Hunters Association will hold the annual field trial and bench shows Nov. 26 at eight o'clock in the evening.

The puppy classes will be run at the first show and the running hounds that have competed in the field for two days without fault will compete in the second. Both shows will present permanent trophies and ribbons.

The affair will be a camp hunt with a cafe on the grounds and is located west of Gardner off the Leesville Highway.

Falcons Drop Wyoming By 21-6 Margin

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Unbeaten Air Force fanned the flames of its post-season bowl hopes Saturday with a 21-6 football victory over Wyoming.

Wyoming, leaders of the Skyline Conference, snagged the first touchdown on a 35-yard scoring pass but couldn't match the fire and precision of the Falcons over the long haul.

Air Force, winner of seven straight after being tied by Iowa, is under consideration for the Cotton Bowl and Gator Bowl.

The Falcons went ahead in the last minute of the first quarter on a 16-play drive covering 88 yards. Three passes by southpaw quarterback John Kuenzel to halfback George Pupich, one for 15 yards, were the key gainers.

Third string quarterback Eddie Rosane and halfback Steve Galios contributed the decisive runs in the Air Force's second touchdown with the kickoff opening the second half. The Airmen drove 77 yards in 15 plays with Galios carrying seven times and Rosane five. Rosane's 21-yard dash to Wyoming's 17 was the big blow.

Pupich, whose field goal kicking figured in three Air Force victories, dashed 15 yards in the big gainer of the Air Force's 34-yard touchdown drive in the final period.

EX-GIANT SLUGGER

Ott Under Knife Following Wreck

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — Former National League slugger Mel Ott, a member of baseball's hall of fame underwent surgery Saturday following a two-car collision in which his wife was injured and a 50-year-old man killed.

Ott and his wife, both 49, suffered fractures of both legs and multiple cuts and abrasions. His wife also had a broken arm.

Officers said they were unable to determine how the accident happened. Ott's late-model station wagon and a sedan driven by Leslie S. Curry Sr., collided as the Otts pulled away from a roadside cafe.

Police said heavy moisture in the air, which made a foggy mist cloud windshields, could have reduced visibility.

Dr. Charles Floyd of Memorial Hospital said Ott's condition improved to the point where he could undergo surgery. Dr. Floyd said the operation on Ott's legs will include setting bones, cleaning damaged tissue and placing the legs in traction.

Mrs. Ott, Dr. Floyd said, will undergo surgery eventually, but he added "we're not considering it at the moment."

Both Ott and his wife, Dr. Floyd said, are still on the critical list.

Curry, a Bay St. Louis carpenter and father of seven, was alone in his car.

Ott, born in nearby Gretna, La., and a resident of suburban Metairie, retired from baseball in January 1953, after a career that started in 1926 with the New York Giants. He went to the majors as a catcher without any minor league experience, but Giants' Manager John McGraw converted him into an outfielder.

He played 22 seasons before retiring from the playing field in 1947. He was the National League's home run leader four times, played in 2,730 games and had a lifetime batting average of .304.

Ott managed the Giants for six seasons before resigning in 1948. He helped in the Giants' farm system between 1948 and 1950 and managed the Oakland Oaks of the Pacific Coast League in 1951 and 1952.

In recent years, he has been a member of the Detroit Tigers' broadcasting team and in the offseason, works for a building construction firm in New Orleans.

UCLA Defeats Oregon, 7-3, To End Long Series

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The underdog Bruins of UCLA swept through the airways in the final minutes and defeated Oregon 7-3 as the Pacific Coast Conference teams ended their long history of football rivalry.

Facing defeat after Oregon scored a field goal, reserve left halfback Kirk Wilson suddenly shifted to the air and the Bruins quickly scored a touchdown.

Fifty-five yards away from the Webfoot goal, Wilson completed two spectacular passes to Phil Parslow, the first for 26 yards and the second for 27 to put the ball on the Oregon 8.

Fullback Ray Smith quickly smashed through the middle of the big Oregon line for a touchdown.

Cornell Loses

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP) — Jake Crouthamel scored three touchdowns Saturday as Dartmouth defeated Cornell 32-15 on a soggy field, before 16,000 fans. The victory left Dartmouth tied with Princeton for the Ivy League lead while Cornell was eliminated from the race.

Citadel Smears Unbeaten VMI Record, 14 To 6

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—A savage, slashing Citadel team demolished Virginia Military Institute's two-year unbeaten record Saturday with a 14-6 victory in a Southern Conference football game before 12,000 homecoming fans.

The Bulldogs achieved their most important victory of the season by scoring two first half touchdowns and then using terrific line play to hold off repeated VMI assaults in the final half.

The loss broke a string of 19 straight games in which VMI has gone undefeated. The VMI unbeaten skein included three ties.

Two big breaks paid off for the Bulldogs. They pounced on two VMI fumbles and promptly used them as springboards for touchdowns.

22 TO 8

TCU Rallies To Beat Longhorns

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Hunter Enis spurred Texas Christian to a second half rally that beat Texas 22-8 Saturday and put the Horned Frogs alone atop the Southwest Conference football race.

The angry Longhorns, already eliminated from championship consideration, soundly thrashed the Christians for a half. They throttled the TCU offense, they whipped the massive Horned Frog line and they made a sieve out of the vaunted Purple defense. They had TCU down 8-0.

But midway of the third period the Frogs came to life and swept 68 yards on the running of Jack Spikes and the passing of Enis. From the 1-foot line Enis rammed across for a touchdown then passed in the end zone to Spikes for the two points that tied the score.

That set off a Texas Christian explosion. Center Dale Walker intercepted a pass from sophomore Larry Cooper of Texas to set up a second touchdown early in the fourth period. Walker ran to the Texas 23, Marvin Lasater gouged seven out of the line and Spikes hammered to the 11. Then Enis lofted a pass to end Jimmy Gilmore in the end zone for the touchdown.

Later TCU smashed 52 yards for its third touchdown with Lasater turning passer to throw to Marshall Harris in the end zone for 41 yards and the score.

Texas scored midway of the first period after Bob Harweth, a guard, intercepted an Enis pass on the TCU 39. Big Mike Dowdle ground out 11 yards in three runs, then halfback George Blanch shot over right tackle on a cross-buck and sped 28 yards to the score. Guard Ramon Armstrong blocked Bobby Lackey's try for point.

In the second period, right after Texas missed a field goal, Gilmore, back to punt in the TCU end zone, fumbled the pass back from center, picked up the ball but was downed by the fighting Dowdle for a safety.

Mixed Tag Bout On Kallio Card

A mixed tag team match featuring Gypsy Joe and Nell Stewart against Charley Laye and Celia Blevins takes the wrestling spotlight at Kallio's Arena Monday night.

This relay scrap, set for 75 minutes with two falls to win, is billed as the main event and Bill Barney and Viva Zapata tangle in the semi-final of the two-bout card .Bill and Viva will trade grunts over the 30-minute or less route.

George Potter will referee the night's matches.

All six of Monday's grapplers are back for repeat performances. Gypsy Joe lost to Barney last week here while Miss Blevins won over Nell Stewart when the latter lass was disqualified for foul play, hair-pulling, eye-gouging, slugging, etc., being some of her milder rule infractions.

Bad Charley Laye spent last Monday night defeating Zapata in another foul-filled fray. Uncharitable Charley has had his hands full lately taking care of boys who are just as mean as he. Laye met Gypsy Joe two weeks ago and Zapata last week in contrast to his usual diet of heroes.

The mixed tag bout will be something new to local fans and a large crowd is expected Monday.

Threat Is Posed By Carbon-14

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don't fast-shuffle the carbon-14 produced by hydrogen and atomic bombs — it poses a much greater threat to living and future generations of mankind than widely publicized strontium-90 and other bomb "fall-out products," Dr. Linus Pauling asserts.

He is professor of chemistry at California Institute of Technology, a Nobel Prize winner, and an outstanding scientific critic of continued nuclear test explosions. With highly refined mathematical equations, he challenged Dr. Willard F. Libby, scientific member of the Atomic Energy Commission, who holds that carbon-14 from bombs does not menace health.

Pauling's calculations showed that for each year of bomb testing at the present rate, there will be the following consequences due to carbon-14: 55,000 children born with gross physical and mental defects; 170,000 stillbirths and childhood deaths due to inborn defects; 425,000 baby deaths either in the womb or immediately after birth for the same reasons.

This, he pointed out in a communication to the technical organ of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science is 17 times more than estimates of the damage to future generations from undisputed dangerous "fall-out products" for each year of bomb-testing. He granted that his calculations were subject to a very wide margin of error—the future effects could be five-times greater or only one-fifth as great. But even if less, carbon-14 from bombs is a very real threat, he said.

As for the living, carbon-14 is as great a threat to them as is strontium-90 and other "fall-out products" as regards bone and blood cancers, and a greater threat as regards diseases resulting from radiation damage to other body tissues, he continued.

Carbon-14 and strontium-90 both are radioactive isotopes of those elements. Strontium has special affinity for bone and when its atoms are radioactive as in the strontium-90 form of the element, the danger is great. The human body has carbon atoms in its every fiber and sinew; this radioactive carbon would have special affinity for the whole body.

This would include the reproductive chemistry which produce the genes that transmit not only characteristics but structural and functional soundness from one generation to the next. Radioactive carbon participating to some slight extent in this chemistry, could make changes in the genes that would cause fatal and non-fatal defects in offspring.

But human beings and everything else living have lived with carbon-14 since their very beginnings. Cosmic rays react with the nitrogen atoms which constitute the bulk of the atmosphere and convert a very small percentage of them into atoms of carbon-14. These atoms, with a radioactive half life of over 5,000 years, are in the atmosphere, the seas, the ground, even the rocks.

They're taken up by plants. People and animals eat the plants and thus carbon-14 atoms find lodgment in their bodies. The question is how many can living bodies contain without harm? Obviously the atoms made by cosmic rays have never been in sufficient numbers to interfere with life.

Pauling's assertion was that nuclear explosions add enough of these radioactive carbon atoms to the existing and continuously renewed supply, to pose a threat to life which is keyed in intensity to the number of explosions. Each explosion releases a large number of neutrons which are atomic nuclear particles without electric charge. A relatively few of these combine with nitrogen atoms and form carbon-14 atoms.

The nub of his challenge to Libby was that enough nitrogen atoms were so converted as to change the natural balance of carbon-14 atoms with other elements and threaten human life, existing and future, in an entirely new way. Libby's calculations, which are serveral years old, showed the contrary.

$35,000 In Furs Taken Overnight At Shreveport

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Furs, mostly mink, valued at $35,000 were stolen in an overnight burglary at the downtown clothing store of Goldring, Inc., here.

Edgar Szafir, the store manager, said the loss might exceed his estimate of $35,000. The robbery was discovered when Goldring opened for the day's business at 9 a.m.

The robbers gained entrance to the building by breaking through a fire door on the second floor.

Finds Poets Are Pretty Conventional

BALTIMORE (AP) — "I expected poets would be wild-eyed and long-haired," remarked a young fellow in the audience. "But they turn out to be pretty conventional."

He was sitting in Shriver Hall at Johns Hopkins University, listening to poets read their works as part of the week-long poetry festival, which ended Tuesday.

To Baltimore had come more major American poets than probably had ever been corraled before for a single convocation.

Almost 10,000 people, an unprecedented audience for the recluse-like, supposedly unpopular poet, have made a pilgrimage to imbibe the wisdom and magic of eight poets:

Marianne More, Robert Frost, E. E. Cummings, Archibald MacLeish, John Crowe Ransom and Yvor Winters, all of whom read their works, and also R. P. Blackmur and Mark Van Doren, who, along with Miss Moore and Winters, lectured.

Among them you find a total of eight Pulitzer Prizes, four National Book Awards and two Bollingen Prizes. Among them also are the acknowledged deans of our poetry today—or perhaps yesterday, for they mainly agreed that poetry seems to be switching to a more conservative or moderate style.

Audiences consisted of students, faculty members and friends, men with wispy beards, wives clutching books they wanted autographed, boys in khaki pants, young fellows sucking dry pipes, nuns in wide black headgear, girls in black stockings and flat shoes.

But the poets themselves were not enthralled by one another. To be sure, there was among them a sound core of something between tolerance and friendliness, a broadmindedness centered in a quartet which Frost guessed might include Miss Moore, Cummings, MacLeish and himself. But outside this category, there showed up during the seven-day program some contrary-minded individualists, exemplified in winters' lengthy and detailed fault-finding with the Shakespeare, among others.

Only a couple of the poets stayed more than a day, only a couple listened to any other poet. Poets also are touchy, and Eliott Coleman, diplomatic chairman of this first local festival, at moments looked like a harried impressario with eight Maria Callases to handle.

Ill feeling rarely showed on stage, but behind the scenes there were waspish remarks.

One pontificated — though not in the hearing of Miss Moore, who lectured about Dame Edith Sitwell — that "poetry is a man's trade." Modern poetry was branded as "tortured stuff."

All these poets belonged in the older generation, the youngest being Blackmur, born in 1904. Asked what the younger poets were doing, Frost replied: "There aren't any here, we're only the older ones. But for the young not here, I can say that they seem to be writing more understandably. I have a notion they're not so modern. Actually" — he let out one of his infectious snorts of laughter — "we're back where I came in: they're writing free verse once more."

Miss Moore, Van Doren and Ransom thought they detected a decline, in the number of "difficult" poets.

"It's tougher now to get published," Van Doren said. Miss Moore called "the interest today more intense." Frost, who addressed one of his best audiences, and appreciated it, came off the platform to exclaim: "Poetry has never in history of the world had such good audiences as it finds in general today."

The lectures and readings were financed by the Bollingen Foundation and the university, which hopes they may be repeated. judged by their scope, vitality and popularity, they deserve to be.

The Voice of America planned to broadcast the Cummings and Frost readings. The lectures found tentative publishers even before they were delivered.

Jonesville Mayor Proposes Fines For Fire Traffic

JONESVILLE (Special) — Continued blocking of traffic by spectators at the scene of a fire in the town of Jonesville may result in violators being fined, Mayor G. D. Babin said today.

In many instances the fire truck and members of the volunteer fire department are unable to get to the scene due to traffic being blocked, the mayor pointed out. "This may result in the losing of someone's property," the mayor said. "If the traffic is blocked and the truck and firemen cannot get up to the scene in time may mean the difference of considerable property loss.

Mayor Babin said that if the violations continue the town will have no other recourse than to clamp a fine on all violators.

"A good thing to remember when going to a fire is to keep the street open for the firemen and park at considerable distance from the scene," the Mayor warned. "The next fire could be your property," he said.

"We hope that the residents of Jonesville will keep this in mind and give their wholehearted cooperation," he stated, "and that way we will not have to enforce any rigid rules."

New Building At Crossett Airport Under Discussion

CROSSETT (Special) — Plans for constructing a new $5,000 administration building at the Crossett Municipal Airport were explained to members of the Crossett Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors recently by Don Mahurin, Chairman of the Airport Commission.

According to Mahurin, the Commission plans to erect a new building at the airport as another step in their long range plans to bring the facilities there up to modern standards, where it is eventually hoped that commercial passenger service can be offered to the traveling public.

Mahurin said the Commission plans to start on the building as soon as possible, and he asked the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce in seeking financial help toward the building's cost. The Chamber Board members voted to cooperate in every way possible with the Airport Commission in helping secure the materials and furnishings necessary for the structure.

OAK GROVE (Special) —On Novembe 17, 18 and 19 the annual War On Rats eradication Campaign week will be held in the town of Oak Grove, stated H. T. Monroe West Carroll Parish Sanitarian. Bait of Red Squill meat 150 lbs. and 150 lbs. of Pival corn meal will be distributed among the business houses and home owners for the purpose of killing rats.

Meters

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) —A new exerience for Lake Providence water consumers is in the making with the installation of water meters in the town. Mayor W. B. Cone announces that installation of water meters has been completed, as a part of the $1,000,000 00 improvement program to the water and light plant and distribution system, which is presently underway.

The water meters will be read for the first time on November 15th and the subsequent reading on December 15th will furnish the basis for the first water bills which will be computed and sent out on January 1.

Cake Walk

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special)—A total of $187.90 was raised by the Jaycee Jaynes Saturday when they held a "Cake Walk" in downtown Lake Providence. The proceeds will go into the "Operation Santa Claus", which is being sponsored again this year by the Lake Providence Jaycee Jaynes.

Special thanks was extended by the Jaynes to Henry Dalfiume and S. V. Fissel who served as Masters of Ceremonies during the cakewalk.

Ashley County Reports 230 Buck Deer Killed

CROSSETT (Special) —At midmorning Thursday 230 buck deer had been reported killed in Ashley County as the half-way mark was passed in the state's November deer hunting week. Game Wardens, Gaston Higginbotham and Arthur Kelley said that the total was somewhat under last year's at the same time, but that they expected the kill by the week' end to keep Ashley County's standing as the state's leading deer hunting territory.

Dry and mildy warm weather the first half of the week has hampered the hunting with dogs. The wardens said that many of the county's 108 camps were not able to make deer drives in the afternoons because their dogs could not trail. The kills have largely come from the early morning drives. A gentle rain which began Friday morning should make trailing the latter part of the week easier.

As of Friday morning the youngest hunter to bring down a deer was Bruce Switzer, 13 years old, who brought a 117 pound spike buck into the Crossett Chamber of Commerce for recording. The heaviest deer was killed early in the week by V. S. Brown, who downed a 175 pound, eight-point buck. A. G. Farrar brought in the biggest "rack" when he checked a fifteen-point buck in at the C. of C. building Monday morning, weighing 167 pounds.

The 230 legal kills were marred with only two illegal kills —the lowest in several years.

The New York Stock Exchange is a major tourist attraction. More than 300,000 persons visited the exchange in 1957.

SLI Takes Sweepstakes In Tech Meet

RUSTON (Special) — Forensic students of Southwestern Louisiana Institute won the sweepstakes trophy by amassing 64 points in the annual Louisiana Tech speech tournament which ended here yesterday.

The grand slam for the Lafayette speakers included the first place cup in women's debating and the top trophy in senior men's debating, as well as several triumphs in individual events.

Tulane University's representatives scored 50 points to rank second in the meet.

With 40 points each, Millsaps, Louisiana College, and Mississippi College finished in a three way tie for third place.

The trophies were presented by Dr. R. L. Ropp, Tech president. Eleven educational institutions participated in the tournament which began here Friday morning.

Winners in debating were as follows:

Women's debate — Southwestern, first; Northwestern and Tech, tied for second.

Junior men's debate — McNeese first; Southwestern second; Tulane third.

Senior men's debate — Southwestern first; Millsaps second; Louisiana College third.

Summary of individual events:

Men's extemporaneous — John Baroutte, Tulane, superior; David Bergeron, Louisiana College, good; Carl Corrado, Southwestern, good.

Women's extemporaneous Mary Ann Gorton, Tech, superior; Kitty McBride, Southwestern, superior; Frances Jackson, Northwestern, excellent; Linda Sigley, Tulane good.

Men's poetry — Harry Smith, Louisiana College, excellent; Larry Larance, Tech, good.

Women's poetry — Judy Haas, Tulane, superior; Alice Brasfield, Mississippi College, superior; Virginia Fullerton, Tech, Marylyn Traweck, Mississippi Southern, good.

Men's oratory reading — Isaac Burson, Southwestern, superior; Ralph Pinkley, Louisiana College, excellent; Max Morris, McNeese, excellent; Ed McKaskel, Millsaps, good.

Women's oratory reading—Peggy Rogers, Millsaps, superior; Annette Loewer, Louisiana College, superior; Marilyn Penn, McNeese, excellent; Jackie Martin, Tech, good.

Judges included members of the Tech faculty and visiting forensic coaches. The tournament was under the direction of Dr. Paul J. Pennington, head of the speech department. Assisting were Miss Wilma Baugh and E. G. Luck of the speech faculty at Tech.

East Carroll Parish Slates Tax Election

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) — December 9 has been set by the East Carroll Parish School Board as the date for holding an election, asking the property owning taxpayers to approve the levying of a 5 mill maintenance tax, according to Superintendent of Schools M. M. Walsworth.

Proceeds from the tax, which would run for a period of ten years, will be used in the support of the public schools, to hire additional teachers, pay bus drivers salaries, provide maintenance and upkeep, or wherever the school board deems it most needed.

Walsworth stated that the School Board had arrived at this decision only after exhausting all other possible avenues for raising additional revenues. "In order to maintain our schools at their present level of usefulness to the children, for which purpose they were created, we must have additional revenue," Walsworth stated.

The date for the election was set at a special meeting of the Board held on November 3, Walsworth said.

Last Of Big City Political Bosses Buried

By RICHARD J. SINNOTT

BOSTON (AP)—James Michael Curley, whose turbulent political career carried him from the cobblestones of a crowded tenement district to the golden dome of the State House, was laid to rest Saturday beside his first wife and seven children.

An attraction in death as in life, more than half a million mourners lined his funeral procession route. The former governor, congressman and Boston mayor died Wednesday at the age of 83.

Curley's son, the Rev. Francis X. Curley, S.J., of Holy Cross College, sung a Solemn High Requiem Mass at which Archbishop Richard J. Cushing presided in the Roman Catholic cathedral of the Holy Cross.

More than 2,500 mourners filled the hushed edifice. Outside, thousands more, heads bowed and many weeping, whispered final prayers. Inside were relatives, church, state and city dignitaries, among them his second wife, another son, George, and Gov. Foster Furcolo, a close friend.

Police Dep. Supt. James G. Hinchey estimated that more than 500,000 persons witnessed the funeral cortege which began at the State House and came to a final halt at old Calvary Cemetery, some eight miles away.

Curley, a Democrat, was considered the last of the big city political bosses. He was noted for his silver-tongued oratory and sharp wit.

Four Compete For Title Of 'Homemaker'

CHATHAM (Special) — Four Chatham High School girls are vying for the title of "Miss Homemaker of Chatham" and the winner will be crowned in ceremonies Friday at 7:30 in the high school gymnasium.

Contestants are Miss Melba Tippen, Miss Charlotte Rowan, Miss Linda Massey and Miss Peggy Parker.

Selection will be based on student body voting.

Usherettes for the occasion will be Marcia Tippen, Betty Moore, Jean Brumley and Lou Simons. Junior usherettes will be Nannette Brown, Susan Marshall and Velda Roberts.

Douglas Richardson and Judy Womack will be crown bearers, with Donnette and Wonnette Brown as flower girls.

Sherry Johnson was selected as train bearer.

A program entitled "Queens of Louisiana" will follow the crowning of Miss Homemaker. Queens to be crowned are Queens of Rice, Forest, Yams, Cotton, Peach, Rodeo, Mardi Gras, Paper and Shrimp.

Holders of these titles, in order, are Lavonne Stewart, Thelma Whellis, Shirley Madden, Peggy Richardson, Gloria Walker, Mary May, Wanda Walsworth, Susan Chatham and Betty Moore.

Work Underway On Expansion For Grambling

GRAMBLING (Special) — Work has begun on a new $3 - million expansion program at Grambling College that is designed to make the institution fourth in size among Negro colleges in the nation.

The program includes an $820,000 dining hall, a $780,000 student union, and four dormitories costing more than $1,400,000.

Total cost of construction does not include furniture and other equipment.

President R. W. E. Jones said the buildings will be of contemporary design to blend with the existing campus building types.

Occupancy of all structures is slated for next September.

Says Soviets Are Insincere On Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn), just back from the Geneva conference on ending nuclear tests, Saturday urged that the United States revise its position on test suspensions.

He told newsmen that the Russians are insincere in their offer to end all nuclear testing and wants to see the Geneva conference fail.

Gore, a member of the U. S. delegation to Geneva and of the Senate - House Atomic Energy Committee, said he personally is opposed to halting U. S. development of small nuclear weapons as well as outer space detonations.

The senator has an appointment with President Eisenhower Monday and said he will give the President that view then. He also plans to give Secretary of State Dulles and other policy making officials a full report on the closed-door talks.

Diplomatic and political delegations from this country and England have been meeting with Soviet spokesmen at Geneva since Oct. 30.

Gore said that if the conference fails, the Soviets hope to blame the United States "whenever a deformed baby is born anywhere in the world or a child has a blister that cannot be explained."

The U. S. proposal presented to the conference Thursday and rejected by the Soviet Union Friday, would commit atomic weapons powers to suspend tests and to work for a control system.

In disagreeing with the current U. S. position, Gore said he had "worked as a member of the team undertaking to accomplish the goals fixed by our government and will continue to do so in Geneva. But as a member of the United States Senate in Washington, I must reserve the right to disagree and express doubt with the position of our government, as announced by the President, with respect to small weapons development and outer space detonations."

Cotton Harvest In East Carroll Behind Schedule

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special) —Cotton harvest in East Carroll Parish is slightly behind last year, according to figures released by the Federal Compress and Warehouse. Jesse Johnson, manager, states that a total of 12,800 bales of cotton have been put under receipt to date, as compared with 12,900 for the same period in 1957.

Although the harvest season has been much better than last fall, the rains in early September delayed the harvesting of crops and caused considerable damage to crops that were already open.

It is reported that several thousand more bales of cotton remain to be gathered, although approximately 95 per cent of the soy beans have already been harvested. The corn crop in East Carroll, which shows an increase in total acreage due to the local market that is available, through the cattle-feeding project, is also nearing completion.

Farmers are rapidly completing their harvest and hope to show a little gain over last year's almost total crop failure.

The Elmer A. Sperry Award for 1958 was presented to Dr. Heinz Nordhoff, President of Volkswagenwerk, at a joint meeting of the SAE and the ASME in New York City on November 13, 1958.

The award citation, presented to the workers of Volkswagen, reads:

"To Dr. Ferdinand Porsche (in memoriam), Dr. Heinz Nordhoff, and their co-workers in Volkswagenwerk for the development of the Volkswagen automobile which, in concept, engineering design and production, has made available to the world an automobile of small size for multiple uses, with unique attributes of universality; of low initial and operating costs; of simplicity of design having ease of maintenance; comfort with adequate performance; and suitable for rural and urban use."

The Board of Award, composed of representatives from the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, Society of Automotive Engineers and the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers chose Volkswagen as best fitting the requirements for the award which state it must be made in recognition of a distinguished engineering contribution which, through application, proved in actual service, has advanced the art of transportation whether by land, sea or air.

We, the people of Volkswagen, are very proud to have been so honored.

Open House At Crossett School Held

CROSSETT (Special) — Open House at Crossett High School this week was termed an "outstanding success" by Superintendent of Schools, M. H. Russell. He estimated that in addition to the faculty of the Elementary and High Schools, there were around 200 parents who visited home rooms and then came to the Auditorium for reports from the Lay School Study Committee which was sponsored by the Crossett Chamber of Commerce.

Robert Fisher, President of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced the committee chairmen, who had conducted studies on three phases of elementary and high school evaluation. Tom Cook headed a committee which did a comparative study on school finance. Bob Hudgens spoke as Chairman of Buildings and Facilities study, and Mrs. Dan Nall spoke as Chairman of Curriculum Study.

The committees had written to a number of schools throughout the country, and had received replies from schools in Midland, Texas; Gaylesville, Illinois; Bastrop, Louisiana, and Magnolia, Arkansas. They had visited the schools in Bastrop and Magnolia. On the basis of questionaires and their visits they presented reports as to how Crossett schools stand up beside other schools.

In some phases Crossett schools were found superior — notably in the science studies. In others, the Crossett schools were found seriously lagging. Much of the area in which the local schools are below the standards of other schools will be improved or corrected with the addition of the projected with the school building, which will relieve much crowding and allow space for a richer curriculum. Arkansas salary scales for faculty members are still below those of surrounding states, as a result of which a large percentage of the Bastrop schools faculty were natives of Arkansas who had gone there for the higher salaries offered.

Although the other two schools visited had more modern buildings for science studies, Crossett's old frame building was found to have superior equipment.

Full reports from the three committees will be made available to the public in a short time.

12 From State Show Stock At Chicago

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — H. C. Peck Jr., Sicily Island FFA student, will be one of twelve from Louisiana exhibiting his Hereford beef steer at the International Livestock Show in Chicago, November 27 - December 3.

The twelve top beef steers were selected at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport to represent Louisiana in the junior feeding contest in the International Show.

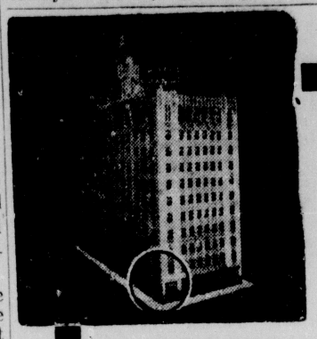

Peck's Hereford steer was awarded grand champion in showmanship at the State Fair and took second honors in the junior class. For the showmanship award he was presented with a trophy by Radio Station KWKH, Shreveport.

The exhibitors, all of whom are members of 4-H or Future Farmers of America chapters in Louisiana, will receive an expense - paid trip to Chicago to visit the livestock show and other points of interest.

OTHER ENTRANTS

Other exhibitors from Louisiana are: John Brown, Denham Springs, Lee Amedee, Geismer; Barbara Thompson, Colfax; David Vanderlick, Alexandria; and Peck, with Hereford steers; Lynn McCraine, Swaze McCraine and Brenda McCraine, all of Baton Rouge; Dick Daughenbaugh, Iowa; Wayne Leonard, Houma; Melton McClure, Shreveport, all exhibiting Aberdeen - Angus steers; and Kathryn Perkins, Hamburg, will exhibit a Shorthorn steer. They are all 4-H members but Peck who is an FFA member.

Accompanying the exhibitors to Chicago will be C. O. McKerley, assistant specialist (animal husbandry) LSU Agricultural Extension Service; L. A. Favaron, associate county agent, Iberville parish, and Miss Barbara Schilde, home demonstration agent, St. Charles Parish

AT ALEXANDRIA

NE To Participate In Teaching Clinic

Northeast State will participate in the executive session of the state student teaching unit when the Association for Student Teaching meets in conjunction with the Louisiana Teachers Association in Alexandria Nov., 23-26.

The Louisiana unit for student teaching is set for November, 25 at Bolton High School, according to Charles Tillman of Northeast's education faculty.

Tillman, director of elementary student teaching, is membership and publicity chairman of the Student Teaching Association in this state.

One of the major items on the agenda will be planning of a Louisiana unit workshop March 12-14 at Baton Rouge.

Participating in discussions and business of the group will be several of the local college's 22 members, which include supervising teachers and others working in the division of education.

Membership colleges and universities in the state are Northeast State, Francis T. Nichols, Louisiana State University, Louisiana Tech, Loyola University, McNeese State College, Louisiana College, Newcomb College, Northwestern State, St. Mary's Dominican College, Southeastern College, Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Tulane University, and Orleans Parish which is affiliated with the association.

CHIEF PURPOSES

One of the chief purposes of the AST, Tillman explained, is to promote high standards in the teaching profession of Louisiana in general and student teaching in particular. The association believes that this can be accomplished through coordination of efforts among all teacher training institutes in the state, Tillman said

The AST serves as a medium for exchange of ideas on student teaching in Louisiana to the extent that it acts as a clearing house, service agency and cooperative instrument to aid in improving student teaching.

Cooperation of the state unit, composed of 172 members, extends to the National Association of Student Teaching.

Executive committee members of the Louisiana unit are Jewell P. Jones, Northwestern State, and immediate past president of the organization; Ollie Fuglaar, associate professor of education at Southwestern; Monte Cheeves, dean of education at Francis T. Nichols State College; Dr. Dennis P. Noah, coordinator of AST and professor of education, LSU; Miss Edna Hockaday, supervising teacher at LSU; Miss Melba Ritter, supervising teacher at Newcomb College, and Dr. George P. Freeman, professor of education, Louisiana Tech.

Catahoula Asks For Ranger In North District

JONESVILLE (Special) — The Catahoula Parish Police Jury has requested the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries to station a state ranger in the closed area of the hill section of Catahoula Parish.

The request, in the form of a resolution adopted unanimously by the jurors, pointed out that "in the past years all of the game rangers normally assigned to Catahoula Parish have been transferred and reassigned to another area, leaving the whole north end of Catahoula Parish without ranger protection."

"There has been flagrant violation and encroachment upon this closed area by hunters who refuse to respect same as a closed area," the jurors said in the resolution.

The Police Jury requested and "urged" the department to order one of its game rangers to remain stationed in this closed area at all times during the forthcoming deer season and for at least two weeks prior to the opening of the seasons and after its closing.

The hill area of Catahoula Parish is closed for deer hunting under the terms and agreements of a game management program and agreement entered into between the Parish, State and Federal Authorities it was pointed out.

Gen. Pershing suggested in 1920 that the U. S. Army Infantry be motorized and airborne. It was not until 1940 that these ideas were carried out.

Minds, too, need cultivating

Nourish the mind, and the harvest can be bountiful beyond all measure.

Our nation, up to now, has been richly rewarded by the quality of thought nourished in our colleges and universities. The kind of learning developed there has made possible our American way of life.

Today these colleges are facing a serious crisis. Low salaries are driving too many gifted teachers into other fields. Many classrooms are seriously overcrowded. And by 1967 enrollments are expected to double!

Our institutions of higher learning are doing their best to meet these challenges. But they need help. Help the college of your choice now, and help perpetuate the American way of life.

If you want to know more about what the college crisis means to you, write for a free booklet to: HIGHER EDUCATION, Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, New York.

Reily Predicts More Troubles

BATON ROUGE (AP) -- Gov. Earl Long's fiscal officer warned of new money troubles in 1959 while the Legislature prepared to wrap up a stopgap program Sunday to keep schools open.

Senate and House return at 5 p.m. Sunday for final special session action on Long's program squeezing out an extra 14.7 million dollars for schools.

Commissioner of Administration James S. Reily, a short, tough Irishman who drafted Long's emergency plan, predicted "lots and lots of trouble" for the 1959 fiscal session next may unless the state's economy perks up.

The state is hurt by an ailing oil industry, Louisiana's tax Santa Claus.

While it is only a temporary solution, Reily said, the Legislature's support of the package plan "will be a real victory for sound control of all state spending."

Long's emergency program is sailing smoothly toward final passage, since anti - administration forces aren't opposing.

Reily first ventured into state affairs under former Gov. Jimmie Davis, a possible entry in the 19599 race for governor. Even Reily's name has been mentioned. Long considers Reily a trusted fiscal brain.

Reily said the Legislature, by supporting the emergency program including transfer of school lunch funds to other school use," is approving our efforts toward tighter budget control."

Long's fiscal advisor charged state education Supt. Shelby M. Jackson defied the governor and his fiscal staff in a pre-session fight over the 4½ million in unspent school lunch funds. Reily said the money was badly needed for other purposes.

State law gives the governor's fiscal men budgetary control over major state spending agencies. But Reily and Jackson collided.

In reply to Reily's charge he had defied budget control, Jackson said "we carry out the laws of the state and the regulations of the state board of education."

A few months ago, the board directed Jackson to distribute the last million dollars in lunch funds, despite Reily's strong demand to hold up. The board acted with Jackson's recommendations to ignore Reily.

Now the Legislature, by its action, Reily said, is upholding the authority and prestige of the governor's chief financial executive.

Now in his third term, Long always has faced criticism by foes that he engineered heavy state spending for political purposes.

With Reily's work, Long in this special session turned up a plan that overrode all opposition and raked in strong support from anti-tax lawmakers.

The House passed the program Thursday and the Senate, where Long is even stronger, should record a mere formality in final voting—unless there is a hitch which neither side now sees.

Part of the special session multi-million-dollar fiscal shifting includes substituting a 2.3-cent gas severance tax for the two-cent gas gathering tax. The tax swap starts Dec. 1.

Long doubled the gas gathering levy several months ago in the 1958 regular session. He rushed into a special session to safeguard 40 million dollars in state revenues threatened when the gas industry signaled a court attack.

Just a few hours after the Senate adjourned Friday, the long-expected court suit attacking constitutionality of the tax was filed in district court here.

Long and Reily persuaded gas operators earlier to pay 15 million in taxes for the first five months this fiscal year, despite their upcoming lawsuit. They agreed in private negotiations, with the understanding the state would scrape the barrel for surplus funds to help meet the threat of schools closing early.

Reily prepared the legislation adding 18 million in taxless revenues by faster collection of all severance taxes, dipping into $3.3-747,300 public welfare surplus and taking another $4,496,483 in unspent school lunch funds.

Under pressure of protesting school leaders, Long added four million to the program despite Reily's initial opposition. Long directed revenue estimates be raised to dig up the paper four million.

Rep. Claude Kirkpatrick of Jefferson Davis Parish, potential contestant for the mansion and an anti-tax spokesman, said Long's administration should continue supporting Reily in his efforts toward firm budget control of big state agencies.

"I urge the administration to give full support to Mr. Reily, Kirkpatrick said, "so what is accomplished for next year will not be a hodge-podge political budget — but one that we businessmen can wholeheartedly support."

Budget preparations for the 1959 fiscal Legislature start in January.

Kirkpatrick, as others did, said the special session program was only a stop-gap.

"Much has been said by the governor and others," he continued, "that to speed up severance tax collections from quarterly to monthly payments would mean financial trouble for the next administration.

"Let me remind him he has another year to serve, and the tax collection speedup will make his administration at least 19 million worse off next year.

Sen. W. M. Rainach, Homer, said the special session offers only a temporary answer and "none knows which way the state economy will turn.

"Without an improvement in the state's industrial and agricultural health," Rainach said, "we've either got to cut sharply such big spending as highways, welfare and education or find a lot of new tad sources."

If the economic pulse doesn't improve, Rainach said, "we may have to raise extra money through such means as a higher sales tax, increasing the $3 auto license, lowest of any, or by limiting the amount of state tax money now being fed into the homestead exemption program."

Hospital authorities said Mrs. Wilson, a former airlines hostess and nurse, and her daughter both were in the best of health.

Editors Vote To Push For Info Freedom

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn. voted Saturday to push for a federal law to guarantee freedom of information and to work for news coverage behind China's Bamboo Curtain.

The managing editors who join in AP's news cooperative voted to endorse AP's efforts to get correspondents accredited in Red China. The proposal was submitted by Bob Eddy of the St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

The campaign for a federal law to combat secrecy in government was engineered by V. M. (Red) Newton Jr. of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune, former APME president and head of the Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity.

As revised by the APME board of directors, the freedom of information resolution authorized an appearance before Congress by an APME representative to urge a federal antisecrecy law. The official appearance probably will be made by John Colburn of the Richmond (Va.) Times-Dispatch, newly elected APME vice president.

The resolution added pressure to one passed by the 1957 APME convention in New Orleans.

Both resolutions were adopted without debate after they were proposed by William J. Foote of the Hartford (Conn.) Courant.

The final day's session brought an editors' squabble over recruiting young men to man the news rooms.

John Stempel, head of the Indiana University journalism department and a newly elected APME board member, told the editors they need to start stimulating interest among students at the junior high school level.

Colburn added that high school publications usually draw a heavy preponderance of girls and advised, "somehow we've got to get the boys interested."

Russia Rejects Western Proposal For Atom Peace

GENEVA (UPI)—Russia Saturday rejected one Western proposal for nuclear-age peace as a "waste of time" and indicated it would turn down another at the two deadlocked East-West conferences here.

Observers said there was no hope of any early break at the separate meetings on ways to prevent surprise attack and ban nuclear test explosions.

At a one-hour meeting of the surprise attack talks, Soviet First Deputy Foreign Minister Vasili V. Kuznetzov insisted that there must be a political settlement. He was seconded by delegates from Czechoslovakia and Poland in rejecting the proposal of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and Italy for considering only technical means of preventing any sudden attack. Kuznetzov said the Western argument was a "waste of time" and that nuclear disarmament and scrapping of foreign military bases must be included in any agreement on preventing of surprise attack.

The delegates agreed only to meet again on Monday.

The conference on a nuclear test ban appeared headed for deeper quarrels.

The official Tass Soviet news agency Friday night denounced the United States and Britain for "continuing to raise obstacles" in the path of a nuclear test ban. It accused them of "hedging" with "meaningless declarations."

Observers took this to mean the Soviets will reject the Western proposal presented at the conference Thursday for a treaty with built-in controls providing for an East-West test ban.

The Soviet delegation to the conference had the proposed treaty under advisement and was expected to give its formal answer Monday. Most Western observers were sure the answer would be no.

Slaying Case Trial Opens Here Monday

Trial opens tomorrow in the case of Brodie Byron Davis, indicted by the Ouachita Parish Grand Jury in June on charges of slaying I. C. Baker, 80.

The session gets underway in Fourth District Court, as the second week of the November felony trials begins.

Davis is charged with the death of the elderly West Monroe man.

Baker, who lived on the levee, was found on May 20, foating in the Ouachita River with his skull batter in.

The man's hands were tied and a towel was knotted around his neck.

Another murder trial is set for Tuesday, when Bynum Patterson will be tried.

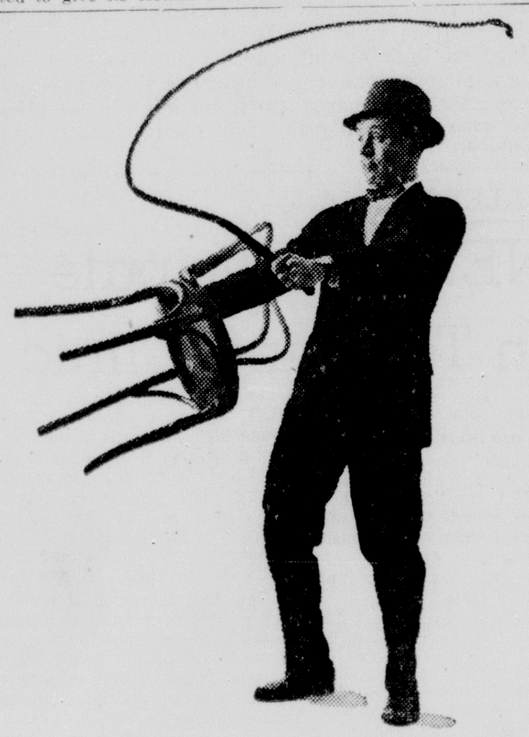

JURORS

The list of petit jurors for the week, from which jurors for each trial will be drawn, is:

Sidney G. Simmons and R. E. McCarty, Ward 5; W. Earl Garrett, Ward 1; Houston Daniel, 8; R. Frank Parker, 3; Charles D. Pauli, 10; F. T. Foster, 3; C. D. Little, 10; L. B. Duffey, 4; Sam Hanna, 10.

T. W. Humphries, 3; J. W. Hackworth, 5; O. Wharton Brown and John Eby, 10; Alton L. Mills, 6; John Scalia, 5; Richard Evans Reitzell and Robert N. Dozier, 3; Richard Garland, 5; and Earl Stovall, 10.

Kids Wind Up Broke 3,200 Miles Away

DALLAS, Ore. (AP)—Two runaway 11-year-olds from Somerville Mass., wound up broke and hungry in the police station at nearby Independence, Saturday, 3,200 miles away from home.

One, Kenneth Rockwood, told Police Chief George Utley of Independence he formerly lived here and had come back hoping to find an aunt and uncle. No relatives were located.

The other, Kenneth Amber, was a grade school companion in Somerville and said he accompanied his friend to see buffalo and Indians.

They hadn't found the buffalo or Indians, either.

Utley quoted the Amber boy as saying he financed the trip by taking $122 from his family's home safe last Monday. He also had his parents' check book with him, but it apparently had not been used.

The boys said they spent $95.14 on two bus tickets and the remainder of the money on food and trinkets. Their bus trip, which necessitated eight changes en route ended at Salem, 15 miles east of Dallas. They were taken to the police station at Independence by a motorist who had picked them up near Salem as they tried to hitchhike the remaining way to Dallas.

Woman Injured In Auto Wreck At Winnsboro

A Winnsboro woman slightly injured yesterday morning in a car wreck in Franklin parish was x-rayed later at the St. Francis hospital.

Mrs. C. D. Cobb was x-rayed about 1 p.m., then released and allowed to return home.

Winnsboro officials last night said that the mishap was minor, and that the town marshal who investigated it was out of town for the evening.

This may help you find out how good you are with money

If you keep money well under control you're almost sure to be a happier man than if you don't. And after all, the rules aren't very complicated.

Here are some pretty basic ones. See how many of them you know.

Rule 1. Watch your outgo with such care that you always have money left over after you've paid your living expenses and provided for emergencies. If you can manage this, you may be headed for happy days.

Rule 2. Put extra money to work to earn more money. This can give you additional income from a source besides your job. An income that might go on for a lifetime or longer.

Rule 3. Consider becoming part-owner of some fine American company by investing in its common stock. As an owner you can share in any profits through dividends. If the company grows, the value of your investment may also grow. This is how your extra money can bring you extra income. More than 8½ million people own stock. An estimated two out of three have incomes under $7500 a year.

Rule 4. Be cautious. Don't expect to get rich quick. Never invest on mere tips or rumors. Be sure you have facts. A company may not pay a dividend, may not make a profit, may go downhill. And the prices of stocks go down as well as up.

Rule 5. For some of the facts, start with our wonderfully useful free booklet, "INVESTMENT FACTS." There you'll find the records of over 300 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange that have paid a cash dividend every three months from 20 to 94 years. In addition, the booklet gives you much helpful information on investing and tells about opening an account. And you'll read about the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can buy stock in some of America's greatest companies for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month.

Rule 6. Make sure that among your friends you have a broker. Make sure, too, that he is with a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. You will want his experienced advice, which he will give you without cost. He'll help you plan sensibly, help you buy or sell. Ask him also about preferred stocks and bonds. And from time to time ask him to review your securities with you — an important thing to do.

Now that you know the rules, why not start practicing them. Begin now by sending the coupon. It will bring you "INVESTMENT FACTS."

Name Officers At FFA Meet Staged Here

About 350 Future Farmers of America and their advisers took part yesterday in the annual Area II Leadership Training Conference at Northeast State. Representatives from forty-two schools registered for the event.

The meeting was sponsored by the State Department of Education teacher training departments of Louisiana State University and Southwestern and the Agriculture and Home Economics Department of Northeast, headed by L. L. Price.

Charles Enright of Sicily Island was elected president of Area II, which comprises fifteen parishes in Northeast Louisiana. He succeeds Joe Newman of Delhi. Other new officers include: Jimmy Turner of Oak Grove, vice president; Clarendon Peck of Sicily Island, secretary; Hollis Grafton, Ruston, treasurer; Charles McLemore, Oak Grove, parliamentarian and sentinel, and Don Bonner, Oak Grove, reporter. Jack Parker of Ruston was chosen adviser to the organization.

David Ducote, first vice president of the Louisiana State Association of FFA, emphasized what local and area training had meant to him. He showed the value of leadership conferences in promoting standards and effecting practical work in local units.

Featured at the conference were group sessions designed to train chapter officers for more efficient operation of their units. During this counseling period, vocational agriculture teachers held a special meeting to exchange ideas for carrying out a more effective work program in their schools.

Leaders for each chapter officer included: A. B. Clarkson, Louisiana Power and Light Company, West Monroe, presidents and vice presidents; Grayson Guthrie, Century Savings Bank, Monroe, treasurers; Jim Williams, Chamber of Commerce, Monroe, secretaries; Jimmie Hatten, farm editor, Monroe Morning World, reporters; Fred Fudickar Jr., Monroe attorney, paliamentarians and sentinels; Miss Margory Hedge, International Paper Company, Bastrop, FFA sweethearts.

Pointing to practical aspects of training, FFA leaders emphasized the value of their participation in judging at the annual Livestock Show at Delhi and the area one-day livestock judging contest at Ruston. Leadership also is encouraged through taking part in television and radio programs, speaking at meetings and banquets and making other appearances before groups.

Three Area II officers now hold state FFA positions, conference members stated. Joe Newman of Delhi is state parliamentarian, Albert Lazarus of Ruston is second vice president, and Jimmy Rumell of Delhi is treasurer.

The organization has contributed two members to the "American Farmer" list and 22 who hold "State Farmer" titles. Richard Dearman and Nolan Coleman, both of Delhi, won the national honors on the basis of scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and effective work on their FFA projects.

Army Moon Shot Chance Rates Good

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Government space experts said Saturday the Army's forthcoming moon shot, compared with the three Air Force attempts, should have a far better chance of success because much less will be attempted.

The actual payload aimed toward the moon by the Army next month will be about 18 pounds, according to these experts, as against more than 82 pounds that the Air Force attempted to rocket to the lunar vicinity. The Army shot is expected about Dec. 5.

The principal difference is that the Army will not attempt to put its robot into an orbit around the moon, and therefore can discard the "retro-rocket" that was part of the Air Force payload. The retro-rocket was designed to kick the Air Force vehicle into a moon orbit had it reached the moon's vicinity.

The Army robot is scheduled to by-pass the moon, and then move into an orbit around the sun—a feat that will require no extra kick. During its brief passage, the robot is expected to pick up and radio back radiation, meteorite and gravity and magnetic field readings.

The data obtained thus would not include the electronic picture of the far side of the moon that was sought in the earlier attempts.

The weight of the Army robot will be just over 30 pounds, but the experts, in determining payload, subtract the shell of the final rocket stage which in the Army launcher does not detach and includes the instrument-carrying compartment.

The Army lunar shoot, is to be almost the same as the launching of an Explorer satellite, except that the aim will be vertical and the first stage will contain twice as much power.

A 1,500-mile Jupiter intermediate range missile packing 150,000 pounds of thrust has been substituted for the Redstone missile, rated at 75,000 pounds, as the first or "booster" stage.

The Army launcher retains the same four-stage characteristics, including rotating clusters of modified Sergeant rockets as the second and third stages and a single pencil-shaped Sergeant as the final stage.

Norfolk Will Decide About Racial Issue

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Norfolk Citizens tell the City Council Tuesday if they want six integration-closed schools returned to local control and reopened with Racially mixed classes.

Informed sources predict a 3-2 victory in the advisory referendum for forces opposing such action.

The Council asked the city electoral board to conduct the unique straw vote to ascertain voter sentiment. The outcome will not be binding legally on the Council. However, five of its seven members have indicated they will act on the basis of the majority vote.

The question to be voted on is whether the council should petition Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. to return the schools to city control.

Norfolk's six white secondary white schools—attended by 10,000 pupils — were closed under Virginia's anti-integration laws Sept. 29. when the City School Board assigned 17 Negroes in compliance with a federal court desegregation order. The schools are now under Almond's control.

A footnote on the ballot says parents will be called upon to pay tuition fees if the schools are returned and reopened.

Virginia law calls for the cutting off of state funds to any school in which integration occurs.

In the past, Almond has shown no indication that he would return any of the state's nine closed schools to the control of localities.

Under the anti-integration laws, two schools in Charlottesville and the only high school in Warren County also are closed. Some 13,000 students have been displaced.

Rebels Claim Troop Capture

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban rebels Saturday claimed the capture of 100 government troops in fighting near Guantanamo in southeastern Cuba.

Rebel broadcasts reported sharp clashes in the area between Guantanamo and the U.S. naval base about 30 miles to the south.

They said those captured were part of government reinforcements sent to the city. No casualties on either side were announced.

There was no confirmation of the rebel claim from army sources.

Soviet Union Gives Details On Education

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union Saturday night gave details of its new education plan that will send high school students into the fields and factories. Moscow says that will "bring them closer to life."

Students are to be turned out "with a many sided education, well versed in the rudiments of science, and fiat at the same time for systematic labor," it was promised.

Details of the plan, as approved by the Soviet government and Communist party, were issued by Tass news agency and broadcast by Moscow radio.

The proposals will be submitted to the Supreme Soviet — Parliament. They have been published, meantime, for nationwide discussion, Tass said.

Starting point for the plan is that a child will go to school for eight years instead of seven, beginning next year.

Cars, Caboose Of Area Train Jump Track

WINNFIELD (Special) — Four cars and the caboose of a Tremont and Gulf freight jumped the track 14 miles north of here at Hurrican Grove crossing at 3 p.m. yesterday, slightly injuring the brakeman.

The injured man, Woodrow Blackstock, was reported to have suffered bruises and was not hospitalized.

The railroad's executive vice president, Ovey Trahan, said last night the freight was hauling wood products from West Monroe to Winnfield.

He said the track was not faulty and it was not known why the cars left the rails.

Trahan said the track would be cleared this morning and the cargo, which was not damaged, would be transferred to other cars and removed.

The freight consisted of one engine, four cars and a caboose. Trahan said all left the track except the engine, but none overturned.

Stassen Drive To Run Into First Hurdle

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Harold E. Stassen's new drive for control of Pennsylvania's delegation to the 1960 Republican national convention runs into its first high hurdle next Tuesday.

He may come a cropper when the state's 67 Republican county chairmen meet Tuesday to survey their organization's setup for the 1959 local elections. GOP sources in Harrisburg expect a vote of confidence for State Chairman George I. Bloom to come out of the session.

This would be a blow to Stassen and his latest "stop Nixon" campaign, Republicans contend. A repudiation of Bloom and his handling of the recent GOP campaign, conversely, would help Stassen.

The former Minnesota governor, now practicing law in Philadelphia, set the stage for next week by asserting that either he or Sen.-elect Hugh D. Scott should head Pennsylvania's 72 - member delegation to the 1960 Republican national convention.

He prefaced this in Washington by announcing he would work closely with Scott in trying to revitalize the Republican Party. He started his campaign by refusing to include Nixon, the party's recognized front - runner for the GOP presidential nomination, in his own list of possible 1960 "winners."

Scott, perhaps unknowingly, had paved the way for Stassen's informal partnership announcement by sharply criticizing Bloom for not giving him more help in the 1958 campaign. Scott was the only winner on the Republican statewide ticket in Pennsylvania, beating Gov. George M. Leader in the Senate race.

But Scott, a former national GOP chairman and congressman, was somewhere in the Pacific when Stassen touched off his anti-Nixon talk.

DEPLETION ALLOWANCE

Drive Aimed At Oilmen Looming

WASHINGTON (Special) — Rep. Hale Boggs (D) La., predicts that the forthcoming 86th Congress will see the strongest drive yet to cut down the 27 and one-half per cent depletion allowance enjoyed by oil and gas producers.

Louisiana and Texas will be hardest hit if the allowance is chopped, Boggs says, because it will make it almost impossible for oil companies to finance expensive explorations off the shores of both states.

The key to situation, he reports, is the House Ways and Means Committee. This is the unit which initiates all tax legislation and which is now open to a flood of new members.

In the 85th Congress there were no vacancies on this vital committee, but in January there will be seven spots to fill on the 25-man panel.

The Democrats have three seats to fill on the committee and the Republicans have four. None of the vacant seats is from a normally oil - producing state.

The new Democratic members will be elected by a party caucus at the start of the new session in January. It is assumed that Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas will be able to forestall election of anyone who might want to tamper with the depletion allowance.

Selection of the four Republicans is another story. They will be named by the Republican steering committee, and no one has yet gauged this group's thinking on the oil issue.

Thanks largely to the work of Boggs and Frank Ikard (D) Tex., on the Ways and Means Committee, no bill to trim the depletion allowance has appeared in the House in recent years.

In the Senate, however, John J. Williams (R) Dela., regards the depletion allowance as a serious drain on the the Treasury and his amendment to reduce the percentage won support from nearly 40 senators in the last session. Williams bucked the Democratic tide in the last election and will be back for another six years.

Boggs terms the attack on the depletion allowance as misguided but he acknowledges that it has won strong support from businessmen (who are not in the oil or mineral business) and others in both parties.

The people fighting to retain depletion allowance, Boggs said, are further hampered because "some of the big boys in the oil business make fools of themselves by throwing lavish parties and squandering money while pleading to keep the tax advantage.

Boggs insists, however, that scrapping the 27 and one-half per cent formula would dry up private capital for new exploration and could possibly result in the oil industries' turning to the Federal government for aid.

The plight of Louisiana cotton producers was clearly demonstrated in the Agriculture Department's last production report. Although all reports noted that the Pelican State's yield per acre dropped two pounds (from 380 in 1957 to 378 this year), it was often overlooked that Louisiana was the only state that a lower yield this year.

Nationally, production went up from 388 pounds per acre to 472.

To Deactivate Fighter Wing

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — England Air Force Base officials said Saturday the 366th Tactical Fighter Wing, one of three major units at the base, will be deactivated.

The wing has authorized strength of 1,097 military and 18 civilian personnel. Officers said its deactivation is scheduled to begin in February and to be completed in April.

A fighter interceptor squadron is expected to be moved to the base to take the place of the 366th wing. No date for the new unit's arrival has been announced.

Electrical Permit Fees In Monroe $1,226 For Month

Fees totalling $1,226.00 were collected by the Monroe Engineering Department for electrical permits issued during the past month.

Officials said that the permits were tabulated from Oct. 15 through Nov. 14.

Fees average $19 to $24 for normal house wiring. Largest permit issued during the past four weeks went to the Weingarten shopping center which will be located on Louisville Avenue.

Fee for that permit was $235.90.

GERMAN QUESTION

Big Three May Hold Meeting

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States, Britain and France probably will hold a special ambassadorial meeting in Bonn next week to discuss Allied moves to hold the Western position in Berlin.

Informed sources said one major purpose of the meeting would be to demonstrate solid three-power determination to remain in Berlin despite Communist harassment and possible efforts to force them out.

American officials meantime saw grounds for hoping that the Soviet challenge in Berlin would ease without developing into a full-fledged crisis such as the 1948 Berlin blockade. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles himself was reported adopting a calm attitude and trying to work out strategy to keep the Berlin situation from becoming more explosive.

Dulles worked at his home Saturday instead of at his State Department desk. One of his top aides on Germany, U. S. ambassador to Bonn David K. E. Bruce, was at the State Department conferring with officials. But Bruce, who has been in Washington about a week for consultations, will return to Bonn Tuesday for the possible Big Three ambassadorial meeting.

Before departing, he will get final instructions from President Eisenhower at a White House conference Monday morning.

Tension over future Communist moves in Berlin developed recently when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Russia would turn over its remaining functions in Berlin to Communist East Germany. The statement was interpreted as a move to force Western recognition of East Germany, perhaps a forerunner to trying to force the Allies out of Berlin and maybe a preliminary to demanding that U. S. forces even leave West Germany.

But Khrushchev said Friday night that the Soviet Union would present proposals for the government of occupied Berlin to the Allies. Officials here greeted the remark with a sigh of relief. They interpreted it to mean Khrushchev wanted to ease the crisis atmosphere surrounding Berlin and discuss future moves calmly with the West through diplomatic channels.

So far, the United States has received no clue as to what kind of proposals Khrushchev had in mind. Informants said if word is not forthcoming soon, the U. S., British and French ambassadors in Moscow likely will ask Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko what Khrushchev meant.

One possibility under consideration was issuance of a new three-power declaration reaffirming U.S. - British-French intention to remain in Berlin. But there was a feeling among some officials that such a statement would be unwise now becaue it might add to the tension over Berlin rather than ease it.

Atlantic Control Is Stressed

MIAMI (UPI) — Unchallenged control of the Atlantic Ocean by the free world is democracy's great advantage today against the rising power of Communism in Eurasia, Adm. Jerauld Wright told the Navy League of the United States here Saturday.

"We control the Atlantic and the Soviets challenge it," the commander in chief of the Atlantic Fleet said.

"If we were to lose this control, the Iron Curtain would be pushed up against the one-fashion curve surrounding America and surrounding her seafaring allies."

Admiral Wright, who also heads all Allied naval forces under NATO, stressed the importance of the sea as a battle area in the atomic age.

"The sea offers tremendous advantages to the free world in this type of warfare," he said. "It can be conducted remote from the homelands involved. The danger to civilian populations from radio - active fallout is proportionately diminished.

"The fleet itself is less vulnerable to atomic attack because it can resort to unlimited dispersal.

"Offensively, the Atlantic broadens the base of our delivery capabilities."

Freedom of the sea lanes for commerce between the democracies is imperative, Admiral Wright said, and is a factor which has been largely denied the landlocked forces of communism.

AT MOBILE

Criticism Mounts Against Layoff

MOBILE (UPI) — Criticism mounted Saturday against a large scale layoff of Alabama State Docks workers and an order to halt all but emergency maintenance work. But the man most sought for comment, Atty. Gen. John Patterson, could not be reached.

Docks Director Knox McRae said he ordered the layoffs and work halt "because of the injunctive proceedings taken against me." Patterson recently obtained a restraining order that would force the docks to apply to Montgomery Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones for permission to borrow money to finance operations.

The governor - elect said he got the injunction after an audit showed the docks had spent all of a three - million - dollar bond issue authorized last year and had contracted or spent another $689,000.

Officials of the port of Mobile and even docks officials, all of whom declined to be identified, strongly criticized the moves by McRae.

One official, who refused even to be linked to either the port or the docks, warned that the cutbacks could "critically damage the future business in the facility for months.

A docks official said the action would "critically curtail all docks operations." And a port official said he feared the whole port would be "seriously affected."

The order to halt the maintenance operations and dismissing the maintenance workers was distributed to department heads at the state - owned facility late Friday afternoon.

McRae said: "I can't remember how many were involved in the layoff. I hope we can hire them back as soon as this injunction business is straightened out."

It still was not known Saturday how many men were affected.

Gov. James Folsom, it was learned, had told McRae to do "everything possible to get the injunction lifted." Folsom had charged that the injunction was obtained on "entirely untrue" information.

Khrushchev Seems To Be Backing Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev seems to be backing away from the dangers of a military showdown over control of West Berlin.

U.S. officials said Saturday that Khrushchev obviously intends to keep the dispute, which he started a week ago, in diplomatic channels. They suspect strongly that his plan is to parlay the German situation and other current East-West controversies—such as the nuclear talks at Geneva—into a new drive for a summit conference.

Eivdence of a calming down in Khrushchev's campaign over East Berlin was seen here in his latest move which took the form of a statement that he intends to make formal proposals to the West on the future status of the city.

Khrushchev clearly has the initiative in anything he wants to undertake. The Western powers have been unable to come up with any fresh ideas for outmaneuvering him on the German issue or throwing his incipient summit campaign off balance.

With Secretary of State Dulles in Seattle most of last week, having devoted his latest public speech on Thursday to a denunciation of the Red Chinese Communist system, some observers here got the impression that the United States for the moment was lagging one crisis behind.

Actually Dulles was addressing an audience largely occupied with Far Eastern issues. His return here Friday enabled him to direct detailed attention to the Berlin crisis.

The White House announced Saturday that the U.S. ambassador to West Germany, David K. E. Bruce, will confer with President Eisenhower Monday before returning to his post. He will leave for Bonn later in the week. Officials denied that he was speeding up his plans in any way on account of the Communist threats toward West Berlin.

Question If Russia Seeks Power Meet

GENEVA (AP)—Western delegates sought Saturday night to determine whether the Russians are trying to compel the West to transform two international conferences in Geneva into a big-power foreign ministers' meeting.

The Russians privately denied such an intention. It was clear also that the subject has not been raised inside the conference rooms.

Because the talks on nuclear test suspension and surprise attack problems are both deadlocked, some observers believe that Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd might need to turn up before the negotiations can get rolling.

As an indication of the lack of progress so far, Radio Moscow Saturday night broadcast a five-point Soviet plan for nuclear test suspensions identical to the document introduced by Soviet Delegate Semyon Tsarapkin on the opening day of the three-power nuclear talks Oct. 31.

The broadcast ignored an American plan—put in two days ago—which called on the Big Three powers to undertake jointly to suspend tests and establish an international control system. In the Western view, the Russians have been ducking on the whole control issue.

The Western delegations have shown no desire to raise the negotiations to the foreign minister level. One high Western source said it was beginning to look as though the Russians might be digging in their heels mainly to force such a meeting.

However, a Soviet source said it would be a mistake to assume that Soviet actions here were undertaken with such a goal in mind.

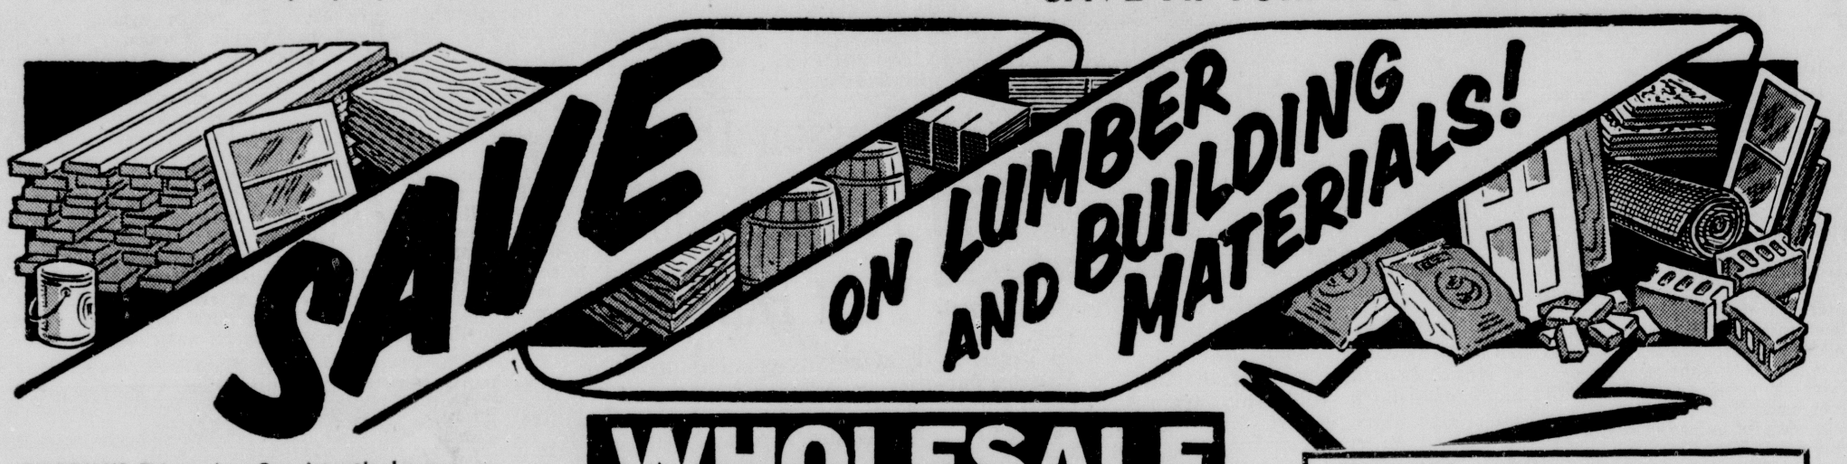

Fair King Is Picked At Buras

BURAS, La. (AP)—W. Harold Childress, citrus grower and pharmacist, will be king of the Plaquemines Parish Fair and Orange Festival Dec. 6-7.

His selection was announced Saturday by the organization's board of directors. Childress is treasurer of the festival and served as its first president.

MRS. EDITH S. LUCKY

Mrs. Lucky Is Consultant At NE State

Appointment of Mrs. Edith Sharp Lucky as a speech and hearing consultant for the special education center at Northeast State was announced yesterday by President George T. Walker.

Mrs. Lucky will work with children who have speech and hearing problems and also with youngsters who are socially maladjusted and emotionally disturbed.

The newcomer to the college faculty formerly lived in Natchitoches, where she graduated in the summer of 1957 from Northwestern State College with a bachelor of arts degree.

She majored in speech and minored in special education.

INTERN

As a part of her undergraduate study, Mrs. Lucky did internship work at the Rapides Rehabilitation and Guidance Center in Alexandria.

Just prior to accepting her present position, she was employed at the Cerebral Palsy Center of Northeast Louisiana.

Mrs. Lucky is an associate member of the American Speech and Hearing Association, and is affiliated with the social sorority, Theta Sigma Upsilon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucky and their one-year-old son, Tracy, Jr., live at 702 Hinke Dr.

Record Mail Volume Mark Is Forecast

"Indications are that the 1958 Christmas season will set an all time mailing record. Plan your card and gift mailing now," advised Monroe Postmaster Woodrow W. Hathorn yesterday.

"Right now is the time to plan for holiday mailing — even though Dec. 25 may seem quite a way off. We're starting our annual 'Mail Early For Christmas' campaign immediately," he continued.

He gave these helpful tips for making Christmas mailing easy:

1. Check your card list carefully. Make sure each address includes the full name, street and number, city, zone and state.

2. Stock up now on heavy wrapping paper, sturdy corrugated cartons, strong cord and paper adhesive tape to use in securely packing and wrapping Christmas gifts.

TIPS

3. Get the free Post Office Pamphlet Number 2. It gives full information about proper packaging and wrapping of parcels for mailing.

4. Buy sufficient postage stamps for your cards and gifts. You can include your Christmas card or letter inside your gift package if you add the extra four - cent stamp to the package.

5. Use only First Class four cent, or Air Mail seven cent, postage on your Christmas cards. These cards may include a personal handwritten message. Three-cent Third Class stamps can include only the signature.

6. Put hour return address on every Christmas card envelope.

7. Sort your cards into two groups, with the addresses all facing one way, and label them with the Post Office's free stickers: "All for local delivery" and "All for out of town delivery."

8. Mail cards and gifts for distant cities before December 10. Mail to nearby places before December 15.

Mrs. Della Deese Dies At Ruston; Rites Scheduled

QUITMAN (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Della Kelly Deese, 87, grandmother of the Rev. T. A. Brown, pastor of Claiborne Methodist Church in West Monroe, will be conducted today.

Mrs. Deese, a resident of Quitman, died yesterday in a Ruston nursing home, after a long illness.

Services will be at 2:30 p.m. in the Antioch Presbyterian Church near Quitman, with the Rev. A. D. Ashby officiating.

Interment will be in the Antioch cemetery, under direction of Edmonds Funeral home of Jonesboro.

Survivors include two sons, Allan Deese, Shreveport, and Fate Harvey, of North Hodge; 13 grandchildren; and a large number of great grandchildren.

Mrs. Deese was a lifelong resident of Jackson parish.

KEPT SECRET BY COPS

Shreveport Theft, Beatings Told

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—Police still sought Saturday a Negro who beat and attempted to rob two Texas women Thursday night.

The attack occurred at about 10:43 p.m. Thursday but was kept secret by police until Friday morning. A "confidential report" filed at the request of the victims was ordered released after reporters talked with officials.

Police said Mrs. Maude Leach of Tyler and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Gammon, 42, of Longview were accosted while walking to a car after attending a concert at the municipal auditorium. The women said the Negro crossed the street, grabbed at Mrs. Leach's purse, saying:

"I'll take both of them."

As Mrs. Leach pulled away from him, the Negro drew a pistol and struck her on the forehead. Mrs. Gammon started screaming and the hijacker hit her in the mouth with the gun, breaking two teeth.

Mrs. Leach's head was bruised by the blow which broke her glasses.

Patrolman W. B. Beckett rushed to the scene on hearing the scream and chased the assailant up an alley. The fleeing Negro fired once but missed the officer. He escaped in the darkness.

The Negro was described as about 20 or 21 years old, slender and about 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Alexander Hamilton and Robert Fulton are buried in the Trinity Church graveyard near New York's Wall Street financial section.

To Put In Good Word For Wolf

NEW YORK (AP)—For centuries the wolf has been the villain of folk literature. Now it seems television is going to put in a good word for him.

The occasion will be an hour-long special next Sunday on ABC-TV when "Art Carney meets Peter and the Wolf."

The marionettes of Bil and Cora Baird will be featured with Carney as the only human actor of the Burt Shevelove production. Ogden Nash wrote the lyrics to music composed by Paul Weston, based on themes from Serge Prokofieff's "Peter and the Wolf."

Basically the theme of the show is "the wolf trying to find a place in society," Baird said in the Manhattan workshop where he, his wife and a number of assistants are creating special puppets for the program.

"Carney is perfect for the role," Baird believes, "because he has a caustic quality that never becomes destructive."

Carney himself said in a separate conversation that he is enthusiastic about the role.

"I'm a typical, ordinary type of American guy in the show," he said. "I'm very relaxed, sort of like Bing Crosby — and I might say I'm glad I instead of him got the part.

"I'm a fellow who likes to take a walk in the woods—loves nature and never goes hunting. In my stroll I come to a clearing in the woods where I run into various animals portrayed by the Bairds' puppets.

"I talk with the animals and we do a little song and dance bit together and finally I run into the wolf. We talk and he keeps telling me that everybody has been given the wrong pitch on him for years. He's really not such a bad guy at all, he says.

"I mention the matter of Little Red Riding Hood, and he says she framed him. Then I ask him what about the three little pigs and he tries to con me out of thinking that he ever molested them. Then we do a routine together."

The Bairds, with a dozen assistants, have created five different models of the wolf of all various sizes and expressions. One is the wolf as the legendary bad character, another as the benign character he paints himself to be to Carney. Two others are as Little Red Riding Hood and the three little pigs. The fifth is simply a wolf of different size for the sake of certain camera shots, Baird said.

Biggest U.S. Oil Tanker Is Launched

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — The largest oil tanker ever built in the United States, the 70,000-ton Princess Sophie, named for Greek royalty, went down the launching ways Saturday at Bethlehem Steel's Quincy shipyard.

Vivacious Queen Frederika of Greece sponsored the craft, smashing the traditional champagne bottle against her bow.

"I christen this ship Princess Sophie," said the queen, "and may God bless her and all who serve with her."

On the launching platform with her were Princess Sophie, 20, and Crown Prince Constantine, 18.

The queen currently is touring the United States investigating peaceful uses of atomic energy.

After chistening the vessel, the queen shook hands with Stavros R. Niarchos, multimillionaire fleet operator, for whose World Brilliance Corp. the 20-million-dollar craft was built.

The tanker has a 27,200 gallon capacity and is so large it cannot pass through the Panama Canal, or when loaded, the Suez Canal.

The ship is 859 feet 2 inches long, with a 115 foot beam. Loaded draft is 44 feet.

Capable of 16½ knots and a cruising radius of about 23,000 miles, the Princess Sophie is expected to be able to make about six voyages a year between the Persian Gulf and the U. S. West Coast.

She will fly the Greek flag. Delivery is set for next January.

EIGHT JAILED

Infamous Apalachin Meet Members All In Trouble

APALACHIN, N.J. (AP) — A year after a highly publicized, hilltop barbecue, 8 of the 60 gangsters and friends who attended are in jail. Most of the others are in trouble.

The law has acted against more than half of the mob that gathered Nov. 14, 1957, at the Apalachin mansion of ailing Joseph Barbara Sr.

Others have suffered from loss of prestige, from constant surveillance by police, from the need to hide.

Yet none has revealed the reason for that gangland convention, which was brought to an abrupt halt by state police.

Their wall of silence has endured through the probing of a dozen agencies.

Seven Apalachin delegates are serving jail terms for refusing to talk. Eight delegates and two of their relatives have lost their New York State liquor licenses. Four are among 37 persons indicted as operators of a narcotics ring.

One is behind prison bars as a probation violator. The Immigration Service is moving against four and may act on several more. One faces a 60-day jail term and $4,250 fine for refusing to talk. A dozen surrendered pistols and permits.

At least 11 have left the state and their families and businesses.

The delegates came from a dozen states and Cuba. Thirty-three were born in Italy—most of them in Sicily.

Twenty-five were related by blood or marriage.

Checkups showed that 45 delegates had, among them, 153 arrests — some for murder — and 74 known convictions.

The delegates carried big bankrolls but no guns. Occupations given included butcher, undertaker, importer, cheesemaker and salesman.

Most told the same story: that Barbara was sick and they all happened to drop in at the same time to see him.

State police who rounded them up on that notorious day could establish no clear ground for holding them.

In later probes, witnesses either yielded trivial information or invoked protection of the Fifth Amendment.

A federal narcotics agent concluded that the convention was a meeting of the Mafia, underworld society with its roots in Sicily. He said dope traffic was high on the agenda.

Other investigators decided that the topics included division of territories and proceeds, infiltration of labor unions, payoffs and protection.

State investigators took heart from a significant decision handed down by the U.S. Supreme Court last June.

The court held, 6-3, that a witness, if given immunity, could not refuse to answer a state agency's questions on the ground that the answers might provide the basis for federal prosecution.

New York's four-man Investigation Commission put renewed pressure on seven New York State men to reveal what they knew about the crime convention. They refused. They were jailed in August, not under criminal convictions for which definite terms are given, but under a court's disciplinary action.

Now the commission is focusing fresh attention on Barbara, 52, who never has testified about his party, in fact never has appeared before an investigating agency. He has a heart ailment.

Last January, a doctor chosen by investigators reported that the Apalachin host could not face questioning "without severe prejudice to his life."

After Barbara failed to show up last week in answer to a subpoena, the state commission announced it would seek a warrant for his arrest.

A "for sale" sign is on his luxurious stone mansion and 58-acre estate.

Rarity of the platinum group of metals is shown by the fact that only 30 tons are mined each year. In comparison, each year produces about 1,200 tons of gold and 7,000 tons of silver.

The term "forecast" was invented in 1860 when the first estimates on future weather were made.

Reason For Gifts To Heart Fund Are Given Here

"More than 900,000 Americans are expected to die from heart disease this year," commented Mrs. Carl Riggin yesterday, to point up the reason why many persons are contributing memorial gifts to the Heart Association.

"Every day, researchers in Louisiana and other states are coming up with new answers in the battle against cardiovascular diseases," she continued.

"Thousands of thoughtful persons donate memorial gifts to the Louisiana Heart Association, since their contributions serve a very useful and practical purpose for research," stated Mrs. Riggin.

Gifts may also be made to the Association in the name of friends or relatives on their birthdays or special anniversaries. All gifts are acknowledged and a receipt is sent to the donor.

Contributions in this area may be sent to Mrs. Riggin at 300 Stewart St., West Monroe, or to Post Office Box 166, Monroe.

In 1947 Capt. Charles E. "Chuck" Yaeger, of West Virginia, broke the sonic barrier at a speed of 671 miles per hour to succeed in the first faster-than-sound flight.

Way To Get Blue Note For Christmas Time

If you want a blue-note for Christmas, paint tree branch tips and aded ornaments with a bluing mixture. To make it, put a cup of bead bluing in a small bowl. Add a quarter cup of cold water. Beat to a creamy consistency.

Use a paint brush to blue the tree. As for faded ornaments, dip them right into the mixture and they'll come out good as new.

King-Hall Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. King announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Mary Ann King, to Travis N. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland N. Hall, all of Hodge.

Dr. A. W. Rockett will perform the ceremony on December 21, at the Hodge Baptist Church, at three o'clock in the afternoon.

High schoolers and collegians will write a very warm thank-you note if you gift them with a six-footer wool muffler in campus colors, maroon and white, blue and white, or what-have you.

Miss Patricia Ann Young And Rev. Richard Cook Exchange Marriage Vows

Grace Episcopal Church of Monroe, was the scene of the marriage uniting Miss Patricia Ann Young and The Rev. Richard Robert Cook. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher Young of West Monroe, and Mrs. Albert L. Cook of New Orleans, and the late Mr. Cook.

Nuptial Mass was performed by the Rt. Rev. Girault M. Jones of New Orleans. Communion was performed by the Rt. Rev. Iveson Noland of Alexandria. L. Slade Brown of Monroe rendered organ music.

The altar was decorated with white gladioli and white chrysanthemums flanked by two spiral candelabra.

MATRON OF HONOR

Mrs. Mary Lou Shepard of West Monroe served her sister as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Billie Rawls, Mrs. Frances Brown, Mrs. Bonny Herndon, Miss Linda Lavendar, Miss Glenda Sue Young and Miss Linda Garrett. Their dresses were emerald green satin with shirred chiffon neckline and a fitted bodice. The slightly bouffant overskirts were of net. They carried bouquets of chrysanthemums.

BRIDE'S GOWN

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of floor-length nylon tulle edged with Chantilly lace. The bateau neckline was edged with irridescent sequins and seed pearls. The fitted bodice was joined to a bouffant skirt tulle and lace. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of white camellias and stephanotis arranged in a cascade effect.

Last week-end was such a big one we hardly know where to start to bring you up to date on who went where and what they wore. But lets start with the out-of-town affair, and then come home.

Coming in from New York this week have been the groups who went up for the opening of SPEED LAMKIN's play, "Comes A Day" last Thursday. They report that it was most exciting to be present for this theatrical "first" — Speed's first play on its opening night.

A high point of the weekend was the party hosted by VADA and TOBY BANCROFT and LAYTON LAMKIN in Speed's honor. This affair was held after the theatre in the North Ballroom of the Astor hotel. Meyer Davis' orchestra played for dancing, and a midnight buffet supper was served.

Several hundred guests attended, including the cast of the play, many friends from New York, and the large number of Southerners who went up for the opening. Among those present were MR. and MRS. H. LUTCHER BROWN and their daughter, MRS. CAROLYN NEGLEY of San Antonio, Texas . . . the CLINT MURCHISONS of Dallas . . . MR. and MRS. SIDNEY MAGEE of Hastings, N. Y., and her mother, MRS. FRED HUDSON of Monroe . . . MR. and MRS. JOE PARSONS of New York (she is the former Carol Layton of Monroe) . . . and SARA TERZIA, also formerly of Monroe and now of New York . . . MRS. KELLY WYNNE of New Orleans (the former Esther Ewing of Monroe) . . . also the HUNTER PEARSONS of Alexandria . . . and SPEED BANCROFT of Monroe.

TENNESSEE WILLIAMS was there, and HEDDA HOPPER . . . Cast members were JUDITH ANDERSON, ARTHUR O'CONNELL, BRANDON de WILDE, GEORGE SCOTT, and DIANA van de VLIS.

PERLE MESTA flew in from her South American vacation to be present for the big occasion . . . Also flying in was MARGUERITE LAMKIN, who came from California . . . MRS. HODGES HONNELL of Memphis, the former Boyce Sadler of Monroe, also made the trip especially for the opening. . . . From Shreveport came MRS. ED JACOBS, MRS. CHARLTON LYONS, MR. and MRS. DRAKE LEIGH, O. B. HARRISON, and his mother, MRS. DELMA HARRISON.

ARABELLA and DERWOOD CANN were there, and Derwood's sister, the former Lodi Cann, now MRS. HARLEY KYSOR of North Merrick, N. Y. . . . Former Monroyans MR. and MRS. HENRY STEVENS of Bronxville . . . MRS. THOMAS EASTERLING . . . MRS. JOE GRATZ of New York, the former Peola Baer of Monroe . . . MR. and MRS. STEWART HUNT of Ruston . . . MR. and MRS. EDGAR APPLEBY of New York, who have visited Speed here in Monroe . . . ROSEMARY ROACH, who has also visited here from New York . . . REGINALD BRINKMAN of Shreveport . . . IVAN OBLENSKY of New York . . . OWEN JOHNSON came up from Washington, and brought FRANK TWIGGER, the British friend who has visited here a number of times.

Meanwhile, back at the home place—

Last Saturday night saw some elegantly dressed ladies and gentlemen out on the town. Several hundred attended a party hosted by the STAN BAGWELLS, the TOMMY HOLMES, and the ROBERT WOODS in the Crystal ballroom of the Virginia hotel. The three couples greeted their guests near the door, where the dresses of the hostesses were colorful against a background of holly, pine, and pyracantha. Pat was wearing red lace; Ann, gold satin; and Camille, a bubble skirted red satin.

A congenial group of friends were invited for a gumbo supper and bridge with the MIKE JOHNS, JR., last Friday evening. A cornucopia of pink dahlias centered the table, where the TRIPP FAULKS, the FRANK BREECES, and the BURT SPERRYS were seated. Be's gumbo is famous—one of the recipes she brought from her native south Louisiana. With it she served a tossed salad and garlic bread, with pineapple meringue glace for dessert. . . . The group played bridge after supper, with Beth the high score winner, and Tripp, second.

"Duck supper" was the promised treat when the JOE DIXONS had a few neighbors over on Tuesday evening. The table was centered with an interesting seasonal arrangement of pale yellow crysanthemums and lemons. With the duck was served a sausage and cornbread dressing and an aspic salad. Chocolate cake was dessert. Twelve guests attended.

When CINDY WAKEFIELD entertained at luncheon on Wednesday, three out of town guests were among those present. These were Cindy's mother, MRS. WILL WALTON of Jackson, Miss.; EVELYN MOORE's mother, MRS. BOATNER JARRELL of Columbia; and PAT RILEY's mother, MRS. PAUL FINLEY of Bogalusa. All three ladies were visiting their daughters in the same block of Pargoud boulevard this week.

The fifteen guests were seated at three tables, each centered with white crysanthemums in a silver bowl. Creamed chicken in patty shells, broiled asparagus wrapped in bacon, and a congealed cranberry salad comprised the menu, with individual butterscotch tarts for dessert.

Over a hundred local ladies attended a beautifully appointed coffee Wednesday morning in the home of JEAN HAMILTON, who received wearing a black crepe sheath. Also at the door was cohostess JEAN GIFFEN, who wore a grey tweed sack dress, belted in front.

Pink carnations and purple heather were the flowers in the living room and dining area. MRS. H. E. SPROLES of Delhi was pouring coffee for MIRIAM GRAYSON, who was wearing an all-grey outfit. . . IRIS BROOKS looked stunning in a wool jersey dress of cocoa with touches of orange, worn with a matching hat. . . JUNE M'HENRY's new winter green suit, hat, and shoes were most becoming.

The den was decorated with fall dried arrangements in brown and orange used in copper containers. . . . ELAINE MILLSAPS' orange outfit matched the decor. . . . A mink collar trimmed BETTY MOORE's black and white tweed suit. With it she wore a black and white feather "wig hat." . . . ADRIENNE DUCHKAR was in red plaid, a blouson top over a narrow skirt. . . . The new Baltic blue was very lovely on MARGERY PHILLIPS. With her sheath dress she wore a hat to match and irridescent blue beads. . . . A low, low waistline distinguished NANCY DAVIS' grey wool, worn with a white wooly cloche. . . VIRGINIA HIGH wore a trapeze line winter print in blues and greens. . . . With her electric blue suit, ELEANOR BROWN wore a white feather hat and carried a black fur muff.

Greenery and pyracantha in large brass containers were used all around the room. A particularly lovely branch of pyracantha, heavily berried, formed the curve of the arrangement on the piano. VIRGINIA THOMPSON, wearing an orchid on her dress of black crepe and organza, played throughout the evening.

A brown cloth covered the buffet table, which was centered with spice carnations used with holly. Brass candlesticks held candles of the same shade as the flowers, and brass chafing dishes held smoking hot dips at each end of the table. Turkey and ham were served from brass platters.

Among the guests we noted JERRY OAKLEY in emerald green satin. Her sash followed the high Empire line, with a panel falling to the hemline . . . MILDRED VANDERPOOL was wearing a print of bronze roses on a black ground, with black and bronze shoes . . . In flame colored chiffon sprinkled with rhinestones was EVELYN MOORE . . . JEAN MINTZ was in black peau de soie with a draped skirt . . . Her peacock blue sheath was most becoming to BARBARA EASTERLING . . . And a real conversation piece was MARNE MOUK'S new amethyst necklace.

A number of the guests preceeded from this party across town to the Reveler's formal on the Frances roof. The short walk afforded an excellent opportunity to observe the ladies' lovely wraps . . . LOLLY NEEL wore a gold lame coat over a green dancing dress . . . Over a French blue chiffon, DOT HYLAND was wearing a new pastel mink stole . . . MARGARET LAND's blue brocaded coat was beautiful over her dress of ice blue satin . . . and WAVA FRAZER topped her black crepe sheath with a very short, Empire line white satin jacket.

The dance decorations are described elsewhere in these pages, but your reporter was there to watch the people . . . TOMMY SUE SARTOR was wearing a black lace trapeze over a black silk sheath . . . CAROL M'DONALD chose chiffon of a delicate bisque shade with matching shoes and stole . . . In a full-skirted pale blue print was ARDEN M'DOWELL . . . Green satin shoes complimented BETTY B JACKSON's chiffon printed in muted browns and greens . . . And heliotrope shoes exactly matched JUANITA WILSON's heliotrope chiffon fashioned with a panel floating from the left shoulder to the right hemline . . . KATHERINE HOLLIS wore a harem - skirted red satin . . . MARY FRANCES PICKETT's pale green organza was cobwebbed with gold threads. . . NITA THOMAS of Quitman wore a vibrant cerise — a velvet bodice with floating chiffon skirt . . . ANN TERIZA's green brocade featured a high waistline and narrow skirt . . .

The Monroe Garden club meeting Monday brought out some stylish new hats. . . . JUDY EVANS was in a "wig hat" of green leaves. . . . With her black suit, LALLAGE FEAZEL was wearing a white satin hat and black mink stole. . . . CHARLOTTE HAMILTON chose a purple hat for her green and purple plaid wool. . . . BLANCHE CUMMINGS wore a velvet turban in shades of rose and purple.

Even the little girls are dressing up these days. Take the party which honored MARY VAUGHAN INABNET on her sixth birthday last Saturday. Formal invitations were mailed to eighteen little girls, who arrived looking like ladies in long dresses and minks.

The birthday girl was wearing a strapless white and fuchia formal. Rhinestone chopsticks held her hair-do on top of her head, and long rhinestone earrings completed the picture. . . .AMY and CAROL SMITH were real flappers in their twin chemises of bright yellow, flounced below the knees. With this they wore orange cloche hats and long strings of beads. . . BECKY HUENEFELD wore a long dress with a tweed cape and matching hat. . . . With her long black dress, DIANE GRIFFEN wore a picture hat and a mink scarf.

Rows of little chairs were set up in the dining room to make a miniature theatre, home movies were shown. . . . Door prizes were awarded, with MARY GAY FAULK and SUZANNE TAYLOR the happy winners of real live puppies.

The coffee table was laid like a real tea table. Using her mother's demi-tasse cups, Mary Vaughan poured hot chocolate from the silver service. Cheese straws, cookies, and dainty sandwiches were passed.

Last week we borrowed a book of Will Percy's poetry to bring you the Veteran's day poem. Before we return the book, let's quote one more of his exquisite sonnets, this one called "Failure:"

For them that on the mountain fight beneath
The visioned ensigns of the unknown God,
Tho' battle-anguish be their only wreath,
Failure their palm, their victory the sod—
I have no tears. Compassion not that band,
Patriots, poets, dreamers, men of prayer,
The common reachers after right, the hand
Impelling them thus blindly to lay bare
Their hearts to that unequal contest, grants
Solace divine for their divine attempt.
For them that know not strife, nor hear the chants
Predecent to the bloody end's contempt—
For them unloose your tears! Their life is sleep.
Unvigilant, unwounded; they but sheep!

Make a tuna noodle casserole a whole meal dish by spooning the mixture over a can of blue lake green beans, drained and seasoned with salt, pepper and a little prepared mustard. Toss a green salad to accompany the hot dish, and dinner's ready.

The Revelers' Dance Club Holds Annual Fall Formal

The annual fall formal of the Revelers' dance club was held last Saturday night on the roof of the Frances hotel. Each member couple invited a guest couple to attend this yearly open party. Jerry Lane's orchestra played for dancing from nine until one.

Clever use of screens, lanterns, and greenery created an Oriental atmosphere on the roof. In the entrance a large brass birdcage filled with branches was placed before a bamboo-cloth screen with ornate brass hinges. A Japanese lantern was suspended above, hung to swing with each breeze.

On the walls in the main room were larger than life sketches of an Oriental gentleman and his lady. Hanging over the bandstand was a large "tree" filled with chrysanthemum blossoms. Paper butterflies were used on each table, and Japanese lanterns hung in clusters from the ceiling.

Mrs. Jack Terzia was general chairman of the dance. Mrs. Amos Shelton was chairman of the decorating committee and was assisted by Mrs. Theo Terzia, Jr., Mrs. H. B. Hargrove, and Mrs. James Williams.

Guests who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Haynes Harkey, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Evans Ethridge, Dr. and Mrs. Sol Courtman, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Faheam Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dougherty, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bell, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Land, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ryan Sartor.

Vows Said By Miss Sue Grey And J. Wooley

Miss Sue Grey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olan Grey of Pollock, and Johnny Doyle Wooley, son of Mrs. Floreine Wooley of Olla, were united in marriage in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Rambo, in Georgetown.

The Rev. Moses Mercer performed the double ring ceremony before standing arrangements of roses and carnations.

The bride was attired in a pastel colored suit with matching accessories.

Miss Janie Johnson was the bride's only attendant. She wore a suit of silk shantung.

Best man was Fred Allen Dozier.

The couple will be at home in Pineville where Mr. Wooley is a ministerial student in Louisiana College.

Variety Stores Offer Many Gift Ideas, Selections

You may not find that "million dollar boy" (to quote an old song) in a "five and ten cent" store, and very few items for a nickel or a dime — but there are any number of under-a-dollar "good buys" to be found there.

Bulk candy, for instance, often the "old-fashioned kind" is wonderful to serve or cleverly-package as a gift.

There are many tops for boys and girls that cost less than one dollar . . . and they're toys children will really like, too.

Desk items—memo books, papers, notebooks, pens, etc. — are all available for 99 cents or less!

Take a look through your favorite variety store . . . you may be amazed at how rapidly, inexpensively and perfectly you can check off the names on your gift list!

A GAY TIME was had by the Deb-N-Heirs when they held their costume party last evening at the North Monroe Junior High School. Square dancing was enjoyed by those attending under the direction of John Lacy. Prizes were awarded for the outstanding costumes. Shown here are upper, Paul Eason, Karen Crow and Mary Ann Crump; lower left, Elaine Butler, Mark Glazer and Charlene Wedemeyer; lower right, Sandy Ussery and Bill Hollingsworth.

THE ENGAGEMENT and approaching marriage of Miss Dorothy Yvonne Young to Robert Eugene Ankeny is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young, of West Monroe. Mr. Ankeny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ankeny, of Albuquerque, N. Mexico. The wedding will be an event of Nov. 28 at 7 o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's parents, with the Rev. Filer J. Seal officiating. The young couple will make their home in Albuquerque, N. Mexico.

Candy Canes Are Good Decoration

Nothing's more Christmasy than candy canes, nor speedier for a gala trim. Here are some ideas for utilizing this gay sweet.

Giant canes make neat tray dividers for different candies. Big mugs of spiced tea or egg nog look more festive (and gain in flavor, too) with the addition of a candy cane to stir.

The punch bowl or tall glass drinks are charming with a cane dangling from the rim. Or, how about sticking small ones in cupcakes.

Tall ones are strikingly different replacing candles in their holders. And, of course, candy canes are a must on the Christmas tree.

Please The Men With Variety At Christmas

A new Yuletide custom is for the entire family to chip in and buy their favorite male something big!

A handsome wool outerjacket is one gift, whether he's sixteen or sixty, that's really appreciated.

Even junior will be glad the folks gave him a good-looking melton cloth outerjacket with a warm wool shawl collar. It's smart and practical, just what boys and youths are wearing today.

Wool plaid outerjackets are the right gift for the out-of-doors man, too. Keep the hunter happy and warm in the new safety color—yellow—now being endorsed by hunting and safety clubs. Yellow wool hunting shirts, caps and outerjackets are shown too.

For other warmly-welcome gifts, choose wool socks in either fancy designs or conservative ribs . . . sleeveless lamb's wool sweaters, in gay solid colors to go with a checked or striped Shetland sports coat . . . or, comfortable wool slipper - socks for at-home ease.

Wool flannel slacks are new in pleatless types with backstrap and buckle . . . for young men.

The more mature look best in pleated trousers. But whatever the style, remember that all-wool slacks hold a sharp crease and wear best.

Gift that sports car enthusiast with knitted wool gloves with leather palms.

Wrinkle-and-crush - proof wool challis ties in striped and foulard patterns are popular and many can be bought with matching belts. Knitted wool ski caps are tops of course, for sportsmen.

Mrs. Hale And Mrs. Gentry Complimented

Mrs. Ouida Hale, 1st National Vice Commander of the Navy Mothers Clubs of America and Mrs. Merrill Gentry, Louisiana State Commander, of Shreveport were in Monroe last Thursday to make plans for the state convention to be held next October at the Penn Hotel.

They were guests at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Marvin Schemph, Chairman of the convention. Also attending were Mrs. Arthur Johnson, State 1st Vice Commander, and Mrs. Lavelle Wilson, Commander of the local Navy Mothers Club.

SOCIAL HOUR

That night a special call meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Wilson for a social hour. Those present were Mrs. Hale, Mrs. Gentry, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Schempf, Mrs. Paul Barefoot, Mrs. W. O. Windham, Mrs. Jeff Clark, Mrs. H. W. Shepard, Mrs. G. A. Miller, Mrs. Oscar Hampton, and Mrs. W. B. Lueg.

MRS. EDWARD JACKSON TRICE JR.

Miss Danna Weds Lt. E. Trice, Jr. In Germany

Miss Anita Marie Danna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome J. Danna of this city, and First Lieutenant Edward Jackson Trice, Jr., were united in marriage in Aschaffenburg, Germany.

Father William Zovichak performed the double ring ceremony before tall baskets of chrysanthemums, gladioli and tuberoses.

The soloist was Miss Mary Agnes Evans, accompanied by Mrs. Barbara Stang at the organ.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by Major Jacob H. Church. She was lovely in a gown of Chantilly lace over silk. Her veil of illusion fell from a tiara of white blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and tuberoses centered by a large rose.

Miss Anne Donagh was the bride's only attendant. She was gowned in silk organza and carried a bouquet of rose colored blossoms.

Serving the groom as best man was Lieutenant Ernest A. Courteway. Ring bearer was Mark Matier. The ushers were Captain Wesley M. Strand and Captain Clarence M. Mynes, Jr.

RECEPTION

A reception was held at Aschaffenburg Officers Club immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white cut-work linen cloth. To one end was the silver punch service and the tiered wedding cake adorned the other end.

When the couple departed for the wedding trip, she was wearing a navy suit with a corsage of red roses at her shoulder.

The bride is a graduate of St. Matthews School and attended Louisiana State University and Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. The groom attended University of Virginia, College of William and Mary and was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

The couple are at home in Aschaffenburg, Germany.

When making your shopping list for Thanksgiving dinner remember to include a can or two of rich-flavored ripe olives for the relish dish. With crisp celery canned whole spiced cling peaches and cranberry sauce, you'll have a colorful array of relishes, quickly and easily.

MRS. GERALD MORRIS BELISLE

Miss Naomi Roby Is Wed To Lt. Gerald M. Belisle

White gladioli, white chrysanthemums and fern were place among burning candles in the Rivera Room of the Penn Hotel for the marriage ceremony of Miss Naomi Roby and Lieutenant Gerald Morris Belisle of Sunnyvale, California. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. White of Atlantic City, New Jersey, and the late Julian Rue Belisle.

VOWS REPEATED

Rabbi Jacob Lantz heard their vows on November second, at two o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. W. E. Williams Jr. enacted the role of matron of honor wearing a lace and net model with a scooped neckline. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and mums.

The bride's gown was of imported champagne lace over taffeta with cap sleeves and a scalloped neckline. She wore a shell hat tinted to match the gown and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and yellow cushion mums centered with yellow orchids.

The brother of the bridegroom, Dr. Charles Belisle of Augusta, Georgia, was his best man.

Mrs. Roby chose to wear for her daughter's wedding, a grey-blue cocktail suit trimmed in a matching shade of satin. The groom's mother wore a floral blue model with lighter accessories.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Green Room of the hotel.

On the bride's table, laid with an imported cut-work cloth, was the tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, surrounded by fern. Two smaller tables held the crystal punch service and delicacies.

The couple will be at home in Sunnyvale, California.

FROM DENMARK. One of the most striking of the imported gift decanters is Denmarks's beautiful "Kluk-Kluk" bottle. It derives its name from the sound of the Danish fruit wine as it is poured. These fruit wines have long been popular as a complement to after-dinner desserts. The bottle will be cherished after its contents are gone.

Pleasant Gifts Are Suggested

Ideal matchmates for the big bulky knit sweaters are classic or jeweled bar pins, worn in pairs parallel to each other or in a staggered design.

Bright pin dazzlers also appear on the head, either fastened to a velvet hairband or worn in the hair itself.

Pins go glamorous for evening as pearl, crystal or brilliant pins appear at the bottom of low-cut evening dress V-backline.

Bishop-Cooper Wedding Vows Are Exchanged

A simple but impressive wedding ceremony was performed on Sunday, in the Church of God in Goodwill Community at 3 p.m. by the Reverend M. W. Kennedy.

Miss Audine Cooper became the bride of Billy Bishop of Greenville, Miss. in a double ring ceremony. Miss Cooper is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Caroll Cooper of Goodwill.

Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Carolyn Cooper. The Groom's best man was Sonny Bingham also of Greenville. Before an altar of greenery and white carnations and burning tall white tapers the nupital vows were said.

The Bride chose for her costume a lovely white satin with white lace over the billowing skirt, the fitted bodice was trimmed in tiny buttons in the back with a scolloped neckline. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with white satin streamers over a white Bible.

Miss Sylvia Kennedy played the traditional wedding march while Merlinda Kennedy singing "I Love You Truly."

An informal reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. The couple will make their home in Greenville, Miss.

Conference On Education In Baton Rouge

A Summit Conference on Education to be held in Baton Rouge Nov. 17, and 18th by the Louisiana Parent and Teachers Association is bringing together "top leaders" in business, industry, labor, professional groups and civic groups that are state-wide for the purpose of discussing the needs of education.

Straight From Shoulder Talk

Here's some straight-from-the-shoulder talk about the mistletoe you're probably planning to hang beneath some heavily travelled doorway.

YOU'VE BEEN CHEATING!

It seems that according to ancient tradition the privilege bestowed by this favorite Christmas green is good only to the last berry!

Mrs. Fred Grant Is Hostess To Atheneum Club

Mrs. Fred Grant was hostess to members of Atheneum Club for their November meeting and Mrs. Margaret M. Smith served as co-hostess.

Flower arrangements in profusion of fall colors reflected the Thanksgiving Season with a miniature turkey on the dining table. Arrangements of marigolds and roses were used in the living room.

Mrs. W. B. Hedgepeth called the meeting to order and presided over the business. It was voted to send Christmas gifts to the Veteran's Hospital for their annual Christmas party.

SPEAKER

Mrs. Lee Buatt introduced the speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. D. C. Brothers, Staff Member of the West Monroe Branch of the Public Library and she held the interest of the members in presenting "literature and best sellers by native authors of Louisiana."

Traditional pumpkin pie and coffee was served to the following present: Mrs. Lee Buatt, Mrs. Jack Edwards, Mrs. Fred Grant, Mrs. W. B. Hedgepeth, Mrs. Jessie Hutchins, Mrs. Margaret M. Smith, Mrs. W. H. Steen, Jr., Mrs. Vaughn Watson and Mrs. D. C. Brothers.

Suggestions On Gay Place Cards

Place cards add a real party-touch to your Christmas dinner. You don't have to expect a large crowd . . . they're fun to use, even for two.

Plan place cards to fit in with your other table decorations and for simplicity.

EASY AND DELIGHTFUL . . . remove the ring from a tiny Christmas tree ball. Insert a small candle instead and print the name on the ball with paint or fingernail polish.

A "CORKER" . . . paint large corks green and decorate them with beads and sequins. Glue or straight pins will do the trick! Spray with glitter and then set large side down on top of a smaller brown cork . . . voila! you have a Christmas tree to attach to name-cards.

INEXPENSIVE AND GAY . . . stuff infant-size red socks (you can buy in the variety store) so they will stand rather erect. Tie a ribbon and card to the sock and stand against the water tumblers.

HAND-SOME . . . cut simple mitten shapes from a sheet of thick stryofoam. Tie a bright ribbon around mitten wrists and attach cards.

Mrs. D. Smith Is Hostess To The Opera Club

Members of the Opera Club met in the home of Mrs. Duncan Smith on Thursday for their regular meeting. Mrs. John Sholars assisted Mrs. Smith as hostess.

The reception suite was made attractive with colorful arrangements of fall flowers. Refreshments consisting of sandwiches, cookies and nuts were served by the hostesses. Coffee was poured from the silver service by Mrs. C. W. Oseland. The dining table was overlaid with a cloth of lace. The centerpiece, a beautiful white imported Italian china bowl filled with fruit, was a work of art. Around the bowl clusters of white grapes were reflected in an oval mirror.

BUSINESS

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Oseland. The quotation for the day "Music is love in search of a word,'' by Sidney Lanier, was read in unison. The program chairman, Mrs. Paul Newman presented the program of the morning. The study was on the opera Lohengrin by Richard Wagner. Mrs. Lee Hodges gave an interesting talk on the life of Wagner and then Mrs. R. O. Ware told the appealing story of the opera. Wagner was the outstanding operatic composer of the 1880's and one of the greatest of all time.

Lohengrin is considered by many to be one of the finest of all romantic grand operas. The opera has pomp, pageantry, magic and dramatic interest along with a lovely musical setting.

Members present in addition to the hostesses and those appearing on the program were: Mrs. J. L. Harris, Mrs. J. C. Jacobs, Mrs. J. C. Kramer, Mrs. Shelby Meek, Mrs Paul Newman, Mrs. P. A. Poag, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. L. V. Tarver, Mrs. Duncan Smith, Mrs. J. Norman Coon, R. W. Crotney, and Mrs. B. B. Martin.

Two Hostesses To Meeting Of Beta Sigma Phi

The first bi - monthly meeting of Beta Sigma Phi was held Thursday at St. Pauls' Methodist Church Mrs. Martin Schempf presiding.

A very interesting program on History of Dress was given by Miss Helen Johnson and Mrs. M. F. Schempf.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. W. A. Hinckley and Miss Joyce Lanier.

Members attending were: Mrs. J. B. Abney, Mrs E. H. Bailey Mrs. Ted L. Carter, Miss Pat Davis, Mrs. W. A. Hinckley, Miss Helen Johnson, Miss Joyce Lanier, Mrs. J. W. Lister, Miss Lorna Montgomery, Mrs. Albert Racer, Miss Gyl Rowell, Mrs. M. F Schempf, Mrs. G. M. Smale and Mrs. Marion J. Taylor.

Carols Portray True Spirit Of Yuletide Season

What would Christmas be without carols? How well they express both the joy and solemnity of Christmastide, when even the least musical among us is awakened to the spirit of the season through traditional songs.

"And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, 'Glory to God in the Highest . . .''

Beginning with this "first carol," as the years went by, each people and each nation contributed to the music of Christmas.

Traditional folk songs were set to music and passed by word of mouth from one generation to the next.

Other carols were the work of great writers and composers who found inspiration for their creative genius in the always-new story of Christmas.

Musicians such as Felix Mendelssohn, Friedrich Handel, and Franz Gruber composed some of our best known carols, while Martin Luther, Charles Wesley, Isaac Watts and Phillips Brooks are listed among the more famous of the lyric writers.

Carols are usually either religious or convivial. The religious carols are often included in church services, and hail the birth of the Holy Child.

Mrs. E. Fatter Speaker At Garden Club

The regular meeting of the Monroe Garden Club was held Monday November 10th, in the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church, at 2:00 p.m., with Mrs. Esmond Fatter, of New Orleans, La., lecturer and demonstrator, accompanied and assisted by Mrs. J. J. Napoli, also of New Orleans. Mrs. Fatter chose for her subject Christmas Trees, Swags, and Wreaths.

Mrs. Fatter featured the small or table model tree that makes entertaining easy for the hostess. One need not spend a great deal of money to make a tree ready for junior's party, the teenager party, or for the most sophisticated form of entertainment. Removable favors can be used. Any interesting decoration such as tiny dolls, butterflies, santas, angels. Anything that can be removed and replaced with another interesting decoration within a few minutes time. A table model tree decorated with small ribbon rosettes and swags of colorful beads, was an interesting and attractive feature of Mrs. Fatter's demonstration. Another interesting tree was the sparkling bamboo tree, sprayed with shellac and sprinkled with glitter then filled with dozens and dozens of shining Christmas balls.

Instructions on candle making, and how to make wreaths on stirafoam, forms with a minimum of effort, the art of bleaching okra pods, and drying artichokes successfully for dried arrangements, were also given.

MRS. ENA WRENN

Banquet To Compliment Mrs. Wrenn

Mrs. Ena Wrenn of New Orleans, governor of district 3 of Pilot International, will make her official visit to Monroe Pilot Club on Tuesday, November 18th and will be entertained with a banquet at the Highland Park Country Club.

Mrs. Wrenn has been a member of PI for over 21 years and during that time has received many honors and has held an impressive list of offices and chairmanships in the local, district and national organizations. She has membership in First Methodist Church and in several civic and cultural clubs of the city.

One of the honors to come her way was being elected "Lady of the Year" in New Orleans for 1956 out of 64,000 club women. She is honorary member of Beta Sigma Phi and was given a citation by General Randolph McPate, commandant of US Marine Corps and is the only civilian to hold this honor in the 8th Naval or Marine District.

Minor Op. 21 (Saint-Saens), Laura Griffith; Dance of the Candy Fairy (Tchaikowsky), Judy Cobb; Malekula Moon Dance (Mason), Peggy Lanier; Run, Run (Pinto), Sally Pierce; Rustic Dance (Paul Crestn), Nancy Talbot.

The following members attended: Linda Atkinson, Beverly Brown, Carole Ann Clark, Jerry Lee Clark, Judy Cobb, Jan Grambling, Laura Griffith, Edwina Hopkins, Peggy Lanier, Cynthia Leigh, Shawn McBride, Lynn Masur, Sally Pierce, Kay Thompson, and Connie Yancey.

Pen Women Hold November Luncheon Meet

Marigolds, in beautiful shades of gold, yellow and orange, were used as the table centerpiece, when members of the N. E. Branch of the National League of American Pen Women gathered Saturday, at a local restaurant, for the November Luncheon and business meeting.

Mrs. V. S. Garnett, president, opened the session with an inspirational ceremony and the invocation was graciously given by Mrs. H.M. James.

Of great interest was the announcement that the State President of N.L.A.P.W., Mrs. E. J. Case, of New Iberia, La., is issuing a bulletin to be known as, Pen Points. The magazine, published quarterly, will be sent to all state members.

With the disposal of business, the program chairman presented Mrs. O. G. Squires, talented artist from Winnfield, who has just returned from Corpus Christi, Texas, where she attented a Workshop for artist, under the auspices of the University and Pen Women of that city. Mrs. Squires was able to transport her listeners into the fascinating world of the artist.

Members were particularly intrigued by details of methods and products being used today in oil painting to gain the long lasting luster and finish achieved by the old Masters. Following the informative program, lunch was served, after which the meeting was adjourned.

Highland School Holds Monthly PTA Meeting

Donald Duck instructed one hundred members of the Highland Elementary School PTA in how to prevent accidents in the home, Wednesday at the school cafetorium. Misfortunes which happened to the comic strip character were presented in a ridiculously hilarious manner to the audience. The moral of the film was "don't blame fate for your carelessness."

The third open meeting of the Highland PTA for this school year was opened by prayer by Mrs. J. W. Roberson, and conducted by Mrs. Porter Barton, secretary, in the absence of both the president and the vice - president.

REPORTS

After the different committee chairman had made their reports, Mrs. Julius Cathey reviewed the policies of the PTA. It was brought out that the Parent - Teacher Association is one of the very few organizations where all participating can meet on common ground: It is non - commercial, non-sectarian, non - partisan, and its sole founding purpose is to bridge the gap between appropriated funds and actual student needs, and to render such aids above those regularly supplied as are desirable and good to train the boys and girls of today who tomorrow must take the reins of leadership, that their world under God may be a better world to bequeath to future generations.

Mrs. E. R. Wilson, project chairman, announced the results of a poll of members to determine the specific uses to which money raised by PTA endeavors was to be put.

SPEAKER

Mrs. Mildred Swift, Associate Home Demonstration Agent in Marketing Information for Consumers, was introduced by Mrs. Marion Huntsman, safety chairman, who was in charge of this month's program. Mrs. Swift spoke on "Nutrition at Breakfast," and told how much a proper breakfast meant to the mental aptitude of a student.

Acknowledgement was also made to the Highland boys who take part in the "safety patrol" to handle traffic before and after school hours.

Mrs. Reed's first grade won room count with 44 per cent of the parents attending the meeting.

The November meeting of the Music Guild was held in the home of Mrs. Rabun Wroten with Mrs. Dan Cox, co-hostess.

After a brief coffee hour Mrs. Robert Davis, acting in the absence of the president, called the meeting to order and presided over the business session which followed.

"The World of Grand Opera" was the theme of the program presented by Miss Betty Pope, program chairman. Mrs. B. B. Martin gave an interesting text on the Opera "Carmeh" by Bizet. Two vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Rabun Wroten who sang "Habanera", and Mrs. Bob Oldenburg who sang "I Vow I'll Do All in My Power." Mrs. Earl Ogg played "Toreador Song." The program was concluded with the "Hymn of the Month." "Come, Ye Thankful People, Come" sung by Mrs. Leon Noland and Mrs. Tom Spurlock.

The following members were present: Mrs. J. Norman Coon, Mrs. Dan Cox, Mrs. Robert Davis, Mrs. Max Dillingham, Mrs. B. B. Martin, Mrs. Leon Noland, Mrs. Earl Ogg, Mrs. Bob Oldenburg, Miss Betty Pope, Mrs. Marvin Shipp, Mrs. Harold Sikes, Mrs. Tom Spurlock, and Mrs. Rabun Wroten. Mrs. Florence Shea was a guest.

Lt. Joseph Bowmar DAR Holds Meeting

The Lt. Joseph Bowmar Society, Children of the American Revolution held its November meeting in the home of Misses Bunny and Barbara Buckner. Co - hostesses were Misses Minta Goyne and Margaret Moore.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Patty Prophit. The chaplain, Cynthia Leigh, gave the invocation, and Sally Pierce led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag and the C. A. R. Creed. Bunny Buckner read a letter from the national chairman, Edgar Hull, on Patriotic Education Week. The members received an invitation to the annual tea of the Fort Miro Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

At this time a most interesting and informative program was presented. Patty Williams discussed "Why We Celeberated Veterans Day," and Cynthia Leigh explained "The Symbolism of the United States Flag."

The meeting was then concluded with the benediction by the chaplain.

A de luxe perfume flacon features a gold-plated non-scratchable surface and an evaporation-proof inner lining. It comes in hinged, satin-lined gift boxes, in white, grey or pink, depending on the fragrance. (Christian Dior dram-flacon.)

THE HOME SHIFT

Fall Colors Georgous Now

By MILDRED SWIFT

Have you noticed the foliage onout the redbuds and crepe myrtles? Such a gorgeous shade of yellow. With the frost last week, we can expect more glowing fall colors.

Also, have you noticed the brown seed pods on the mimosa? They come up in the yard where they're not wanted, (the mimosa seed) and the pods make a terrible mess but they are pretty, now.

Those pods are very pretty for your collection of seed pods for winter arrangements. Don't forget to gather some cattails, okra, pine cones. It's a little late for dock. That should be gathered early and dried. The stalks you get now are shedding their seed.

The food stores have the red corn and ornamental gourds, now. Yes, there's plenty to make your home lovely — if you have the time to gather, treat it and arrange it all.

GARDENING

This is a good month to transplant verbena.

Get pansy plants. They like plenty of water. Never let the soil dry out around them. They like more fertilizer than most plants, too. You'll have flowers over a longer period of time if you keep the blooms picked.

Our department says plant roses in January and February. You can place your orders now and get the beds ready. Spade deep and work in lots of humus (from the compost pile).

You can root the following from cuttings, now: oleander, wisteria, ligustrum, crepe myrtle, pyracantha, roses, flowering quince, bridal wreath, forsythia, primrose jasmine.

Of course, a regular cutting bed is best, but the above named are hardy. A spot in the yard, preferably on the north side of the house will do the job. You'll have better results if you work some sand in the soil.

PESTS

I walked past a big camellia in our garden, last Sunday. It had been sprayed the last of August. I was really shocked to see the plant was completely covered with scale. Believe me, I got out the Malathion.

ANOTHER ONE, TOO!

Yes, and that one is aphids. They're covering the chrysanthemums and fall greens.

The specialists say this about aphids on greens: "Use 1 per cent rotenone or 5 per cent malathion. Repeat applications every 10 days as needed. Rotenone can be used up until harvest. Malathion should not be used within 7 days of harvest."

Either of these two insecticides will work on chrysanthemums as well as nicotine sprays. Follow directions on container.

YOUR CHRISTMAS RECIPES

We will have a Christmas recipe book ready for you in December. In the meantime, watch Spotlight on Foods in Thursday's News-Star and Friday's Morning World. I'll have more recipes for your holiday meals.

STUDY HABITS

Your child will cultivate better study habits if he has a comfortable place to work.

Examine the lamps he uses. See if they give adequate light without glare and if they're the right height for him.

If his lamp has a narrow harp and no diffusing bowl, get him a special eye-saving bulb This has a white inside coating that cuts glare. It comes in 60 watt and 100 watt size. The 100 watt size is best for reading.

Also check the shade. The inside should be white for high light reflection. If the shade is discolored on the inside, paint with white enamel. Even white shoe polish applied to the inside of the shade will help.

Now — is the shade wide enough to give a widespread of light downward for reading?

Check the height of the lamp. The lower edge of the shade should be at the eye level.

See that your child protects his eyes.

NEWS IN FASHIONS

Judging by the new French and American collections, the very bare cocktail dress is out, except when it is hidden under a little jacket The newest and smartest way to look is somewhat covered up.

The newest look in sweaters this fall is that of the brushed, fleecy mohairs and angoras. They're shown in gay colors for the coming holidays, with turquoise, shocking pink, strong yellow and dazzling white, giving them a gala look.

WHEN BUYING

Fashion experts offer this bit of good advice to the girl about how to buy an empire dress: Sit down in it before you buy. Skirts are definitely skimpier as well as shorter. What looks good standing up may not have the same appeal sitting down.

Do you have trouble wearing pointed toed shoes? If so, the shoe people tell us to buy them a width wider than we usually do.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Be sure to go by Mrs. Victor David's garden, 3515 South Grand Street, and see her gorgeous chrysanthemums.

Your Open House programs for next week are: Monday, Mrs. Eloise Edwards from East Carroll Parish will make an educational toy. Tuesday, Miss Ruth Gulley from West Carroll will show us how to mat and frame pictures; Wednesday, Mrs. Jardine will bring the flower arrangements; Thursday, the Extension Poultry Marketing Specialist, Mr. Hathaway will demonstrate cutting up a chicken, on Friday the same gentleman will teach us to carve that turkey.

See you next Sunday.

KINGS' VISIT

January 6, thought to be the date of the visit of the Three Kings to the manger of the Christ Child, has several names: Epiphany, Little Christmas, Old Christmas, Day of the Three Kings and Twelfth Night.

MEANINGS

The meaning of the word "magi" is "august." These were a priestly caste among ancient Medes and Persians.

House Merges With Garden Through Tiles

Your house begins at the front door, but your home begins at the garden.

If you tend to draw a sharp separation between your house and the plot it stands on, you are losing some of the enjoyment of modern living.

The modern trend is to merge the two by various devices. One of the most practical and gracious ways is through the use of a patio or terrace.

You can make your terrace flow naturally into the house by paving it with ceramic tile and continuing the tile motif on the adjoining wall. Real tile, with its wide variety of colors and designs, provides a definite air of style and elegance. Another important consideration is that it is impervious to the elements.

Large potted plants on the terrace and inside the picture window will help reinforce the effect of continuity.

If the terrace leads into an inside hallway, the tile surfacing can be extended inside the house.

The design and color of the tile you use will depend on the mood you wish to create. Tile contractors can offer you more than 200 varieties to choose from, ranging from simple squares of solid color to various shapes and patterns.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Mums Featured In Club Show

By MARY M. JARDINE

Chrysanthemums, the star of our fall flower gardens, were featured by members of the Bayou Vista Garden Club of Monroe. President of this active garden club, organized in 1957, is Mrs. Jack Harrington.

In the horticulture section ribbons were awarded as follows:: Mrs. V. P. Guess, a red ribbon for bronze spray chrysanthemums. Yeow ribbonl to Mrs. Frank Francis for white single chrysanthemums and a yellow ribbon to Mrs. J. E. Tripp for lavender anemone mum.

COMBINE TALENTS

Mrs. R. W. Gregory, Jr. and Mrs. V. P. Guess combined their talents to achieve top score in the arrangement section. They created a beautiful crescent design featuring bronze tones. The color blending of plant material and container was excellent. The crescent shaped bowl was of soft tan shading into brown which picked up the bronzy tones of the line material, stems and foliage tips of wavy leaf photinia. Within the crescent line were placed bronze quill mums. These were accented along the rim of the bowl with photinia foliage. Most attractive.

HOGARTH CURVE

Mrs. Ben Winegeart and Mrs. Harry Addison were awarded second place, for their lovely design. A modified Hogarth curve in pattern, the color scheme was green and white. A milk glass compote was selected for the arrangement. Dark green aspidistra leaves were skillfully placed to create the Hogarth line (the lazy S curve.) The line was emphasized with snow white chrysanthemums in graded sizes. Very distinctive. This was staged against a pink background. With a color scheme of green and white it would lend itself to almost any color background.

Mrs. J. E. Tripp created a colorful triangular design with a windswept effect. Mr. Tripp selected a brown kidney shaped container which was a perfect foil for the bronze daisy mums. The triangular pattern was achieved with placements of celosia in a bronze tone and foliage of the bottle brush. A very happy combination of materials and colors. This would be most attractive atop a television cabinet or chest.

DRIFTWOOD

Some beautiful pieces of nature's own sculpture, driftwood, have been on display at the center this week. These are from the collection of Mrs.W. P. Rushing of Lake Providence. They almost defy description as there are so may interesting forms, curves, textues and blending of colors all provided by the elements of nature. Hope you will drop by to see them.

Speaking of sculpture, many of you will want to attend the illustrated lecture in Ruston on Friday, November 21, at 3 p.m. when Arthur Morgan of Shreveport, a sculptor of note on the art faculty at Centenary College will show colored slides of his own sculpture and others. There will be garden scenes showing the use of sculpture in the landscape picture. This lecture is sponsored by the Woman's Department Club, Mrs.Drew Hays, chairman. The place is Ruston Country Club. Guest fee $1.00.

On next week's television program we will show you how to prepare those pods and cones for Christmas decorations.

Choosing Tree Great Decision

By AUDREY DAWSON

GARDENING

If you are trying to make up your mind about the trees for your landscape, it must be a terrible job at this time of the year. There are so many gorgeous colors, it's hard to decide. I have never especially liked the sweet gum but they are really "showing off" in their fall wardrobe this year. The tulip tree, in my yard, is gorgeous, and even though in just a few days, I'll be raking the leaves it will still be worth its keep for the beautiful fall color is a "pick up" in my yard at this season. The crepe myrtle is beautiful, to.

White flies are very abundant on gardenias and similar plants and it is not too late to spray these plants. Two teaspoonfuls of Malathion per gallon of water will give excellent control of these pests.

Watch for aphids on turnips, mustard, radishes and other fall garden crops. If these insects are found, dust immediately with one percent Rotenone or five percent Malathion. Repeat applications at 10 day intervals. Rotenone can be used within 5 days of harvest.

Remember November 21st is an important date in Home Demonstration Club work. This is the date the outstanding club will be declared. Mrs. Pearl Bower and her committee composed of Mrs. Fred Riser, Mrs. E. M. Granberry Mrs. J. C. Taylor, Mrs. W. J. Kelley and Mrs. S. O. Sharp, worked on the records this week. Mr. George Tyner will be on hand to present a silver service to the winning club.

Another important item on the program is installation of officers for the coming year. Mrs. A. T. Stout is in charge of this service.

JUST TALKING

Mrs. Mae Modes came by our office this week seeking information about a particular plant. I was delighted that we could give her the answer. Mrs. Modes remarked that although the Agriculture Building had been here all these 17 years she had never been in it. Hope she won't wait that long to come back to see us.

Mrs. Ellen Thompson came by to help revise the flower exhibit for our Parish Fair for 1959. Yes, we've starting early so that we can have the best fair yet for Ouachita.

We see so many different weeks observed and proclaimed these days. I learned about another special week, "Appreciation week." I had a letter from a former high school student, Mrs. Marie Shaw Dunn, Home Economics Instructor at Northwestern State College, who wrote that appreciation week had been declared by the Alumni office as a time to express appreciation to those who have had special meaning to lives of those on the campus. I think that's one of the nicest weeks I've heard about.

DID YOU KNOW?

That seventy percent of all the home meals in our nation are served in the kitchen.

That a typical family in any income bracket — from lowest to highest — have guests at approximately one out of seven meals eaten at home.

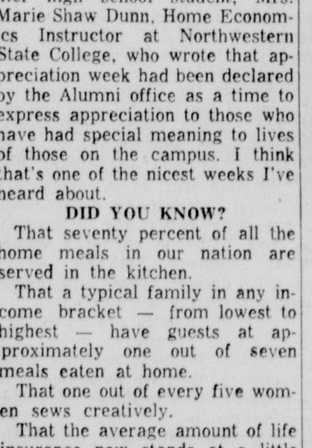

That one out of every five women sews creatively.

That the average amount of life insurance now stands at a little over $8,000 per family, which is about twice what it was ten years ago.

That women now own about 15 percent of all life insurance in the United States. Men being the principal bread winners of American families own by far the major share.

Are you, Mrs. Homemaker, trying to decide the size turkey for your Thanksgiving dinner. A good rule to follow is one half pound of ready-to-cook turkey per person. Look for a turkey with a flexible breast bone, which is a mark of a young bird. A plump appearance with a broad breast indicates a meaty bird.

A THOUGHT — Kindness is the oil that takes friction out of life.

SHE'S A DOLL in this trapeze silhouette. It's a crisp taffeta woven of "chromespun" aceate. The standaway skirt is topped by a loosely fitted, scalloped - edge jacket. The luxurious texture and color are locked in for keeps.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER DOLLS in dress-alike fashions will bring a thrill of excitement to some little girl this Christmas. The dolls are dressed in washable, easy-care, fashionable "Everglaze" cotton frocks so that their owner can care for them all by herself!

LIKENED TO LOVE

Fill Gift List With Diamonds

Since ancient times the inner fire of a diamond has been likened to love . . . as a ring on your finger it is the traditional symbol signifying mutual devotion . . . and, nowadays, many families delight in showing their love for Mother and Grandmother by pooling finances in order to give them an impressive diamond gift.

Jewelry designers today have produced diamond pieces in just about every price scale to meet happily with purse and budget.

Small diamonds lend themselves artistically to excellent designs in earrings, brooches, and rings of fine workmanship.

If you're buying for a lady who is sentimental (and who isn't at Yuletide!) consider a heart motif . . . as a locket of gold or platinum paved with diamonds, or a cut-out heart framed in diamonds suspended on a necklace chain.

Religious medals and crosses set with diamonds are popular gift items in tune with the Christmas mood . . . ranging in price from well under fifty dollars to several thousands, depending upon the size and quality of the diamonds.

No rule exists to prevent a husband from placing a diamond engagement ring on his wife's finger even after years of marriage; jewelers say many men do it.

Anniversary rings, too, are a memorable way of renewing the original promise to love and to cherish. They come in a galaxy of delicate blossoms, swirling scrolls, and refreshing modern designs; to be worn either on the fourth finger of the right hand or on the pinkie finger.

Why not vis't a reliable jeweler and pre-select several pieces of jewelry well within your price range? Then, be prepared for a stir of excitement as you usher the lovely recipient into the jewelers to make her final choice from those you've already set aside! Remember, diamonds are dateless . . . to be worn a lifetime!

Background Of Christmas

In ancient pagan rites the twelve days following their December 25th Sun Festival was a time devoted to the expulsion of evil.

Torches were lighted, bells jangled, and kettles clattered to set up a hue and cry that was raised to an ear splitting roar, to drive out all wandering witches, ghosts and demons.

The last, and twelfth day, January 6th, which was Christ's first birth-date, and which we now call Epiphany, marked the conclusion of the heathen rites.

It was set aside by the Christians to commemorate the coming of the Magi, and the first manifestation of Christ to his new followers.

Lots Of Ideas For Home Are Listed

"Come out of the kitchen . . ." can well be applied to the newest small appliances!

Smart Santas will note that these convenient time-savers have blossomed forth with a sparkling beauty of modern design that makes them "at home" on dining, buffet, supper or patio table, as well as in the kitchen workcenter.

Making table-cooking easier is the single-unit heat control plug and cord which fits all appliances interchangeably.

This is featured by many of America's finest appliance makers, and serves the double purpose of reducing the price on individual appliances, plus making it a cinch to feature an attractive, modern "cook center" anywhere.

It's also a wonderful way for a family to pool their funds and give mom the gift of a lifetime —a heat control plus a complete set of appliances to go with it!

Whether home is a one-room kitchenette apartment, or a rambling ranch type, electrical appliances fit the bill!

Who wouldn't welcome an electric percolator, Dutch oven, fry pan, sauce pan, skillet, or deep-fryer!

A waffler-grill combination is a terrific double-hit gift! With this single appliance, she (or he) can fry bacon and eggs, pancakes, toast sandwiches, even makes waffles!

The new automatic griddle-servers are another two-bagger! You can prepare a complete hot meal on the large cooking area, then place it right on the table for deluxe serving!

USEFUL, TOO

Matched Luggage Beautiful Gift

For a gift both useful and beautiful, there's nothing like a set of matched luggage.

Fashion-wise, today's line-up of suitcases, offers a wider choice of shapes and covering than ever before.

Budget-wise, almost everyone can afford to give at least one piece as a "starter," or another as an accessory case to a set already in use.

Three pieces constitute a basic set for a girl or woman, including a train case for cosmetics, a week-ender or overnite bag, and a wardrobe case for hanging garments.

To these, or as a substitute may be added the large square hat and shoe case, or a pullman for flat packing. Frequently, round hatboxes (which may double as overnite bags) may be had to match other pieces of luggage, or in a pleasing contrast.

For a man, a two-suiter and companion bag are the all 'round favorites to begin a luggage wardrobe. The latter will serve either as an auxiliary piece for longer trips, or as a week-ender on a few days' journey.

Other luggage which might be a fine choice for the traveler already equipped with a complement of suitcases falls into the accessory class, such as the traveling garment bag, designed for motor trips but useable anywhere —or the varied shaped zipper and duffle bags suitable for shoes, incidentals, the beach, laundry or last-minute packing.

To choose luggage properly, consider the use to which it will be put; check the styling for ease of carrying and handling, the locks if burglary is a factor. Select colors for fashion and personal preference, and add a set of luggage tags for permanent identification.

December 25th was selected as the date for Christmas in A.D. 350. This date is now observed by all Christians except the Armenians, who still follow January 6th traditionally.

CUSTOM MADE

Candles Give Hospitality

Making your candles is not only a lot of fun, it can be less expensive than buying the ready-made ones.

Here's how to do it: First, place a mixture of old candle stubs and paraffin in an empty tin can (a shortening can is good) and blend to form a spout.

Now add crayons or oil paints for color. As the candle stubs melt, remove the wicks and save those long enough for reuse.

Use ingenuity in selecting molds . . . a glass with fluted sides, cottage cheese or milk cartons, gelatin molds or baby food cans. Check your home (and garage or basement) for other possibilities.

Attach the wick (if you do not have enough old ones, they are inexpensive to buy) to a pencil at one end and a paper clip at the other. Dangle the wick and clip in the center of the container holding steadily by the pencil. Pour the wax into the mold, detach pencil from wick and let candle stand until hard.

Then, remove candles from molds by dipping them in hot water. Candles in waxed containers, such as milk cartons, are easily removed by cutting away the container. Cut the wick to desired length.

There are an infinite number of ways to decorate the candle . . . adhere colorful stickers, drip gray-hued wax from another candle down the sides, stick sequins and fake jewels around the sides in a pattern . . . or add fluffy "icing".

This is how to accomplish the latter . . . cool some wax until it begins to jell, then whip with a fork until frothy. Apply to the base candle with a table knife, just as you would ice a cake.

If you want a candle of a size that is too small to stand up by itself and too big to fit in any of your holders . . . there is a way to make a base simply, without buying a thing.

Just take three forks that you will not be needing and stick them face side up into the candle evenly around the base.

The forks will rest steadily on the "heel" and tip of the handle. Then cover the forks with evergreen, cotton "snow" or any other decoration you wish.

Candles at Christmas are a beautiful tradition. They will add a glow of hospitality to your home . . . and they are always appreciated as gifts. Make your own this year . . . it is such fun to do so!

RUSH IS NEAR

Use Care Wrapping Christmas Parcels

If you want that Christmas package to arrive at its destination—and all in one piece—pack and wrap it well.

Use a double-faced corrugated cardboard, not a shoe or other thin cardboard, box. Leave at least two inches between the merchandise and the container and pack it with crumpled newspaper or other material to absorb shock.

Wrap the outside with heavy wrapping paper (plain, please) and tie with strong cord. If the package is sealed, it must contain the notation that it can be opened for postal inspection.

For extra assurance, purchase low rate postal insurance on every package. Also, insert a small piece of paper with the recipient's address as well as your own. If the outside is damaged, your package may still be delivered.

Fragile items should be packed individually with some absorbent material, especially if they could leak.

Most anything can be sent through the mail except liquor, firearms, explosives, inflamable materials and obscene articles.

Don't forget that there are new postal rates now.

Any package weighing less than one pound goes at three cents for the first two ounces and one half cent for each additional ounce.

There is a 20-pound limit on parcel post sent between first class post offices. Packages cannot exceed 72 inches in combined length and girth.

Packages sent between other than first class post offices can weigh up to 70 pounds and can be as large as 100 inches in combined length and girth.

If in doubt about whether you are sending from and to a first class post office, or about any other postal requirements, be sure to check with postal authorities.

To help decide when to mail your packages, deadlines have been set up for various parts of the country and are displayed in the post office.

Gourmet Items Are Good Gifts

Gifts of food have a universal, unique and colorful appeal! It's the gift that's bound to please those "hard-to-please" on your list.

Best of all food gifts can fit any purse. Whether it's $1 for a gaily-decorated box of snacks or $50 for a luxurious basket, you'll find food gifts to fit!

If you're one of the lucky ones with a treasured recipe, your problem is easily solved.

The flavor of home-made plum pudding, fruit cake, cookies, candies or relishes is unequalled; gaily wrapped and tied, it makes a gift hard to duplicate at any price.

Most of us will look to the local shops and markets for a tremendous array of every type of food gift.

Whether they're 6 or 60, you can always delight with a gift of candy. Chocolates, hard mixes, fruit centers, mints and nuts, in individual boxes or assortments, will hit the spot with all goodie-lovers.

Delicious cakes and cookies ranging from traditional fruit cake and pfeffernusse cookies to tins and boxes chock-full of other Holiday goodies also make tasty gifts.

A wide variety of gifts are available for the lover of fine foods, including exotic cheese assortments, and packs with a selection of imported and domestic spreads, crackers, olives, and cocktail tidbits.

A delightful extra gift can be any one of a number of jam and jelly packages. These come in sets of 2, 3 and right up to a dozen and include every type of fruit preserve.

Out-of-season fruits are always something extra-special, whether packaged in a huge, fancy basket or in a simple crate.

And did you ever think of a ham, turkey, duck or goose as a Christmas gift? Oven-ready or smoked, these are real treats in their bright wrappings!

If you're undecided about what type of food your intended recipient prefers, play it safe with a Food Gift Certificate. These are available in any denomination at many local markets, department stores and food shops.

EVERY CHRISTMAS EVE will feel joyously gifted when she's presented with the heavenly luxury of leisure pajamas in gaily printed, softly quilted nylon. Feminine, flattering — these pajamas will look glamorous and new-looking even after countless washings.

WAITING FOR SANTA is a special affair for which a pretty, perky robe is a "must." This one, with all its style and grown up look, is still the easiest to care for. Just suds and let drip dry. In nylon.

SO TASTEFUL is a gift of exotic foods such as these Macadamia Nuts. To make your package really distinctive, wrap the nuts in a decorative bowl, basket or pretty pottery catch-all.

THE BIGGEST LITTLE GIFT . . . the one that will really rate with dad is a fine timepiece. The sleek, tapered styling of this watch is carried through right from the slim dial markers to the tapered calf strap.

The "Lord of Misrule" was a person in England (around 1066) who presided over his subjects with absolute power only during Yule. For this job he was paid well.

IN MODERN VISIT

Times Of Saviour Vividly Recalled

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to visit the Holy Land on Christmas Day?

Well, here's a ticket on the magic flying carpet! Before you can say "Merry Christmas," we're over the Sea of Galilee, turning south to go down the River Jordan, passing the very spot where the Dead Sea Scrolls were discovered, and then! the magic carpet swings toward the Mediteranean Sea . . . to Bethlehem.

This quiet little village is one of the most revered spots in all Christendom — it is the birthplace of Jesus.

A brilliantly-lighted cross, on top of the Church of the Nativity, shows the way to the famous Grotto of the Nativity.

It is in a crypt in the center of the church which we approach by steps leading down from the choir.

There in the soft flickering light of the countless candles and the beckoning glow of the wonderous hanging lamps, pilgrims kneel to pray.

Holy music and hushed voices recreate once again, the story of the Birth.

Everywhere, on the walls, floors, and ceiling are mosaics, carvings, and sumptuous ornamentations put there with loving care by kings and princes of the past.

In one corner is a silver star with a hole in the center that permits pilgrims to kiss the original rock floor beneath.

Here too, is the Altar of the Manger. It holds a tiny figure of the Infant Jesus, and is beautifully adorned with rich satin and brocade.

From the grotto you wander past sacred tombs, and the cell where Jerome made his famous translation of the Scriptures.

As the Christmas service progresses, we get on the magic carpet again.

Away we soar across a clear star-laden sky to Jerusalem, just a few miles north.

Jerusalem is a Holy City to Christians, Moslems and the Jews, and at Christmas time, like Bethlehem, is crowded with countless devout visitors.

For 33 centuries Jerusalem was rocked by earthquakes; sacked, besieged and blockaded by invaders, and was passed six times from one religion to another.

Jerusalem still holds many undiscovered secrets; but even now there are things to do, so we must travel quickly.

There's the Moslem Dome where Mohammed is said to have ascended to heaven; and Abraham almost sacrificed his son.

We join the many pilgrims on the Via Dolorosa, a narrow winding street that leads to Calvary . . . see the crumbling Wailing Wall of the Jews . . . visit King Solomon's wells . . . the Church of the Holy Sepulcher . . . and finally, we stop in a small green garden outside the city where many historians believe Christ was actually entombed.

Time is getting late, and the flying carpet heads for the open sea . . . and suddenly we are back to celebrate a traditional Christmas at home — combining the old and the new . . . all in the spirit of reverence!

Thrifty Scots Originated Xmas Club

Christmas will start early for over thirteen million Americans this year . . . when they receive the check from their Christmas Club savings.

Christmas Club, for those not familiar with the term, is a formalized savings plan whereby the depositor commits himself to fifty equal payments and is rewarded a year later by the receipt, between Nov. 4 and Dec. 2, of a predictable amount of cash. Usually it is exactly the amount put in.

Some financial institutions, offering this type of savings program, however, pay interest, some charge penalties if the saver falls short of his goal, and others merely guard the funds.

The Christmas Club method of thrift originated, not surprisingly, in Scotland. The Frugality Banks of that country first set up special accounts of this type in 1798. The idea didn't penetrate the New World until after the Civil War when it began as a paternalistic arrangement, with employers rather than the financial institutions themselves "accepting" weekly deposits for repayment at Christmas time.

Soon the institutions saw there was a place for them in this scheme, and by 1914 there were some 3,600 banks which had Christmas Club savings plans.

Actually, only about a third of the savings will be spent on holiday gifts and such. Another third will go back as permanent savings and most of the remainder will go into payments for taxes, mortgage payments, year-end bills, etc.

The average Christmas Club saver is more than pleased with the method and is delighted that at least one regular payment isn't going to a creditor.

There Are Some Things That Are New Under Sun

There is something new under the sun! A brand new selection of high-fashion, cordless transistor clocks that operate for a full year on two ordinary flashlight batteries!

This is the ideal gift for the hard-to-please, or that rare person who up to now has had everything!

Designed by Raymon Loewy Associates for Charles Denning, Ltd., these time-keeping marvels combine advanced engineering, advanced electronic principals and the most advanced design.

Traditional and the newest contemporary models complement any decor. And, with no ugly cords to dangle, they can be used on wall or mantel with equal effectiveness.

Junior Santas Can Have Own Red Fur Suit

Wouldn't your little boy (or girl) love to play "Santa's helper" in their very own red and white-fur suit?

Red flannel feet-in slippers that you can make or buy suddenly turn into a Santa-suit with the addition of white fake fur (very reasonably priced) at collar, cuffs and down the front.

If you are unable to find a suitable red stocking cap . . . it is very simple to make — using the principle of a triangle turned into a cone. Sew a rim of white around the brow and a bit on the tip end.

Black rubber rain boots and a wide black belt from the dime store complete this lots-of-fun-to-wear-costume.

The Twelve Days of Christmas were set aside by Alfred the Great of Britain.

Photographic Accessories Are Welcome

Anyone fortunate enough to number a "shutter-bug" among friends or family, knows that starting well before December 25th, and extending through all the holiday festivities, the click of his camera will record every moment of this wonderfully gay season.

There will be a permanent record of every family gathering, every thrilling moment, in movies or stills that will bring these gay occasions vividly alive, years afterward.

While the Christmas season is one of the best times of the year for picture taking, the camera enthusiast can always be counted on to take pictures of every vacation trip, every amusing incident, every party or get-together. What better way to thrill him than with the gift of a camera or accessory. Both he and you will derive lasting satisfaction from such a gift.

Family movies are no longer a technical mystery, with wonderfully inexpensive 8mm movie cameras that are so simple to operate even a beginner can obtain fine results.

Accessories and projection screens are moderately priced, and also make "oh-and-ah" gifts for the picture-taker.

Children or beginners who have expressed interest in this hobby will welcome one of the wide assortment of still-cameras, and still - camera sets obtainable. These range from the basic box-type to the 35mm cameras that provide excellent pictures, no matter what the time or light conditions.

If our favorite photo-fiend already has a camera, consider a good supply of film, either color or black and white, a dark room and enlarging outfit, a projection screen or projector. Even the one who has everything will welcome a stereo kit and viewer.

Gadget bags, flash attachments and bulbs, fine photo albums, and filter kits wiill always "click" with a home cameraman.

Man's Fragrance Shows Personal Preferences

How often have you heard the men in the family balk over the after-shave lotions and colognes they have received at Christmas.

Too often well - meaning friends select what they like and forget a man's personal preference in fragrances.

First of all, a man generally likes a scent, with emphasis on woodsy, spicy or tweedy bouquets.

No matter how wonderful the scent, or how smart the bottle, if it doesn't strike him the right way, he'll never use it!

To solve the problem, play a subtle game of "20 questions" to get him to disclose his preferences!

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR . . . little sister, teenage brother and big sister, they are all dolls . . . and so is the little "mama" who is dressed just like a little doll! It's a new idea, "dress alikes," for doll and "mother" . . . there is a variety of different patterns in girls' wear to match the dolls' ensembles. They are easy for true-to-life mothers to make for the little "mother." The Ginny, Jeff and Jan dolls shown here have extensive wardrobes, too.

LUGGAGE FOR HER . . . a prestige gift that's hard to equal is a matched set of cases. Please her with the starter set, at right, consisting of weekend, overnight and cosmetic case, or a hatbox for accessories.

NEWEST OF NATIVITY SETS! — This is the first set of its kind designed for children as well as adults, and the first to be priced under ten dollars. The cover of the book-type packaging opens to reveal on its underside, full color cut-out figures of Blessed Virgin, St. Joseph and two sheep in front of a manger. The unbreakable vinyl replica of Christ Child has been produced under the direction and guidance of Church Authorities. The Gospel text is available in the King James Version for Protestants or the Catholic, Douay Version.

ENTIRELY NEW is this towel gift set "Basket Planter," with its contents daintily tucked inside a brass flower planter that has an inside metal container. Two of each: bath towels, finger - tip towels and wash cloths.

CHRISTMAS IS FOR CHILDREN and this year give them something different—a fascinating, educational Ant Farm! The farm includes a barn, silo, windmill, trees, house and white sand. It's in a 6" and 9" see-through plastic case that's escapeproof! The "live ant colony" is mailed directly to the gift receiver. Grown-ups will enjoy watching this unusual "toy" too—the secret is that the ants live, work and play . . . "just like people!"

Here Are Some Wonderful Ideas To Make Your Christmas Shopping Easy

FOR RELAXATION

Here's Gift Line For Good Sports

It's almost a sure thing that almost every man in your life and a lot of women too — indulges in some sport for fun and relaxation!

And, you can be sure that any gift that caters to a favorite sport will be a hit!

NIMRODS

If you've a hunter in the family, you've heard enough "gun-talk" to have a shrewd idea of what kind of rifle or shotgun is wanted.

Since these range from about $25 to over $300, it might be a good "chip in" gift by the whole family.

Handsome gun cabinets, weatherproof gun cases, ammunition or high-powered scope attachments will also please your hunter.

TO THE SEA

Skin-diving and water skiing have achieved new heights of popularity; if you know any water-sports addicts, you know that whether it's an expensive gift of an aqua lung, modestly priced swim fins, mask or ballast belt, it will be just what is wanted.

TENNIS, ANYONE?

The tennis enthusiast can never have enough balls, and a new racquet can be an ideal gift.

LET'S GO FISHING

If fishing's the favorite—there's an almost unlimited choice of gifts! Rod and reel sets are specifically designed for sport or fresh-water fishing, and come in a wide price range.

Accessories for the fisherman include special flies and lures, spin kits, creel and net combinations, tackle boxes and waterproof vests complete with small pockets to hold gear.

OTHER SPORTS

The golfer and bowler fall into easy-to-please categories. New clubs, golf balls, or a golf cart or bag will please the former. The latter is probably hoping for a ball and shoe bag, a pair of bowling shoes or personal bowling ball.

A gift all the family will enjoy eventually is camping equipment or accessories. It will be put to good use as outdoor living is more and more indulged in as a family activity.

Sleeping bags, air mattresses, duffel bags, camp stoves and lanterns, and all types of portable equipment can be used throughout most of the year.

So for all good sports, gift-giving problems are easily solved. From simple to extravagant, there is a grand selection to choose from.

SWEATERS

If you want to give him something very stylish to wear, try the white bulky knit, with color trim. This is a big season for white in sweaters.

Charity Is Losing Out At Christmas

Like bells and stars and Christmas trees and Santa Claus . . . not too many years ago there was another wonderful "Christmas word" in our vocabulary. It was "CHARITY."

At that time its several secondary meanings, one of which is to "help those in need," stemmed always DIRECTLY from its original meaning . . . "the love of mankind."

Today, almost without exception, the word "service" has replaced "charity" in regard to doing a good turn for our less fortunate fellowmen.

It is indeed sad to speculate on what may have prompted this change.

"Service groups, working sometimes year 'round, have been organized to distribute baskets of food, trees and gifts to the Needy for us. This is, of course, a most commendable institution . . . but even more wonderful if the INDIVIDUALS in and behind the group are truly imbued with CHARITY.

"Love of mankind" was the inspiring element for all the acts performed by the Child born in Bethlehem going through His life. For that reason the virtual loss of the word "charity" is especially felt as Christmas nears.

In celebrating His birth this season, let us attempt to strengthen our HOPE, renew our FAITH —and breathe back life into CHARITY . . . doing what we will for one's fellowmen only because our hearts are full of love for others.

Enjoy 'Viking' Coffee For Novel Holiday Drink

An ideal Christmas beverage is one of the newest after-dinner drinks — Viking or Danish Coffee which combines piping hot coffee and mead.

Though mead is referred to throughout the Bible . . . in the legends of Robin Hood and King Arthur, and in the many tales of adventurous Vikings of Scandinavia . . . many folks do not know what it really is.

Mead is the natural fermentation of pure honey, fresh spring water, and the flavoring of hops. Most mead wine comes from the "fruit bowl" of Scandinavian, Odense, on the island of Funen, in Denmark. It has the bouquet of freshly-broken honeycomb and usually served chilled or over ice.

Viking (or Danish) Coffee is attractive to serve, has a pleasantly unique taste and is easily prepared!

In a stemmed glass pour 4 oz. piping hot coffee — Add 1½ oz. Danish mead wine — Top with whipped cream.

COLORFUL

Whether they are the real gem stones, or handsome copies, earrings in bright jewel stones are made to go with the festive season's colorful look.

Christmas Cards Are Fairly New

One hundred and fifteen years ago, on a cold December day in 1843, an English educator and art patron named Henry Cole, sat down at the desk in his library, and with a flourish of his pen, introduced a custom that has grown to encompass every country in the world.

He addressed to his friends, what were probably the first Christmas Cards ever printed.

The cards depicted a typically Victorian family gathered at the "festive board," and bore the now-classic greeting, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

Two months earlier in what was a historic move — Cole commissioned John Calcott Horsley, a Royal Academy Artist, to design the card. He printed a thousand lithographed copies, which were then hand-tinted by a professional "colorer."

That December, early in the month Cole posted some of the cards to his friends, and offered the remainder for sale in a London stationers shop.

The appearance of Henry Cole's card in the London of the 1840's coincided, curiously, with a period of great interest in Christmas in England.

Prince Albert, Victoria's consort, is reputed to have introduced the first decorated Christmas tree to England in this era, and Charles Dickens published his greatest Christmas story—"A Christmas Carol" in the very same year!

Christmas cards appeared in America only shortly thereafter. Their early origin is uncertain, but one story gives credit for the first Yule greeting to a New York State dry goods merchant, R. J. Pease of Albany.

Pease designed, printed and mailed one of the first examples of American Christmas Cards as an advertisement for his goods.

Decorated Greens Was Pagan Custom

Today the Christmas tree is the center of our festivities. Topped with a star and glittering with lights and ornaments, it is a part of the beauty and meaning of the Christmas season.

How did the Christmas tree come to play such an important part in the observance of Christmas?

Greens were brought into the home to provide a haven for friendly spirits, so that they might share in the feast of the winter solstice.

Even after the pagan significance was forgotten this custom survived among a people who loved the color and fragrance of fresh greens.

Legend traces the first lighted tree to Martin Luther, who used lights and decortions to reproduce the beauty of evergreen as seen on a snowy Christmas night.

The custom was imported into this country, and our first record of the use of Christmas trees in America, was by Hessian soldiers, who came from Germany in 1776, during the American revolution.

In 1804 a Christmas tree was mentioned as part of the celebration at Fort Dearborn, where Chicago now stands.

Trims The Trees With Fancy Eggs

"Easter Eggs" on a Christmas tree? Make them especially glittery and glamorous — and they are perfect on a miniature tree or a small piece of tree-shaped drift wood.

First paint brown hen's eggs and then trim with gold or silver braid, rick rack, sequins and jewels. Designs can be painted on with oil or water base paint. Thread a small ribbon through with a needle that has been waxed, and tie on to the tree with a bow. They're stunning!

THE YOUNG SOPHISTICATE will adore this pretty party dress. It's designed in a wrinkle resistant fabric woven of acetate and silk. Color stays newly bright fabric stays crisp always.

SIGNS OF THE ZODIAC complement this handsome wall clock. It's the perfect gift for those who like to look to the future . . . as well as for any who delight in attractive and unusual decoration accessories.

THE BRACELET BAG is the important accessory that's a "must" for every woman on your Christmas list. It's softly shaped in beautiful all-wool velour in the season's favorite colors.

MAGIC TOUCH OF ELEGANCE for Christmas giving is this tenbutton bejeweled, white leather glove. An all-over design of embroidered crescent moons set with tiny flashing rhinestones and holiday sparkle!

HOW VERY FESTIVE she looks in her white dress of "Everglaze" cotton damask. The tiny waistline above the bouffant skirt is accented with a cummerbund-sash of silver and gold "Everglaze" cotton satin.

Warm, Wooly Gifts Theme On Male List

What do men want for Christmas 1958? Particularly popular during the cold winter months ahead are soft, comfortable wool sports shirts. They look like a page out of a man's fashion magazine when worn with fine tweed sports coats on winter weekends or even sans wool jacket.

When buying one, check first the color of his sports coat to make sure the shirt harmonizes correctly. Remember, solid-color sports shirts look best with striped or checked wool Shetland sports coats. Other sports coat patterns go with fancy patterned sports shirts.

You'll find men prefer wool shirts because they're light on the shoulders, yet provide the right degree of warmth when temperatures drop to the below freezing mark.

If that man is athletically inclined; let's say he spends his winter weekends at a ski lodge, then gift him with an easy-to-pack wool jersey knit sports shirt of the pull-over type.

Wool jersey is the newest fashion fabric for active men this winter. It will be available in time for Christmas gift giving in button-front and pull-over sports shirts, sweaters and sweater-vests and sports coats. It won't crease or show a wrinkle; therefore, it's the right gift for travelers, too—especially business men.

As you've probably observed —shawl-collar sweaters are the favorite wool sweater style this winter. So, a Yuletide gift of a handsome shawl-collar sweater is proof that you think lots of him —be he the favorite son . . . Dad . . . or Grandpa!

Perfect for the college boy is the shawl collar pullover wool sweater; it's easy to get into and is the authentic campus sweater this year. At schools east, west, north or south, "Joe College" will be grateful for a shawl collar come cold weather.

Enjoy Zesty Flavor In Special Cake

Danish wines in delicious fruit flavors are among the most popular of imports, and favored by clever homemakers who pride themselves on preparing Holiday treats with new and intriguing flavors.

One such fruit cake is enhanced by the use of Danish wine; it's sure to find favor with all lovers of fine food. Try it this Christmas!

DANISH WINE FRUIT CAKE

⅛ lb. candied cherries
½ lb blanched almonds
1 lb nectar raisins
½ cup Danish strawberry or blackberry wine
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup shortening
6 eggs, well-beaten
½ lb. candied pineapple
1 lb. pecans
½ lb. citron, thinly-sliced
½ tsp. each of nutmeg, cinnamon, allspice, cloves
½ lb. brown sugar
½ cup molasses

Leave cherries whole. Cut pineapple in wedges. Cut nuts in quarters. Leave raisins whole. Place all fruits and nuts in a bowl and pour Danish Strawberry wine over them. Let stand overnight.

Sift flour with spices. Cream shortening. Add sugar gradually and cream well. Add well-beaten eggs. Beat well. Add fruit and Danish wine. Mix in flour alternately with molasses, beginning and ending with flour.

Pour batter into loaf cake pans lined with heavy waxed paper. Fill each pan to within ½ inch of rim. Bake in oven at 275 F for 2 to 4½ hours, depending upon the size of fruit cakes.

Cool thoroughly. Wrap each cake in cheesecloth soaked in Danish strawberry or blackberry wine. Store in tightly covered containers for about one month to mellow before serving. Dampen cheesecloth several times during storage.

Know Diamonds At Christmas

If this Christmas you are going to buy a diamond ring for a "special some one," this brief review of the more popular diamond shapes and cuts used in ring design should be of interest to you.

You may already know that one of the most popular of all cuts of diamonds, often chosen for engagement rings, is the brilliant cut. The fiery lights of the diamond are enhanced by 58 tiny planes, or facets, cut on a perfectly round stone.

Unlike a brilliant cut which is always the same shape, emerald cuts come in a variety of shapes. Usually they are oblong, but some are long oblongs and others are almost square. It is so named because the diamond is actually cut and faceted in the same way as are emeralds.

THEY HOLD ANSWERS

Pick Gifts From Variety Of Books

Books hold the answer to just about every practical or esthetic problem we can encounter—and at Christmas time, books are definitely the answer for the "have everything" or "difficult to please" on your list.

Whether selected for reading pleasure or reference, you'll find just the book to suit every taste, preference and interest on the shelves of your local book shop.

Family groups will appreciate a beautifully bound Bible. Dictionaries and works of reference are also fine family gifts which will be used constantly.

For the hobbyist you'll find complete volumes on every subject from astronomy to zoology, including gardening, cooking, sewing, decorating, "how-to" subjects, and all the sports.

There's a host of informative books for the arm-chair traveler, which will transport him mentally to every far-away place he's ever dreamed of.

Books for children cater to every youthful interest, from the love of adventure to their eagerness to learn.

From books they can learn in a practical manner just what it takes to be a doctor, jet-pilot, atomic scientist, or whatever else they are interested in becoming.

It's plain to see, that whatever their age, a good book can still be the perfect answer to "what to give so-and-so."

SUGGESTIONS OFFERED

Finding A Suitable Gift Is No Problem

Finding a gift for the people who seem to "have everything" is no problem this year, say the Luggage and Leather Goods Manufacturers of America. A selection of distinctive and unusual items will be available to solve your problems.

For the man who smokes, what could be more perfect than a leather covered pipe? A similar guy might like a tobacco humidor in pigskin shaped cans, sized exactly like a football, or a smaller cigaret box just like a basketball.

The convivial traveler will be delighted with a deluxe bar-in-a-suitcase which contains bottles, shaker, glasses and the necessary accoutrements for mixing.

If it's a relative who is family-minded, choose a perfect gift from among several photo aloum labeled "My Grandchildren," "Family Reunions," or othr titles for the unofficial collector of family records and events.

One puzzler on your list will enjoy a leather kit containing several decks of cards and pencils, plus score pads for his or her favorite card games; these come in sets of six or more. Another complete game set will allow for many evenings of fun with checkers, chess, backgammon and many more, all in one handy case.

The executive on your list gets checked off when you see the desk accessories covered in polished leather, piped in gold. There is a special gadget which holds his spectacles in an upright case, or a combination scissors and letter opener.

Somthing "different" in billfolds is ostrich, which is luxurious and yet practical, or fine morocco dressed with a gold tab on which the owner's signature is engraved.

LUXURY LEATHER is a gift that she probably wouldn't dream of buying for herself! This dramatic evening jacket in softest leather has a squared-off neckline.

Christmas State Title Claimed By California

Sunny, (southern) California where balmy breezes sway the palm trees . . . could this be the "Christmas State"?

There are many unique Christmas activities carried on in the area that suggest it well may be . . . and after all, The Christ Child was born in a land of palms and desert sands.

To support what may be a claim to this title, first of all, there is the official "Nation's Christmas Tree," located in central California. At its site a program is held each Christmas.

The poinsettia was really developed just north of Los Angeles in Ventura, now called "Poinsettia City."

Today, however, San Diego is better-known as the poinsettia center. Annually during the holidays the city has parades, a fiesta and a game in the Poinsettia Bowl.

An awe-inspiring sight nearby is the 100 acres of poinsettias at Camp Pendleton.

Home of the famous Della Robbia wreaths is in Chino.

Among the first community Christmas trees was one placed atop Mt. Wilson near Pasadena.

Just outside Pasadena in Altadena is a famous mile-long avenue called "Christmas Tree Lane." Each Christmas huge deodar cedars are beautifully lighted and visited by many.

FOR THE 'BIG' SHAVER

If Pop doesn't have an electric razor give him one for Christmas. There are many new models available — you'll surely find one that's just right for light or heavy beards, to give Dad just what he's always wanted, "A close shave!"

Plan Early For Holiday, Advice Given

The "fuss" of Christmas is very little "bother" if you plan and begin to carry out those plans well in advance of the 25th.

To help you get started right—here's a general check list:

1) Make Christmas gift list: Check on sizes, addresses, mailing deadlines.

2) Make card list: Check addresses.

3) Plan holiday entertaining: Guest lists, food, entertainment (if any).

4) Plan decorations: Check leftover items and note what must be replaced or added.

5) Buy gifts: File receipts in case of exchange. Buy cards (order ahead if to be imprinted). Buy decorations. Buy fancy and mailing wrappings, ribbon, twine, stickers labels. Buy postage stamps for cards.

6) Wrap gifts for mailing. Address cards for out-of-town mailing. Take both to post office.

7) Wrap and deliver fancy gifts. Address and mail any invitations to holiday parties.

8) Prepare home: Clean decorate, do baking, buy food.

9) Relax! Get manicure, hair done, clothes in order, etc.

10) Last minute meal preparation, etc.

Enjoy this holiday more than any before!

Why December 25 Is Called Christ's Birth

It is common knowledge that the true date of Christ's birth has not yet been determined . . . but have you wondered why the 25th of December was selected to celebrate Christ's birth?

For a long time the 6th of January was celebrated as the day of the Nativity, and was not changed to the earlier date until about 375 A.D.

According to the Roman Julian calendar, the 25th of December was reckoned the winter solstice, and the birthday of the sun!

This was the day that the light lengthened, and the powers of the sun once again grew strong.

It was a symbolic promise that once again the heat of the sun would make the grass grow.

The Christian Church felt that by turning the 25th of December sun festival into a Holy Day, they could convert many non-believers from their worship of the sun to Him who is called the "Son" of Righteousness."

Bracelets Charm All The Girls

A bracelet of a simple link chain and a single charm makes a gift that will grow with significance and sentimental value as the years go on, and one, incidentally, which will provide you with plenty of gift ideas for the future.

Fill her bracelet with a series of symbolic charms, or with a collection of one kind of charm, or with charms to complement her interests and activities — a chain of miniature dogs, for instance, or a fleet of tiny boats, a golf bag, a dressmaker's dummy, a diminutive typewriter with keys that push down, a tiny heart set with a ruby, or one of many, many more.

Bracelet charms are available in sterling silver as well as in karat gold. Some are set with tiny pearls, diamonds or colored stones. For every occasion that you want a charm, you'll find several from which to choose at your jeweler's.

HAPPY MOMENTS of family togetherness can be kept all year 'round when they give each other wonderful, carefree robes in an Acrilan and wool blend. These robes look so luxurious, feel so elegant and wash in moments—with hardly any ironing required. Best of all, they stay new looking as when first worn on Christmas morn!

CAPTURE CHRISTMAS MEMORIES IN COLOR! — Practically all cameras today accept color film—from the deluxe models to the simple, economical box-type. Let color pictures capture YOUR holiday joys.

BUSINESS 'SUITS' — A brief case for the businessman is a professional accessory, to be chosen with an eye to his work habits. Among types most favored are the slim envelope with tuck-lock flap; the continental attache case (rear) and the underarm zipper case with handles which disappear. In leather or vinyl coverings.

MODERN DOLL HOUSE FURNITURE promises to be one of this Christmas season's biggest toy hits, according to toy guidance experts. The imported furniture shown here is custom styled and precision made. And, since every child's household needs toys, suggestions are the musical books, dancing monkeys and their music boxes, above. Delightful gifts all!

When an adversary opens the bidding, it is reasonable to presume that outstanding cards are held by him. That does not, however, mean that the location of these cards should be taken for granted if there is a safer method for declarer to attain his ends.

West's opening bid is accepted modern procedure. North chose to make a mere overcall instead of doubling, because he felt that if South were unable to take voluntary action there would be no game available for his side.

South, though he held a sound club rais, though it preferable to bid two no trump because game in clubs appeard too remote. North cheerfully proceeded to three no trump.

The 10 of diamonds was opened and declarer took it for granted that West held the king. He played low from dummy and East won. The deuce of hearts was returned and the suit established by the defense before the ace of clubs was dislodged. Declarer was unable to bring home nine tricks in time.

Altho the king of diamonds is probably in the hand of the opening bidder, the proper play to the first trick is the ace of diamonds. If West has the king, he'll have it a minute or two later and when he is in, will be unable to safely lead hearts.

After the ace of diamonds is taken, the clubs are cleared at once and West holds the king of spades as part of his opening bid, inasmuch as he lacked the king of diamonds.

If he is not now content in running his nine tricks, he may go for overtricks by trying the spade finesse. When the king drops on the second round, the rest of the tricks are his.

But at trick one it was vital for declarer not to risk the loss of a valuable time unit.

Girl Scout News

Checking the recent work - and-play day at Pine Wood, we find that 357 people, representing 25 troops, took part in the day's activities. Though rain threatened early in the day, the weather cooperated beautifully. With everybody in a huge horseshoe around the flag pole, the day's events started with a flag ceremony in charge of Troop 8, followed by announcements and assignment of jobs. Each troop then went to work and about the business of having fun.

Troop 1 swept pine needles off the roof, and planted a patch of red clover as well. Troop 8 washed windows and screens and then built a fire and made hot cocoa to go with their nosebag lunches. Some troops just disappeared into the trees and weren't seen until time to go home. Girls of Troop 33 went down to Century Oak Unit, cut young persimmon trees and lashed a table, the only requirement they lacked on the Campcraft badge. Becky Middleton and Mickie Varnado, of Troop 24, helped the girls with the project.

Troop 15 had looked forward to making campfire stew instead of bringing nosebag lunches. The girls reported a successful cookout. Troop 42 tried their luck with coffee can casserole and were most successful. Many were the small fires around in safe places, over which the girls toasted marshmallows or made some-mores. Many of the troops were brand new ones, whose girls had not been to camp before. Needless to say, they got a thrill out of being with the crowd. Grownups enjoyed the day as much as the girls. They say it's most relaxing to be away from the telephone and the interruptions for a few hours.

The new troop of Intermediate Scouts from Downsville joined the group for the day and were taken in charge by Kaki Stone and Kay Joyce, who showed them the ropes.

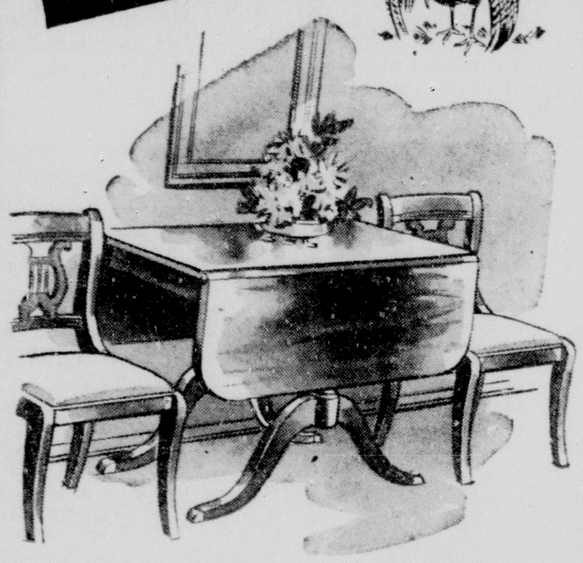

Girls from Troop 24 and Janet Noland, Pat Porter, and Sissi Loftin helped show new troops around camp and accompanied them on short hikes to the river. Billie Marien Agin and Neila Harknett helped with the new troop from Plum Street School, and Pat Ayers, Susan Benton, Anna Margaret Miller, Polly Johnson, Barbara Suomi, and Robbie Hicks also shared their experience and skills with groups of younger girls. Sooner or later, every group must have hiked somewhere. Before going home many of the troops enjoyed singing together around a fire and engaged in such lively games as "Rabbits in a Trap."

The girls and their leaders agreed that the camp looked improved after their work and that all had had fun. After all, we called it a "work and play" day, didn't we?

Neighborhood meeting this week are Bastrop, Monday at 7:00 at the home of Mrs. Leroy Martin, Southside, Monroe, at Plum Street School at 1:10; Northside at 10:00 Wednesday at the home of Mrs. G. W. Pomeroy, 1303 Speed Drive, and College Neighborhood at 1:15 at Memorial Methodist Church. A neighborhood meeting is a chance for adults in Scouting to share in the work of the council, to share their ideas, to get acquainted.

'AMAHL AND THE NIGHT VISITORS'

Christmas Opera Scheduled

By MARY ANNE CORPIN
Staff Writer

The song of the Three Kings will be heard again on Tuesday night, November 25, when the Christmas opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors" is presented at Neville High School auditorium.

The story of the little crippled boy and his widowed mother, who are visited by the three Wise Men on their way to find the Christ Child, is sung in English.

Brought to Monroe as the first of four concerts in the 1958-59 season by the Twin City Symphony, the opera has become well-known as NBC's trational TV Christmas production.

The soloists are starting their second nationwide tour, and one of their first performances this year will begin at 8:30 p.m. a week from Tuesday at Neville.

COMMISSIONED

In 1951, Gian-Carlo Menotti was commissioned by the National Broadcasting Company to write an opera for television.

"I simply didn't have one idea in my head," he admits . . . until one gloomy November afternoon, when he browsed through the rooms of the Metropolitan Museum in New York City and stopped to look at a painting of "The Adoration of the Kings."

It recalled his childhood in Italy, when "Santa Claus" was unknown and gifts were brought at Christmastime by the Three Kings.

That painting inspired him to write "Amahl," an opera which tries to recapture his own childhood.

Remembering those experiences, he confesses: "I actually never met the Three Kings — it didn't matter how hard my little brother and I tried to keep awake at night to catch a glimpse of the Three Royal Visitors, we would always fall asleep just before they arrived."

"But I do remember hearing them," he continues. "I remember the weird cadence of their song in the dark distance; I remember the brittle sound of the camels' hooves crushing the frozen snow; and I remember the mysterious tinkling of their silver bridles."

All this is captured in the opera, sung in English so each word may be understood by the audience.

CLIMAX

The story has an unexpected climax, and one Monroe resident who has heard the opera before, comments that "it is an unforgettable scene."

Dr. Harry Lemert, musical director of the Symphony orchestra and professor at Northeast State College, will conduct the opera performance.

The orchestra, composed of musicians from Monroe, West Monroe, El Dorado, Ark., and Shreveport, will furnish the music for the evening.

The shepherd's chorus will be composed of the Northeast Concert Choir — 22 members of the 59 in the College Singers Organization at the college.

Lee W. Fiser, director of choral groups at Northeast, will rehearse them in the songs of welcome to the Three Kings, who are following the Star to the Holy Child.

The opera features a short ballet section, "The Shepherd's Dance" performed by Mrs. Patricia Wattley, Glenda Sue Young and Curtis Rape.

Mrs. Wattley, who has had extensive training and experience in classical ballet, directs the choreography for the dance.

A Christmas opera to start the Yuletide season . . . music by a symphony orchestra . . . the added attraction of a brief ballet within the English - sung opera— all await the audience which watches "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

THE THREE KINGS — In their luxurious royal garments, the Three Kings of the east, accomplished by their "Page", pause on their way to find the Christ Child, to rest for the night. Their contact with "Amahl", a little crippled boy and his widowed mother forms the story for the opera, "Amahl and the Night Visitors." Portraying the Kings, left to right, are Andrew McKinley, Leon Lishner and David Aiken.

Tales Fly As Newsmen Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — There is an old story about two strangers striking up a conversation in a San Francisco bar.

"I used to be a newspaperman," said one.

"So did I," said the other. "I used to be day city editor of the old Chicago Herald and Examiner."

"So did I — and, now that you mention, who hasn't?"

Each autumn this large brigade of former day city editors (who changed almost daily at the Herald and Examiner) and their competitors get together to recall, enlarge and sometimes elaborate upon the lore of Chicago newspapering.

The occasion is the annual meeting of the Chicago Press Veterans Assn. whose membership is restricted to those who worked on Chicago newspapers 20 or more years ago.

This year the meeting is Nov. 21.

The association is an elite corps made up of men like George Schreiber, who became a reporter because of a picnic, and Harry Reutlinger, probably the only managing editor who was ever chased by a mop - wielding saint.

The association is exclusive but money has nothing to do with it. Dues are $2 a year, a recent 100 per cent increase over the charge set by the founding fathers back when a buck was a buck.

Instead of meeting every two months or so and attracting a dozen members a meeting, the association convenes only one night a year and just about everybody turns out.

If the Western Electric Co. hadn't had a picnic one day in 1915, Schreiber never might have qualified for membership. Now he is chairman, or top man, of the association.

Workers at the Western Electric plant boarded the steamer Eastland in downtown Chicago for a day's outing. The boat overturned at its moorings and 815 lives were lost.

Schreiber was then a messenger in the business department of the Chicago Tribune. It's city editor, Frank Carson, gave Schreiber names and addresses of seven casualties and told him to go to their homes and get pictures.

A few hours later when Schreiber returned to the city room Carson asked:

"Well, Sonny, how many did you get?"

"Seven," Schreiber told him.

"You're in the wrong end of this business," Carson decided. "You should be a reporter."

Schreiber took his advice.

Reutlinger, an ageless little man with a flair for fine clothes, is the immediate past chairman of the association. In his long career he is most proud of two accomplishments:

1. He is managing editor of the Chicago American where he first went to work in knee pants as a copy boy.

2. He once was chased by a saint.

As a young reporter, Reutlinger was sent to Columbus Hospital to try for an interview with a patient who was an elusive figure in the news.

Rebuffed at the reception desk, he went up a fire escape and began peeking in doors. As he tiptoed along, he came upon a nun swishing a mop over a corridor floor. She spotted him as an interloper and, dripping mop in hand, chased him out of the hospital.

The nun today is known to Roman Cathlics as St. Francis Xavier Cabrini, the first U. S. citizen to be cananized a saint.

At each meeting, someone reads a list of members who have passed on since the last assembly. Some of the veterans disagree whether reading necrology at so gay an affair is in good taste. One member who endorses continuance of the tradition put it this way:

"It's nice standing there with your head bowed and not hearing your name called."

Spiritual Home Of Ismaili Moslems Is Now At Harvard

By TOM HENSHAW
Associated Press Writer

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A Spartan suite of dormitory rooms at stately old Harvard is now the spiritual headquarters for some 20 million Ismaili Moslems scattered through exotic places halfway around the world.

It's the college home of his highness, the Aga Khan IV, darkly handsome, 21-year-old Imam of the Ismailis, a direct descendant of the prophet Mohammed and, until next June, a student.

The Aga Khan has been to Harvard before. But that was before he donned the Imam's robes as successor to his grandfather, the Aga Khan III, who died in July, 1957. Then he was simply Prince Karim Khan—or just plain "K" to his classmates — at a college where princes are no novelty. Things have changed for "K" at Harvard.

"When he was here before," says a classmate, "he was best known for being vaguely related to Rita Hayworth (the actress-second wife of his father, Aly Khan). Now, there's an air of Oriental mysticism about him. Guys are a little afraid of him."

On the surface, the Aga Khan is just another undergrad sauntering across Harvard Yard with a blue notebook under his arm or holding a tray in the dormitory chow line or intent on earning his letter as a member of the varsity soccer team.

But the Aga at Harvard goes deeper than that. He carries more courses (five) and probably studies harder than most students; he works fulltime at administering the spiritual and many of the physical needs of his people and he refuses, politely but absolutely, to talk about his personal affairs.

Followers of the new Aga contribute from 2½ to 10 per cent of their incomes to his custody. Most of it goes for charitable works among the Ismailis. However, when the Aga received a particularly large package at Harvard, charity didn't stop a fellow student from cracking: "Ah, money from home!"

This is the Aga Khan at Harvard:

Like some 400 other men of Harvard he lives in a compact apartment in redbrick, white-trimmed Leverett House, the smallest of seven upper class dormitories.

But, unlike most of his housemates, the Aga lives alone. In the past, when he was Karim Khan, he had a series of roommates, including John Fell Stevenson, youngest son of Adlai Stevenson, twice-defeated Democratic presidential candidate.

The Aga carries a hefty study load. He missed more than a year's work while assuming the role of Imam. He wants to graduate in June. That's why he's taking five courses in his major, Oriental history. Most Harvard students take only four.

In addition to studies, the Aga works hard at his job of Ismaili leader. The administrative work is carried on by letter and cable in the nearby hotel suite of his secretary, Gaetane Beguel, a blonde Frenchwoman who held the same post with his grandfather. The only other member of his official party in Cambridge is his personal aide, Michael Curtis, former editor of the London News Chronicle.

AMAHL — Shown here with his mother is Amahl, star of the Christmas opera. The opera, sung in English, will be presented here at Neville High School on Tuesday, Nov. 25 at 7:30 p.m. The New York cast will appear in their original roles.

RARELY BEEN IN TROUBLE

Adams' Successor Been In Washington For Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wilton Burton Persons, the man who stepped into the shoes of presidential assistant Sherman Adams, has been an affable man about Washington for many years and has rarely been in any political trouble.

In a capital bristling with booby traps and pitfalls, this is no mean accomplishment. But the 62-year-old, Army-reared politician has others, Gen. George C. Marshall, who headed America's World War II effort, once called him "the best public relations man alive."

Persons, a retired major general who did most of his soldiering at assorted desks, seems disposed to say "Yes" as readily as Adams, his dour predecessor, was apt to say "No."

In moving up from deputy assistant to chief aide to his longtime friend President Eisenhower, Persons becomes one of the most powerful men in the executive branch. He shares this distinction with Adams. But otherwise it would be hard to pick two men less alike to handle the same job than Persons, the genial native of Montgomery, Ala., and Adams, the laconic former governor of New Hampshire.

Adams quit Sept. 21 in the wake of disclosures that he accepted gifts and favors from industrialist Bernard Goldfine, who had cases pending before federal regulatory agencies at the time.

As "congressional liaison officer" for the Army and subsequently the White House, Persons has been busy in Washington almost constantly since 1931. For years Persons, whose salary now increases from $21,700 to $22,500 has been on a first-name basis with congressmen and newspapermen.

On the record, Persons is a popular man, and everyone who commented publicly on his appointment had pleasant words.

A desire to "get along" apparently is one of Persons' major characteristics and traces back to his childhood.

Persons was third to five rollicking boys. He is the one, his brothers remember, who was never in trouble. The oldest brother, Frank, now 71 and a retired Episcopal minister, says, "Burt was mama's pet. He was always the family favorite. He was obedient and didn't give mother and dad much trouble like the rest of us did."

This ability to get along was also evident at Miss Gussie Woodruff's Private Elementary School in Montgomery and during his years at Starke University School, a private high school which stood opposite the Alabama state capitol.

Discipline was severe at Starke as it was in Persons' barnlike red brick home on tree-shaded Adams Street.

WORLD'S OLDEST

Elisha's Spring Is Still In Use

JERICHO, Jordan (AP) — The spring that Elisha made sweet still waters the countryside around the oldest known town in the world.

But today the women who fetch water from the spring far outnumber the inhabitants of nearby ancient Jericho, which archaeologists recently found to be older than any other community ever excavated.

Archaeologists have been exploring the hill next to Elisha's spring since the 1890s. Their original purpose was to find the remains of the Jericho that fell to Joshua's army of Israelites between 1200 and 1400 B. C. But beneath those ruins they found traces of earlier civilizations.

An expedition led by British archaeologist Kathleen Kenyon has been digging at the site every winter for the past five years The hill is dotted with big, square pits, 50 or 60 feet deep, that are the result of the expedition's work. At the bottom are old fortifications and the ruins of houses.

The expedition used the Carbon - 14 test to measure the amount of radioactivity still present in the organic material found in the ruins, thereby determining the age of the material. Miss Kenyon's conclusion was that a Neolithic town existed at Jericho as long ago as 7,000 B. C., perhaps even earlier.

The discovery upset many earlier theories about the origin of civilizaton, placing it three to four thousand years earlier than previously suspected.

"For hundreds of thousands of years primitive man . . . was a nomad, following the supplies of wild food and wild animals," Miss Kenyon wrote in her book, "Digging Up Jericho."

"The revolutionary step forward was the discovery that wild grains could be cultivated and made more productive, and wild animals herded and their products made constantly available.

"With this discovery, the growth of fixed settlements became possible . . . It is in the inception of this revolution that Jericho takes a great place, a place which our excavations suggest may even be that of leader."

Steps carved in the dirt sides of the archaeologists' trenches lead down past different layers of civilization to the most ancient ruins, which are encircled by stone walls 18 feet high. Another part of the fortifications is a great tower, 27 feet in diameter and built of solid stone. In the center is a staircase with 20 stone slab steps leading down to a horizontal passage, where the archaeologists found 12 human skeletons. Outside the stone wall are traces of earlier, rougher fortifications.

"We may . . . envisage prepottery Neolithic ericho as a pottery Neolithic Jericho as a culture with all the attributes of civilization, except that of a written language," Miss Kenyon writes. "The town must have been almost modern, or at least medieval in appearance, and it must have been surrounded by fertile fields."

Over the centuries, civilization followed civilization at the oasis of Jericho. There was a Proto - Urban Age Jericho and a Bronze Age Jericho. Some civilizations were displaced by warfare, and others by natural calamities There is evidence that it was an earthquake which brought down the walls as Joshua and his army circled the town for the seventh day.

Soviets Slap At Frivolous Youth

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

"Life is short, so let's not be fools and live it up while we can," said an anonymous letter to the Moscow newspaper Komsomol Pravda describing feelings of one group of young Russians.

"We're going to grab from life all its pleasures and delights," the Soviet youth continued.

Such young people are not very interested in politics, particularly of the Communist variety Komsomol Pravada condemned them and other young people like them, but the fact remains they represent views typical of a big cross section of Russian young people.

"They sure are in love with the luxuries of life," said a Russian - speaking American who became acquainted with many of the Moiseyev dancers during their tour of the United States this year.

This is another aspect of the same mood. Komsomol Pravda recently discovered in the Siberian metropolis of Novosibirsk a group of Russian young people who believe in "Freedom of morals" and who have established a club where they devote themselves solely to having a good time, usually with the assistance of vodka. The Soviet youth paper again was outraged at the existence of such attitudes.

Russian young people and their hostile attitudes toward the stern and hardworking life prescribed for them by the Communist Party are a frequent subject in the Soviet humor magazine "Kordodil." Particularly condemned in cartoons in this journal are young people who do not want to migrate to Siberia or the Far North to work under primitive conditions where the government sends them after they finish universities and institutes.

Thus Krokodil pictures two girls sitting in Moscow on a park bench and the one says to the other:

"Again I've had back luck. This is my fifth husband who has been sent off to work in the provinces.

The cartoon was referring to the fact that many Soviet girls marry men working in Moscow in order to escape having to work in cold and distant areas.

Another constant Krokodil subject is parents who use personal pull to get their children into higher educanal institutions. One such published a little while ago shows a mother addressing a father while a girl stands in the background.

The mother says to the father: "It's about time you discussed with daughter which institute you're going to get her admitted to this fall."

The obvious point was that she had flunked out of several previously.

Spoiled children whose parents pamper their every wish and who take full advantage of the situation, young men and women imitating Western fashions and contemptuously indifferent to Communist ideas, youths whose only desire is to dance to Western rhythms hour after hour, boys and girls who run away from the construction projects to which they are sent in the Soviet east and north — all of these are the more or less permanent subject matter of a stream of editorials, cartoons and more active measures taken by the Soviet Communist Party.

And the more such papers as Komsomol Pravda and such magazines as Krokodil condemn them the more there seem to be of such anti-political youths who want to enjoy life and are sick and tired of the dull drabness of Soviet Communist society.

DRASTIC CHANGE IN 100 YEARS

Afrikander Churches Go Modern

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) —More than a century ago, the great chief of the Zulu tribe, Dingaan, raised his voice and commanded his warriors:

"Kill the sorcerers!"

Whereupon Dingaan's tribesmen fell upon and slew one of South Africa's pioneers, Piet Retief, and 70 of his men in one of the most chilling chapters in Afrikander history.

Now, a mission church is rising on the slope where the sun once glistened on the bronzed muscles of Dingaan's pagan warriors and the church is writing history of a different kind.

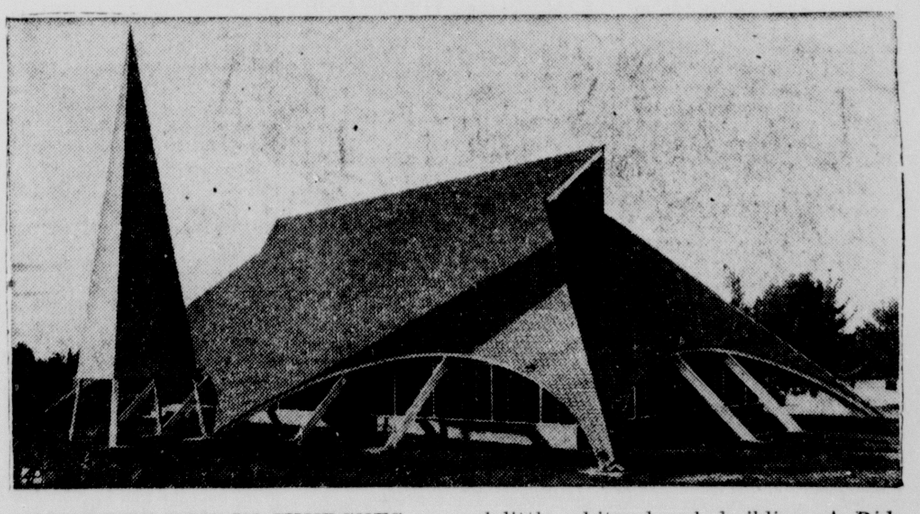

It is the latest in a series of strikingly modern church buildings being erected by the extremely conservative Dutch Reformed Churches in South Africa.

The design of the new building is both ultra-modern and in the Zulu tradition. The semi-circular entrance recalls Zulu architecture; lattice gates representing his protecting kraal walls. The designer attempted to avoid all Western ideas apart from the liturgy which is kept pure.

There are three Afrikaans Churches, each of which is without distinction called "Dutch Reformed.'.' The smallest of the three, commonly called the "Doppers," is often berated as the most narrow-minded of the three. Yet it was the Doppers who initiated the revolution in ecclesiastical architecture three years ago.

A young architect of Pretoria, Johan de Ridder, himself a Dopper, got the assignment to design a new church in the small town Parys. De Ridder, then 25 years of age, shook the country with his church. Grizzled church-fathers were speechless But the mass of the church's followers were pleased.

De Ridder's fame spread and he has since been asked to design numerous new Afrikaans churches. He made a study of ecclesiastical architecture and has endeavoured to embody some scriptural symbolism in every structure.

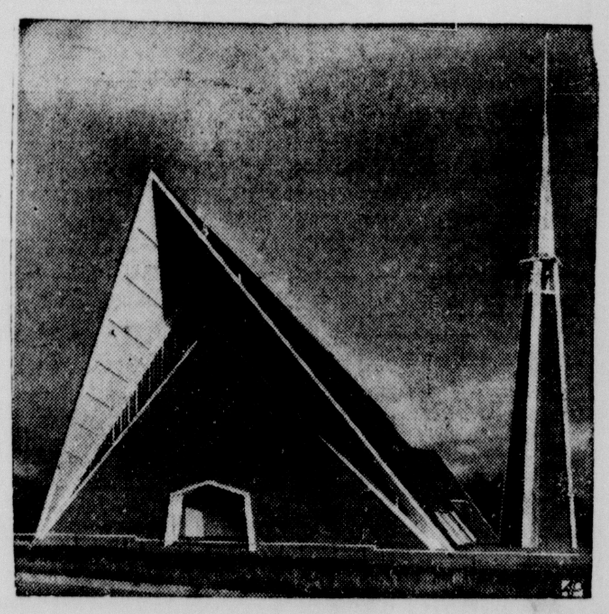

SOMETHING NEW IN CHURCHES — Modernism is rearing a sleek head in South Africa's fundamentalist Dutch Reformed Church. Extremely modernistic and symbolic church architecture, designed by Johan de Ridder of Pretoria, gradually is replacing the traditional little white church building. A Ridder-designed church in Pretoria (above) is shaped like a camp-meeting tent. Church in Parys (right) started the trend toward modernistic architecture.

The most striking example of this is a Dopper church recently completed in Lyttleton, Pretoria, in which he represented the shape of a tent. The symbolism in this instance is that of the Tabernacle of Israel, and of the Church on earth, ever trekking on its pilgrimage to Eternity

De Ridder's latest church is being erected in Potchefstrom. It stands next to a small old church in which stern old President Paul Kruger listened to God's messages 70 years ago. The new church is connected to the old by an open passageway to form a new unity.

One of De Ridder's first modern churches was built in Krugersdorp. Strongly emphasized lines all point heavenward. The steeple is milky white, symbolical of the purity of the Church of Christ. The roof is like two enormous wings — the protecting hands of God over his congregation.

One of the churches De Ridder planned for Vereeniging, is based on the style of the first Basilica churches in Sixth Century Europe.

The Little League (teen-age baseball players) was first organized in Williamsport, Pa., in 1939. Rhode Island, Delaware and Connecticut are the smallest states in the Union.

-THE ARTS-

NEW YORK (UPI) — Various aspects of marriage, long a dramatic standby, are relied upon to provide laughs in three of the season's new comedies.

Only one of them is about the wedded state in the thematic sense, but the other two depend for much of their substance on the fact that the leading characters are man and wife.

The fact that this relationship is somewhat spurious in the case of Harry Kurnitz' "Once More, With Feeling," doesn't matter. In fact, legalizing matters is a strong point in the plot.

Kurnitz, a master of the sharp line and the barbed retort, has fun with the world of classical music in this one, especially in regard to an egocentric conductor, played by Joseph Cotten. Arlene Francis plays the former harpist who everyone assumes has been married to him for years.

When she leaves him, he becomes harder to handle than ever, and in a short time has so alienated everyone that he has difficulty getting an orchestra to conduct. It seems that she was the diplomatic balance wheel that had kept his career going.

Finally he gets a chance at a big post, but only if the "wife" comes back. Then it is revealed that they never were married, and that she is about to marry someone else. Getting her back into the fold as a real wife becomes the problem of the conductor's harassed manager.

Kurnitz' lines and the playing of the manager by Walter Matthau create a number of good laughs, but it is an uneven work without much integrity or staying power. Cotten does well enough, but he just isn't the right type for the role. Miss Francis is a valuable asset.

In "The Marriage - go-Round," Leslie Stevens attempts a somewhat whimsical view of the married state as between a college professor and a dean of women who have been married for 25 years. It is a tricky presentation, with scenes being acted out at the center of the stage between brief sessions of the two principals at lecterns on opposite sides of the main set. They presumably are engaged in lecturing on the ways of male and female.

Their own lives are complicated by the arrival of a Swedish amazon who is determined to have a super-baby and has decided that the very intellectual professor must be the father. The wife's initial indulgence of this as a mere whim turns eventually into alarm as the professor shows signs of being interested.

Stevens' philosophical contributions are decidedly trivial, and the amusement often is forced. Only the skilled and likeable work of Claudette Colbert and Charles Boyer as the married couple and of the statuesque Julie Newmar as the menace keep it afloat.

Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn, who are married, play the wedded couple in "The Man in the Dog Suit" by Albert Beich and William H. Wright. For all its familiarity, it is a pleasant charade.

In this case the husband is a mild fellow who found that his marriage tied him up with a tycoon - type family, and that he had to conform by entering the banking business instead of becoming a tree surgeon.

Donning a dog suit for a masquerade party frees him of his inhibitions, and he comes to rely upon the suit to assert himself in moments of stress. The family delivers an ultimatum that the dog suit nonsense has to stop, and he knuckles under briefly for the sake of his family. But his need for freedom will not down, and he kicks over the traces for good. His wife sticks by him.

In short, marriage holds firm in all three cases.

Murder In Old Mexico Good Suspense One

A GAME FOR THE LIVING by Patricia Highsmith (Harper, $3.50).

This is a suspense novel with a little different twist in that the setting is in Mexico City and the characters, most of them anyway, are Mexicans.

The plot evolves around what happens when two men who are friends, share the love of a beautiful woman, and she is murdered.

Theodore Wolfgang Schiebelhut, resident of Mexico, had been on a painting trip, and, returning to Mexico City with his canveses, stopped off briefly at a party. He left the party to visit his mistress, Lelia. Late as the hour was, he knew Lelia would not mind being disturbed, would be delighted to see him.

But she did not answer his ring and her door was locked. He crawled through the transom and found the girl on her bed, murdered and mutilated.

When the police came they questioned Theodore first, and then their attention turned to Ramon Otero, Theodore's friend, and Lelia's lover, too.

Ramon had wanted to marry Lelia. Theodore had not.

The closely knit, comfortable and sensitive community in which Theodore and Ramon moved was shattered by the tragedy and the suspicions.

Miss Highsmith has written a novel of vivid character portrayal and fascinating motivations — particularly those of a man whose philosophy of life is threatened at a time when he has lost the woman he loves, and perhaps his best friend.

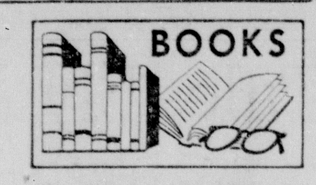

Kimmel's Book Has Limitations But Reads Well

MR. DAVIS' RICHMOND, By Stanley Kimmel. Coward-McCann. $7.50.

Stanley Kimmel, who turned out the handsome and eminently worthwhile story of "Mr. Lincoln's Washington," now turns his attention to the Richmond of Jefferson Davis, with results of somewhat lesser stature.

The fault is not Mr. Kimmel's. His text is of a caliber with his previous work — an excellent and engrossing picture of the city and its people. The limitations arise from the scarcity of Confederate photographs which would put gravy on the meat of the author's words. There are obvious efforts to overcome the limitations. Many of the illustrations are sketches of battle scenes from Leslie's Illustrated Weekly, a northern publication. Some of the best photographs were taken by Mathew Brady, after Richmond's fall. There are sketches of battles like Shiloh and Wilson's Creek which were far removed from Richmond. Within the limitations of his material, Kimmel has done extremely well.

Leyte, June 1944-January 1945, by Samuel Eliot Morison (Atlantic - Little Brown): At 4:08 a.m., Oct. 25, 1944, the aging battle-wagon Mississippi discharged her twelve 14-inch guns at the moribund Japanese battleship Yamashiro. It was "a funeral salute to a finished era of naval warfare." Air power had sounded the death knell of the classic naval "battle line." In this 12th volume of his history of U. S. naval operations in World War II, Morison retells the thrilling story of the Battle for Leyte Gulf, not only the greatest naval battle of all time but most likely the last big naval engagement involving massed fleets.

The story of the battle is exciting, romantic stuff. The author is quite right in concluding that it "should be an imperishable part of our national heritage."

The Jersey Lily. The Story of the Fabulous Mrs. Langtry, by Pierre Sichel (Random House): She began life as Lillie Le Breton on the Isle of Jersey. She became the rage of London society in the 1870's, the favorite of the Prince of Wales, a provocative woman noted for her great beauty. And when she had wearied of the parties and favors bestowed upon her she became a great actress. She toured the United States in an ornate special car. She owned the biggest steam yacht afloat. She had a townhouse in New York, a ranch in California, townhouses in London, a shooting box in England, a string of race horses. This is a well-documented story of an outstanding woman. The fictionalized passages were not necessary to make the story come to life.

Breakfast at Tiffany's, by Truman Capote (Random House): The first novel — a short one at that — from this gifted author in seven years. The story is about Holly Golightly, whose improbable name is matched by her improbable behavior. A beautiful girl of few if any morals, Holly finances her precarious existence by handouts from gentlemen friends. The plot doesn't matter much — it is Capote's sharp, first - person portraiture of an off-beat personality that captures the reader's interest and holds it. For good measure three short stories are included in the book — all excellent.

The Countries of Decision is the title given to the first four volumes of a 15-volume History of the Modern World to be published by the University of Michigan Press. The series is planned to furnish historical background for understanding current events. Each volume will deal with the history of a major nation or "power area" with particular stress on the past 100 years. The first four now available are Russia and the Soviet Union, by Warren Bartlett Walsh; The Near East, by William Yale; The Far East, by Nathaniel Peffer; Latin America, by James Fred Rippy. Editors of the series are Allan Nevins and Howard M. Ehrmann. Six more volumes will be published next year and the last five sometime later.

Metcalfe Pens Poems Of Faith In New Book

POEM PORTRAITS OF INSPIRATION By James J. Metcalfe (Hanover House, $2.95).

These are new poems of faith, courage and love by the author of the nationally syndicated column, Portraits which appear in The Morning World.

In this fine little book, Metcalfe speaks simply and directly to his readers on the subjects which touch them most deeply. There are 350 poems in the collection which have been gathered from Metcalfe's column. They have inspired millions of Americans with renewed faith, courage and hope.

E. E. CUMMINGS

Creative Figure Has Band Of Most Loyal Followers

THE MAGIC-MAKER: E. E. CUMMINGS. By Charles Norman. Macmillan. $8. 95 POEMS. By E. E. Cummings. Harcourt, Brace. $4.

Cummings, as Norman and Macmillan put it, or E. E. Cummings according to the poet and his publisher, is one of those contemporary creative figures who have managed to collect a small body of followers of utterly unshakable loyalty along with a wide public aware of their work but puzzled, disdainful or aloof —creative figures, also, who usually have not earned enough to live in a manner that would justify them to the masses, or seem like justice to the elite.

For some 40 years out of his 64, Cummings has lived in New York's Greenwich Village, mostly on Patchin Place, a short walk from a favorite haunt, Washington Square. Son of a minister, born in Massachusetts, graduate of Harvard, he broke away spectacularly in 1922 from all conservative association with "The Enormous Room," the story of his wartime imprisonment in France. No other American, including both Hemingway and Dos Passos, has left such an individual record of World War I experiences.

It's hard to know about the quality of his paintings, though I take Norman's word confidently; the one reproduced here that I like most is "New Hampshire," with its Marin mood. It's hard, too, to know about his dramatic works.

But the poetry is available to all, from "Tulips and Chimneys" of 1923 through a dozen volumes, such as "is 5," "1 x 1" and the new one. He's a romantic — in poem No. 65 of the 95, he says, " . . .not all matterings of mind equal one violet." He breaks up words with other words, punctuation marks or capitals to give time values, or emphasis, or for purely personal pleasure. We do not live in a poet's world; he has every right to try to capture our attention by whatever devices he pleases; my own attenton is captured and captivated by Cummings' devices —which are also more than devices, are indeed of themselves poetical expression.

The first book about Cummings, this is top - flight biography. Norman says, "I believe E. E. Cummings to be one of the truly great creators of our time," and he staunchly stands up to the reader and critic who cavil at this estimate. In a society where such off - beat creators as Stein, Joyce, Pound, Honegger, Picasso and how many others have won wide recognition and acceptance, it is flagrantly unjust to withhold them from their peer. Though Cummings was, to Harvard's credit, a Charles Elliot Norton professor of poetry there, he has never had a Pulitzer, and has come off only second best in National Book Awards. Poetry should speak for itself, but if ever biography could help persuade the prize - giving judges and juries, this one can. Norman is a scrapper, like Cummings; and only an aggressive and independent pair like this biographee and biographer could combine to produce this lively, rousing biography.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

Many New Books Have Been Added

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

The new books added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library during the past week offer a variety of reading information and entertainment. Two collections of short stories will earn the interest of the devotees of modern literature. They are "Breakfast at Tiffany's" by Truman Capote and "The Housebreaker of Shady Hill" by John Cheever. Both of these books are sophisticated in tone and make interesting reading if you like that sort of thing.

Two novels in a less serious vien are "After the Glory" by Helen Topping Miller and "The Moonflower" by Phyllis Whitney. Miss Miller's story has its setting in Tennessee during the reconstruction period and is concerned with the restoration of the family fortunes of a once proud family. "The Moonflower" is modern in period and deals with the wife of an atomic physicist who was faced with a serious problem. Norah Lofts, whose novels are always popular has written a book of short stories which she calls "Heaven in Your Hand." A vividly told story of the Civil War from the viewpoint of the common soldier is "The Scarlet Guidon" by Ray Toepfer. "Buckskin Affair" by Harry Sinclair Drago is a new western story while "The Burning of Troy" by Malcolm Gair is our latest addition to the mystery shelf.

The field of non-fiction is rich in material this week. Probably the book which is in greatest demand is "Aku-Aku" by Thor Heyerdahl, a very interesting account of the remains on Easter Island. The medical field has three titles of interest to the layman "The Final Face of Eve" is a book of psychiatry, which was written as a follow up to "The Three Faces of Eve." "Diabetes, as a way of life," by T. S. Danowiki is a most practical book, while "Doctors to the World" by Murray Morgan is an interesting account of the adventures of a medical missionary.

Books of a practical nature are always popular and this week there are several books of this type available. "Cooking the Smart Way" is the title of the new cookbook by Marion W. Flexner. "Understanding Electronics" is a very timely and excellent book written by John Lewellen. "Getting Along in Portugese" by Mario Pei will be most useful to anyone studying this language. R. C. M. Wright is the author of a book on "Roses" and Mabel Squires of a book called "The Art of Drying Plants and Flowers."

Three new books fall in the hymorous category. They are "Confessions of Mrs. Smith" by Elinor Goulding Smith, "But I wouldn't want to live there" by Heather Jiminez and "Eloise at Christmastime" by Kay Thompson.

Four new biographies will be widely read and enjoyed. "All in One Lifetime is the autobiography of James Byrnes. "Green Grows Ivy" us the autobiography of Ivy Baker Priest. "An American Amen" was written by John La Farge and gives an account of the beliefs by which he has guided his life. "The Nine Lives of Michael Todd" is a superb account of the life of this spectacular showman, written by Art Cohn who died with Todd.

Many people are interested in our neighbor state to the west and will be interested to know that we have three new histories of Texas, which I located at the meeting of the Southwestern Library Association in Galveston last month. One of them, "A History of Texas" by Henderson Yoakum is a reprint of a very rare old book. It is in our reference collection. The other two books are written by Ralph Steen and are circulating in nature.

A beautiful new religious book is "The Life of Christ" by Fulton J. Sheen and it will be widely read and enjoyed. "The Gray Seas Under" by Farley J. Mowat is an interesting account of salvage operations at sea.

Are you taking advantage of the resources of the Ouachita Parish Public Library? If not, we invite you to do so at your earliest convenience.

Appomattox; An Intimate View

TO APPOMATTOX, By Burke Davis. Rinehart. $6.

The time of the Confederacy's dying suddenly has become a popular area for historical scrutiny. A few months ago, we had Philip van Doren Stern's splendid "An End to Valor." Today, we have an equally meritorious work by Davis. At least one other current book, "The Great Rebellion," by Earl Schenck Miers, devotes a prominent part of its content to the Appomattox campaign.

There is surprisingly little duplication between the Stern and Davis presentations, considering that both deal with the eight days between the fall of Petersburg and the surrender at Appomattox in 1865. The difference is in the approach. Stern reconstructed the period from the standpoint of history, dealing with the broad tide of events and giving them ultimate meaning. Davis tells the story in the intimate terms of the people involved — what they did, what they said, what they felt.

Day by day, shifting his scene from the Confederate flight to Union pursuit, and contingent areas of both, Davis paints a pageant of tragedy from the fabric of the experiences of government executives, generals and drummer boys, color sergeants and men in the ranks, nurses and civilians, refugees and scalawags. He has delved deeply into diaries, reminiscences, newspaper accounts, correspondence for material that brings back in all their brave pathos the days when a government and an army were falling apart.

Davis has written other Civil War books of note, including biographies of Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson and Jeb Stuart. This one, unquestionably, is his best.

Restoration Of The Past Good Work

ALL THAT WAS MORTAL. By David Dempsey. Dutton. $4.95.5

In New Linden, a small hot Midwest midsummer city, old Myles Rankin lies dying. His descendants and their friends gather around in profusion, and in that normal world, indeed specifically that world of Harding's normalcy, they don old-fashioned costumes, take their places on the stage, assume the once familiar poses and postures, and play out for us the warm, earnest and perplexed lives of the generation that started out in the last century and carried over into this.

Mabel and Clara were Myles' daughters, Mabel the pretty one who stayed home, Clara who lost a beau to her, and won one from Agnes, and had two children, Chard whom we meet at the very start and William his ghostly elder protector. Amidst the rivalries, ambitions, hopes and fears that stir behind the scenes in every town, against the background of small-scale farming, banking and manufacturing despite the dissensions and failings among Rankins themselves, the head of the clan achieves a modest local success and a sound and deserved distinction.

Dempsey himself chooses first novel of his — a "restoration" of the past. Big things happen, but best of all are the little things — the old man climbing up a tree so the town can't carry him off to the poorhouse, the horse that hates to draw the hearse with Uncle Charley's coffin straight to the cemetery. Pick up the dog-eared family album from the marble top of the walnut table, turn the heavy pages lovingly, and you find what Dempsey has found: "All That Was Mortal."

By the end of 1958, fluoride-treated water will be available in 1,650 U. S. towns and cities with a combined population of 34 million, compared with 94 communities and a total population of 1,500,000 eight years ago.

Greene Novel About Shy Spy Is Excellent

OUR MAN IN HAVANA. By Graham Greene, Viking. $3.50.

Wormold, a timid gentleman in Havana with a small retail vacuum business and a daughter Milly whom it does not quite support, is approached by the British Secret Service and asked to head the local spy ring. It seems to him a highly inefficient way to operate a project which he regards, furthermore, as silly, but he accepts. After turning in some padded expense accounts and making up some names of dubious personalities, he is prepared to enjoy his financial success when some of the people he had pretended to report are murdered, or miss it by a hair.

I agree with Wormold that the operation has its ridiculous aspects, and I find in general it's a bit too amiable, and that the suspense begins at the wrong end; I settle down to relax when, too late, my skin is called upon to creep and my hair to rise. Not a full-fledged novel but another one of Greene's "entertainments," this doesn't really entertain.

Mardi Gras Opens Engagement Here

Following the world premiere at the Saenger Theatre in New Orleans last Friday, "Mardi Gras" opens today at the Paramount Theatre to start an exclusive engagement.

Jerry Wald, producer of "Peyton Place," has blended the talents of some of the brightest young people in show business into a gay, tuneful motion picture.

Pat Boone, Christine Carere, Tommy Sands, Sheree North, Gary Crosby, Fred Clark and Richard Sargent are the principals in this mithful adventure of four cadets from the Virginia Military Institute who come to New Orleans at the height of the annual Mardi Gras festival and encounter a provocative and diversified group of characters. The latter include a French screen star, a girl publicist, who is the star's best friend and confidante, a wily publicity man, a shapely philosophy student who is a part-time strip tease artist in a New Orleans nitery.

Pat Boone plays the key role of the V. M. I. cadet who wins a student lottery which provides him with the funds to go to New Orleans and invite the movie star queen of the Mardi Gras to his school's graduation ball. Christine Carere, the very promising young star, plays the movie star and Pat's three school chums are played by Tommy Sands, Gary Crosby, making his screen bow in a high - comedy role, and Richard Sargent. When the four meet Sheree North, the publicity girl who can dance up a storm, and Fred Clark, the publicity boss who can talk up a storm, they find themselves thrown into some stormy and hilarious situations.

Eight new songs are introduced in the picture. They were written by Academy Award - winners Sammy Fain and Paul Francis Webster. Of these, Pat Boone's "I'll Remember Tonight" and "The Mardi Gras March" are already becoming popular favorites in juke boxes and on record shelves across the nation.

"Mardi Gras" is played against two vivid and colorful backgrounds: the gay, carnival atmosphere of the annual New Orleans celebration, and the impressive campus of the Virginia Military Institute at Lexington. It is filmed in CinemaScope and in Color.

Little Theatre

We're sending out an SOS first thing today. There are a couple of items needed at the Playhouse to dress the set for "Bus Stop." Maybe you can help. The director tells us they need two matching round tables approximately 3½ feet in diameter to serve as coffee tables, plus one of those large restaurant coffee makers (we'll call it this for vant of a better name.) Do you have any idea where these two things might be secured? If so, would you give Ivan a call at home or at the Playhouse?

And the costume department is sending out a call for — of all things — a bus driver's uniform which will fit a 6 foot 2 inch actor. Strange requests, indeed — but so goes the business of producing a play.

MUSIC ONSTAGE

From all reports seems we'll be getting a bit of music onstage in "Bus Stop." Maybe the cast and director figure they'll start early getting us members in the mood for the third production of the season, which, as everybody must know by now, will be "The Pajama Game." Two of the Bus Stop cast are getting voices in shape presently for the vocal selections the Bus Stop script calls for: M. D. Swayze and Bobbie Strickland. M. D. strums his guitar and sings "If You Will Marry Me." Remember that from the movie — "I'll give to you a paper of pins, for that's the way our love begins, etc"? And Bobbie, as Cherie, sings "That Old Black Magic.' We're sure you remember this hilarious bit from the movie as done by Marilyn Monroe, ably assisted by much red and purple lighting and a long chiffon handkerchief. Sounds like fun, doesn't it?

Saw Katherine Magruder the other night. Katherine travels to both New Orleans and Baton Rouge in the very near future. She's been commissioned to do portraits in both cities. Isn't that exciting? K. tells us that daughter Joan will be home from L. S. U. for the Thanksgiving holidays.

VISITS DALLAS

Ran into May Read, whom we hadn't seen for a long time, last week. May tells us she was in Dallas for the state fair musical, "The Music Man." She thought it was especially good and was able to satisfy our curiosity regarding Forrest Tucker who had the lead in the show. Somehow it has seemed hard to visualize Forrest Tucker in this very demanding role, but May felt he was thoroughly enjoyable.

Del Moore and Carolyn Roberts were at the Playhouse the other night, sitting in on rehearsal. These two have certainly been Little Theatre stalwarts. Don't really know what we would do without them.

SEASON OPENER

"Visit to A Small Planet" which was our opener for the 1958-59 season will be opening shortly at the Little Theatre of Baton Rouge and also a Gallery Circle in New Orleans. This play seems to be quickly making the circuit of community theaters.

BOARD MEETING

There'll be a board of directors meeting Monday evening at Judy Evans' home. We're constantly amazed over the enthusiasm and interest and really hard work these men and women give to our community theatre. It takes wise heads to make the many vital decisions with which they're constantly faced; strong hands for the plain old work thats involved; and busy feet to run the dozens of errands and supervise the many details involved in keeping our theatre the vital, growing organization that it is. But most of all it takes a real love of theatre and an enthusiastic interest in community betterment. These girls and boys qualify on every count. Note to the board of directors: Did we ever tell you that we appreciate you?

"See you next week:

Film Scheduled On Coronation Of Pope John

Kenneth N. Hargreaves, president of Rank Film Distributors of America, Inc., announced that a special two - reel featurette, "The Coronation of Pope John XXIII," has been produced by the Rank Organization in wide - screen and color.

"The Coronation of Pope John XXIII" was filmed by Rank Organization camera crews during the actual Papal ceremonies in Vatican City on November 4. It contains highlights of the lavish and splendored events and processions attending the coronation ceremonies.

Rank Film Distributors of America will release the two-reel featurette, Mr. Hargreaves stated, within the next 10 days.

In this jet age it is interesting to note that the First Hague Peace Conference in 1899 prohibited for five years the use of "projectiles thrown from balloons."

LINN & ALEXANDER

Dancing Team Appears Here On Saturday

Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander, top dancing team of television, will appear in Monroe Saturday,, heading a company of 16 performers in a "Dance Jubilee," a new concert presentation. The appearance will be in the Neville High School auditorium Saturday at 9:15 p.m. under the auspices of the Community Concerts Association.

This is the team's first concert tour and are visiting 100 cities with a program which they entitle "Minstrel Days to Swingtime." During the program they review American dance patterns of many decades.

There will be dance memories of many American regions —New England, the Appalachians, the Plains, the West — a dash of New Orleans jazz, souvenirs of vaudeville's heyday and some recollections of the Roaring Twenties.

Miss Linn and Alexander will offer their impressions of such unforgettable dance teams as Vernon and Irene Castle, Marilyn Miller and Jack Donahue and Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

To set the moods of passing times the performers will often sing as well as dance to the melodies of days gone by. The entire program promises to be one of the most attractive novelties of the new concert season.

An interesting place to visit is Shakerstown, Ky., which was founded by the "Shakers" or, as they were first known, the United Society of Believers.

Titanic Film Plans Need Survivor Aid

Rank Film Distributors of America has launched a nationwide search for living survivors of the Titanic in connection with the promotion for the forthcoming American premiere engagement of the Rank Organization's dramatic production, "A Night to Remember."

Survivors of the Titanic, residing from Maine to Florida and from New York to California, are being sought by RFDA for their personal stories about the maiden voyage of the Titanic in April, 1912, when the liner struck an iceberg in the North Atlantic.

Walter Lord, author of the best-seller "A Night to Remember," upon which the Rank Organization based its motion picture, supplied Rank Film Distributors of America with a listing of Titanic survivors whom he interviewed while doing research on his book.

Geoffrey Martin, RFDA director of advertising, publicity and exploitation, has been contacting a number of known survivors of the Titanic. Martin, currently in Los Angeles, met with Mrs. Edwina Corrigan of Hermosa Beach, Calif., a 74-years-young woman. Martin, in New Haven, Conn., also interviewed Mrs. Curt von Faber du Faur, another woman survivor for her personal story about the sinking of the Titanic.

Muni To Star As Physician In New Movie

Paul Muni, Academy Award winner and one of the foremost actors of stage and screen, will play the starring role of Dr. Sam Abelman in "The Last Angry Man," which goes before the cameras early in November as the first Fred Kohlmar independent production for Columbia. Danny Mann will direct from Gerald Green's screenplay, based on Green's best - selling novel.

Muni will play the strong-willed Brooklyn family doctor who becomes involved in the frenetic world of Madison Avenue advertising agencies and the television industry. All of this is played against the background of the doctor's experiences in the very day activities of a dedicated physician.

600 Attend First Baptist Loyalty Meet

The Monroe First Baptist Church, Dr. J. T. Horton, pastor, held a Loyalty Dinner at the West Monroe fairgrounds Wednesday. An attendance of over 600 members and families made the evening a big success. This Loyalty Dinner and the Pledge Day, today are highlights in the Forward Program of Church Finance used by the church to promote a $153,000 budget goal for 1959.

Highlighting the Loyalty Dinner was fellowship and singing by the crowd, recognition and presentation of Bibles to the largest families, music by the church choirs, and a challenging message by Dr. R. O. Cawker, director of Evangelism for Louisiana Baptist.

Today is Pledge Day at the Monroe First Baptist Church. At a special service during the Sunday School hour each member of the church will be given an opportunity to pledge his support to the $153,000 budget for 1959. The new budget provides $41,583.00 for Missions around the world and at home. Realizing that giving is a part of growth as a Christian, each member will file by the "Ark of the Covenant" and deposit his pledge card. Every member is encouraged to pledge a tithe.

The entire congregation is looking forward to Victory Day, November 23, when the subscription to the $153,000 budget will be announced.

Some officials present at the dinner were J. C. Holloway, superintendent of the Sunday School; A. B. Clarkson, general chairman of the Stewardship Campaign; Dr. J. T. Horton, pastor; and C. P. Wood, Minister of Education.

Treasurer Of Congregation Church Named

NEW YORK (AP) — One day last week the Rev. Dr. Howard E. Spragg of Westfield, N.J., got a new job — and a dozen or so new titles to go with it.

Dr. Spragg was elected head of the Treasury Department of the Congregational Christian Church boards, a financial setup which, at first glance, appears to be the most complicated yet devised by man.

As to titles, he is treasurer of the Board of Home Missions, the Annuity Fund for Congregational Ministers, the Retirement Fund for Lay Workers and the Corporation for the General Council.

He also is treasurer of the 10 boards and societies for which the Home Mission Board holds power of attorney and agent, including the endowment fund of the American College in Madura, India.

True to tradition, the Congregational boards went to a minister when it came time to pick a successor to the Rev. Dr. William F. Frazier, who retires Dec. 31 at 70. Most church treasurers are lay financiers.

"We've always had a minister as treasurer," says Dr. Spragg, "even though it's not required under the bylaws. A minister knows the life of the church from the inside and is not inclined to forget why these funds were given in the past.

"Most Christians try to separate the spiritual from the material things in their religious lives. I regard stewardship of these funds to be as spiritual as a Sunday service."

When he assumes the post Jan. 1, Dr. Spragg will ride herd on total assets of close to 100 million dollars, most of them invested in stocks, bonds and mortgages. Annual disbursements are more than 10 million dollars.

The treasurer of the Congregational boards occupies an odd position in the church's financial scheme. He's sort of an administrator and liaison man between experts who make recommendations and those who have the final say.

Assistant treasurers do most of the pick and shovel work. They are lay people, particularly well versed in some aspect of finance like stocks and bonds, mortgages or real estate appraisal.

The investment committees of the various funds, boards and corporations make the final decisions on investments. The treasurer generally is a member of each investment committee. Membership on many committees overlaps.

Several of the societies and boards for which Dr. Spragg will be treasurer have little more than a paper existence. Their functions long ago were taken over by the Board of Home Missions.

But their names are carried on, mostly as a legal device. The Board of Home Missions might have trouble obtaining a legacy bequeathed, say, to the American Missionary Assn., even though it acts as agent.

Dr. Spragg, 41, a native of Malden, Mass., is no stranger to finance.

From 1949 through 1952, he handled a $300,000 annual budget as tional Christian work in Puero Rico. His last post was general secretary for administration for the Home Mission Board.

SOMETHING NEW

Congregation Is Getting Emphasis

By LOUIS CASSELS

As most church-goers must have noticed by now, something is happening to religious services in America.

Clergymen call it "the liturgical revival." Translated from the Greek, this "simply means that churches are trying to restore meaning and vitality to public worship.

The specific reforms vary considerably from one denomination to another. But they fall into two general categories.

1. Churches that have fixed forms of worship — the Roman Catholics, Episcopalians, Lutherans and Presbyterians, for example — are putting new emphasis on the role of the congregation. They are seeking to make the man in the pew an active participant, rather than a passive spectator.

They are gradually introducing robes for the choir ,and sometimes the minister); organ preludes to create a mood of reverence and eliminate pre-service congregational chatter; and the occasional use of "pre-meditated" (written) prayers instead of the customary extemporaneous prayer.

A recent example in the first category was a directive issued by the Vatican last month prescribing an expanded role for Roman Catholic laity in the celebration of the mass. It calls for a number of congregational responses during low and sung masses, including joint recitation of the Lord's Prayer. It also provides for a narrator to read scriptural passages to the congregation in English while the priest is reciting them in Latin.

A striking example of the trend in evangelical bodies is the increasingly common practice in Baptist churches of devoting an entire service to the observance of the Lord's Supper. The sermon —traditionally the main feature of Baptist worship — is often omitted entirely at this service.

One common theme runs through all of the varied manifestations of the liturgical revival. It is the conviction that worshipping God is an end in itself, not a means to an end.

For some modern Christians, this is more radical doctrine than it may sound. The idea has grown up in recent generations that the main reason for attending church is that the worshipper gets some kind of spiritual benefit. The expected benefit may be a reverent feeling, a higher ethical resolve, a deeper faith, or "strength" to face the week ahead.

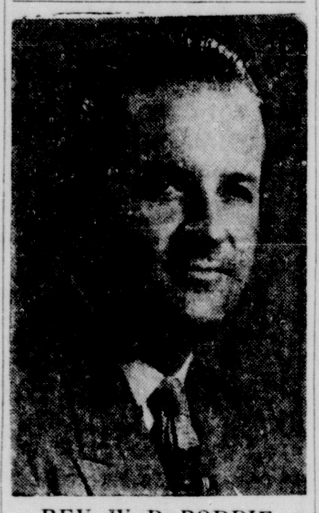

Leaders of the liturgical movement agree that all of these benefits may be found at church. But they say it is basically wrong to think of church attendance in self-centered terms of "what I get out of it." The first and indispensable purpose of going to church is to render to God, as his due, the tribute called worship.

And what does worship mean? One classic definition is that of the late William Tample, archbishop of Canterbury:

"To worship is to quicken the conscience by the holiness of God, to feed the mind with the truth of God, to purge the imagination by the beauty of God to open up the heart to the love of God, to devote the will to the purpose of God."

An old catechism expresses the same thought in fewer words:

"Worship is man's acknowledgement of the supreme value of God."

REV. W. D. BODDIE

Rev. W. D. Boddie Guest Speaker At McGuire Church

Rev. W. D. Boddie, pastor of the Rayville Methodist Church, will be the speaker for evangelistic services in McGuire Methodist Church, West Monroe beginning tonight. He will bring a message at 7 p.m. each night in the ensuing week. Rev. Boddie is a graduate of Centenary College, and has the B. D. degree from Duke University, Durham, N. C. Since 1941 he has held pastorates in five Louisiana cities. Rev. Boddie is secretary of evangelism for the Louisiana conference, and holds a number of other responsible positions within the Methodist Church.

Eugene Smith, Music Director at McGuire Church, will lead the congregational singing. Miss Biddy Dupree, junior in West Monroe High School, will be organist for the services. Rev. Don Wineinger is pastor of the church.

Missionaries' Son Will Speak At Emmanuel

John David McGee, whose parents are missionaries to Nigeria, will speak at the Emmanuel Baptist Church at 7 p.m. today. His talk will be on the missions in Nigeria and will be illustrated by numerous slides.

John was born in Louisville, Ky., in 1943 and went to Nigeria in 1945. John has spent ten of his fifteen years overseas, and the other five in the United States. He received eight years of his schooling through correspondence courses.

He is now living in Pineville, where he is a junior at Pineville High School. He is residing with Fred Forrester, state Baptist Brotherhood secretary.

His parents are serving in a district of Nigeria which is half the size of Louisiana but with a population of 2,000,000. Mr. and Mrs. McGee have been made chiefs in the Igede tribe. Their achievements in this area include the starting of a high school, grammar school, dispensary and two churches.

During the Korean War, he was with the 25th Infantry Division for 14 months, and later was in charge of recruiting for the 24th Infantry Division in Korea.

He has been awarded the combat infantryman's badge, bronze star medal, purple heart, good conduct medal, American theater ribbon, Asiatic-Pacific campaign ribbon with three bronze stars, the victory ribbon, Japanese occupation and national defense ribbons, Korean campaign ribbon with six battle stars, UN ribbon. Phillippine liberation ribbon with bronze star, Phillippine Presidential citation and Korean Presidential citiation.

DR. GENE WILLIAMS

Gene Williams Is At Greenacres Baptist Church

Dr. Gene Miller Williams, evangelist from Baton Rouge will be at the Greenacres Baptist Church, Mer Rouge Road, Bastrop, for one week beginning today, according to Rev. Rawls Pierce, pastor.

Dr. Williams is a native of Houston. He is a graduate of Baylor University and of the New Orleans Baptist Seminary from which he holds the Doctor of Theology degree. Until he went into the evangelistic field, Dr. Williams was the pastor of Green Oaks Baptist Church of Baton Rouge.

He has led in over one hundred revivals from Florida to California and has led in Bible conferences, youth camps, and Young Life Campaigns. He preached the Louisiana Baptist Convention sermon at Baton Rouge in 1957.

Services will be held at the church at 10:00 in the mornings and at 7:30 each evening. Bobby Hodnett, minister of music at Greenacres, will be in charge of the congregational singing with Miss Betty Jean Wooden at the piano.

The pastor and members of Greenacres invite each of you to attend the revival.

OIL AND GAS REPORT

9 New Producing Wells Reported In Monroe Area

Nine new completions in the Monroe district were reported for the week ending November 13 to the local office of the state department of conservation. Other activities last week included 10 new locations, 36 active rigs and five holes plugged and abandoned.

Show Of Oil Is Reported By Company

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The California Co. reports a small show of oil at its Scott County wildcat, the Forkville unit No. 1.

The well is in section 32, 7 north, seven east. It was tested at 13,478-561 feet in the Smackover lime with recovery being about 5 barrels of 41-gravity oil.

Reports indicate the company has resumed coring below the 13,-561 foot level.

The drill stem testing tool became stuck as operators were coming out of the hole. It had previously unloaded water cushion and the oil after about 5,000 feet of drill pipe had been pulled.

Shows of hydrogen sulphide gas have also been logged at the top of the formation.

In Clarke County, Drilling and Exploration Co. is reported to have logged oil shows slightly below 7,500 feet in its wildcat, the Corley No. 1, section 10, 1 north, 14 east. A drill stem test is reported to have been tried with the tool failing to get to bottom and drilling was resumed.

The wildcat is about nine miles east of the Heidelberg field and is scheduled to go down to 10,200 feet.

About two miles southeast of the Bolton field in Hinds County, Franks, Meyers and Launius are drilling below 9,500 feet in their Gaddis FARMS No. 1 wildcat in section 28, 6 north, 2 west. Heavy oil shows were reported in cuttings at about 8,144-62 feet. Contract depth is 12,000 feet.

In Smith County near the Rankin County line, Gulf is down below 10,200 feet in its Puckett unit No. 1, section 30, 3 north, 6 east. Contract depth is 12,600.

There are two wildcats in Simpson County being watched below 10,000 feet. Southwest of Magee, Gulf Coast Drilling is under 10,900 in its Smith No. 1 sec. 6-10n-17w, with a contract depth of 15,000 feet. Jett Drilling is below 10,700 feet in its Magee No. 1, sec. 17-1n-4e.

In the Magee field of Smith County, Arkansas Fuel Oil Corp. is below 13,000 feet in its wells No. 1, sec. 6-10n-16w, southwest offset to the discovery well. It is reported the new well has logged shows not found in the discovery well.

American Petrofina Co. is reported to have logged shows of oil at 6,116 feet in its Delta wildlife No. 1, sec. 5-9n-6w. The well is about one mile east of the discovery well of the Valley Park field.

Three new oilers were completed in the Little Creek field of Lincoln and Pike counties. Sun oil finaled its Atkinson Sons Co. No. 1, sec. 27-5n-8e, flowing 184 barrels of oil per day from sand 10,793-828 feet.

Aoford-Thornhill and Biglane finaled their Brown No. 1, section 34, 5 north, 8 east, flowing 425 barrels daily from 10,771-93 feet.

Shell Oil's No. 1 Rollins, section 36, 5 north, 8 east, flower 296 barrels of oil daily from 10,768-802 feet.

All three were in Lincoln County. The state allowable for the field is 200 barrels of oil per day per well.

In the Shady Hook field of Marion County, Humble has established the first multiple zone production in the field. The Hart b-1, section 26, 1 north, 14 east, tested 1,482,000 cubic feet of gas and 40 barrels of condensate from a sand at 8,994,902 feet and 2,332,-000 cubic feet of gas and 11 barrels of condensate daily from a sand at 11,724-54 feet.

In Smith County, the California Co. has dually completed its Central Oil No. 5-7, section 33, 2 north, 7 east. A sand at 12,119-84 feet flowed 280 barrels of oil per day and the zone at 12,646-701 feet flowed 102 barrels daily.

Ne wpermits issued:

Adams County: Marlin Exploration, Marlin-Sun A. J. Brown No. 1, sec 30-6N-3W (anchorage field). Calto-Gulmon Armstrong No. 5, sec 27-5N-2W (commencement field).

Franklin County: Serio-Punches Mrs. Mary L. Lowry No. 1 sec 17-5N-1E (north Flat Rock field).

Lawrence County: Gulf Oil Robinson 8-14 No. 1, sec 6N-11E (wildcat).

Business Briefs

35 - Year Record

Mrs. Ruby E. Simpson, wife of J. W. Simpson, 5327 DeSiard Road, has completed 35 years of service with Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Having served in Pine Bluff and El Dorado, Ark., prior to transferring to Monroe in 1928, Mrs. Simpson has spent her entire service in the traffic department. Her present position is that of service assistant in that department. She is a member of the First Baptist Church and is active in the work of the Eastern Star.

In recognition of her long and loyal service to Southern Bell and Twin Cities telephone users, Mr. Simpson will receive a gold pin containing seven stars — one for each five year period of her service.

Employees Honored

Shell Oil Company last week gave special recognition to employees in the Ora field on their completion of another 1,-000 days without a disabling accident. Each employee was presented with an individual award by F. A. Schurtz, division production manager at the banquet staged for the occasion.

O. D. Hutto, division production superintendent, said that the employees in the Ora Field actually had completed 3,000 days, or more than eight years without a disabling injury, and asked that they continue their efforts to promote safety.

Beauty Shop

Mrs. Edith Thames Horn, proprietor and owner of Dodson's only beauty shop has announced that beginning November 21, she will open a shop in Sikes on Monday and Friday of each week. The shop in Dodson will be closed on those days.

Safety Record

Leading all farmer-owned rural electric co-operatives in Louisiana, employes of Northeast Louisiana Power Co-Op, Inc., have chalked up 302,000 man - hours without a lost-time accident.

At a meeting in Winnsboro recently, Orval J. Miller, safety engineer with Employers Mutual of Wausau, presented a special silver bar for addition to the co-op's safety plaque to manager Robert E. Holloday, Jr., , who accepted the award on behalf of the 51 employees of the organization.

C. A. Braud, director of safety and vocational training with the state department of education, and C. J. Grayson, president of the co-op, were among those present.

Sperry Award

Lee Edwards of Coleman-Edwards Motors, Inc., local agent for Volkswagen, has received word that Volkswagen had received the Elmer A. Speery Award for 1958. The award was made in New York November 13 at a joint meeting of the SAE and ASME.

It is made in recognition of a disiinguished engineering contribution which in actual service has advanced the art of transportation whether by land, sea or air.

In Top Ten

Mrs. O. L. Cloyd, of West Monroe, has placed among the top 10 hair stylists in the nation who attended a beauty school in Hollywood. She returned to her home Saturday after attending the school in Hollywood.

U.S. Bonds Up During Week; Rails Leading

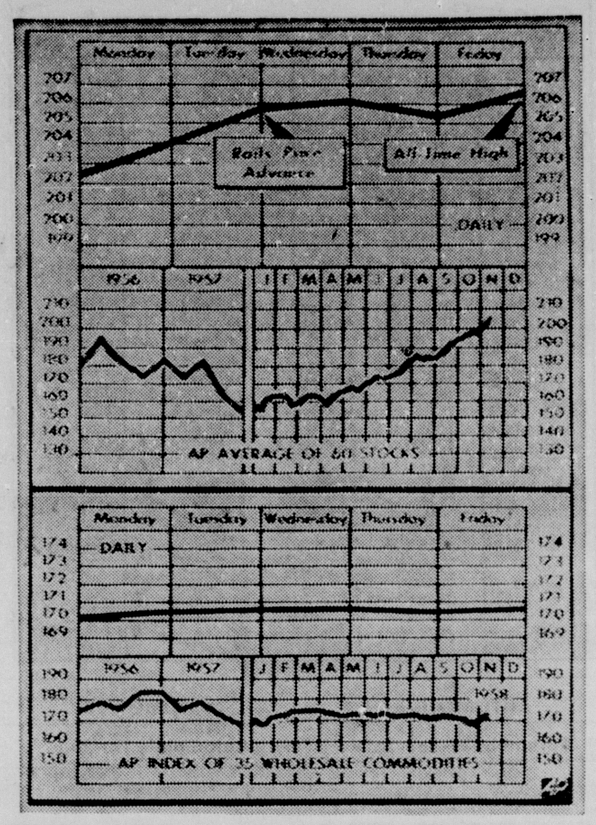

NEW YORK (AP)—Both U. S. government and corporate bonds posted gains this week. Trading in the government market was very light but the corporate rise was on expanded demand.

Industrials and rails led the corporate rally with solid advances. Utilities and investment quality issues improved on a slightly more moderate scale. Foreign dollar bonds closed steady.

Corporate convertibles were very active and higher, in line with the climb of their stock counterparts. The New York stock market closed out the week at an all-time record level.

Government bond gains ranged out to a full point and more despite the fact that the market was very thin with scant retail activity. The tone was firm all week.

Tone of the new financing markets continued firm, although on slight volume in a week interrupted by Veterans Day. The steady tone continued a trend evident since early September.

STOCK AVERAGE AT ALL-TIME HIGH—The Associated Press average of 60 stocks chalked up its third straight weekly gain when it closed at an all-time high of 206.6 from 202.4 a week ago. The commodity index rose for the second week in a row, closing today at 170.6 from 170.1 in preceding period. Livestock showed the best gain. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

RECORD HIGHS

Bull Market In Stocks Rolls On

NEW YORK (AP)—The big bull market in stocks rolled on this week, leaving recognized averages at all time record highs as the week closed.

It was the 12th week out of the last 13 in which stocks have advanced.

Improving business and hopes for further improvement next year helped the upturn, as did the ever present inflationary psychology.

The market roared ahead in the first two days of the week, both the high priced blue chips and the low priced speculative favorites finding eager buyers.

On Wednesday the upsurge lost a lot of power, although market averages eked out another record high. Thursday definitely was a day of profit taking, causing a minor price retreat.

Friday's market started out as if more profit taking would cause a further price decline. It didn't turn out that way. The profit taking was well absorbed and before the day was out all Thursday's loss had been regained.

It was a speculative market, subject to wide price swings on rumors. Typical of this kind of action was Pfizer. It ran up more than 8 points Thursday on stock split rumors. On Friday it dropped 2¾.

Zenith, Goodyear and Eastman Kodak responded at varying times to stock split rumors.

Even that bluest of blue chips—American Telephone & Telegraph—was not safe from the rumors.

Telephone pierced the 200 mark Monday to the accompaniment of a variety of rumors, including one that the traditional $9 a year dividend would be increased. On Tuesday it sold as high as 202, the best price in 28 years. It ended the week at 200¼.

INTO MIDWEST

Season's 1st Big Snowstorm Moving

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season's first big snowstorm Saturday spread across the western mountains and reached into the Midwest.

The fall ranged from a few inches up to three feet.

"All indications are that this is a potentially severe storm," the Weather Bureau warned, "and all interests, including stockmen, motorists and sportsmen, are urged to take precaution."

The storm dumped up to three feet of snow on mountainous sections of Utah and Idaho. Utility lines were down in some areas, and some mountain road passes were clogged.

Fort Bridger, Wyo., and Evanston, Wyo., were burdened with 16 inches of snow. Four to 10 inches blanketed the northern Rockies. Snow also fell in western North Dakota and the Black Hills section of South Dakota.

Forecasters said the storm will move eastward into Colorado and western Nebraska.

North and northeast winds of 35 m.p.h. were expected to cause considerable blowing and drifting.

Stockmen were cautioned to be alert for blizzards in the eastern Colorado plains region.

A freezing drizzle added to the hazards of travel in western Nebraska.

Snow showers were reported as far south as Flagstaff, Ariz.

Wet, mild weather covered much of the eastern half of the nation.

It was hot in the South. Noon temperatures of 85 were registered in Tampa and Fort Myers, Fla.

Grain Futures Follow Level Trend In Week

CHICAGO (AP) — Speculative trading dominated the grain futures market almost entirely this week but it lacked a strong moving force either way.

Commercial interests remained on the sidelines virtually the entire period with only a small amount of scattered buying from time to time. Price changes most days were within fractions of a cent of the previous closes, leaving little opportunity for shifting of positions at more than slim profits.

As a result, near the end of the week traders began concentrating more and more on the December and March contracts believing that when the market does start to move it will show in those deliveries first.

Traders began acquiring long positions there at the expense of liquidating the distant contracts. Cash grain receipts have been unusually slow recently, reflecting determination on the part of producers either to accept better government loan benefits or force commercial prices higher.

At the end of the week, wheat was 1¾ cents a bushel higher on the nearby contracts to 1⅞ lower on the distant options, December $1.96½-⅝; corn ½ higher to 1¾ lower, December old type contract $1.13-12⅞; oats ¼ higher to ¼ lower, December 65⅜; rye 1¼ higher to ¼ lower, December $1.32-31¾; soybeans ⅝-1⅛ lower, November $2.13¼.

Woman Becomes Wife, Gets 15 Kids At Once

CLEVELAND (AP)—When Angela Weist became Mrs. James W. Kerrigan in simple ceremonies at St. Luke's Catholic church Saturday she also became the mother of 15 children.

The children, 10 belonging to Kerrigan and five to the former Mrs. Weist by previous marriages sat in the first pew of the suburban Lakewood church.

The groom's wife died five years ago following the birth of twins, William and Patrick. The bride's husband died of a heart attack two years ago.

Kerrigan's children are Joseph, 21; Rosemary, 18 Shirley 16; Ruth, 15; James, 13; Paul, 11; Mary Margaret, 10; Eilseen, 8; and the 5-year-old twins.

The new Mrs. Kerrigan's children are Loretta, 11; James, 9; Roger, 6; Robert, 4; and Carol, 2.

Missing Person Report Issued

Monroe police yesterday released a missing-persons item on a 34-year-old Sterlington man.

H. H. Ussrey Jr., missing since Thursday, was described at 5 feet 10 inches tall, with weight at 135, blond hair, blue eyes, and wearing glasses. When last seen, he was wearing a brown suit, white shirt, tan shoes, and was driving

Musicians Toot Horns Christmas

Keeping in tune with the Christmas spirit si an easy matter this year for some 29,000,000 American amateur musicians. They'll usher in the holiday season with every instrument from the humble harmonica to the concert grand piano.

According to the American Music Conference, more children and adults are playing as well as singing Christmas carols than ever before. In fact, many amateurs greet the holiday season with more than one instrument.

Most popular single instrument for the center of family caroling sessions is the piano, says AMC. Approximately 20,500,000 homespung pianists will furnish the spun pianists will furnish the "Silent Night" and "O, Come All Ye Faithful."

Adding to the swell of instrumental Christmas music are more than 3,000,000 violins and other strings. Approximately 4,500,000 guitars will chord carol accompaniment.

Almost 500,000 harmonicas, 1,500,000 accordions and 1,600,000 ukeleles — popular recreational instruments in any season — will once again provide holiday harmony.

A host of the nation's school children —youngsters who make up the bulk of the 4,625,000 brass and woodwind players — comprise special instrumental caroling groups. These brass choirs and woodwind ensembles make presentations at regular school programs and in house-to-house tours.

Primary benefits of this wealth of musical activity at Christmas time, says AMC, is worthwhile recognition for the youngsters, creative use of holiday leisure time for adults and closer family ties built by bringing both children and parents into joint participation.

Why not gift someone on your list with a musical instrument?

All Commercial and Industrial Buildings Could Be Constructed in PRESTRESSED CONCRETE

A BOLD CLAIM?
ONE TOWN IS PROVING IT!!!

There's a town in the South that showed 75 percent of the new stores, warehouses, and plants in the area had been designed and built in prestressed concrete. Those projects covered a total area of over 1,000,000 sq. ft. In the projects are little ones, like a 7,000 sq. ft. warehouse framed out and covered in 8 hours; and big ones like a 160,000 sq. ft. shopping center.

Prestressed concrete has grown "like Topsy" in this town! They've built a prestressing "factory" and the merits of prestressed concrete construction won immediate acceptance! (Town Name on Request)

Hard To Pick Right Gifts For 'Teens

Somewhere on that gift list you have the name of a teen-ager! Picking the "right" gift for him or her can be most perplexing and bewildering.

At this vulnerable age, boys and girls do not, as a rule, seek individuality . . so selections have to be "exactly right."

High school crowds in different locales each have their own code of "fads," so it's a good idea to talk it over with someone in that age group before you go gift hunting.

To make the problem a little easier, here are some "basic" gift ideas that can't go wrong!

FOR THE GIRL . . . make that gift something she can wear!

Sweaters—soft and cuddly or big and bulky are tops! And, get-together with another gift-giver and "present" her with a skirt to match!

Dances and proms are big event in the life of a teen-ager, so "formal" accessories such as an evening bag, gloves, stole, or a jeweled sweater — score high!

Also good are: at-home pants, wash 'n' wear blouses, pajamas, robe or duster, lingerie . . . a car coat, sheer nylons, a light perfume, Chukka boots, a "date" dress . . . records (according to her taste) . . . or a cuddly French poodle (stuffed or real—according to your budget).

In jewelry: Creamy white pearls make a treasured gift — whether they are beautifully-faked, or precious cultured ones.

Compacts, purse accessories, personal leather items and luggage items — all are welcome gifts to the teen.

Last but not least, here's a tip for an unusual gift! If that teen-age girl has trouble with her hair and skin, give her a trip to a reputable beauty salon to have her hair styled, and perhaps get a few new ideas on make-up and complexion care.

They may range from science to sports — and the gift he'll go for is "something he can really use!"

Lads of this age become increasingly conscious of their appearance. They may like: . . . a new bulky knit sweater, waterproof jacket, records from "bop to Bach" . . . a wallet with a place for his girl's picture, a terry cloth robe, a new bold plaid sportshirt . . . a new camera or photographic equipment, a shock-proof watch, portable radio, ties . . . leisure time shoes, storm coat, or typewriter.

Two Men Killed In Wreck Near Lake Charles

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — Two men from the Kosati Indian community near Kinder, La., were killed early Saturday and the brother of one of them injured when their car missed a turn and crashed into a night club near Kinder.

Dead are Owen John, 22 and George Abbey, about 28 of the Indian community. The injured man is Harrison John, 24, a brother of Owen John, who suffered a fractured left leg and internal injuries.

The injured man was sent to a Eunice hospital.

Zemon Marcantel, town marshal of Kinder, said the car failed to negotiate a curve on U.S. 90 about a half mile east of Kinder, struck a telephone pole and a pine tree and then plowed into the building.

(2) Card of Thanks

I want to thank everyone from the bottom of my heart for the many wonderful things that they have done and are still doing for me. Your thoughts, prayers, gifts and visits mean more than words can express.
HELEN JUNKIN

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings received during our recent bereavement in loss of our beloved father, MR. B. M. WILKES. We especially thank the Rev. Paul Durbin and Rev. E. E. Taylor. All have our everlasting gratitude.
MRS. T. L. HINES AND WILKES FAMILY

The family of Mrs. Thelma Lowery Isabelle wants to express heartfelt appreciation to the wonderful people who helped us in many ways during our hours of bereavement. A wonderful supply of food was brought to our home and many other kind deeds were done. May God's richest blessings be upon you. We especially want to thank the employees at Gay's Funeral Home of Delhi for their courtesy shown, also for the beautiful floral offerings which were displayed by a large concourse of friends. Sincerely,
MR. and MRS. SAM LOWERY and Family of Rayville, La. and MR. AND MRS. DAVID BERWICK, Orange, Texas.

LIKE TO TRY YOUR HAND at decorating — and at our expense? We're going to redecorate this home inside and out —and if you buy now, you can choose colors and linoleum patterns! There's 2 bedrooms with oak floors, Venetian blinds, washer plumbing, termite contract, garage, storage, and a St. Augustine lawn with every kind of fruit tree you can think of, grape vines, and small pecan tree. And the best is yet to come —$350 "cash" is all that's needed to move in! Will be happy to show at the "drop of a hat!"

WEST MONROE

HODGE ST.
WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH MOTHER-IN LAW? We thought that'd get your attention. But, seriously tho', the furnished garage apt. included with this family home could solve that problem (or help pay your monthly notes!). There's 1457 sq. ft. in YOUR home with: 3 bedrooms (one pine paneled —two with 2 closets), kitchen with ventahood, Formica counter tops; dining room: 13x21 pine paneled den with fireplace: 10x16 porch. . .plus ¾ ton air conditioner, attic fan, blinds, double garage, and a shady lot. All this for $12,750 —local financing available. Give us a "buzz" on this, won'tcha?

WASHINGTON ST,
PIGGY BANK SPECIAL! Yep, for only $6200 buys this 2 bedroom home with kitchen-dining area, oak floors, washer plumbing, and a large (74x200) lot. Immediate possession can be yours—so call now!

HEIGHT
OPEN YOUR EYES and see what you've been missing! Yep! Look over the 1284 sq. ft. of well-arranged living area that boasts: fireplace and mirror in living room, 14x22 pine paneled den (drapes included), 2 bedrooms (both with walk-in closets), 2 baths (one with shower and built-in dressing table) . . . plus polished-to-perfection oak floors, ventahood, floor furnace, attic fan, blinds, carport, storage, and a St. Augustine lawn with trees and fenced back yard. 400 "bucks" and closing will start you on your way to fine living, so call now!

RIVERBEND
TAKES VERY LITTLE "DOUGH" ($250 and closing) to make the move into this 2 bedroom home that's 2 blocks from school. And you'll like the newly painted living room and separate dining room; kitchen with ventahood (counter tops and floor to be replaced); 2 bedrooms (one with 2 closets), washer plumbing, garage. . .and a shady lot. Sound good? Let's see it now!

RIDGEWAY
JUST WHAT THE DOCTOR ORDERED —if you're lookin' for a brick home that's near school (just 2 blocks away). It's a youngster (3 years) and has: 3 bedrooms (or 2 bedrooms and den), 1½ ceramic tile baths (full bath has shower over tub), pine paneled kitchen with knotty pine cabinets. . .and natural woodwork, attic fan, wall furnace, blinds, carport, double storage, and a large (91x105) lot. How much? Just $400 and closing. . and you can see anytime!

SOUTHSIDE
SITTING ON MONEY? It won't "hatch" that way — let us help you invest in this apartment building that will "bring in" $200 to $310 monthly. All units are completely furnished and have been kept in good repair. Modestly priced at $15,000 — so call now!

LAKESHORE
ARE YOU AS NERVOUS as a cat in a room full of rocking chairs from looking for a home? If this won't help, let us show you this 2 bedroom home on a large lot with trees and fenced back yard. Inside you'll find: living room with drapes, 1½ ton air conditioner; kitchen with ventahood and adjoining utility room; screened living porch with bamboo curtains; and there's also double sliding door closets, shower over tub, wall furnaces, attic fan, blinds, carport, and termite contract. $350 and closing moves you in. See it now before it's someone else's home.

OTIS ST.
"JIMINY CRICKETS," but we're mighty proud to offer this new listing for your consideration. It's BRICK with the following easy-to-live-in features: living room with fireplace and drapes; kitchen with well-arranged natural finish cabinets (Formica tops), ventahood; 3 bedrooms, bath with shower over tub, there's also attic fan, blinds, wall heat, carport with storage, and an outside storage house. All on a shady, large (100x200. $7,150.) lot just 2 blocks from school. We'd be mighty proud to show you today.

CROSLEY ST.
R. H. ASPIRIN (Aren't headache) — Yep! This is cure that headache, for it's priced at only $7000 and has the following: 2 bedrooms, kitchen with Built - in Servel refrigerator, 10x26 enclosed porch, washer plumbing, carport, storage, awnings, and a shady corner lot. The time to see this is now.

CRYER ST.
NO AXE TO GRIND HERE — not in your preference is for a 3 Bedroom home that's reasonably priced—($11,500—With $600 down and closing). It's as Besser Stone and Brick, and has kitchen with Formica topped Cabinets, dining room, paint Heat, attic fan, blinds, Washer plumbing, carport, storage, and a fenced in lot. Just across from school. It'll be our pleasure to show anytime.

STIA ST.
YOU'LL HAVE A CHEESE - PEACH - TIME finding a better family home than this. For the children, there's a large shady lot (120x187), fenced back yard, and no thru-traffic. And for the whole family, there's 1217 sq. ft. With seperate dining room with corner China Cabinet, 3 bedrooms, floor furnace, ventahood, 4 air conditioners (5½ tons), attic fan, blinds, washer and dryer connections, double carport, storage. What's more, it's vacant and $400 and closing will move you in.

JERRY ST.
WEEP NO MORE, MY LADY, if you're looking for a modestly priced ($7300) home with a small down payment (600 and closing)! We have it — it's 5 years old and 2 bedrooms (each with Walk - in Closet), blinds, washer plumbing, garage, storage, aluminum awnings, and on a shady 100x100 lot. We'd like to show you this today.

SYKES ST.
FLOP! WHAT WAS THAT NOISE? That was the owner dropping the price of this large (1700 sq. ft.) family home. You'd never believe one home could have so much: Wall-to-wall carpeting in living room (with wood-burning fireplace), dining room, hall, and master bedroom; tiled step-down den; 3 bedrooms (one with Walk - in Closet), step-saving kitchen with Tappan range (chrome oven), Frigidaire dishwasher, vinyl utility with it, Frigidaire deep freeze. And "to boot" there's (5) 3/4 ton air conditioners, attic fan, window fan, soundproof ceilings, drapes, blinds, roof furnace, oak floors, shower over tub, termite contract, carport, storage, and a play house in back to steal your little girl's heart. The lot's large (100x200) and literally covered with trees. At the reduced price of $18,700, beat you hurry.

COLEMAN AVE.
WHY DILLY-DALLY? Why don'tcha' call now, if you want a low price ($8500) home near Ransom School? We have it in this 2 bedroom home with pine floors, venetian blinds, washer plumbing, garage, storage, and a 70x150 lot with several large trees. Local financing available —and we're available at anytime to show you thru.

PINECREST DR.
MOTHER NATURE PLANNED this setting —with its hills, large trees, rolling dale—and the owners planned this 4-month-old brick home to perfection. But, alas, they're transferred and must leave all this: living room with drapes and sliding glass doors to patio, kitchen has excellent oak cabinets (Formica topped), built-in Tappan oven and range, dishwasher, ventahood. There's 3 bedrooms and 2 baths (one is ceramic tile with shower over tub, built-in dressing table—other bath has glass enclosed shower). To complete the picture, there's sliding doors to baths, living room, kitchen; 2¾ tons of air conditioning, attic fan, central heating, venetian blinds, carport, 8x20 storage, and the lot has 191 ft. frontage and is newly sod in St. Augustine. We'll gladly show, 'cause we enjoy lookin' so much ourselves.

OUACHITA DRIVE
ROSES ARE RED. . .and your face will be, too, if you miss this good value! It's priced at $8400 (pay owner's equity, assume notes of $50.85, at 4½ per cent), and has the following: 2 bedrooms, drapes in the living room, wall furnace, blinds, attic fan, washer plumbing, storage room, and a corner lot 97x107 with plenty shade! We'll be "happy as a lark" to show you thru!

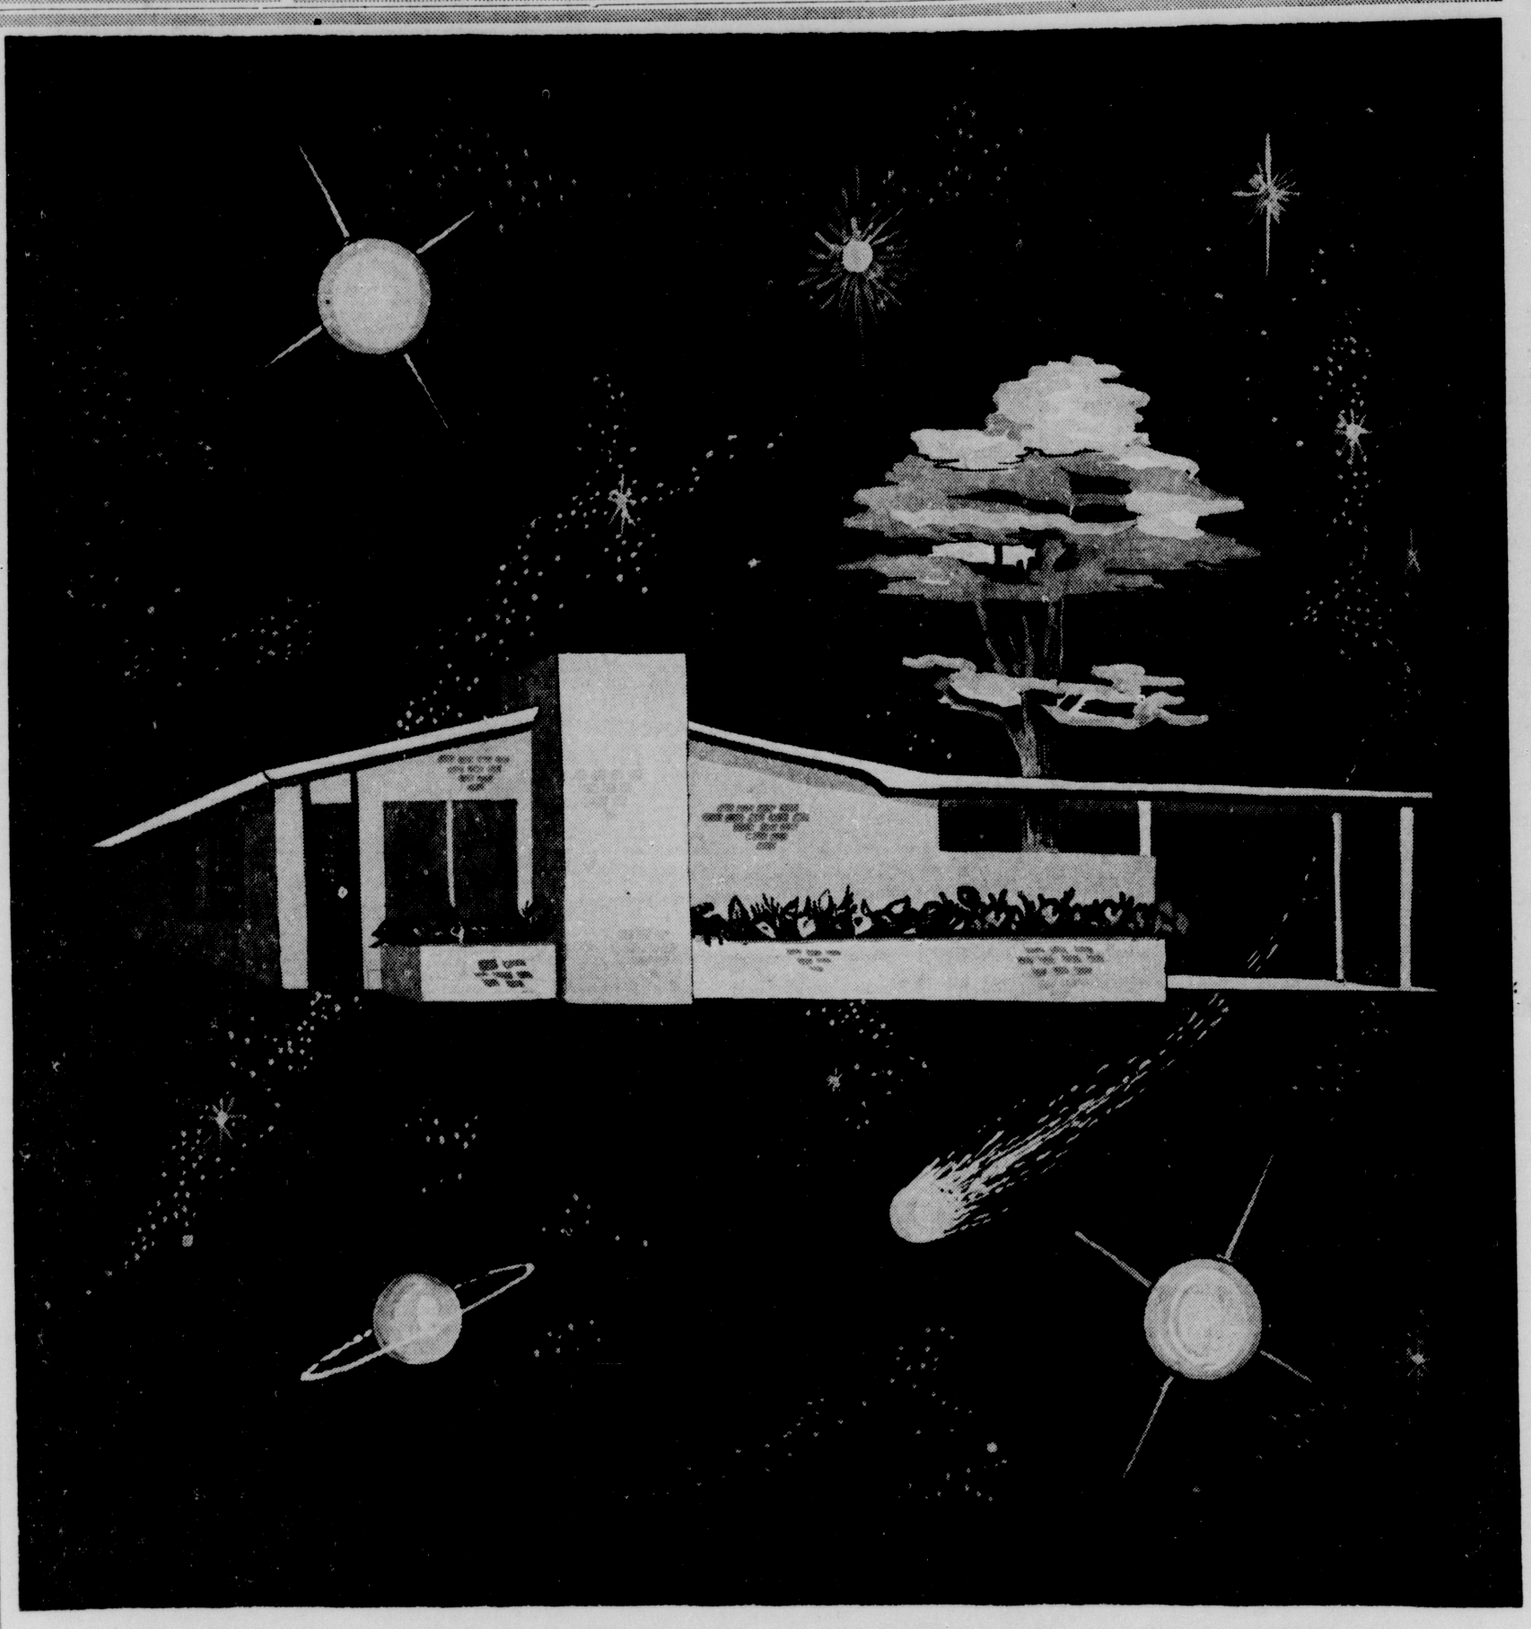

HILTON
30,000 PARTS in a house (so they tell me) and everyone of them the best in this brand new 3 bedroom brick home! There's 1346 sq. ft. of well-planned living area consisting of: pine paneled kitchen with "more than enuff" natural finish cabinets, Formica counter tops and splashboards, ventahood, and pass-thru to pine paneled dining area, 1½ ceramic tile baths with dressing tables (full bath has shower over tub). . .plus good closet space (7 of 'em), central heat, attic fan, carport, storage, and a large (90x157) lot. $1650 and closing will move you in immediately. Wanta' see?

MILL ST.
"COMFORT PLUS" at an Easy-To-Meet price! Yes, the transferring owners are selling this home below appraisal at $8250! And here's what this good value possesses: 3 bedrooms (one 12x19 could easily be used as den); living room and separate dining room with oak floors; plus screened front porch, ventahood, built-in fold-up breakfast table, 42 in. attic fan, Venetian blinds, termite contract, double carport, and outside storage. The back yard's fenced and there's pecan, bearing orange, and plum trees! You'll want to see it today!

"LOST TO THE WORLD, LOST TO MYSELF, ALONE HERE NOW I REST UNDER THIS MARBLE STONE."
ROBERT HERRICK
OH, ANNIE KNOWS WHERE SHE IS.

SO, DR. BILE, YOU ARE CERTAIN THE BODY WE DUG UP WAS THAT OF MRS. AL ATILLA!

POSITIVE! SHE WAS MY PATIENT FOR YEARS, MR. CASE.

BUT YOU SIGNED PAPERS TO HAVE MRS. ATILLA SENT TO AN ASYLUM NEAR CHICAGO.

ONLY A FORM. THE CHICAGO DOCTOR HAD HER COMMITTED. ...ER... OR WHOEVER WAS COMMITTED.

IT COULD HAVE BEEN BESS BOND. NO ONE AT THE ASYLUM KNEW EITHER WOMAN. MAYBE ATILLA SAID BESS WAS HIS WIFE

YES. HE COULD HAVE HAD HER PUT AWAY. BUT WHY?

RECORD SHOWED AL'S WIFE WAS IN A "HOME." NO SUSPICION HE'D KILLED HER, AND NO REASON TO SUSPECT HE'D KIDNAP BESS BOND.

UNTIL ANNIE AND BILLY BILINE FOUND HER LAST NOTES.

BUT WHAT'S BEING DONE ABOUT BESS? SHE COULD BE IN TERRIBLE DANGER, IF YOUR DEDUCTIONS ARE CORRECT.

OUR BOYS ARE UP THERE NOW, DOCTOR. THEY'LL HANDLE IT.

WHAT? FEDERAL DICKS JUST CAME IN UP THERE? KNOW SHE'S NOT MY WIFE? ... WHO SHE REALLY IS? ...CLICK... EH? HELLO... HELLO...

BUT WHAT CAN THEY DO TO ME? NOTHING! BESS BOND WASN'T KIDNAPED ACROSS ANY STATE LINE. SHE GOT A PHONY TIP THAT I'D SENT MY WIFE TO THAT BOOBY HATCH. SHE FELL INTO THE TRAP.

AS TO MY WIFE, I'VE AN AIRTIGHT ALIBI. I SAW TO THAT. NOPE. THEY CAN'T TOUCH ME! UNLESS THAT BRAT... BUT SHE'LL DO MIGHTY LITTLE GABBIN' WHERE SHE IS!

WE SAW ATILLA'S BOYS GRAB ANNIE AND BILLY RIGHT HERE. THEY WEREN'T TAKEN AWAY FROM HERE.

IT'S AS IF THEY'D BEEN SWALLOWED UP IN THE EARTH.

NEW PINK MIRACLE BAR

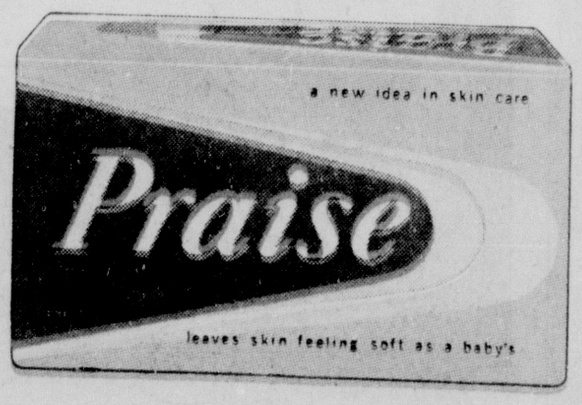

MAKES YOU FEEL YOU'VE REGAINED THE SKIN YOU WERE BORN WITH

(soft, smooth, clear as a baby's!)

PRAISE LEAVES DRY SKIN FEELING SOFT AS A BABY'S. You were born with a beautiful skin. But you've been using soap which dries and flakes it. Now, Lever Brothers has discovered that Dermasil can transform soap into a new skin-care idea. A miracle of cleanliness, as well as mildness, that loves you all over. The name of the miracle is Praise.

PRAISE LEAVES FLAKY SKIN FEELING AS SMOOTH AS A BABY'S. It's packed with rich cold cream. Praise's creamy lather babies your skin—creams your face and your body as you bathe!

PRAISE HELPS MAKE SKIN AS CLEAR AS A BABY'S. It contains a gentle germ remover. Praise washes away blemish-causing bacteria. Also the bacteria that cause body odor. And Praise never leaves any bathtub ring!

Complete satisfaction guaranteed by Lever Brothers —or full purchase price will be refunded.

STEVE, I'M SORRY BUDDY PYLGRIM KEEPS HANGING AROUND! HE MUST THINK HE'S STILL MY HUSBAND!

I CAN UNDERSTAND HIM TRYING TO HOLD YOU, SAVANNAH! EVEN A WHIFF OF YOUR PERFUME WOULD BE WORTH THE BEATING HIS EGO MUST TAKE!

YOU'LL PROBABLY MARRY SOME DUMB DAME WHO CAN'T APPRECIATE THAT KIND OF TALK...

BUT YOU COME PICK ME UP AND WE'LL GO TO A PARTY—WHERE I CAN HOLD YOUR HAND IN PUBLIC!

♫♫

ALL RIGHT, C-CANYON, IT'S TIME YOU AND I FOUGHT IT OUT...

ONLY ONE OF US IS WALKING OUT OF HERE WITH SAVANNAH GAY!—PUT UP YOUR GUARD!

HOLD IT JUST A SECOND, BUDDY BOY...

THERE WE ARE! I KNEW HE MUST BE SOMEWHERE CLOSE BY...

HONEST, COL. CANYON, IT WASN'T MY IDEA! —BUDDY SAID I'D BE ABLE TO SELL THE PHOTOGRAPHS FOR BIG MONEY...

ESPECIALLY IF THEY SHOWED YOU KNOCKING HIM DOWN AS HE DEFENDED THE HONOR OF HIS WIFE!

NO WONDER THE REAL PRESS PHOTOGRAPHERS HATE RATS LIKE YOU!

STEVE, THE SERVANTS ARE OFF TODAY, BUT I THOUGHT I HEARD YOU TALKING TO SOMEONE!

JUST PASSING THE TIME OF DAY WITH A COUPLE OF GARBAGE COLLECTORS!

DENNIS THE MENACE

LOOK OUT! LOOK OUT!

SEE? I TOLD YOU HE'D GET A KICK OUT OF SEEING A FOOTBALL GAME!

GO BACK! GO BACK!

HE'S REALLY EXCITED, ISN'T HE?

YES. AND I'M REALLY COLD!

CAN I GET YOU ANYTHING, HONEY?

YES. I'D LIKE A NICE FIRE OR AN ELECTRIC BLANKET OR BOTH!!

I'LL BE BACK IN A MINUTE!

WAIT, SON! WHERE ARE YOU GOING?

I'M GONNA GO GET THAT LITTLE DOG...

...'FORE ONE OF THEM BIG GUYS STEPS ON HIM!

Hank Ketcham

LOOK OUT, BOY! LOOK OUT!

BOY? WHAT POSITION IS HE PLAYING?

LOOK AT HIM RUN!

I'LL BET OUR SON GROWS UP TO BE A FOOTBALL PLAYER, ALICE!

IS THERE ANY MORE COFFEE?

WELL? WHAT'S YOUR THEORY NOW? IS HE GOING TO GROW UP TO BE A DOG CATCHER?

AWWW...

NOW, YOU GONNA PLAY NICE AND HELP US OPEN THAT SAFE, OR AIN'T YOU?

I GOT TO FIND SOME WAY TO OUTWIT THEM! BUT HOW?

SPEAK UP! ARE YOU WIT'US?

WHY, SURE, BOYS, IF IT'S A 3-WAY SPLIT.

THAT'S MORE LIKE IT, PAL.

BUT YOU TRY ANY FUNNY BUSINESS OR OPEN YOUR TRAP AND YOU'LL END UP IN THE RIVER, SEE!

C'MON. I'M HUNGRY.

YEAH, IT'S TOO EARLY FOR THE JOB, YET. WE GOT A ROOM WHERE THEY LET US KEEP SOME GRUB IN THE ICEBOX.

OH, HELLO, MR. WILTBY. THIS IS A PAL OF OURS, DUMMY DUGAN.

HE CAN'T TALK NONE.

WHY, GOOD EVENING. I WAS JUST GOING TO FEED THE BABY.

HOW OLD'S YOUR KID, MR. WILTBY?

JUST 6 WEEKS OLD TODAY.

HMM! I WONDER... ...MAYBE I COULD TRY VENTRILOQUISM.

DA-DA!

HEY! DID YOU FELLAS HEAR THAT? MORTIMER SAID DA-DA!

G'WAN! YOU SAID HE WAS ONLY 6 WEEKS OLD.

I TELL YOU, HE'S THE SMARTEST KID ON EARTH! EFFIE! EFFIE! COME QUICK! THE KID'S LEARNING TO TALK!

I DON'T BELIEVE IT.

HE SAID DA-DA PLAIN AS DAY.

SAY DA-DA FOR MAMA, MORTIMER.

DA-DA!... MA-MA!

OH, FOR HEAVEN'S SAKE! HE CAN TALK!

BY GOLLY, IT'S TRUE!

AH, HA! MY PLAN'S BEGINNING TO WORK!
